CURT GOWDY

1919-2006

*He was the voice beneath
the pillow*

In a career that spanned six decades, Curt Gowdy gained tremendous acclaim nationally as the voice of virtually every major event in the world of sports. But to fans in New England in the 1950s and '60s, his voice will always be synonymous with the Boston Red Sox. The voice of the Red Sox from 1951-65, the "Cowboy at the Mike" broadcast 16 World Series, nine Super Bowls, 12 Rose Bowls, 16 All-Star Games, eight Olympic Games and 24 NCAA Final Fours. But for Red Sox fans, Curt Gowdy will always be the voice of summer.

A NEW DAY

THE RED SOX
ORGANIZATION

JOHN HENRY, TOM WERNER, LARRY LUCCHINO AND THEIR PARTNERS MADE FIVE COMMITMENTS TO THE FANS OF NEW ENGLAND AT THEIR INTRODUCTORY PRESS CONFERENCE ON DECEMBER 21, 2001.

When the Boston Red Sox' ownership group successfully outbid competitors to purchase the club December 20, 2001, Principal Owner John W. Henry called it "a new day." After a 69-year stewardship of the Boston Red Sox and Fenway Park by Tom and Jean Yawkey, and their trustees, a new chapter in this franchise's compelling saga would begin. Little did Henry know how prophetic his phrase would be.

In the four seasons since Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino, and their partners purchased the club, the park, and 80 percent of the New England Sports Network (NESN) for an estimated at $660 million, plus $40 million in assumed debt, the ownership has ushered in an era in which the club has constructed the second-longest streak of consecutive sellouts in baseball history, saved America's Most Beloved Ballpark from the wrecking ball, and won the World Series to end 86 years of excruciating frustration throughout New England and the worldwide fan base known as Red Sox Nation.

The club's leaders have more than upheld the promises made at their introductory press conference December 21, 2001. They had made five commitments, the fundamental obligations of ownership, and have remained faithful to all five principles in these four seasons. The region, no longer shackled by the emotional constraint from the anticipation of 11th-hour defeat, has relaxed with a collective exhale of exuberance. It is clearly a new day.

TO FIELD A TEAM WORTHY OF THE FANS' SUPPORT

Acknowledging that the primary obligation of a club is to field a team worthy of the fans' support, the leaders set out to construct a club that would make New England proud. In their first four seasons, the new owners of the Red Sox have fielded teams that have won at least 93 games each year, participated in postseason play three straight years for the first time in club history, and won the World Championship in 2004 that had been elusive for 86 years.

In 2005, the Red Sox added a new story line, ending the regular season with a head-to-head battle for division honors with their seemingly perennial nemesis, the New York Yankees. With 10 games to go, the two had identical records. With a week to play, still identical. After the Red Sox won the opener of the final weekend series, there were two games left, and still, they were tied. After the Yankees clinched a post-season berth with their win Saturday, the two clubs had met 70 times starting in 2003...and were 35-35. Hollywood would have rejected such scripts as impossibly unrealistic. But in seasons of fascinating ever-thickening plots, the impossible became possible, and the unfathomable seemed to become the expectation of the wise. The Red Sox clinched their berth during their final regular season game, and finished with an identical record to the Yankees. They were designated the Wild Card because the Yankees won the head-to-head season series by the slimmest of margins, 10-9.

The new owners' actions in 2002 were immediate. They made their first order of business a change in general managers. Mike Port replaced Dan Duquette on an interim basis through the season. They then replaced Manager Joe Kerrigan with Grady Little.

On March 24, they added Assistant General Manager Theo Epstein. The Yale grad, who grew up a mile away from Fenway in Brookline, had been Director of Baseball Operations for the San Diego Padres.

The 93 wins of the 2002 Red Sox represented an 11-game improvement over the previous year. But when the chill of September had given way to October, the American League East standings had finished in the same order for the fifth straight year: Yankees, Red Sox, Blue Jays, Orioles, and Devil Rays. And Anaheim rode the Wild Card to the world championship.

After the season, on November 25, the club surprised the baseball world with the news that Theo Epstein would be the franchise's 11th general manager, and at 28, would be the youngest in baseball history.

The Brookline High grad embarked upon a clear plan to construct a relentless lineup. In essence, he replaced Tony Clark, Brian Daubach, Rey Sanchez, and Carlos Baerga with Kevin Millar, David Ortiz, Todd Walker, and Bill Mueller. He also managed to make those acquisitions while keeping intact the remainder of the starting nine (Ramirez, Damon, Nixon, Varitek, Garciaparra and Hillenbrand).

Strengthening the starting rotation by adding versatile Tim Wakefield (who had split the preceding four years between the bullpen and rotation), Epstein began what would be a season-long journey of building a bullpen.

Meanwhile, the relentless lineup lived up to its promise with record-shattering abandon. When it came to slugging percentage, the 2003 Red Sox weren't the '27 Yankees—they were better.

As the July 31 trading deadline loomed, Epstein acquired Cincinnati's Scott Williamson and Pittsburgh's Scott Sauerbeck and starter Jeff Suppan for infield prospect Freddie Sanchez.

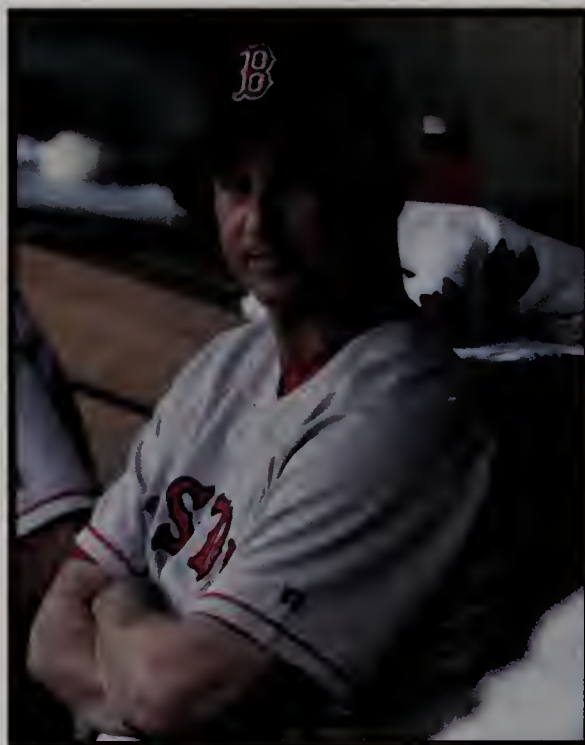

It was in the week that preceded their last series versus New York that Grady Little's club rallied, jelled, and showed its character. They encouraged each other to "Cowboy Up," a line from a movie and the title of a song (written by Ryan Reynolds, whose dad, Archie, played for the California Angels in the early '70s) that typified that play-when-you're-hurt, never-say-die clubhouse spirit.

The Red Sox stormed through September, clinching the A.L. Wild Card September 25 and returning to the postseason for the first time since 1999. After falling behind the Oakland A's, two games to none in the best-of-five A.L. Division Series, the club rebounded with a pair of thrilling wins at Fenway Park, and a series-clinching finale in Oakland.

Facing the archrival New York Yankees in the American League Championship Series, the Red Sox split the first two in New York, dropped two of three at Fenway, won Game 6 to even the series, then played an instant baseball classic in a Game 7 for the ages. The Red Sox led, 5-2, and were five outs away from the pennant, when the Yankees rallied to tie in the 8th. Finally, in the bottom of the 11th, Aaron Boone led off with a pennant-winning homer, and one of the most captivating seasons in history drew to a sudden close.

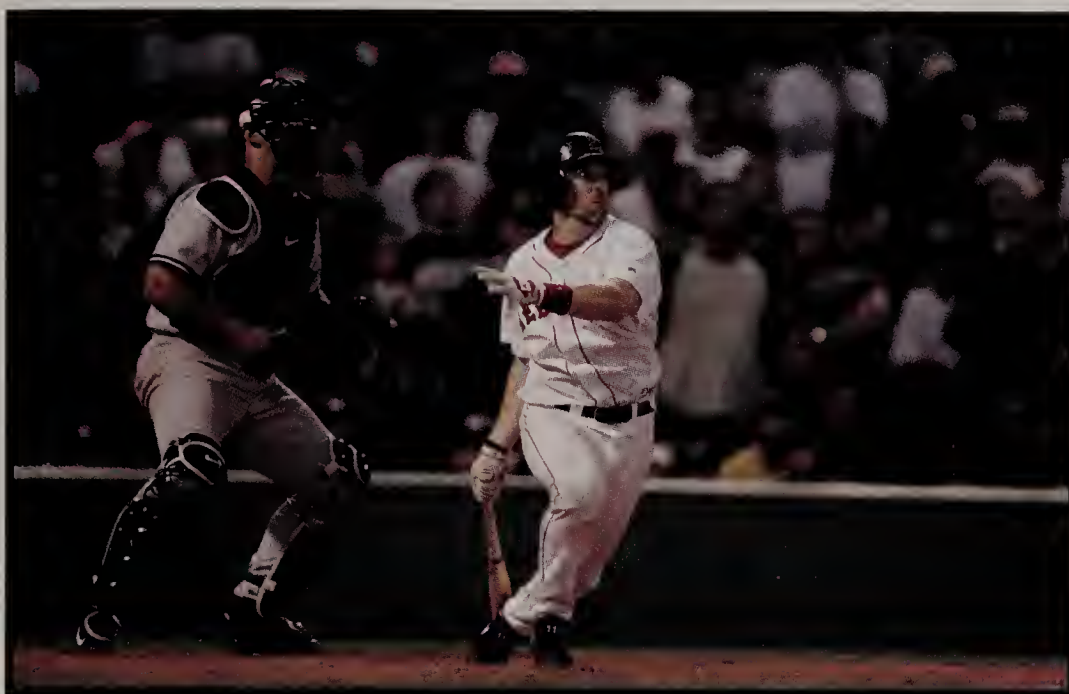

To bolster an already outstanding team, the Red Sox were aggressive throughout the winter. They added premier starting pitcher Curt Schilling, closer Keith Foulke, former Rawlings Gold Glove second baseman Pokey Reese, and unheralded second baseman Mark Bellhorn. As they turned the reigns to new manager Terry Francona, the Sox inspired fans to acquire 2004 tickets at a record rate. Before single-game sales even started on February 1, fans had purchased 1.8 million tickets. The club had passed the 2.1 million mark in ticket sales before pitchers and catchers even reported to Spring Training. All were club records.

The 2004 club raced out to a good start, finishing April with a 15-6 record, then fell into a long slumber, a 37-38 stretch that found them 52-44 through July 23, when the first-place Yankees beat them for the fourth straight time.

TERRY FRANCONA WAS NAMED THE 44TH MANAGER IN RED SOX HISTORY ON DECEMBER 4, 2003.

BILL MUELLER'S JULY 24 WALK-OFF HOMER OFF THE YANKEES' MARIANO RIVERA SET THE STAGE FOR THE 2004 RED SOX' HISTORIC RUN.

A change started July 24. In a memorable and hard-fought thriller, Bill Mueller beat Mariano Rivera 11-10 with a game-winning 2-run homer in the bottom of the 9th. Starting that day, the Red Sox went 46-20 the rest of the way.

A week later, Epstein made a bold move that bolstered the club even more. On July 31, minutes before the non-waiver trading deadline, Nomar Garciaparra went to the Chicago Cubs in a four-team deal that brought two former Gold Glovers, shortstop Orlando Cabrera and first baseman Doug Mientkiewicz, to the Sox. That same day, Epstein also acquired speedy outfielder Dave Roberts from the Dodgers. The change was immediately noticeable, and soon, would be undeniable.

Through July 31, the Red Sox had allowed 74 unearned runs in 102 games. Starting August 1, they allowed 20 in their final 60 contests.

Through July 31, the Red Sox were 56-46. They went 42-18 the rest of the way.

Through August 15, the Red Sox were 64-52. Starting August 16, they were 34-12, including an initial stretch in which, starting August 16, they were 16-1 and 20-2.

The improved defense improved the pitching, highlighted by Curt Schilling, who led the American League with 21 wins.

And on September 27, the Red Sox won at Tampa Bay to clinch a post-season berth for the second straight year. It was only the fourth time in franchise history that the club had qualified for the postseason in consecutive seasons (1903-04, 1915-16, 1997-98). In the American League Division Series, the Red Sox punctuated a dramatic sweep of the Anaheim Angels with David Ortiz's 10th-inning sudden-death home run over the Green Monster that sent Fenway fans into delirium.

The crowd quieted, however, when in the American League Championship Series, the dreaded Yankees rattled off three straight wins, the third a 19-8 shellacking of the Sox at Fenway. When the bottom of the 9th began in Game 4, the Yankees were three outs away from an embarrassing sweep, leading 4-3, with nearly invincible closer Mariano Rivera on the mound. Nearly.

Kevin Millar drew a walk. Roberts, acquired because of his superlative speed and attitude, ran for Millar and stole second base (after spending the previous four innings studying tapes of the Yankees' relievers). Bill Mueller drove a single up the middle, scoring Roberts, and the game was tied. In the bottom of the 12th, breaking up a nail-biting marathon, Ortiz again delivered, again with a game-winning, sudden-death home run to right.

The Red Sox would live another day.

DAVE ROBERTS' STOLEN BASE IN THE 9TH INNING OF GAME 4 OF THE ALCS IGNITED THE GREATEST COMEBACK IN BASEBALL HISTORY.

ON OCTOBER 27, 2004, THE RED SOX--AND ALL OF RED SOX NATION--CELEBRATED THE FRANCHISE'S FIRST WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP IN 86 YEARS.

That next day, Game 5, would go even longer than Game 4. And again, at long last, in the bottom of the 14th inning, Ortiz delivered, this time with a game-winning, sudden-death single to center that amazingly sent the series back to New York for Game 6.

The tight tussle in Game 6 was another one for the ages. Blood seeped through Curt Schilling's surgically repaired ankle and sock for all to see, as he shut down the Bombers and silenced the crowd. Umpires reversed two calls, both times making the correct correction. And in the end, the Red Sox prevailed, 4-2, forcing a Game 7.

No major league team had ever come back from 0-3 to even force a Game 7, let alone win. And win they did. In robust fashion. Johnny Damon was the star of stars with two home runs, including a grand slam, and the world watched in disbelief and widespread happiness as the Red Sox wrested the pennant from the Yankees' clutches.

Facing the St. Louis Cardinals for the third time in a World Series (1946, 1967, both 7-game losses), the Red Sox continued their streak. They rattled off four straight wins, from slugfests to pitchers duels, and at last, after 86 years, the wait was over. The World Championship belonged to Red Sox Nation.

More than 3.2 million filled the streets of Boston and the banks of the Charles River as a parade of Duck Boats filled with Red Sox moved through the city and then, using their amphibious apparatus, continued into the river as fans cheered, waved, and cried.

The celebration continued as the Red Sox took the trophy to each state in New England, (plus 14 outside the region, plus Washington, D.C. and the Dominican Republic) and visited each of the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts.

Tears showered Fenway Park under azure skies on April 11, as the defending champions received their World Series rings, one by one, on the field. The former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. Carl Yastrzemski and Johnny Pesky led the way. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi, and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees to make their home opener perfect.

The 2005 Red Sox had long stretches of success, with few slumps. They opened a 5 1/2 game lead in the A.L. East. The success was more remarkable considering that Schilling, the wounded warrior in 2004, spent the bulk of the season on the disabled list, as did the essential closer from 2004, Keith Foulke. With Pedro Martinez and Derek Lowe having departed via free agency, the club was winning despite the loss of three 20-game winners and its closer.

The Yankees, who struggled early, hit their stride, however, and gradually closed the gap. By the final week of the season, their identical records were setting up the Final Weekend Showdown.

From wire to wire, the indispensable member of the team proved to be David Ortiz. Benefiting from Manny Ramirez hitting behind him, and from Johnny Damon having a sensational season in the lead-off spot, Ortiz rose to the occasion with such drama and frequency that no fans observing the season could deny that they were watching the greatest clutch hitter of our time, and perhaps in all of Red Sox history. "Big Papi," as he is nicknamed, seemed to turn lost games into wins with his singular might.

Meanwhile, pitchers had a mountain to climb to replace the departed and injured stars. Tim Wakefield, a member of the Red Sox longer than any other, was terrific down the stretch, and veteran southpaw David Wells demonstrated that, at 42, he was still a stalwart unfazed by the size of the stage. Matt Clement and Bronson Arroyo emerged as major contributors, and Wade Miller, returned from surgery to contribute during the summer months before injuries took him away later in the season.

The heart and soul of the bullpen was Mike Timlin, who set a club record in appearances, adjusted by necessity to the role of closer, and taught a revolving door of young and veteran bullpen mates about attitude, responsibility, and courage.

As the regular season drew to a close, the team seemed battered, breathless, but unbeaten. Physically exhausted, mentally fatigued, but relentless in their spirit. But they faced a Chicago White Sox team on a mission. The ChiSox swept the BoSox in the A.L. Division Series on their way to their first World Championship since 1917.

And so it was time to assemble the 2006 squad. General Manager Theo Epstein declined the club's offer of a contract extension when his expired October 31, and two of his lieutenants, Jed Hoyer and Ben Cherington, were named co-general managers in his absence. But Epstein returned in January and restored stability to a baseball operations staff that had generated success unprecedented in Red Sox history.

To bolster their pitching staff, the Sox made a blockbuster trade with the Florida Marlins, acquiring ace righthander Josh Beckett and Gold Glove third baseman Mike Lowell. Adding more sterling defense, the club added second baseman Mark Loretta, shortstop Alex Gonzalez, and center fielder Coco Crisp. The club also added fresh arms in the bullpen, including St. Louis' Julian Tavarez and hard-throwing right-hander Rudy Seanez.

All the while, Red Sox Nation demonstrated their remarkable passion by turning out in record numbers. In 2004, for the first time in franchise history, the Red Sox sold out all 81 games. In 2005, they did it again. Starting May 15, 2003, the Red Sox have sold out 226 straight regular season games. They reached 2.7 million in attendance for the first time in 2003; they reached 2.8 million for the first time in 2004, and broke that record in 2005, the sixth straight year the Red Sox had established a new season attendance record (2,847,888). Red Sox Nation undoubtedly believed this team was worthy of their support, and showed its passion with demands that far exceeded the supply at Fenway Park.

TO PRESERVE ALL THAT'S GOOD ABOUT FENWAY PARK AND TO TAKE THAT EXPERIENCE TO A HIGHER LEVEL

While playing baseball is the Red Sox' highest priority, the club's new leadership has put great emphasis on improving venerable Fenway Park and enhancing the experience of going to a ballgame. As a result of the success of the improvements, Henry, Werner, and Lucchino announced on March 23, 2005, that the club was committing to remain long-term at Fenway Park with "no strings attached." The news was met with congratulations, gratitude, and demonstrations of honor at the local, state, and federal levels.

In addition, the Red Sox promised to do their part to preserve and protect the neighborhoods around the park, from Kenmore Square through the Fenway to the Longwood Medical area. The triumphant announcement resulted from a series of improvements that began immediately after the purchase of the club.

Adding the expertise of architect Janet Marie Smith, who helped execute Lucchino's vision in the creation of Oriole Park at Camden Yards, the club has rattled off a slew of Fenway Improvements in 2002, 2003, 2004, and 2005. The principles have been to add seats, shorten lines, increase amenities, and improve information.

Immediately after purchasing the club, the new Red Sox leaders added 400 seats in time for Opening Day, 2002. Converting standing room to seating room without changing capacity, the club added 91 Bench seats, 149 Roof Box seats (82 on the first base side, 67 on the third base side), and 160 Dugout seats (80 on each side).

The club and concessions partner Aramark quickly increased the number of points of sale for food and beverage from 57 to 67. To create the space, the club removed cumbersome, intrusive, and unfriendly wire fences inside Gates B and C. Later in the season, they added 11 more points of sale (78 total) on Yawkey Way.

A new venue for fans in-game and post-game, the Players Club welcomed fans in the 7th inning, and earlier during rain delays. Season ticket holders found a home in a new dining venue that would later be named the Red Sox Hall of Fame Club presented by Volvo. The club also added a new lounge for Red Sox players, a new interview room for the media, and new amenities in the press box. The Red Sox also painted, scrubbed, and cleaned the park, removing banners heralding the 1999 All-Star Game, and adding new ones celebrating the 90th anniversary of baseball's oldest ballpark.

Later in the year, the club created the Yawkey Way Concourse, an expansion of the park onto the neighboring street. The move added 25,000 square feet, doubled the fans' space on the third base side of the park, and cleared more metal clutter inside Gate A. Fans were able to enter via 30 turnstiles, up from the previous total of 18. At that time, the club began opening the gates two hours before game time. The early opening eased the rush and allowed fans to watch Red Sox batting practice.

An array of new menu items on Yawkey Way included "El Tiente," authentic Cuban cuisine with the opportunity to meet Red Sox legend Luis Tiant. In addition to the great righthander, a former Red Sox player signed autographs for two hours before each game in Autograph Alley, using space liberated by the expansion. The club also reduced lines by adding more ATMs and more restrooms for ladies, men, and families. Children also enjoyed games, entertainers, and musicians each day.

In addition to creating a Red Sox Hall of Fame in the former Fenmore Room, the club paid tribute to Ted Williams by renaming the 600 Club the .406 Club.

In 2003, the club added 174 seats atop the fabled left field wall and drew rave reviews. Boston Magazine would later dub the Green Monster Seats as the best seats in Boston. The Red Sox added 87 Home Plate Seats on the field and 133 more Dugout Seats. Again, they converted standing room to seating room to maintain the existing capacity.

A new "Big Concourse" was introduced August 18 to the media and made its debut the next day. Fans found 25,000 more square feet beneath the center field bleachers and right field grandstand and enjoyed new menu options from new kitchens. The park's concession stands increased to 81, the width of the concourse doubled from 30 feet to 60 feet, and usable space between Gates B and C tripled.

The club added 26 new picnic tables, 23 round "stand up" tables, 16 televisions, approximately 100 restroom fixtures, six water fountains, three more ATMs, a Fan Services center, and a First Aid station with Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. The spacious restrooms for men, women, and families appear to be the largest in Baseball.

THE BIG CONCOURSE IN RIGHT FIELD DEBUTED IN 2003. A NEW THIRD BASE CONCOURSE FOLLOWED IN 2004, AND A GRANDSTAND CONCOURSE, ABOVE THE EXPANDED RED SOX CLUBHOUSE OPENED IN 2005.

INTRODUCED IN 2003, THE GREEN MONSTER SEATS QUICKLY BECAME KNOWN AS "THE BEST SEATS IN BOSTON."

Fans also enjoyed more room inside Gate D when Aramark moved its offices to the "Laundry Building."

In addition, fans received more game information. The scores of National League games returned to the manual scoreboard in left field after a 27-year absence, and a "Pitchers Board" and "Hitters Board" provided new electronic information from above and beyond the left-centerfield bleachers. The "Pitchers Board" provided the type of pitch, speed, pitch count, and other information, while the "Hitters Board" displayed appropriate "inside baseball" information, such as how a hitter has fared against a particular club, pitcher, or baseball situation. The two boards were sponsored by Fleet (now Bank of America), and flanked a single ad panel.

In 2004, the Red Sox created a new Fenway Park neighborhood, the Right Field Roof.

Installing tables shaped like home plate that accommodate parties of four, the roof added 192 new seats and space for 250 standing room patrons. New amenities included unique menu items, such as baby back ribs, in-seat service, plus new restrooms, a new open-air bar with televisions, and a new elevator. The tables and standing room sold out within hours of going on sale.

Across the field, the club revamped the dank area beneath the third base seats. The refreshed Third Base Concourse added new concessions, new restrooms, and new space, just as the Big Concourse had done the year before. The space also featured new water fountains, new ATMs and a new port of entry, Gate E, at the corner of Lansdowne St. and Brookline Ave.

Adding new amenities for the Dugout Seat patrons, the club created the Crown Royal Club on the Third Base Concourse, a new dressing room for umpires, and new offices for the baseball operations staff.

Later in the season, the club introduced "Rem Dawg's on Yawkey," an open-air concessions area featuring popular former second baseman and current television analyst Jerry Remy. NESN moved its pre-game show to Yawkey Way as well, and a new pizza stand, Calzone Rossi (that's Red Sox in Italian) started serving slices. At the request of fans, bicycle racks were added on Van Ness St., and new street lights and trees were added to Van Ness St. and Yawkey Way.

In 2005, the Red Sox installed a new field. Complete with a sand-based drainage system, the field no longer had to be crowned, or curved, to help water travel to the sides. Instead, it could just seep into a system that allowed the field to remain playable far longer than before.

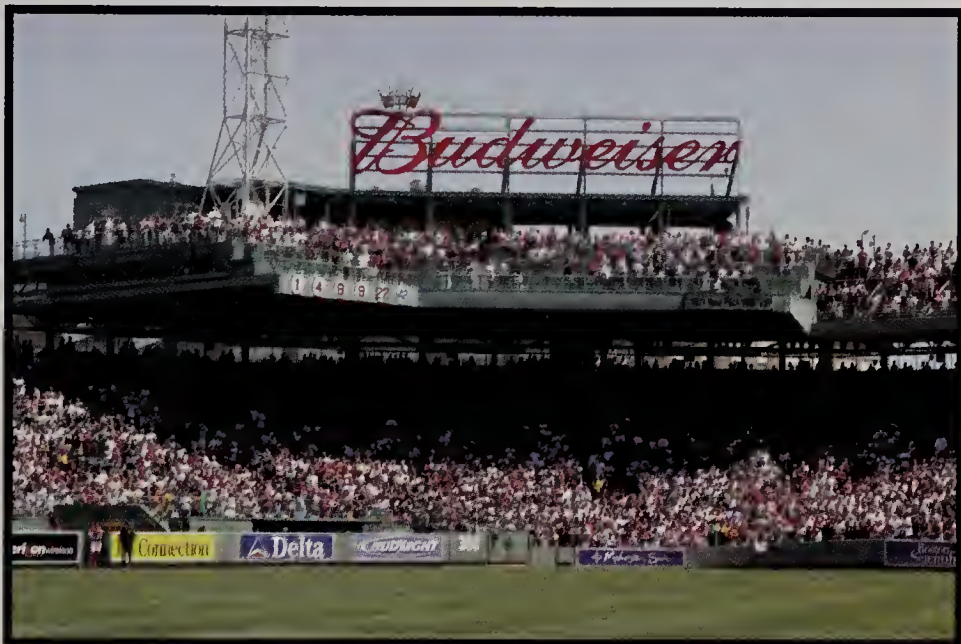

In addition, the Red Sox' clubhouse received a new, large weight room, a room for hydratherapy, a new coaches room that gave the players more space, and a larger interview room.

For fans, the club helped decongest the narrow walkway atop the grandstand seats on the first base side. The First Base Deck gave fans more room and added more concession stands to further reduce lines. Also the deck, doubled as the roof of the expanded the clubhouse.

After the 2005 season, the club undertook their most ambitious set of improvements. The Red Sox broke the glass that had separated patrons in the .406 Club from the field, and divided the large venue into two open-air seating areas: the EMC Club below and the State Street Pavilion above.

The club also remodeled the pavilion level down the first-base line and third-base line, adding as many as five rows to an area that only had four.

Additionally, the club added a new staircase from the corner of Yawkey Way and Van Ness Street to relieve congestion inside Gate D.

SINCE 2004, THE RIGHT FIELD ROOF DECK HAS OFFERED FANS A WHOLE NEW PERSPECTIVE ON AMERICA'S MOST BELOVED BALLPARK.

FOLLOWING THE 2005 SEASON, THE RED SOX HEEDED THE REQUEST OF FANS TO REMOVE THE GLASS THAT HAD SEPARATED THE .406 CLUB FROM THE AMBIANCE OF FENWAY PARK SINCE 1989. THE NEW EMC CLUB AND STATE STREET PAVILION DEBUT IN 2006.

In addition to the structural changes, the club added new personal and ceremonial touches. On Opening Day, 2002, while Aerosmith star Steven Tyler, a friend of Henry, belted an inspiring national anthem, a new giant flag draped across the length of the Green Monster. Then, from behind the flag, emerged the Super Bowl champion New England Patriots, who marched in with their trophy, threw 25 simultaneous Ceremonial First Pitches to the entire Red Sox squad, and shook hands, hoping to bestow their championship karma on their baseball brothers.

Two days later, the players greeted fans at the gates, a gesture of intimacy and goodwill appreciated by their adoring faithful.

The club added ceremonies to honor heroes and thrill children every game. From leaders of group outings to little fans shouting "Play Ball!" to cue the start of the game, the Red Sox used their sacred lawn to cast the spotlight on average citizens and community heroes. Those citizens experienced another Fenway First June 16, 2002, when the club introduced a Fathers Day Catch at Fenway. While the club played in Atlanta, approximately 20,000 fans spent parts of their afternoon playing catch on the Fenway Park outfield grass. A tradition was born.

A little more than a month later, July 22, the club invited the public to Fenway to celebrate the life of Ted Williams, who had passed away July 5. During the day, fans quietly walked the warning track, admiring displays that illustrated not only his playing career, but his role as an American patriot and a pioneer in the development of the Jimmy Fund.

That evening, a crowd sat captivated by stories from teammates Johnny Pesky and Dom DiMaggio, comrades in war Sen. John Glenn and Jerry Coleman, protégés Carl Yastrzemski and Nomar Garciaparra, Jimmy Fund leaders and patients, and the long-time voices of the Red Sox, Ned Martin (who would ironically pass away the next day) and Ken Coleman (who would pass away the next year). Then an assembly of Red Sox alumni took the field, in their old positions, in their old uniforms, and gravitated to a left field flower display in the form of a Number 9. The players knelt and placed flowers as well, as together, a community bade farewell to the greatest hitter that ever lived.

Through the summer, the club chose 25 Fenway Ambassadors from more than 3,500 applicants. Diverse in age and backgrounds but unified in their sensitivity to fans, the Ambassadors made their debut September 5. This proactive, outbound goodwill force rides the T (creating a "Boston T Party"), greets fans at Kenmore Square, selects children for ceremonies, and stealthily bestows gifts upon unsuspecting, wide-eyed little ones.

Fans continued to enjoy the ambiance and experiences of Fenway Park even in the off-season. The club opened the doors each year on Halloween for Boston's children to "trick or treat" in safety and comfort, while Red Sox corporate partner Stop and Shop supplied the candy.

Less than two weeks later, the Red Sox celebrated Veterans Day, both at Fenway and in the community.

After each season, the Red Sox have organized a Holiday Caravan to area hospitals and schools, and welcomed children to Fenway for a Holiday Party.

Additional innovations in 2003 included players meeting fans in an On-Field Photo Day, a Mothers Day Walk in the Park, a reprise of the Fathers Day Catch, and baseball and softball clinics for boys and girls. Before each Friday home game, the club honored "Medical All-Stars," local physicians and scientists searching for cures for cancer and other diseases.

The park also attracted an array of America's top singers and musicians. Lou Rawls (national anthem) and the late Ray Charles (America the Beautiful) opened the season, and Boston's James Taylor delivered an anthem for the ages near the close of Opening Week. Stephen Stills, Huey Lewis and the News, Country star (and Holliston, MA native) Jo Dee Messina and the Eagles' Glenn Frey visited the park, as did Hollywood's Rob Reiner, Spike Lee, Ben Affleck, and Jennifer Lopez. In 2004, Saturday Night Live's Seth Myers made several visits, and former SNL star Jimmy Fallon spent many September days at Fenway with Drew Barrymore, as they used the location to shoot the Farrelly Brothers' popular film, "Fever Pitch."

And the players added to the ambiance as well. In 2003, Kevin Millar delivered a home video taped as a teenager of his singing and dancing to Bruce Springsteen's, "Born in the U.S.A." The humorous display brought fans to their feet and gave the Red Sox their version of Anaheim's Rally Monkey: Rally Karaoke Guy.

Ironically, the real, live version of the song would help cap two more innovative nights at Fenway. Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band played the first ever rock concerts at Fenway September 6 and 7 before capacity crowds of 36,298 each night. With sparkling weather and a nearly full moon, the energetic performer had the crowd on its feet virtually the entire show both nights. A year later, Jimmy Buffett would add color and a sweet atmosphere in another pair of sold-out concerts September 10 and 12. And in 2005, sold out Fenway rocked with the ageless Rolling Stones August 21 and 23.

During the four seasons, there was a new ambiance and spirit, indeed.

TO MARKET AGGRESSIVELY TO A NEW, BROAD REGION

The third commitment of the new Red Sox ownership was to market the club aggressively to a new, broad region. The club, blessed with fans throughout New England, across the nation and around the globe, engaged in programs to demonstrate that loyalty is a two-way street.

From January 24-31, 2003 the Fenway Ambassadors, Red Sox alumni, and current players rode through frigid and blizzard conditions to meet fans in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Red Sox Winter Caravan presented by Coca-Cola also paraded through Boston and other areas in Massachusetts in February, and culminated with the departure of the team's equipment truck from Fenway for Ft. Myers, FL, February 10, 2003.

A Summer Caravan continued the outreach, this time with combinations of Henry, Werner, and Lucchino. The visits to each state included pomp and ceremony from elected officials and fans at public rallies, and personal interaction and financial contributions at children's group homes (formerly called orphanages) in each state.

In addition to the outbound visits, the club held celebrations at Fenway for each of the states, and for the children who the club's owners had met at the homes.

In January and February, 2004, the caravan again took to the highways and backroads. An assortment of players and coaches visited each state in New England. And the club reprised the celebrations of each state at Fenway during the season.

The club also began the labor-intensive process of personally answering fan mail from throughout the region. The individual attention enhanced the bonds of goodwill and led to Lucchino's new expression, "micromarketing."

In addition to the grass roots marketing, the club worked more closely with NESN, the booming New England voice that carries Red Sox games and programming to most of New England, and beyond.

Upon winning the World Series, October 27, 2004, the Red Sox received the long-awaited trophy, and immediately set out to share it with their fans. The Red Sox carried the grand symbol of faith rewarded to every state in New England, plus New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington, D.C., Florida, and the Dominican Republic. In addition, the club brought the trophy to each of the 351 cities or towns in Massachusetts.

Along the road of the Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts State Lottery, another symbol of victory joined the celebration. "The Final Out Ball," the ball that Edgar Renteria hit, that Keith Foulke snagged, and that Doug Mientkiewicz caught to ignite massive jubilation that still echoes, was mounted in a handsome case by Heritage Creations, Inc., and accompanied the trophy on many of its visits. These caravans have brought the Red Sox, and a personal touch, to a new, broad region. In less than a year, more than 45,000 fans have signed up on line via redsox.com to be card-carrying members of Red Sox Nation.

TO BE ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMMUNITY

The new leadership of the Red Sox vowed to be active participants in the community, and has taken that outreach to new levels. Immediately after completing the purchase of the club February 27, 2002, the new ownership group established the Red Sox Foundation, and ever since, has made commitments that have now exceeded $18 million.

An immediate beneficiary was the Joey Fund, which received $150,000 from a Red Sox spring training game vs. Houston to help fight cystic fibrosis.

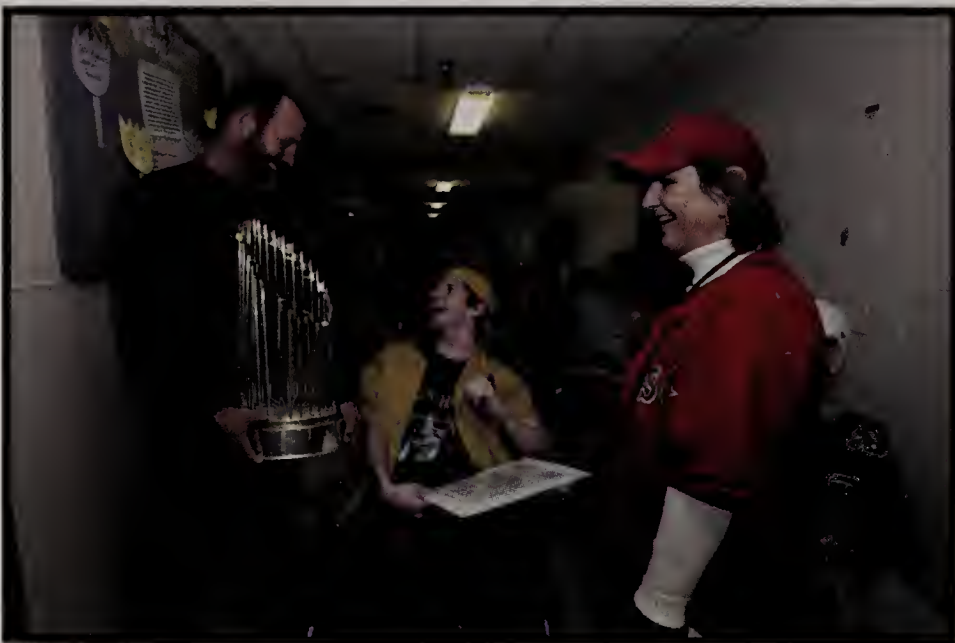

A wildly successful idea of Chairman Tom Werner generated $2 million in 2005. The club made three authentic World Series for fans whose names were drawn at the conclusion of a raffle. All 200,000 tickets were sold at $10 apiece.

The new leadership has focused its community and philanthropic efforts on four areas: health, education, athletics, and urban social issues.

The landmark health program continues to be the Jimmy Fund, which in 2005 celebrated the 52nd anniversary of its partnership with the Red Sox. The club still devotes more than a million dollars in cash or value, including sponsorship of the Jimmy Fund's largest fundraiser, the Pan-Mass Challenge. The Red Sox Foundation donated nearly $1.5 million in cash in 2003 and 2004 through that sponsorship alone.

Beyond the money, the Red Sox honor the doctors at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund Clinic throughout each season. Hundreds of citizens who had earlier been treated at DFCI formed a giant 50 in center field on April 18, 2003, a living demonstration of the progress the physicians and scientists have made throughout the years.

On August 27, 2004, 25 doctors in their lab coats walked across the outfield grass to a standing ovation as the fans learned the type of cancer research each scientist was pursuing. When they reached the pitchers mound, the entire Red Sox team was waiting at home plate to catch each of their tosses for the Ceremonial First Pitch. That night was the third annual WEEI Radiothon, the second straight televised by NESN, and for the third straight year, the event set a record. After raising $325,000 in 2002 and $1 million in 2003, the event raised nearly $1.5 million in 2004.

AMONG THE MOST COMMUNITY-MINDED PLAYERS IN BASEBALL, TIM WAKEFIELD SHARED THE WORLD SERIES TROPHY WITH HIS FRIENDS AT THE FRANCISCAN CHILDRENS HOSPITAL.

On August 26, 2005, 25 nurses were the honorees, as again, the team came out to home plate to receive their pitches. And for the 4th straight year, Jimmy Fund Day set a record—this time more than $2.3 million.

Visits, both organized and impromptu, to the hospital by players and to the ballpark by patients also characterized the relationship, which Ted Williams helped pioneer.

The Red Sox created the centerpiece of their education efforts in 2003. On May 8, the club announced the Red Sox Scholars program, and on September 16, introduced 25 Boston 6th graders whose academic talent and financial background merit a $5,000 college scholarship, provided the students maintain good grades and citizenship.

The Red Sox Scholars were students in the Bell program (Building Educated Leaders for Life), an elementary academic enrichment program started by Earl Martin Phalen and chaired by Professor Charles Ogletree of Harvard Law School. Partners in the Red Sox Scholars program include Boston City Schools and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, which provides 25 mentors from their medical staff for each class.

On June 9, 2004, the second class of Red Sox Scholars took the field, each with a player, as the Class of 2003 proudly welcomed them. On June 15, 2005, 25 more, the class of 2005, brought the number of scholars to 75.

The focus of the club's recreation efforts are four community athletic programs. Rookie League introduces young children to baseball and the RBI League (Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities) does so for older children.

The club announced a new kind of league, the Boston Area Church League, August 8, 2002. Children play Saturday doubleheaders, often coached by their pastors with district attorneys as umpires. The Boston Police also volunteer in the program, which debuted August 10, 2002.

Fleet Bank, World-Wide Multimedia, Inc., and the Hilton Hotels helped launch the program, which in 2004 completed its third season. A spin-off of the successful program then began in Springfield, MA.

The fourth community athletic program was announced December 19, 2002. The club established Red Sox Children's Retreats, weekend respites from asphalt and noise at the beautiful, tranquil Ron Burton Training Village created by the beloved patriarch and first player in the history of the New England Patriots. The respected philanthropist, who attended the press conference announcing the partnership, passed away September 13, 2003.

The Red Sox in 2004 made their landmark program regarding urban social issues the Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury. With a $50,000 donation, Principal Owner John Henry initiated the partnership, and literally saved some of the key programs that help the youth of this and surrounding neighborhoods.

The step boldly accented the aggressive outreach in the communities of color that the club began pursuing immediately after the new leaders took over. Starting April 4, 2002, the Red Sox began meeting with community leaders to demonstrate that Fenway's doors were open and that all were invited. By the end of March, 2003, John Henry was honored as the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts' Man of the Year.

The club instituted a tradition by using the dual nature of January 31—both Jackie Robinson's birthday and the eve of Black History Month—to provide an annual seminar that teaches children what they should learn—and teach—about the man who broke baseball's color barrier. At the first seminar, in 2003, the club assembled several hundred children who listened to Roger Kahn, author of "The Boys of Summer" and a close friend of Jackie Robinson. Author and Boston Herald writer Howard Bryant emphasized that, thanks to Robinson, each child is able to dream of any job in the world. No limits, no ceilings. First base coach Dallas Williams described his appreciation for the road that Robinson had paved for him.

INAUGURATED IN 2003, THE RED SOX SCHOLARS PROGRAM IS THE CENTERPIECE OF THE CLUB'S EDUCATION EFFORT, AWARDING COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS ANNUALLY TO 25 ACADEMICALLY TALENTED, FINANCIALLY CHALLENGED BOSTON SIXTH GRADERS. THE CLASS OF 2005 IS PICTURED.

The fresh initiative also inspired Massachusetts Senator John Kerry and Rep. Richard Neal to begin successful legislation in their respective Houses that resulted in Congress bestowing the Congressional Gold Medal to the family of the late Jackie Robinson. The ceremony, led by President Bush, took place in the Rotunda of the Capitol, March 2, 2005.

On January 31, 2004, the guests were the legendary Buck O'Neil, spry in his early 90s, and Sharon Robinson, Jackie's daughter. The Red Sox purchased Sharon's new book about her father, "Promises to Keep," and distributed them to 350 children.

On January 31, 2005, Senator Kerry and Rep. Neal spoke of the Congressional Gold Medal, and why Jackie Robinson is one of the few (300) American heroes to warrant the honor. Author Scott Simon and Robinson's granddaughter, Sonya Pankey, gave additional perspectives.

On January 31, 2006, Congressman Neal returned, joined by former Red Sox star Tommy Harper and Robinson author and inspirational author Pat Williams.

The Red Sox' enhanced Community Relations Department arranged for 214 appearances in 2002, a club record 452 in 2003 (202 alumni, 250 current uniformed staff), and another club record 520 (a record 242 alumni, a record 278 current uniformed staff) in 2004. Players and alumni set yet another record in 2006 with 582 appearances (a record 282 by alumni, a record 300 by current uniformed staff).

The club had also provided help more than 10,000 times in the four seasons to accredited non-profit organizations in New England (including a record, 2,867 donations of items or experiences in 2004 and a new record, 3581, in 2005).

The front office staff joined the community efforts, actively supporting the Pan-Mass Challenge, the American Heart Association's Heart Walk, Walk Far for NAAR (National Alliance for Autism Research), and the United Way.

Beyond the front office staff, the Red Sox Wives were energetic philanthropists. The wives created and sold out an ABC book for children, "Fenway Park, A to Z," published September 5, 2002. In 2004, they created the sequel, "Fenway 1-2-3." The wives have also produced a variety of events that have generated record amounts of food for the hungry and funds to fight diabetes, cancer, and abuse of women.

TO END
THE CURSE OF THE BAMBINO
AND WIN WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR BOSTON, NEW ENGLAND, AND RED SOX NATION

In their third year at the helm, the leaders of the Red Sox achieved the ultimate goal. They broke the proverbial "Curse of the Bambino," if it ever existed, and extinguished the suspense and frustration that had been a psychocivic phenomenon known throughout the world of sports.

The ultimate goal for any team any year, this commitment represents an understanding of the years, decades, and generations of anticipation of the club's first World Championship since 1918.

Ironically, the Red Sox have had more winning seasons (33) starting with the Impossible Dream season of 1967 than any other major league club. The rest of the top five: New York Yankees, 31; Los Angeles, 28; Cincinnati, 25, and Baltimore, 24.

They've also won at least 90 games in 12 of those 39 years. And all the while, the fans pour into the little park in the Fens, express their passion in record numbers, and believe that this is the year. And at last, in 2004, it was. And as they reached postseason for the third straight year in 2005, they knew it was certainly a new day.

THE RED SOX FOUNDATION

THE RED SOX ORGANIZATION

RED SOX FOUNDATION

THE RED SOX FOUNDATION IS COMMITTED TO USING THE POWER OF BASEBALL, THE TEAM, AND RED SOX NATION TO CREATE NEW AND STRENGTHENED COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS THAT IMPROVE THE LIVES OF CHILDREN AND ADULTS ACROSS NEW ENGLAND.

The Red Sox Foundation is committed to harnessing the passion fans have for this team and the strength of Red Sox Nation to create powerful community partnerships that will improve the lives of children and families across New England. The Foundation's efforts are primarily focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities for children in New England, as well as social service programs in urban neighborhoods.

Initially funded through generous donations from Principal Owner John W. Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, President/CEO Larry Lucchino and their 20 generous partners, the Red Sox Foundation is the team's charitable commitment to this community. Additional support from Red Sox players, managers, coaches, their wives, corporate sponsors and fans--as well as funds raised through special events like the "Welcome Home Luncheon" and "Picnic in the Park"--underscore the bond shared by the Red Sox Foundation and the team's fans.

In just over three years, the Red Sox Foundation has donated more than $13 million to hundreds of non-profits. Although a relatively new player on Boston's philanthropic scene, the Red Sox Foundation has quickly become not only the largest team sports foundation in New England, but in all of Major League Baseball.

The Red Sox Foundation has four cornerstones of its charitable outreach. The first continues the team's more than 50-year tradition of supporting The Jimmy Fund and its breakthrough cancer research at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The second cornerstone of the Foundation supports the life-changing work done at Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury. The third cornerstone is the Red Sox Scholars program, which provides college scholarships to 25 academically talented but economically challenged middle school students in the Boston Public Schools as well as tutoring and mentoring provided in partnership with non-profit innovators at BELL (Building Educated Leaders for Life) and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. The Red Sox Children's Recreation Programs are the fourth Foundation cornerstone, including the local Rookie and RBI youth baseball leagues and the Red Sox Children's Retreat program for inner-city children at the Ron Burton Training Village in central Massachusetts. At the suggestion of John Henry, the Foundation also has extended its embrace to children in group homes, or what were once called orphanages, in each New England state.

In addition, the Red Sox Foundation is proud to be affiliated with an exceptional new charity, created last year by Red Sox Executive Vice President/General Manager Theo Epstein and his twin brother Paul. "A Foundation to be Named Later," which operated under the umbrella of the Red Sox Foundation, supports eight non-profits serving at risk or underprivileged youth. Generously supported by the Epsteins and other donors--as well as through funds raised at special events like the fan-favorite "Hot Stove, Cool Music" concerts--"A Foundation To Be Named Later" benefits Horizons for Homeless Children, Roxbury Youthworks, West End House, The Treehouse Foundation, The Home for Little Wanderers, Brookline School-Community Partnership, BELL and MOLOCARE.

In 2005, the Red Sox Foundation proudly announced a new public-private partnership that has created a gift to all fans of youth sports in Massachusetts. Inspired by and supported with a lead donation from Red Sox chairman Tom Werner and championed by Governor Mitt Romney, the Red Sox Foundation joined two local non-profits to rehabilitate three well-loved but well-worn and often-flooded athletic fields on Boston's famed Esplanade. Working with state officials from the Department of Conservation and Recreation and the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, the Red Sox Foundation partnered with local venture capitalist Abner Kurtin and other generous donors from Hill House Inc. and The Esplanade Association to raise nearly $2 million to repair and restore these public fields, located not far from Fenway Park. On June 10, 2006, donors will join generous supporters of youth sports from across New England to celebrate the grand opening of "Teddy Ebersol's Red Sox Fields." Named in memory of an avid young Red Sox fan who died in a plane crash shortly after the team's World Series victory in 2004, "Teddy Ebersol's Red Sox Fields" will also stand in memory of all fans of youth sports who were taken from us too soon.

In addition to these programs, the Red Sox Foundation has made donations to a wide variety of other New England based non-profits. When a donation of charitable funds is not possible, the team's Community Relations department often "steps up to the plate" by offering autographed merchandise or charitable tickets, thereby helping thousands of local non-profits raise funds for their worthy causes.

The Red Sox Foundation has won accolades for its innovative outreach and commitment to opening the doors of opportunity to children. Last year, the Red Sox Foundation won awards from numerous groups, ranging from The American Heart Association and the National Conference of Community and Justice, to The Boston Bar Association, and Boston Magazine.

With the blessing of the team's owners and players, the Red Sox Foundation also became the first team in baseball to use the cherished symbol of their success as World Champions to raise funds for charity. Demonstrating a generosity to match the passion of Red Sox Nation, fans and sponsors enthusiastically supported the Red Sox Foundation's World Series Ring Raffle, raising $2 million for the Foundation and the charitable programs it supports. That unique communion of commitment and compassion was on display last July when some 33,000 fans in Fenway Park cheered the three lucky raffle winners who were awarded a genuine World Series ring in honor of the generations of loyal Red Sox fans who kept faith with the team.

The executive director of the Red Sox Foundation is Meg Vaillancourt, the club's Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations. For more information about the Red Sox Foundation, or to volunteer or make a donation, please visit us online at www.redsoxfoundation.org.

THE BOSTON RED SOX MISSION STATEMENT

The Boston Red Sox organization is dedicated to fulfilling five fundamental commitments to Red Sox fans and New England residents:

1. To field a team worthy of their support, with players whose performance and conduct will make them proud.
2. To preserve all that is good about the Fenway Park experience and to take that experience to new levels of warmth and hospitality.
3. To market aggressively and creatively the Red Sox throughout Boston, the Commonwealth and all of New England.
4. To be active participants in the community in terms of charitable and philanthropic activities.
5. To bring World Series Championships to Boston and New England.

RED SOX OWNERSHIP

JOHN W. HENRY Principal Owner

John W. Henry, an avid baseball fan, often refers to baseball as an "affair of the heart." Known throughout the game as an involved and passionate owner, he believes the people of New England have always been and will always be the true owners of the Boston Red Sox. Mr. Henry views his role as a steward of New England's beloved baseball team, charged with the responsibility on and off the field of ensuring the Red Sox continue to win World Championships while further enhancing the relationship between the community and the team.

The wonderful fulfillment of the dream to win Boston's first World Series in 86 years in 2004 highlighted the stunning first four years for Mr. Henry and his partners.

The team captivated an adoring and faithful Red Sox Nation with the greatest comeback in baseball history, all the more satisfying after being heart-broken the previous year in Yankee Stadium when Aaron Boone ended a dramatic seven-game championship series to decide the pennant.

In 2004, the club that never quit, even when down three games to none to the archrival Yankees, won four straight—in breathtaking fashion—to capture the pennant, then four more in a row to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals and send millions into delirium. The achievement came less than a thousand days (973) after purchasing the club.

In 2005, the Red Sox reached the post-season for the third consecutive year, a first in the franchise's rich 105-year history.

On December 20, 2001, the Boston Red Sox partners voted unanimously to sell 100 percent of the team's interests to an investment group headed by Mr. Henry and Tom Werner. The Major League clubs approved the ownership transfer from the Yawkey Trust and limited partners January 16, 2002. The sale closed February 27, 2002.

Mr. Henry actively contributes to and collaborates with Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino on a variety of aspects of the baseball experience.

"Larry Lucchino is my role model when it comes to baseball executives. His track record is impeccable. His commitment and passion for excellence on the field, creating fan-friendly environments and setting standards for community involvement make our ownership of the Red Sox something I look forward to each day.

"Tom Werner and I are like brothers. We talk every day about ideas on how to improve everything from the New England Sports Network to the length of the grass on the field. We are blessed with an incredibly strong ownership group that loves the Red Sox."

Henry not only set out to win multiple World Series, but to make sure the Red Sox were active participants in the community. As a result, the club's community relations department has set records each of his three seasons as principal owner in the number of appearances arranged for players in the community, and the amount of authentic memorabilia donated to non-profit organizations in New England to help them raise funds.

Immediately after taking ownership, Mr. Henry and his partners founded—and funded—The Red Sox Foundation. “The Red Sox Foundation is now the largest of its kind in baseball, and it plays a key role in many areas of New England. The owners, staff and players of the Red Sox are working together to bring enlightened leadership and teamwork in relation to community efforts.”

Mr. Henry, along with current and former partners, have made donations or pledges of more than $18 million to the foundation, which focuses on health, education, recreation, and urban social issues.

With his passion and enthusiasm for baseball, Mr. Henry is accessible to the media and fans. He’s often seen moving throughout ballparks in Spring Training and during the regular season. He sits in many areas of Fenway Park, from the Bleachers to the Green Monster Seats to the seats near the dugouts, and often greets fans at the gate. That exposure and interaction helped inspire the improvements that have widened the concourses, reduced concession lines and augmented the restrooms at Fenway Park.

“I love to listen to and interact with fans,” Henry said. “Perhaps not every fan can identify with me, but I think I can identify with most of them because I’ve been a passionate baseball fan all my life. I know that even the best baseball team cannot win every night, but I want to make sure our fans win every night—that they enjoy as many aspects of our game, our tradition, and the Fenway experience as they can. If they don’t, I want to know why and see what I can do to address their concerns immediately. It is the New England fans and their representative media that have created the romance, mystique and passion that we all feel when the words ‘Boston Red Sox’ are spoken.”

PRINCIPAL OWNER JOHN W. HENRY PRESENTED DAVID ORTIZ HIS WORLD SERIES CHAMPIONSHIP RING ON OPENING DAY, 2005.

Mr. Henry has garnered a wealth of experience—and eight championship rings—at three different levels in his 18 years (through 2005) in baseball at an ownership level. Prior to purchasing the Red Sox, he was chairman and sole owner of the Florida Marlins. He was also a limited partner of the New York Yankees, and was chairman and majority owner of the Tucson Toros of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

Mr. Henry also formed a co-ownership with Boca Raton, FL attorney Don Sider in the West Palm Beach Tropics of the Senior Professional Baseball League. The Tropics, managed by former Red Sox manager Dick Williams, posted a league-best 52-20 record in his one-year ownership, led by Hall of Famer Rollie Fingers and All-Stars Toby Harrah, Dave Kingman, Mickey Rivers and Al Hrabosky.

Mr. Henry is chairman of John W. Henry & Company, Inc. (JWH), which he founded in 1981. Located in Boca Raton, FL, JWH is currently among the largest alternative investment firms in the world, managing foreign exchange, financial futures and commodities for leading money center banks, brokerage firms, multi-national corporations, retirement funds and private clients worldwide. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Future Industry Association, National Association of Futures Trading Advisors (NAFTA) and the Managed Futures Trade Association. He is a recognized leader in alternative asset financial product innovation.

In early 2002, he and his family purchased a home in Boston. Born in Quincy, IL, John spent most of his childhood in Forrest City, AR, where his parents owned a farm. He was a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan growing up, listening to St. Louis Cardinals broadcaster Harry Caray on the radio. At age 9, he saw his first major league game at Sportsman’s Park in St. Louis—the very city where he would see his own Boston Red Sox celebrate in triumph after completing the greatest comeback in baseball history.

THOMAS C. WERNER, Chairman

In the four seasons that Tom Werner has been Chairman of the Boston Red Sox, the club has enjoyed unprecedented success. The club has advanced to postseason play three straight seasons for the first time in its history. The pinnacle, of course, was the 2004 World Championship that ended an 86-year drought. Red Sox fans have sold out 226 consecutive games at Fenway Park, the second longest streak in baseball history. And together with Principal Owner John W. Henry and President/CEO Larry Lucchino, Werner on March 23, 2005, announced that the Red Sox had committed to remain long term at America's Most Beloved Ballpark.

The saving of Fenway Park fulfilled a vision that made Werner and Les Otten unique among those who tried to purchase the club in late 2001. Later joined by John Henry, this group was the only potential purchaser who was committed to saving the shrine from the wrecking ball.

Through the successful improvements resulting from major investments, brilliant ingenuity, and dogged persistence, the club's ownership group concluded that the park could, indeed, be preserved. As a result, the ballpark is on track to see its 100th anniversary in 2012. The oldest and smallest park in the majors would be the first ever to last 100 years.

A respected and veteran baseball owner for the past 16 years, Werner and the partners have helped lead the effort for a kinder, more fan-friendly atmosphere at the ballpark that has resonated with parents, grandparents, and children.

The Red Sox Foundation, established immediately after the purchase of the team, is another example of their leadership. Its charitable donations, after only four seasons, are the biggest in professional baseball, as the foundation gives away millions of dollars each year. Werner is particularly proud of his involvement in the Teddy Ebersol-Red Sox Fields, which will be used by thousands of children commencing this spring.

Werner, a member of the Television Academy Hall of Fame for his extraordinary achievements as a creator and producer of many groundbreaking series, has had baseball in his soul his entire life. He played the game during his childhood, coached his children in youth baseball and has attended countless major league games.

As a 17-year-old freshman at Harvard, Werner gave his heart to the ultimate underdogs, the Impossible Dream Red Sox of 1967. He has been a devoted follower of the Red Sox ever since.

For his visual studies class at Harvard, Werner created a documentary about Opening Day at Fenway Park, starting with the quiet, quaint park at rest, then exploding with the excitement of fans pouring into the ballpark. The education in film would lead to a rewarding career in television; the passion for the Red Sox and Fenway Park would later lead Werner to begin a quest to buy the team when it was offered for sale in 2001.

Werner is also an active contributor to Major League Baseball. He was appointed by Commissioner Selig in January of 2003 to serve on a special task force that examines and makes recommendations about Major League Baseball in the 21st century. Werner is one of only three owners in this select group, which also includes players as well as experts in academia, marketing and business. He was also appointed to the Board of Major League Baseball Enterprises, which has oversight over national media arrangements as well as Major League Baseball Properties.

In addition to these responsibilities, Werner takes great pride in his contributions to the success of the New England Sports Network. Most people in the television industry now regard NESN to be one of the strongest sports channels in the country, as it televises almost 300 live events each year, including Red Sox and Bruins games. Since 2001, NESN has more than doubled the amount of original programming it airs.

Werner's entry into Major League Baseball came in 1990 when he led a group that purchased the San Diego Padres. He served baseball on the national level as a member of the Executive Council and Chairman of the Television Committee. As such, he was a key force in establishing one of the most crucial innovations in baseball history — the Wild Card, the very element that enabled the Boston Red Sox, years later, to win their first World Championship since 1918.

Werner feels that the relationship between the ballclub and Red Sox fans is the most special in all of baseball. Amid the clubhouse pandemonium that occurred after the final game in St. Louis, Werner remembered the generations of fans who had yearned for such a day.

"This victory is dedicated to countless fans who have said to John, Larry, and me that they just want to live long enough to see one championship in their lifetime. And it is dedicated to all the former Red Sox players upon whose shoulders this 2004 club was carried."

Werner recalled the comment Ted Williams uttered: "If they ever won it, I would feel so damn warm inside."

Embodying the values of integrity and quality, Werner (born April 12, 1950) has already achieved a lifetime of accolades in the television business. He and his partner Marcy Carsey have helped create such hits as "The Cosby Show," "A Different World," "Roseanne," "Third Rock from the Sun," "Cybill," "Grace Under Fire" and "That '70s Show."

Earlier, while working for ABC television, Werner and Carsey saw Robin Williams in a comedy club and launched his career in "Mork and Mindy." Werner also oversaw the development of "Bosom Buddies," which started the career of Tom Hanks; "Soap," which started the career of Billy Crystal; and "Taxi," which started the careers of Tony Danza and Danny DeVito.

Werner has also received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Producers Guild of America. His company has garnered 24 Emmy Awards, 11 People's Choice Awards and numerous Golden Globes, Humanitas Prizes and Peabody Awards.

In 2000, Werner and his longtime partners Marcy Carsey and Caryn Mandabach, joined forces with Geraldine Laybourne and Oprah Winfrey to start Oxygen, a 24-hour cable channel serving the modern woman. Oxygen is one of the fastest growing cable networks ever, now in almost 65,000,000 homes.

Werner spends much of the year in Boston, where he maintains a residence. He has served on a number of boards, including the White House Fellows Commission, and he is presently on the board of The Crossroads School and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

HENRY, WERNER AND LUCCHINO CELEBRATED A CHAMPIONSHIP IN 2004

LARRY LUCCHINO President/CEO

Larry Lucchino was named President/CEO of the Red Sox upon the closing of the purchase of the team on February 27, 2002. Previously President/CEO of the Baltimore Orioles (1988-93) and the San Diego Padres (1995-01), Lucchino is a veteran of 26 years in Major League Baseball. With the Red Sox, Lucchino manages the franchise on a day-to-day basis with the active involvement of, and in collaboration with, Principal Owner John Henry and Chairman Tom Werner.

The Red Sox' cherished 2004 World Championship that ended an 86-year drought produced Lucchino's second World Series ring. He also won one in 1983 with Baltimore, to go with a National League pennant ring with San Diego in 1998.

Lucchino is the first President/CEO to win pennants for two different franchises—let alone in two different leagues—since Hall of Fame executive Larry MacPhail did so more than 50 years ago with the Brooklyn Dodgers (1941) and the New York Yankees (1947). They are the only two to have done so, though Al Rosen also won pennants as President/CEO of the Yankees in 1978 and as President of the San Francisco Giants in 1989, but Bob Lurie was the Giants' CEO.

In his 16 full seasons as a President/CEO, his clubs have a winning record of 1,344-1,229 (.520), have reached post-season play five times (1996, 1998, 2003, 2004, 2005), have won two pennants, and one World Series.

In addition to a running championship franchises, Lucchino has earned a legacy for creating ballparks that have transformed the structures' role in the fan experience, their influence on franchise value, and their place within the community.

His vision for Oriole Park at Camden Yards, an old-fashioned downtown ballpark with modern amenities, ushered in the era of revolutionary ballpark architecture and ambiance responsible in part for the game's resurgence since 1992.

He also had the vision for the ballpark that saved baseball in San Diego. Petco Park, designed to look and feel like San Diego, was approved in a 1998 landslide vote on Proposition C, a campaign that Lucchino spearheaded. As much as the Padres needed a ballpark, the city needed a catalyst to redevelop an under-utilized 26-block area in the city's downtown. As promised, the ballpark revitalized a key neighborhood, as it had done in Baltimore (and in other cities subsequently). The entire design of the park was completed in August, 2001, and construction was well underway when Lucchino left the Padres and later joined John W. Henry and Tom Werner in their successful effort to purchase the Red Sox, December 20, 2001.

While every other group that sought to purchase the Red Sox advocated a replacement for venerable Fenway Park, the group led by Henry, Werner, and Lucchino was the only one that sought to save—and improve—America's most beloved ballpark. The ownership group officially announced their commitment to keep Fenway Park long term on March 23, 2005. Seven months later, they took a sledge hammer to the unpopular glass that enclosed the .406 Club to create outdoor seating throughout the park.

Lucchino has overseen the successful additions at Fenway of Green Monster Seats, the Right Field Roof Seats, Dugout Seats, the Yawkey Way Concourse, the Big Concourse, the Third Base Concourse, and the new State Street Pavilion. These and other well-received innovations were carefully planned to enhance the fans' experience while respecting the integrity of the historic park and the surrounding neighborhood.

In addition to championships and popular ballpark design (and redesign), Lucchino has made his mark in the cutting-edge marketing of baseball. In Baltimore, his efforts produced record-setting attendance as the Orioles' fan base expanded from 2 million to 6 million. In his 14 years with the Orioles, the season ticket base increased from 1,600 to 28,000 plus a 13,000-person waiting list.

In his seven years with the Padres, the season ticket base more than doubled from 5,081 to 12,380 through 2000. Under his leadership, the Padres recorded their top three all-time attendance figures in his last four years there.

In his four seasons in Boston, the club has set franchise records each year, and has now sold out 226 straight games going back to May, 2003. The streak broke the previous club record of 65, and is now second-longest in the history of Major League Baseball.

Each of the three franchises he has served as chief executive has established a foundation during his tenure (The Orioles Foundation, The Padres Foundation, and The Red Sox Foundation). Under his leadership, each franchise has re-invigorated its philanthropy, its community relations efforts, and its ballpark ambiance to ensure all fans feel welcome.

Lucchino's passion for ballparks is rivaled by his drive for baseball's internationalization. He pioneered the effort to play Major League Baseball's first regular season games in Mexico (1996) and Hawaii (1997), established baseball's first International Opener in Monterrey, Mexico in 1999, and was an early supporter of the World Baseball Classic. He also serves on Major League Baseball's International Committee.

He has served on MLB's Restructuring Committee, the American League's Cable Television Committee, and as Chairman of the Player Development Contract Negotiations Committee. He was a member of the Realignment Committee and the Commissioner's Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics, which released its recommendations for attacking the game's economic and competitive balance issues in July, 2000.

Born in Pittsburgh, Lucchino was an All-City League basketball player and a second baseman on the Pittsburgh city championship baseball team at Taylor Allderdice High School. He graduated with honors from Princeton University in 1967 and was a 1972 graduate of Yale Law School. At Princeton, he was a member of two Ivy League championship basketball teams.

In 1974, he joined Williams and Connolly, the law firm founded by his mentor, friend, legendary sportsman and trial attorney Edward Bennett Williams. He became a partner in 1978 and specialized in sports law and litigation. He was general counsel to the Washington Redskins, of which Williams was president and part owner, and was a member of the Redskins Board of Directors from 1979 to 1985. When EBW bought the Orioles on August 2, 1979, Lucchino also became the baseball club's vice president/general counsel. He was named president by EBW in May, 1988, to rebuild the club's baseball and business operations. He was part-owner of the Orioles from 1989 until the club was sold at the end of the 1993 season and of the Padres from December of 1994 to 2002.

The avid sportsman has the unique distinction of earning World Series rings (Orioles, '83; Red Sox, '04), a Super Bowl ring (Redskins, '83), and a Final Four watch (Princeton, '65). Lucchino has been active in numerous civic and charitable efforts in Baltimore, San Diego, and Boston with particular involvement in the research and treatment of cancer. He is married to Stacey Johnson Lucchino, and has two stepchildren, Davis (16) and Blair (14).

BOSTON RED SOX

VICE CHAIRMEN

DAVID I. GINSBERG, Vice Chairman

David Ginsberg became Vice Chairman of the Red Sox upon the closing of the sale, February 27, 2002. He works with Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner and President/CEO Larry Lucchino on business, financial and strategic issues. He had been Vice Chairman of the Florida Marlins in a similar role starting in 1999. Ginsberg is also Vice Chairman of New England Sports Ventures, the holding company that owns the Boston Red Sox and the interest in New England Sports Network (NESN), and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Red Sox Foundation.

Ginsberg is the CEO of Trilene Capital Partners, an investment management company. He served as the special advisor to the chairman and as a director at John W. Henry & Company (JWH) beginning in 1999 until June 2002. Before joining the Marlins and JWH, Ginsberg was a private investor and consultant. At Global Asset Management (GAM) in London, he started and served as the managing director of the Multi-Manager Group, one of the largest multi-advisor groups specializing in hedge funds, from its inception in 1989 until 1995. Prior to joining GAM, he was vice president in charge of the Mergers and Acquisitions Advisory Group at the National Westminster Bank USA, where he began his career as a corporate lender in 1981.

A native of Winthrop, MA, he graduated from The Northfield Mount Hermon School and received a B.A. from Kenyon College. He later received an M.B.A. with a concentration in finance from the Boston University Graduate School of Management.

PHILLIP H. MORSE, Vice Chairman

Phillip Morse was named Vice Chairman in 2004. He has been a partner in the Boston Red Sox since 2002.

Morse grew up in Danvers, MA and has two brothers living in the Boston area.

He attended the University of Maine, played baseball for the Black Bears, and graduated in 1964. Upon his graduation, Morse took a position in Boston with Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. He left Liberty Mutual in late 1966 to work in sales for a Glens Falls based small medical device company.

In 1969, Mr. Morse founded North American Instrument Corporation, a company focused on the development, manufacturing and sales of the first transparent fluid delivery system for coronary angiography, the Morse Manifold. By 1994, the firm had grown into NAMIC U.S.A. Corporation, an 800-employee designer and manufacturer of a wide array of medical devices for interventional cardiology and radiology. NAMIC made an initial public offering in 1991, and established operations in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in 1992 and in the Republic of Ireland in 1993. Morse served as NAMIC's Chairman until its sale to Pfizer, Inc. in 1995. Today, NAMIC U.S.A. is a member of the Boston Scientific family and after more than 30 years, the Morse Manifold continues to be used in more than 70 percent of all cardiac catheterization procedures.

After retiring from NAMIC in 1995, Mr. Morse founded Heritage Creations, Inc., a group of companies dedicated to providing premium quality products and services to premier private, public and resort golf courses, clubs and golf pro shops worldwide.

Mr. Morse has recently retired from the board of directors of Evergreen Bank, a division of Banknorth, N.A., and was a former director of The Business Council of New York State, Inc. He is a generous contributor to numerous medical, athletic and educational charities, having made a gift of an artificial turf stadium field to the University of Maine at Orono. In a combined effort with Mr. Harold Alfond, a former Red Sox partner, the University of Maine now has an outstanding athletic facility in which to play football, soccer and lacrosse. Three years ago, Mr. Morse turned 43 acres of woodlands in Glens Falls, NY into an athletic complex with a field house, nine tennis courts, two baseball fields, three softball fields, four fields for soccer and lacrosse and donated it to Glens Falls High School.

The Morses have three married daughters, all of whom live and work in Boston and surrounding communities and they divide their time between Boston, Lake George, NY and Jupiter, FL.

LESLIE B. OTTEN, Vice Chairman

Leslie (Les) Otten became vice chairman of the Red Sox upon the closing of the sale on February 27, 2002.

Otten has been a fixture in the resort industry since he first entered Killington's management training program in 1972. He moved to a management position at Maine's Sunday River in 1973 and ultimately purchased the resort from the parent company in 1980.

Otten transformed Sunday River from a small resort to one of the nation's largest. In the process, he led many product and marketing innovations, including the introduction of shaped-ski technology. His efforts led to numerous national awards, including Inc. Magazine's Turnaround Entrepreneur of the Year in 1989.

Between 1994 and 1995, Otten's company acquired numerous resorts, including Attitash and Cranmore (NH), and Sugarbush (VT). In 1996, he founded the American Skiing Company upon the successful acquisition of Mount Snow and Killington in Vermont, and Sugarloaf in Maine. In 1997 the company became the nation's largest resort operator with the acquisition of The Canyons (UT), Steamboat (CO) and Heavenly (CA/NV).

Mr. Otten is chairman and president of Sports Vision Technologies (Sports Vision). Sports Vision created and distributes the P3proSwing Home Golfing System — complete swing analyzer and golf simulator. The P3proSwing is distributed worldwide.

Mr. Otten's most recent venture is the creation of Sports Loyalty Systems, a coalition marketing company that links merchants, professional sports teams and their fans. The Company uses the team's products and experiences to reward loyal fans who shop at participating merchants. The Company already has agreements with MLB.com, the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Arizona Diamondbacks.

Otten is the co-founder of Maine Handicapped Skiing, a Maine-based entity that has taught skiing and snowboarding to thousands of physically disabled New Englanders. He is the past president and chairman of the Portland (ME) Museum of Art, a member of the Conservation Law Foundation Board of Directors, a founder of Project Opportunity — an aspirations compact for high schools and a trustee at Gould Academy in Bethel, ME. He is chairman of the board at The Jeremiah Cromwell Disabilities Center which was founded on the premise that people with disabilities deserve the same dignity, inclusion, and respect that every person deserves as a birthright. The Center seeks to accomplish this through programs designed to be implemented anywhere in the United States. He is a graduate of Ithaca College and a resident of Newry, ME.

LUCINDA K. TREAT, Chief Legal Officer

Lucinda Treat joined the organization as Chief Legal Officer upon the closing of the sale, February 27, 2002. In that role, she is responsible for overseeing all legal affairs of the Red Sox organization. Since joining the Red Sox organization, she has assisted in the legal aspects of the renovation of Fenway Park, helped finalize the club's acquisition and development of its baseball academy in the Dominican Republic, served as a member of the board of directors of the Red Sox Foundation and handled various day-to-day legal issues for the club.

Prior to joining the club, she spent three seasons as Vice President and Corporate Counsel for the Florida Marlins, where she handled general corporate work and worked intensively on the Marlins' efforts to secure a new ballpark. She joined the Marlins after serving as an associate at the New York law firm of Shearman and Sterling, where she was a member of the Mergers and Acquisitions practice group.

A Washington, D.C. native, Treat earned a bachelor of arts degree with distinction from the University of Wisconsin, and she graduated magna cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center.

Treat is a strong supporter of community efforts and serves as a Trustee of the Wang Center and Chairman of the Board of Scenarios USA. She lives in the Boston area with her daughter, Madeline, and son, Remy.

CLUB EXECUTIVES

ORGANIZATION

MIKE DEE Chief Operating Officer

Mike Dee was named Red Sox Chief Operating Officer March 7, 2004, less than 2 years after he joined the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs on July 15, 2002. The 11-year baseball veteran oversees the club's day-to-day business operations.

Since his arrival in Boston, Dee has played an instrumental role in virtually all of the club's key business initiatives, including the club setting all-time attendance records in each of the last three seasons and directing a dramatic increase in corporate sponsorship and marketing activities. In his three-plus years with the Red Sox, Dee has spearheaded the business implementation and integration of Fenway Park improvements such as the Green Monster Seats, the annexation of Yawkey Way, the Big Concourse expansion and, in 2006, the new EMC Club and State Street Pavilion Level. In addition, Dee has worked on a wide range of innovative projects, including bringing concerts to Fenway Park, enhancing the game-day operations of the Red Sox staff and improving the quality of concessions and service through his work with concessionaire ARAMARK.

Beyond his responsibilities in Boston, in 2003 Dee negotiated a 15-year lease extension to keep the Red Sox in their Spring Training home at City of Palms Park in Lee County, FL and oversees all Spring Training business development, governmental relations and ballpark operations.

Dee also serves as President of the Fenway Sports Group (FSG), a sports marketing and consulting firm wholly owned by New England Sports Ventures, the parent company of both the Red Sox and 80 percent of NESN. Formed in March, 2004, in its first full year of operation in 2005, FSG launched a number of key business initiatives including an exclusive sponsorship and media rights agreement with Boston College as the school entered play in the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference. In addition, FSG Golf was introduced in September, 2005. This division represents PGA Tour player Brad Faxon, the Deutsche Bank Championship (PGA Tour Event in Boston), the St. Andrews Grand in Scotland and the Boston Golf Club. FSG also works very closely with Major League Baseball Advanced Media (MLBAM) on the marketing of a variety of online assets including mlb.com and the 30 MLB team web sites.

Dee is active in a number of community endeavors. Most notably, he serves on the Board of Directors of the Pan-Mass Challenge, the nation's largest athletic fundraiser, which has raised more than $145 million for the Jimmy Fund since its inception in 1980. He is an active member of the Red Sox PMC cycling team, "Team 9," which rides in the event each year.

Prior to his arrival in Boston, Dee spent eight seasons with the San Diego Padres. Before leaving the club as Executive Vice President/Business Affairs to join the Red Sox in 2002, Dee helped guide a dramatic increase in revenue and helped the Padres earn an industry-wide reputation for innovative marketing. He also played a key role working with Larry Lucchino to build support for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, including negotiating new long-term concession and television agreements.

Before joining the Padres, Mike spent 10 years with Ramer Equities, the last four in his native Baltimore as national sales director of Bruning Paint Company, a Ramer holding.

Dee currently serves on the Board of Directors of Scott Paint, Co. of Sarasota, FL and On-Guard of Havre de Grace, MD, both Ramer holdings.

Mike also serves on the Leadership Council at his alma mater, Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, PA, where he played basketball and earned a degree in government in 1985.

Mike and his wife Karen make their home in Wellesley, MA with sons Spencer (6) and Tommy (3).

DR. CHARLES A. STEINBERG
Executive Vice President/Public Affairs

Dr. Charles Steinberg joined the Boston Red Sox as Executive Vice President/Public Affairs March 1, 2002 after holding a similar position with the San Diego Padres, for whom he had worked the previous seven years. Steinberg began his career spending 19 years with the Baltimore Orioles.

He has now earned four championship rings—for the 1979 American League pennant with Baltimore, the 1983 World Championship with Baltimore, the 1998 National League pennant with San Diego, and the 2004 World Championship with the Red Sox.

He has worked with Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino since Lucchino joined the Orioles in 1979.

In his four seasons in Boston, Steinberg has been a creative force in the franchise's fan-friendly attitude, warm hospitality, and ceremonies, special events, and marketing.

Responsible for the fan's experience at Fenway Park and for the Red Sox' relationship with the community, Steinberg oversees the club's communication, good will, and fan relationships. These areas include public and community relations, electronic and live entertainment, television and video production, and advertising and customer service.

Among his responsibilities and innovations with the Red Sox are the Opening Day ceremonies (including the presentation of the championship rings in 2005), players greeting fans at the gates, the Father's Day Catch at Fenway, the Tribute to Ted Williams, the Fenway Ambassadors program, as well as community events on September 11, Halloween, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, the birthdays of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Jackie Robinson, and Valentine's Day.

In the community, Steinberg has helped re-energize the club's record-setting efforts, creating the Red Sox Scholars program ($5,000 college scholarships for 25 Boston middle schoolers each year starting in 2003), the Boston Area Church League, and Red Sox Children's Retreats at the Ron Burton Training Village.

With the Padres, Steinberg had similar responsibilities and was a contributor to San Diego's successful campaign to build franchise-saving Petco Park. He also created the Padres Scholars, a similar scholarship program that now has more than 275 students, many of them now college graduates.

Steinberg won an Emmy Award for his television production of the story of the 1998 National League Champion Padres, and a Telly Award for the video of the 1989 Orioles.

On the field, Steinberg orchestrated the finale of Baltimore's Memorial Stadium in 1991, the opening of Oriole Park at Camden Yards in 1992, and the ceremonies surrounding the 1993 All-Star Game. He also started the planning of Cal Ripken's "Streak Week" festivities, and created the celebration of the career of future Hall of Famer Tony Gwynn in 2001.

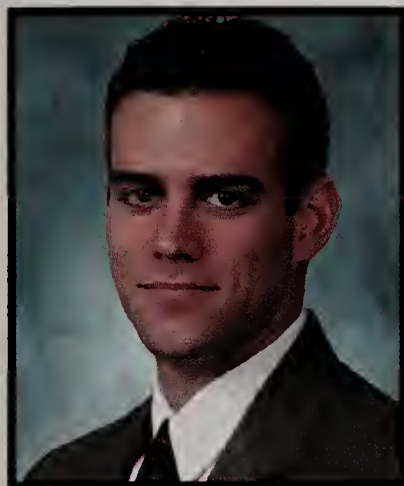

The Baltimore native's baseball career began at age 17 with an internship from Gilman School arranged with the Orioles' Jack Dunn III, grandson of the man who first signed Babe Ruth.

He was Hall of Fame Manager Earl Weaver's statistician and continued that position with manager Joe Altobelli through the Orioles' World Championship season of 1983.

Steinberg created the Orioles' first video production department in 1985, first customer service department in 1993, and ultimately headed its public relations department.

He worked for the Orioles while earning his undergraduate degree from the University of Maryland and his doctorate from Maryland's dental school, and continued his front office work while also assuming the role of team dentist. In 1982, he became a founding and charter member of the Academy for Sports Dentistry. An amateur musician and songwriter, Steinberg served on the board of the San Diego Symphony and performed "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" on the Fenway Park organ during Jimmy Buffett's concerts in 2004. He is now on the board of the Boston chapter of the Anti-Defamation League and is on the Advisory Board of the Urban League of Eastern Massachusetts.

THEO EPSTEIN

Executive Vice President/General Manager

On November 25, 2002, the day he was appointed the 11th General Manager in Boston Red Sox history, Theo Epstein set his sights on returning the franchise to the postseason for the first time in four years while also pledging to transform the Red Sox into a "scouting and player development machine."

The results of his Baseball Operations staff's efforts thus far: the Red Sox came within five outs of the World Series in 2003; in 2004, the club completed a remarkable post-season run with its first World Series title since 1918; and in 2005, paced by a relentless offense that led all of baseball in runs scored for the third year in a row, the Red Sox reached the playoffs for a third consecutive season, a first for the 105-year-old franchise.

As 2006 dawns, the Red Sox also see their steadfast commitment to player development and scouting paying off with home-grown talents like Manny Delcarmen, Craig Hansen, Jonathan Papelbon and Kevin Youkilis having already made contributions at the big league level while other young talents like Jon Lester, Edgar Martinez, Brandon Moss, David Murphy and Dustin Pedroia--to name just a few--stand poised to help at the major league level before long.

"Theo was quite simply the right choice," Red Sox Principal Owner John W. Henry said the day Epstein was promoted from assistant general manager, a post he had held for eight months. "He has been a constant source of ideas, energy and intelligence for us since he came to Boston. He joins a select group of young and highly talented general managers in today's game who are revolutionizing baseball."

Epstein was the youngest GM in baseball history (28 years, 11 months) when he was appointed and, less than two years later, became the youngest GM to win a World Series.

"His boundless passion for the game, his leadership skills, and his resolve to push for deals that make sense for the long term, regardless of what may or may not play well publicly, have convinced us that he is the right individual to lead our baseball operation," Henry said.

Honored in both 2003 and 2004 as the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America's Major League Executive of the Year, the 32-year-old (born December 29, 1973) is in his 15th season in Major League Baseball, his fifth with the Red Sox. Epstein, who left his post as Senior Vice President/General Manager of the Red Sox from October 31, 2005 through January 19, 2006, was named Executive Vice President/General Manager upon his return to the club in January.

*Mike Port was named interim General Manager February 28, 2002. Theo Epstein was named General Manager November 25, 2002.

The graduate of Yale University and University of San Diego Law School previously served as director of baseball operations for the San Diego Padres and was active in all aspects of the club's baseball activities, including player evaluation, scouting, player development and contract negotiations. Epstein joined the Padres' baseball staff in 1997, and in 1998 the club won the second National League pennant in its history.

Theo began his baseball career in 1992 as a summer intern with the Baltimore Orioles. He returned to the club as an intern in 1993 and 1994, and after his 1995 graduation from Yale, accepted a position with the Padres. Theo worked in the entertainment department in 1995, and in media relations during the Padres' West Division championship season of 1996. He then joined General Manager Kevin Towers in baseball operations in 1997.

Epstein grew up in Brookline, MA, where his family has lived since moving from New York City in 1978. He attended Lawrence School and Brookline High School.

SAM KENNEDY Senior Vice President/ Sales and Marketing

Sam Kennedy was promoted to Senior Vice President/Sales and Marketing in 2005 after joining the club as VP/Corporate Partnerships on March 25, 2002. The Brookline, MA native was among the first executives that Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino brought with him from the San Diego Padres, for whom Kennedy had worked six years. Since joining the Red Sox, Kennedy and his staff have increased sponsorship revenue by more than 250 percent, premium licensing revenue by 160 percent and the season ticket base by 30 percent. Beyond the numbers, Kennedy has been a key contributor to the club's revitalized marketing effort. For example, the popular giant flag that drapes the Green Monster on special occasions was his idea.

Kennedy oversees sponsorship (sales and service) and tickets (sales, operations and service). In 2003, he helped conceive and execute the successful sales and marketing plan for the new "Legends Suite" at Fenway Park, the Dugout Seats innovation, and new tasteful advertising positions above the Green Monster. In 2004 Kennedy secured a long term partnership with Anheuser-Busch that was instrumental in the creation of the new Right Field Roof seats at Fenway. In 2005 he was charged with developing the sales and marketing plan for the new club seats at Fenway Park set to debut in 2006. Earlier this year, Kennedy secured long term naming rights deals for the EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion at Fenway Park. He also serves as the club's marketing liaison to Major League Baseball.

Prior to joining the Red Sox, Kennedy was the Padres' Executive Director/Corporate Partnerships and Broadcasting. Originally hired as an account executive in 1996, he tripled sponsorship revenues from 1996-2001. Kennedy oversaw the sale of signage at Qualcomm Stadium (home of the Padres, Chargers, Super Bowl XXXII and other events), virtual advertising, promotional programs, broadcast media and print advertising.

In 2000, he helped the Padres make history by creating and implementing the first-ever "Season Title Sponsorship." He also played an integral role in securing financing and developing the sales and marketing strategy for the Padres' new downtown ballpark, Petco Park, conceived by Larry Lucchino.

Sam attended Trinity College in Hartford, CT, where he played baseball and earned a degree in American Studies in 1995. At Brookline High, he was a classmate and baseball teammate of colleague Theo Epstein. In 2004 Kennedy was sworn in as a board member on the Massachusetts Governor's Committee for Physical Fitness and Sports. Sam and his wife of seven years, Amanda, reside in Wellesley, MA with their two-year-old son, Jimmy and one-year-old daughter, Allison.

LAWRENCE C. CANCRO
Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs

Larry Cancro has served as Senior Vice President/Fenway Affairs since 2003. The veteran of 28 years in Major League Baseball, including 21 years with the Red Sox, is responsible for the club's relationships with the businesses in the Fenway neighborhood, the securing of recording artists such as Bruce Springsteen and Jimmy Buffett for concerts at Fenway along with the operational details associated with that endeavor, and consultation with the Ballpark Planning and Development Department on Fenway Park improvements. Additionally, Cancro works with civic and government groups to ensure open dialogue between the club and members of the community.

Prior to his promotion, Cancro was Vice President of Sales and Marketing since January 1996. He joined the Red Sox in February of 1985 as director of marketing and became Vice President of Marketing in February of 1990.

During Cancro's tenure in sales and marketing, the Red Sox set six club season attendance records, and attendance increased from the previous season 13 times. Cancro introduced to the Red Sox new sales technology such as the 24-hour touch-tone telephone ordering (the first of its kind in pro sports) and real time internet ordering service. He helped start the Friendly Fenway fan program and expanded fan food options at Fenway. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force and was instrumental in creating the mascot, Wally the Green Monster™.

Cancro is the chairman of the Greater Boston Convention & Visitors Bureau Sports Advisory Committee. He was awarded the Convention Bureau's Spirit of Appreciation Award for his efforts in attracting sports-related conventions and tourism to Boston such as the Baseball Winter Meetings and the National Sports Forum. He is on the Sports Advisory Council for Franklin Pierce College. He, along with his wife, Luise, co-chair the Parent's Committee at Assumption College. He has served on the Jimmy Fund Long Range Planning Committee. He is currently on the steering committee for The Greater Boston Association for Individuals with Cognitive and Developmental Disabilities. He was honored as GBARC Man of the Year in November 2004. He is also the Vice President of the New England Chapter of the National Alliance for Autism Research and serves on NAAR's National Board of Directors. He is a member of the Board of Directors for Melmark-New England, a private, not-for-profit, community-based organization dedicated to serving children and adolescents who have a history of challenging clinical, educational, behavioral and health needs. In the spring of 2006 he is being honored with the "Spirit of Compassion" award by the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, Inc.

Cancro served governors Weld and Cellucci on the Governor's Sports Advisory Council. He was a member of the board of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership and currently serves on the Executive Council of the Mass Sports and Entertainment Commission. He was on the Boston Host Committee for World Cup Soccer and the 1996 Olympic Gymnastics Trials Advisory Committee. He was on the Board of Advisors for the Local Organizing Committee for the 1998 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Final Four. He has been a member of Massachusetts Organization Vying for the Industry of Entertainment (M.O.V.I.E.) and was chairman of the marketing committee of the Massachusetts Sports Partnership. Currently, he serves on both the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Sports and Entertainment Commission. Cancro has served on both MLB's Marketing Advisory Committee and Advertising Advisory Committee. He served as chairman of MLB's Research Committee and on MLB's Licensing Committee from 1982-85.

In February, 1999 Cancro was a panelist at the Smithsonian Institution for a special program entitled "The Minor Leagues - An Appreciation." He was a featured speaker at a symposium on branding in sports for "Strategy and Business" magazine. He has also been a speaker at the International Sports Summit and the National Sports Forum.

Born in New York City, Cancro graduated from Tuckahoe High School in Eastchester, NY, where he was raised. He graduated from Boston University with a B.A. in psychology. In 1978 he began his career in pro baseball as an assistant general manager for the Eastern League Jersey Indians, Double-A affiliate of the Oakland A's. He joined the Atlanta Braves as a sales representative in 1979, and in 1981, was promoted to group sales manager. In 1983 he was named director of merchandise operations and was responsible for creating baseball's first mail-order catalog of team merchandise. Larry resides in Andover, MA with his wife, Luise, and their daughters, Laura Marie and Lisa.

JANET MARIE SMITH
Senior Vice President/
Planning and Development

Janet Marie Smith was named Senior Vice President/Planning and Development in 2005. She served as Vice President of Planning and Development for the Red Sox, since 2002, when the Henry-Werner Group purchased the franchise. She directs the renovation and area planning for Fenway Park, the oldest ballpark in the major leagues. Built in 1912, Fenway's future stood uncertain until the Henry, Werner, Lucchino ownership took over the franchise with a stated goal of saving the venerable Fenway Park. Since 2002, the team has added capacity, created space for fan amenities, and improved infrastructure and amenities in the ballpark and along surrounding streets. In 2005, plans were submitted to city, state and federal agencies for a complete renovation of the park, slated to be completed on Fenway's 100th birthday, in 2012. The Red Sox have also begun a focus on the area immediately on Fenway's perimeter with a goal of insuring that the surrounding development is complementary in uses and scale with the historic ballpark. The ability to create additional space for ballpark functions on adjacent properties has been one of the keys to the successful renovation of Fenway, permitting the original ballpark structure to remain intact without major additions.

Ms. Smith brings her experiences in urban development and passion for design to these endeavors as she has in previous projects, including Atlanta's Philips Arena (1999) and Turner Field (1997), Baltimore's Oriole Park at Camden Yards (1992), Pershing Square in Los Angeles (1988) and Battery Park City in New York (1984).

Ms. Smith's work with the Red Sox complements efforts she began in 2000 as Vice President of Planning and Development with Struever Bros. Eccles and Rouse, a Baltimore-based real estate developer and builder of urban mixed use projects from Nashville, TN to Providence, RI. Ms. Smith has also worked on various commercial and residential projects for Struever Bros., including the revitalization and transformation of former industrial areas, including historic buildings, to vibrant urban communities. She was part of the THINK team, led by Frederic Schwartz and Raphael Vinoly, one of the final two teams in the competition for the World Trade Center site in New York City in 2002.

Ms. Smith's combined loves of baseball and city life served her well in Atlanta, where she was president of Turner Sports and Entertainment Development, a division of Turner Broadcasting System, and was Vice President of Planning and Development for the Atlanta Braves baseball team.

From 1989-94, Ms. Smith was the Baltimore Orioles Vice President for Planning and Development under Larry Lucchino's leadership. As a team they oversaw the design of Oriole Park at Camden Yards. Her concern for urban development, along with her study of historical parks and knowledge of the team's operational objectives, greatly influenced the design of this ballpark. She was responsible for much of its civic image and relationship to surrounding buildings and transportation. Ms. Smith's thrusts to impose urban planning and design on the world of sports have helped change the way America views sporting venues and helped to make them proven generators of area economic development. Working for Larry Lucchino, then President of the Baltimore Orioles, Smith played a major role in executing Mr. Lucchino's vision of "building a ballpark with old-fashioned charm and modern amenities."

Ms. Smith holds a Masters degree in Urban Planning from City College of New York and a bachelor of Architecture degree from Mississippi State University. She is an associate member of the Urban Land Institute, American Institute of Architects, and the American Planning Association. Major publications, including the New York Times, New Yorker, Los Angeles Times, Chicago Tribune and Esquire, have cited her work.

A native of Jackson, MS, Ms. Smith resides in Baltimore with her husband Bart Harvey and three children.

MEG VAILLANCOURT*Senior Vice President/Corporate Relations Executive Director - Red Sox Foundation

As a member of the Red Sox executive team, Meg Vaillancourt has two roles – assisting President/CEO Larry Lucchino with the team's government relations and directing the Red Sox' many philanthropic efforts as Executive Director of the Red Sox Foundation, the team's charity.

Appointed head of the Red Sox Foundation in 2004, Meg works with Principal Owner John W. Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, Lucchino and the team's 20 generous partners, as well as Red Sox players, managers and coaches, their wives, the team's front office, sponsors and fans to support a variety of non-profit organizations serving children throughout New England. The philanthropic arm of the team, the Red Sox Foundation is focused on improving health, educational and recreational opportunities for children as well as social service focused on youth in the inner city.

A New Hampshire native, Meg was raised in the Manchester Children's Home and attended public schools before winning a scholarship to St. Paul's School in Concord and to Harvard College. An honors history major, Meg was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship and pursued graduate studies in British and American politics at Oxford University. Returning to the United States, she began a career in journalism as a reporter/producer for "The Ten O'Clock News" on WGBH-TV in Boston and as a contributing reporter for national news programs on PBS-TV and radio. As an associate producer for the award-winning series "Frontline," Meg helped produce a national documentary examining the economic effects of the end of the Cold War on the nation's defense system. A long-time writer for The Boston Globe, she also covered national and local politics as a State House reporter and wrote for the newspaper's Business section covering public policy, labor issues and the business of sports.

She left journalism to work for New England Patriots owner and team chairman Robert Kraft as Vice President/Corporate and Community Affairs for the Patriots and The Kraft Group. She oversaw the pro football team's government and community relations, assisted in the opening of Gillette Stadium, and worked with the Kraft family in support of their many philanthropic activities, including The Patriots Charitable Foundation. She was also responsible for coordinating public appearances by Patriots players.

A resident of Boston, Meg joined the Red Sox in 2003. Through the Red Sox Foundation, she seeks to capture the passion fans have for the Red Sox and transform it into a positive force for children in need in our community. Through funds donated by the team's owners and partners or raised at special events with players and fans, the Red Sox Foundation provides support to more than 200 non-profit groups each year. In just three years, the Red Sox Foundation has become the largest team foundation in New England and in all of Major League Baseball, providing more than $12 million in grants to worthy non-profits. Last year, following the Red Sox 2004 World Series Championship, the Red Sox became the first professional sports team to share the cherished symbol of its historic victory with fans while raising funds for charity by raffling off three genuine World Series rings. In just three months and with the support of the Red Sox owners, management, players, and volunteers, this innovative raffle raised $2 million for the Red Sox Foundation and the non-profit programs it supports.

The Red Sox Foundation has won accolades for its outreach and commitment to opening the doors of opportunity to children. In the past year alone, the Red Sox Foundation has won numerous awards from groups ranging from The American Heart Association and the National Conference of Community and Justice, to The Boston Bar Association and Boston Magazine.

In addition to her charitable work with the team, Meg has served on the selection committee for both Rhodes Scholarships and Marshall Scholars and as an advisor to several local charities. She recently was honored by the YMCA of Greater Boston as a member of "Academy of Women Achievers" and by the Boston Boy Scouts as recipient of the Lady Powell Award, bestowed on a "distinguished woman who has had a significant impact on area youth through service to others, community leadership and personal example."

Vice President/Publications and Archives

Dick Bresciani became the Red Sox' Vice President/Publications and Archives in 2003 after serving as Vice President of Public Affairs since November, 1996. He had been Vice President of Public Relations since August 1987. Dick joined the Red Sox in May, 1972 as assistant public relations director, became publicity director in 1978 and public relations director in June, 1984.

Bresciani oversees all Red Sox publications, photography, the club's historical archives and alumni. He coordinates the selections of the annual national Tony Conigliaro Award recipient and Red Sox Hall of Fame inductees. He was chairman of the Red Sox Task Force Committee for the 1999 All-Star Game.

Dick is on the Board of Directors of the BoSox Club and the Cape Cod Summer Baseball League. He was part of the first group inducted into the Cape Cod League Hall of Fame in 2001 and is on their Hall of Fame advisory committee. In 2003, Dick was inducted into the UMass Athletic Hall of Fame and serves on their selection committee. In November, 2006, Bresciani will be inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame as the non-uniformed personnel selection.

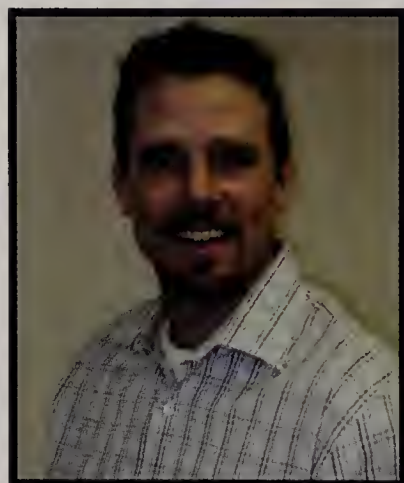

In 2001 Dick was the Red Sox coordinator for the dinner committee of The New England Sports Lodge of B'nai B'rith that honored then-owner John L. Harrington as The Sam Cohen Sportsman of the Year. He was co-chairman of the 2001 American Liver Foundation's All-Star tribute that raised close to $150,000. The last seven years he has served on the Public Visibility Committee for The United Way of Massachusetts Bay.

In 1998, Dick received an "Award of Distinction" from the Massachusetts Baseball Coaches Association for "significant contributions to the development of the youth of the community." In 1997, he received the Robert O. Fishel Award for Public Relations Excellence in Major League Baseball. The Cape Cod League also honored Bresciani in 1997 for 30 years of dedicated service.

A graduate of Hopedale (MA) High School and the University of Massachusetts with a degree in journalism, Dick received the University's Alumni Award for Professional Excellence in 1994. He won the BBWAA "Good Guy" Award in 1987, the Western Mass. Jimmy Fund Recognition Award in 1989, the 1989 Brad Jernegan Award from the BoSox Club and the New England Intercollegiate Baseball Coaches Association's Distinguished Service Award in 1990.

Before joining the Red Sox Bresciani was assistant sports information director at UMass for 11 years. He was also the director of public relations and statistics for the Cape Cod Summer Baseball League from 1967-71 during which time the league received full NCAA accreditation and subsequent financial grants from Major League Baseball.

Dick and his wife Joanne reside in Wellesley, MA.

RON BUMGARNER, Vice President/Ticketing

Ron Bumgarner was named Vice President/Ticketing in January, 2006. He oversees the Ticket Sales, Premium Seating Sales, Ticket Operations, and Ticket Services departments.

A veteran of 15 years in Major League Baseball, Ron started his career with the Baltimore Orioles from 1991-1995 in the Sales and Services departments. Working under current Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino, Ron was instrumental in executing the relocation of season ticket holders from Memorial Stadium to Camden Yards and played an integral role in building and maintaining a league-leading season ticket base of 28,000 full season equivalents and a waiting list of 13,000. He also served as the MLB Transportation and Lodging Coordinator for the 2003 All-Star Game and was part of the team that generated over $1 million for ALS research in conjunction with the event.

When Lucchino left the Orioles to take over the San Diego Padres, Ron followed in 1995 as Assistant Director of Sales. The driving force behind a series of remarkable accomplishments, Ron and his staff tripled the Padres' season ticket base, doubled the group sales attendance to more than 500,000 (3rd-best in MLB) and became a model for small-market teams. Promoted to Director of New Ballpark Sales in 1999, Ron was the architect of the new ballpark's sales plan, critical to securing the financing for what is now Petco Park. He was a member of the design team responsible for the acclaimed park's popular, unique seating "neighborhoods."

Bumgarner followed Lucchino again and joined the Red Sox in 2003 and has been instrumental in the club's efforts to afford as many fans as possible the opportunity to experience Red Sox baseball at Fenway Park. Ron has played a vital role in the club's record-setting attendance and overhauled philosophies regarding customer service in the ticket operation.

Ron and his wife Jenny have a 3-year-old daughter Shelby with another little one on the way.

BEN CHERINGTON
Vice President/Player Personnel

Ben Cherington was named Vice President/Player Personnel on January 24, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Ben had served as Co-General Manager since December 12, 2005. Cherington will oversee player development and amateur scouting, and assist in all major league player personnel decisions. The 31-year-old joined the Red Sox in 1999 and was the club's director of player development from December 7, 2002 until his appointment as Co-General Manager. A graduate of Amherst College, where he played four years of varsity baseball and served as an assistant coach for one year, Cherington earned a Master's degree in sports management from the University of Massachusetts-Amherst in 1997.

He served as a video advance scout for the Cleveland Indians in 1998 before joining the Red Sox. Cherington began 1999 as a mid-Atlantic area scout before joining the baseball operations department in May. After two years as coordinator of international scouting, the Meriden, NH native was named assistant director of player development in 2002.

Ben and his wife, Wendi, live in Boston.

STEVE FITCH
Vice President/Human Resources and Controller

Steve Fitch was named Vice President/Human Resources and Controller in March, 2005 after serving as the Vice President and Controller since March, 2003. He manages the accounting and human resource departments for the Red Sox and their affiliated entities. He is responsible for the production of monthly, quarterly and annual statements, budgets and forecasts.

Prior to joining the Red Sox in 2003, Steve was the executive director of finance for the San Diego Padres. He was responsible for budgeting, financial statement reporting, accounting staff management and served as the liaison for the Diverse Business Partners Program with MLB.

The Concord, MI native earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University. He earned his Michigan CPA license in 1989.

Steve is a member of the AICPA, Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants and the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants. He currently resides in the Back Bay area of Boston.

ROBERT C. FURBUSH
Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Robert C. Furbush has been Vice President and Chief Financial Officer since October 1987. He joined the Red Sox as controller in November 1983 and was promoted to treasurer in June 1984.

Furbush is a graduate of St. Mary's High School in Waltham, MA where he was captain of the basketball and baseball teams. In high school he played in an All-Star baseball game at Fenway Park. He earned a degree in economics at Boston College and played three years of varsity basketball, two for Coach Bob Cousy. In his senior year he won the Ronald J. Hickey Award for scholastic and athletic achievement. After two years of Army service, including one in Vietnam, Bob got a graduate degree in accounting at Northeastern University, became a Certified Public Accountant, and worked for Ernst & Young before he joined the Red Sox. Bob has served on the Board of Directors of National American Insurance Company Limited and is a member of both the Major League Baseball Non-Uniformed Pension Plan Committee and the AICPA. He served on the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force Committee. Bob and his wife, Emily, live in Framingham, MA, and have three children, Sarah, Stephen and Mark.

GLENN GEFNER
Vice President/Media Relations

Glenn Geffner is in his second season as Vice President/Media Relations. He was promoted to the position in March of 2005 after spending the previous two years as the Red Sox' Director of Public Relations.

Geffner oversees the club's Public Relations Department, including the day-to-day publicity of the Red Sox' on-field and off-field activities; local, national and international media interaction with players, uniformed staff and front office members; all media services; and the production of the annual Red Sox Media Guide and Post-Season Media Guide.

The 2006 season marks Geffner's 15th year in professional baseball, his 10th in the major leagues.

After graduating from Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, the Miami, FL native spent five seasons with the International League's Rochester Red Wings, then the Triple-A affiliate of the Baltimore Orioles. In Rochester, Geffner served as the club's Public Relations Director, while also doing radio play-by-play.

Geffner joined the San Diego Padres as Director of Public Relations in 1996 and spent the next six seasons in San Diego. After pinch hitting as a play-by-play man on Padres radio and television broadcasts and co-hosting the weekly Padres Report television program in 2001, Geffner made the full-time move to the Padres radio booth in 2002 before joining the Red Sox in 2003.

The 37-year-old resides in Lexington, MA with his wife Christine and sons Corey (5) and Gregg (2).

JONATHAN GILULA
Vice President/Business Operations

Jonathan Gilula was named Vice President/Business Operations in January, 2005. Gilula works closely with President/CEO Larry Lucchino and the Ballpark Planning and Development Department in organizing the club's effort to preserve and protect Fenway Park. Additionally, Gilula oversees ballpark and event operations and manages the day-to-day relationships between the Red Sox and key business partners, including ARAMARK, Fenway Park's concessionaire and Twins Enterprise, the operator of the club's Official Team Store.

Gilula has been an active participant in managing the budget process and establishing the operating plans for the 2006 Fenway Park Improvements including the EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion. He was also directly involved in the design and construction of other recently completed improvements to Fenway Park, such as the Green Monster Seats and the Big Concourse, which opened in 2003, and the Right Field Roof, which debuted in 2004.

After joining the Red Sox in October, 2002 as Special Assistant to the President/CEO, Gilula worked on special projects including the physical and operational improvements to Fenway Park, the refurbishment of the Red Sox spring training facilities in Fort Myers, FL and the construction of the Red Sox Academy in the Dominican Republic.

Gilula began his baseball career in June, 1998, when Lucchino, then President/CEO of the San Diego Padres, hired him to work on the planning and development of Petco Park. As Director of Ballpark Development, Gilula coordinated all aspects of the design and construction of the Padres' acclaimed new ballpark that opened in downtown San Diego in 2004.

Gilula was born in New York City, NY and grew up in La Jolla, CA. He graduated with a degree in Politics from Princeton University, where he was captain of the varsity tennis team from 1997-98.

JOE JANUSZEWSKI
Vice President/Corporate Partnerships

Joe Januszewski was named Vice President/Corporate Partnerships in February, 2006. Joe was Director, Corporate Partnerships since November 2002 when he joined the Red Sox after spending three years with the San Diego Padres (1999-2002). He started his career in professional sports in his home state with the Texas Rangers. He worked in the film industry in production for 10 years before entering baseball.

Januszewski is responsible for the club's corporate partnerships department, which has grown revenues nearly 150 percent during his time with the Red Sox and has seen the total number of sponsors increase 70 percent, with nearly 80 corporate clients now a part of the club.

He secured partnerships in non-traditional categories with local companies such as Granite City Electric, F.W. Webb and Boston Scientific. He also oversees Spring Training sponsorship sales, which have grown more than 300 percent since 2003, as well as the sale of fixed and electronic signage at Fenway Park, print advertising, game day hospitality, designing in-market programs for retail and business to business clients and putting together special event partnerships such as HD Gamenight, presented by Bank of America.

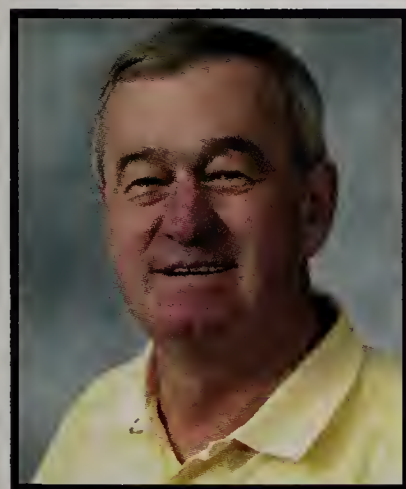

Joe is responsible for the business arm of the team's publishing efforts, including the Red Sox Magazine and Red Sox Yearbook. In 2004 he launched Red Sox Kid Nation, presented by Hood, the first Red Sox kids club in team history. He designed and executed a marketing plan for the program, and after two years it is the second-largest kids club in Major League Baseball with more than 10,000 members in 2005. Red Sox Kid Nation proudly donates 5 percent of every membership to the Hood Home Team Advantage, benefiting children's hospitals across New England. Kid Nation is the first MLB team run youth club to tie a percentage of membership revenue directly to a charitable cause.

He works in conjunction with team partners on community relations and Red Sox Foundation business efforts, including the Red Sox Scholars presented by Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and the Boston Area Church League presented by Poland Springs.

In 2003 Januszewski was charged with overseeing the Red Sox' MLB Authentication Program with a design on eliminating fraud in the sports collectibles market and to make better use of game and team-used products. He also serves as the club's liaison for MLB retail initiatives.

The University of Texas at Austin graduate has a bachelor's degree in Radio-TV-Film and a Masters of Education specializing in sports management. He serves on the board of directors for the Independent Film Festival of Boston.

Joe enjoys traveling abroad, reading mountaineering & travel literature, spending time with his family and is an avid supporter of the University of Texas & Liverpool Football Club. He lives in Dorchester, MA with his wife Ashley. They are expecting their first child in May.

JOSEPH F. McDERMOTT, Vice President

Joe McDermott has been a Red Sox Vice President since February 1990. McDermott joined the Red Sox organization in 1975 as an administrative assistant to the Vice President of Business Administration. In 1978 he became executive assistant with responsibilities for stadium and security operations while performing administrative duties for the Red Sox general partners.

He was named Vice President of Property Management in 1987. Under McDermott's direction, the club began a special crowd control supervisor program and expanded the in-game customer relations function. He was a member of the Red Sox 1999 All-Star Game Task Force Committee.

McDermott is a graduate of Cathedral High School in Boston and attended Northeastern University. He currently serves on the board of directors of the Greater Boston Fire Safety Council.

During 29 years of Red Sox employment, through the 2004 season, Joe has not missed a home game, an outstanding record of 2,323 consecutive Fenway Park games.

Joe and his wife, Joanne, reside in Medfield, MA. They have two sons, Joseph and Jeffrey, and two grandsons Jacob Walter and Joseph Francis II.

CHARLES H. STEEDMAN
Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services

Charles H. (Chuck) Steedman was named Vice President/Fenway Enterprises and Broadcast Services in March, 2005. He is responsible for the thriving business, Fenway Enterprises, which places non-baseball events into America's Most Beloved Ballpark. The booking of Fenway for parties, corporate meetings and weddings, as well as the operation of the Red Sox' year-round tour program is under his direction.

In addition, Chuck is the point of contact for the business relationship with the club's broadcasting partners, WEEI Radio, NESN, the Spanish Baseball Network and the national rights holders (Fox and the ESPN family of networks).

After the club's World Series title in 2004, Chuck was the point person for the Red Sox' grand World Championship Trophy Tour, presented by the Massachusetts Lottery. It was his idea to bring the trophy to the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts as well as oversee its many travels to New York; Los Angeles; Washington, DC; Atlanta; Florida; and the Dominican Republic.

Steedman is an original staff member of the club's ownership group. When Tom Werner and Les Otten initiated the effort to purchase the club, Steedman was with them from the start. As founder and principal of Steedman & Partners, he coordinated financial analysis, legal and financial due diligence, relations with prospective investors, and the Major League Baseball application process.

Steedman's background in media and sports business includes tenures at The University of Connecticut, Raycom Sports, the American Skiing Company, and Resorts Sports Network. In addition, he has served as a consultant for a number of arena and stadium revenue projects, broadcast negotiations, and event creation and management projects.

A native of East Brookfield, MA, Steedman graduated from the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) in 1984 with a degree in Sport Management and later added an MBA from Queens University in Charlotte, NC. He is married to the former Lisa Allen and has two children, Andrew (15) and Michael (10). They reside in Hopkinton, MA.

ELAINE WEDDINGTON STEWARD
Vice President and Club Counsel

Elaine W. Steward was appointed Vice President and Club Counsel on March 7, 2002. Elaine joined the Red Sox in July 1988 as associate counsel and was named assistant general manager in January, 1990. She was named legal counsel in February of 1995, while continuing with her responsibilities as assistant general manager, and she was appointed a Vice President on January 30, 1998.

Steward is a native of New York City and graduated with honors from St. John's University in 1984 with a B.S. in Athletic Administration. While attending St. John's she served as an intern in the New York Mets public relations department and was a member of the St. Vincent's College Honor Society. She was a recipient of the prestigious Jackie Robinson Foundation Sports Management scholarship.

Upon graduation from St. John's University School of Law in 1987, Elaine was an intern in the Office of the Commissioner of Baseball through the Executive Development program. She was admitted to the New York State Bar in April of 1988 and is a member of the American Bar Association. In 1999 she was selected as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Leaders of Boston and was elected into the YWCA Academy of Women Achievers. In 2001 she received the Outstanding Alumna Award from the St. John's University Black Alumni Association.

CRAIG SHIPLEY
Vice President/Professional and International Scouting

Craig was named Red Sox Vice President/Professional and International Scouting on January 24, 2006. He previously served as Special Assistant to the General Manager/Player Development and International Scouting. Craig joined the Red Sox on December 7, 2002 after spending the 2001 and 2002 seasons as a professional scout with the San Diego Padres.

A veteran of 11 years as a major league infielder, Shipley began his baseball operations career in 2000 when he served the Montreal Expos as minor league infield and baserunning coordinator.

Shipley became the second Australian native to play in the majors when he debuted with Los Angeles in 1986. He played with the Dodgers (1986-87), Mets (1989), Padres (1991-94, 1996-97), Astros (1995) and Angels (1998), hitting .271 in 582 career games. The 41-year-old came to the U.S. in 1982 and played for the University of Alabama club that lost to Roger Clemens and the Texas Longhorns in the 1983 College World Series championship game.

JED HOYER
Assistant General Manager

Jed Hoyer was named Assistant General Manager on January 24, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Jed had served as Co-General Manager since December 12, 2005.

As Assistant General Manager, Hoyer assists Executive Vice President/General Manager Theo Epstein in all facets of baseball operations. The 32-year-old joined the Red Sox baseball operations department in 2002 and served as assistant to the general manager during the 2004 and 2005 seasons. He has been actively involved in all aspects of the department's business, including talent evaluation, contract negotiations and sabermetric analysis. The Plymouth, NH native is a 1996 graduate of Wesleyan University, where he played shortstop and pitched for four seasons, helping the Cardinals to the championship game of the Division III World Series in 1994. The school's single-season and career saves leader, Hoyer later served as an assistant baseball coach at Wesleyan.

Jed is single and resides in Boston.

BILL JAMES
Senior Baseball Operations Advisor

A baseball writer since 1975, Bill James joined the Boston Red Sox as a Senior Baseball Operations Advisor in November of 2002. He works with senior management and the baseball operations group to provide research and analysis of special projects, player contracts and on-going concerns.

The author of the annual Baseball Abstract from 1977 through 1987, Bill came to national prominence as a result of a Sports Illustrated article written in June of 1981. He is the author of more than 30 baseball books and the creator of the popular statistical summary, the Bill James Handbook, now published annually by Baseball Info Solutions. His other contributions to the sport include the concepts of Runs Created (an estimate of the number of runs each hitter has contributed to his team), Sabermetrics (the effort to replace conjecture and speculation about issues of concern to baseball fans with objective and verifiable knowledge), Win Shares (an estimate of each player's contribution to his team's win total) and Secondary Average (a way of summarizing the other things that a player does to create runs, other than hit for average).

Bill lives in Lawrence, KS, with his wife, Susan McCarthy, and their three children: Rachel (20), Isaac (17) and Reuben (12).

FENWAY PARK

America's Most Beloved Ballpark

Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest ballpark, Fenway Park has been the home of the Boston Red Sox since April 20, 1912, when (after 2 days of rainouts) the park hosted its first regular-season game, an 11-inning 7-6 Boston win over the New York Highlanders in front of 27,000 fans. Tris Speaker drove home the winning run, but the story of the game was pushed off the front page of the local papers by news of the sinking of the Titanic just days earlier.

In 94 seasons, venerable Fenway has been home to many of the greatest players in baseball history, including Hall of Famers Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmie Foxx, Joe Cronin, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr and Carl Yastrzemski.

The park has witnessed some of the most memorable moments in baseball history, highlighted, perhaps, by Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning home run to win Game 6 of the 1975 World Series.

Among the world's most famous sporting venues, Fenway is best-known for the 37-foot high, 231-foot long "Green Monster" left-field wall, which looms only 310 feet from home plate. Equally enticing to hitters is "Pesky's Pole," the right-field foul pole named for Sox great Johnny Pesky, which stands only 302 feet from the plate.

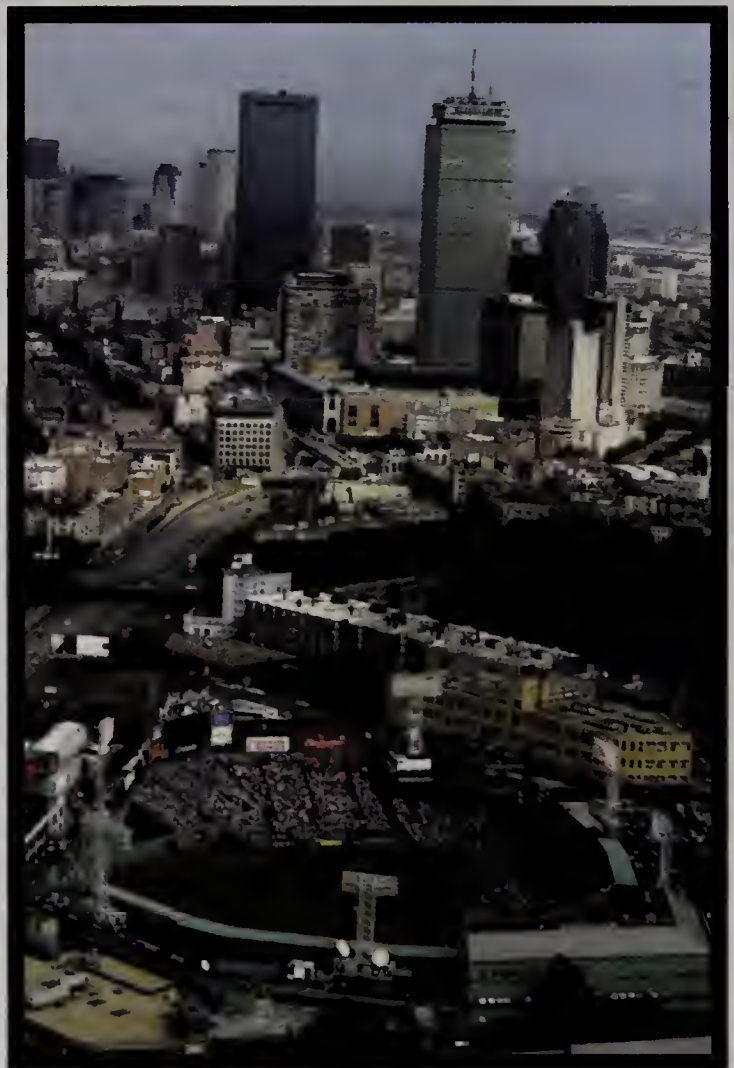

Nestled into the Fenway neighborhood of Boston, the park was largely rebuilt for the 1934 season by new owner Tom Yawkey following an off-season fire.

More recently, Fenway has undergone a series of improvements since the Henry-Werner Group purchased the team in 2002. Most visible among them are the addition of the Green Monster Seats in 2003, the Right-Field Roof Seats in 2004 and the EMC Club and State Street Pavillion in 2006. Three new concourses--Yawkey Way (2002), the Big Concourse in right field (2003) and the Third Base Concourse (2004), have provided new amenities, while making Fenway far more comfortable for fans by creating space where it seemingly did not exist previously.

A new playing field was installed for the 2005 season. At the same time, the Red Sox clubhouse underwent a massive renovation, including the construction of new state-of-the-art weight, training, rehab and video facilities and the addition of a new batting cage off the tunnel between the clubhouse and the Red Sox dugout.

The astounding popularity of the ballpark and the team has enabled the Red Sox to set attendance records in each of the last six seasons. En route to drawing 2,847,888 in 2005, the Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the second year in a row and enter 2006 with a 226-game sellout streak, 2nd-longest in major league history.

Hundreds of thousands of fans from all over the globe visit Fenway year-round. Tours of the ballpark are available daily. For more information, call (617) 226-6666 or log on to www.redsox.com.

WHY FENWAY?

The new ballpark was constructed for the 1912 season and was named by then Red Sox owner John I. Taylor. He said "It's in the Fenway section of Boston, isn't it? Then call it Fenway Park." Taylor also owned Fenway Realty. Could it have been baseball's first naming rights deal? It was also Taylor who changed the club's name from Pilgrims to Red Sox in 1907.

FENWAY PARK HISTORY

ORGANIZATION

APRIL 9, 1912: In the first game at Fenway Park, the Red Sox beat Harvard 2-0 in an exhibition game played in snow flurries in front of 3,000 fans.

APRIL 20, 1912: Following a pair of rainouts, the Red Sox win the first official game at Fenway, beating the New York Highlanders (who'd later become the Yankees) 7-6 in 11 innings. Tris Speaker drove home the game winner in front of 27,000 fans.

APRIL 26, 1912: First baseman Hugh Bradley hit the first home run at Fenway and the first over the left field wall vs. Philadelphia. It was the second and last home run of his major league career.

MAY 8, 1926: In the first Fenway fire, the bleachers along the left-field foul line burned down and weren't replaced, giving fielders the chance to snare foul flies behind the third base grandstand.

1931: The Red Sox, who first wore uniform numbers in 1931, have retired five numbers: Ted Williams' No. 9 and Joe Cronin's No. 4 on May 29, 1984; Bobby Doerr's No. 1 on May 21, 1988; Carl Yastrzemski's No. 8 on August 6, 1989; and Carlton Fisk's No. 27 on September 4, 2000.

JULY 3, 1932: The Sox are hammered by the Yankees 13-2 in the first Sunday game at Fenway Park. Sunday baseball was approved in Boston 3 years earlier, but not at Fenway due to its proximity to a church. The Sox played their Sunday games at Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue until the law was changed. They actually played the first Boston Sunday game, a 7-3 loss to Philadelphia, at Braves Field, April 28, 1929 in front of 22,000 fans (the Braves' April 21 game was rained out).

JANUARY 5, 1934: A 5-alarm, 4-hour blaze, the second Fenway fire, virtually destroyed the construction underway by new owner T.A. Yawkey to refurbish the park.

APRIL 17, 1934: The Washington Senators, led by player-manager Joe Cronin beat the Sox 6-5 in 11 innings in the first game at the New Fenway. Duffy's Cliff in left field and the original wooden left field wall were both removed. The new wall was made of concrete and tin.

APRIL 19, 1934: In game one of a doubleheader, the Red Sox' 3rd home game of the season, Boston right fielder Moose Solters hit the first home run over the new left field wall, a 9th-inning solo shot to give the Red Sox a 5-4 win over the Washington Senators.

APRIL 19, 1934: Yankees left fielder Babe Ruth became the first opposing player to homer over the new left field wall in the first inning.

SEPTEMBER 22, 1935: The largest crowd to ever see a game at Fenway Park--47,627--turned out for a doubleheader with the Yankees. A year earlier (on August 19, 1934), 46,995 watched a Detroit Tigers doubleheader. And a week earlier, 46,766 said goodbye to Babe Ruth at a Yankees doubleheader on August 12, 1934. Those crowds will never be equaled under Fenway's current dimensions. More stringent fire laws and league rules after World War II prohibited overcrowding that was permitted in the 1930's.

1936: A 23-foot tall screen was installed above the left field wall. The screen would remain until the Green Monster Seats were constructed in 2003.

JULY 30, 1936: Thomas A. Yawkey, A.L. President Will Harridge and the Red Sox team flew from St. Louis to Chicago, the first major league team to do so in one plane.

JULY 13, 1939: The Sox played their first road night game in Cleveland, a 6-5 win in 10 innings. Joe Heving was the winning pitcher.

1940: Bullpens were constructed in front of the bleachers replacing the old bullpen areas in the outfield foul territory beyond the dugouts. Box seats were added to the right field grandstand reducing the distance to the right field foul pole to 302 feet.

1946: Skyview seats were added to Fenway Park.

JUNE 9, 1946: Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit righthander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, a 56-year-old construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

JULY 9, 1946: The Red Sox hosted their first All-Star Game at Fenway Park, a 12-0 American League win. Eight Red Sox were on the All-Star team, but Ted Williams stole the show, going 4-for-4 with two homers, a walk, five RBI and four runs scored.

JUNE 13, 1947: The Red Sox defeated the White Sox 5-3 in Fenway's first night game. Arc lights were installed in 1947. The Red Sox were the third-to-last of the 16 major league clubs to do so. Dave Ferriss was the winning pitcher. Green paint replaced advertisements covering the left field wall. No more Calvert owl ("Be wise"), Gem Blades ("Avoid 5 o'clock shadow"), Lifebuoy ("The Red Sox use it") and Vimms ("Get that Vimms feeling").

MAY 12, 1948: The first Red Sox game was televised from Fenway on WBZ-TV.

OCTOBER 4, 1948: The first playoff game in A.L. history took place at Fenway, and Cleveland rookie lefthander Gene Bearden beat the Red Sox 8-3. Shortstop-manager Lou Boudreau led the Indians with two homers and two singles. The defeat prevented the only cross-town World Series in Boston history. Cleveland went on to beat the Boston Braves 4-2 in the World Series.

1952: The visitors' clubhouse was relocated to the third base side and connected to dugout.

SEPTEMBER 21, 1956: Batting lefthanded, the Yankees' Mickey Mantle hit the longest known home run to straight-away center field at Fenway off righthander Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet before striking the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

JULY 31, 1961: Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. The game ended in a 1-1 tie, called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay.

JANUARY 6, 1963: The Boston Red Sox and the Boston Patriots agreed to a two-year contract allowing the Patriots to play their AFL home games at Fenway Park for the 1963-64 seasons. The contract was later renewed, and the Patriots continued to play their home games at Fenway through 1968. Overall, their record at Fenway Park was 17-16-5.

OCTOBER 21, 1975: The first World Series night game was played at Fenway Park, and it was a classic. The memorable Game 6, delayed three days by rain, lasted 4:01 and ended with Carlton Fisk's oft-replayed home run off Pat Darcy leading off the last of the 12th. The Red Sox had tied the game at 6-6 in the last of the eighth on Bernie Carbo's three-run, pinch-hit homer with two outs.

JUNE 19, 1977: Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an eighth-inning blast off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. The blast traveled approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the right field roof facade.

1993: Organized tours of Fenway Park began.

1993-94: Three-year restroom renovation was completed.

1995: Energy-efficient lighting, heating/cooling and control systems were installed throughout the facility via Boston Edison Company energy conservation program.

MARCH 19, 1997: A 25-foot Coca-Cola contour bottle design atop the light tower above the left field wall was unveiled signifying the Red Sox' partnership with Coca-Cola and their commitment to the fans, the community and the Jimmy Fund through the "Monster Refreshment" program.

The program has ensured ticket price savings for fans and significant contributions to the Jimmy Fund for each Red Sox home run hit over the left-field wall or one that hits the Coke bottle. In 1997 the Red Sox hit two home runs off the Coke bottle: Wil Cordero April 13 vs. Seattle and Tim Lincecum May 11 vs. Texas.

MAY, 1997: The batting cage beneath the center field bleachers was completely renovated.

MARCH, 1999: Improvements to the Red Sox and visitors clubhouses were completed.

JULY 13, 1999: The Red Sox hosted their third All-Star Game, a 3-1 A.L. win. For the first time in history, the All-Star Game was a three-day event featuring a celebrity hitting contest, a Futures game and a home run derby.

APRIL 2002: Two rows of "dugout" seats (on the infield side of both dugouts to backstop) were added. A media interview room was constructed adjacent to Red Sox clubhouse. The family room was converted to a players lounge, and a new, expanded family lounge was built.

SEPTEMBER, 2002: Yawkey Way and the Gate A concourse expansion opened with concessions, restrooms and fan-friendly attractions for all ages.

APRIL, 2003: Green Monster seats debuted above the left field wall. Two rows of additional seats and new camera pits were constructed on the outfield end of Red Sox and visitors dugouts. Two new rows of seats behind the plate and a new backstop were added. A new manual out-of-town scoreboard and advertising panels were installed on the left field wall. The Legends Suite debuted in Suite R-1, giving groups of fans the chance to watch a game with a Red Sox great. The Hall of Fame/.406 Club was refurbished and decorated. Yawkey Way officially opened after a one-month trial in September of 2002. The SmarTix program was launched.

JULY/AUGUST 2003: Big Concourse with restrooms (including family restroom), concessions, customer service booth, portable turnstiles and picnic areas opened in right field. New ticket booths opened at Gates B and C. Gate D food court/expanded concessions on lower concourse opened. ARAMARK commissary moved to old Laundry Building area.

SEPTEMBER 6-7, 2003: Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band performed a pair of sold-out concerts at Fenway Park.

APRIL 9, 2004: New seating on the right field roof debuted.

APRIL 16, 2004: Red Sox legends Johnny Pesky and Bobby Doerr joined Mayor Thomas M. Menino in unveiling a new statue of Ted Williams outside of Gate B.

SEPTEMBER 10 AND 12, 2004: Jimmy Buffett and the Coral Reefer Band packed Fenway for a pair of sold-out concerts.

OCTOBER 8, 2004: David Ortiz crushed a two-run homer off Jarrod Washburn with two outs in the bottom of the 10th, giving the Red Sox an 8-6 win over the Angels and a seep of the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series.

OCTOBER 20, 2004: Johnny Damon homered twice and drove in six runs, leading the Red Sox to a 10-3 win over the Yankees at Yankee Stadium and capping the greatest comeback in baseball history. Down three games to none in the best-of-seven series, the Sox stormed back to become the first team in major league history to win a post-season series after dropping the first three games. The pennant was the 11th in club history.

OCTOBER 27, 2004: 86 years of heartache were erased with a 3-0 win in St. Louis, as the Red Sox completed a sweep of the 100th World Series for their first World Championship since 1918.

APRIL 11, 2005: The defending champions received their World Series rings, one by one, on the field, prior to the home opener against the Yankees. Led by Johnny Pesky and Carl Yastrzemski, former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi, and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And, in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees to make their home opener perfect.

AUGUST 21 AND 23, 2005: The Rolling Stones rocked Fenway Park with a pair of sold-out shows.

2006: Heeding the request of fans, the Red Sox removed the glass that had separated the .406 club from the ambiance and atmosphere of Fenway, creating the new EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion in time for Opening Day, 2006. In the process, the club added 1,300 seats, standing room, additional concession stands and restrooms, while widening concourses and creating more room for fans.

MORE FENWAY FACTS

► Prior to the 1912 season, the Red Sox played their home games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds, now part of the campus of Northeastern University.

► Other teams have played at Fenway Park besides the Red Sox. In 1914 the "Miracle Boston Braves" played their World Series games at Fenway en route to a 4-game sweep over the favored Philadelphia Athletics while Braves Field was under construction. The Boston Patriots (now the New England Patriots) were fall occupants from 1963-68 before eventually ending up in Foxboro. They were not, however, the first pro football team to play at Fenway. The Boston Redskins played 4 years at the park before heading to Washington in 1937. The Boston Yanks played at Fenway from 1944-48 prior to traveling to New York, Dallas, Baltimore (where they became the Colts) and eventually to Indianapolis.

► Since 1990, the Red Sox have hosted a 4-college Beanpot Tournament each April. Boston College, Harvard, Northeastern and Boston University competed the first 6 years. When BU dropped baseball, UMass replaced the Terriers in 1996. On April 27, 1997 UMass pitcher Scott Barnsby no-hit Northeastern in the semifinals, 1-0. It was the first no-hitter at Fenway since Dave Morehead's in 1965. The Red Sox have also hosted Cape Cod League and college all-star games as well as state high school tournaments, most recently in 1998.

► Collegiately, Boston College football teams, mostly of the Frank Leahy era, and Boston University, with stellar quarterback Harry Agganis (later a promising Red Sox first baseman who died during the 1955 season), also played at Fenway Park.

► The Boston Beacons, a member of the North American Soccer League for the 1968-69 season, played their home games at Fenway Park. In August of 1968, the Santos soccer club of Brazil featuring the legendary Pele played the Beacons in a Fenway Park exhibition.

2006 FENWAY PARK IMPROVEMENTS

THE RED SOX ORGANIZATION

On March 23, 2005, the Boston Red Sox announced a long-term commitment to remain at Fenway Park, "America's Most Beloved Ballpark" and the oldest park in the Major Leagues. A comprehensive plan for a complete renovation was submitted to the City of Boston Landmarks Commission and the Massachusetts Historic Commission. This plan included the annual improvements that the Red Sox have constructed since 2002. On Opening Day, 2006, the Red Sox will debut the largest off-season renovation in the history of the ballpark, including the addition of more than 2,600 new seats, new dedicated standing room locations, two new premium lounges, new restrooms, new concessions, and expanded concourses.

The most noticeable changes for the start of the 2006 season are the removal of the .406 club and its trademark glass partition behind home plate and the replacement of the Roof Box Seats with the new State Street Pavilion. The .406 Club (formerly the 600 Club) opened as a new premium seating area at Fenway Park in 1989. While successful at the time, many .406 Club seat holders and fans expressed a desire to remove the glass and create an open-air venue for what many consider one of the greatest vantage points to watch a game in baseball. In addition to providing the fans in this area with a better relationship to the game, the removal of the glass was greeted with enthusiasm by those who felt it looked too modern in contrast to the historic architecture of the original 1912 structure that housed this addition.

THE FIRST THING MANY FANS WILL NOTICE ON THEIR FIRST 2006 VISIT TO FENWAY PARK IS THE REMOVAL OF THE GLASS THAT ENCLOSED THE .406 CLUB SINCE ITS CONSTRUCTION IN 1989. THE CEREMONIAL SHATTERING OF THE GLASS IN THE NEW EMC CLUB TOOK PLACE ON OCTOBER 14, 2005.

The previously existing .406 Club and Hall of Fame Club will be replaced by two new premium seating areas. The EMC Club, located directly behind home plate on the suite level, will contain 406 open-air club seats with spectacular views only 100 feet from the playing field. The EMC club's enclosed, climate-controlled dining area and lounge offer high end amenities, including a concierge service, dedicated restrooms, and VIP parking. With an open-air kitchen, three full service bars (including a wine bar), and a full-service seated dining area, club members have the opportunity to experience a whole new level of service, just steps away from their seats in the ballpark. The EMC club is also available to host non-game day events and will be the new home to the Red Sox Hall of Fame plaque display, as well as displays honoring Red Sox Gold Glove winners, Silver Slugger recipients, and an area dedicated to the "Greatest Hitter who ever lived," Ted Williams.

Probably the most remarkable renovation for the 2006 season is the addition of 1,500 seats in the new pavilion level which replaces the "roof box" seats. By using precast concrete to replace the metal platforms previously on the roof, the architects, D'Agostino Izzo & Quirk were able to add an unprecedented number of seats to Fenway Park while only adding five feet to the height of the Fenway roof. In addition, the Pavilion level concourse feels much more spacious as a result of relocation and upgrades of the old mechanical units that once cluttered the roof area.

Located above the suite level of the ballpark, the State Street Pavilion is comprised of the Home Plate Pavilion Club seating area, as well as the First and Third Base Pavilion Club and Box seating areas. Previously, the First and Third Base Roof Box Seats consisted of three rows of "temporary" risers, a row of bar stools, and flooring, concessions, and restrooms badly in need of repair. These areas were demolished and replaced with new seats, concourses, restrooms, and concessions. The State Street Pavilion Club seating category consists of the front five rows of the Pavilion with 21-inch wide, padded seats in the first four rows, and a fifth row of bar stools and drink rails similar to those on the Green Monster. The State Street Pavilion Box seating category consists of the four rows directly above the Pavilion Club seats. These seat holders have their own brand new concourse on the fifth floor, complete with new concessions, restrooms, and more than 300 dedicated standing room locations. These standing room locations, with a drink rail, provide least expensive tickets in Fenway Park with some of the most striking views of the playing field.

State Street Pavilion ticket holders will have access to a new dining and lounge space, located directly behind the Home Plate Pavilion Club seating area, which features a large dining room with both in-seat and a la carte service. An island bar, with one side facing the lounge, and one side facing a balcony area overlooking Yawkey Way, will allow patrons an opportunity to grab a drink or a full-meal while remaining only a few feet away from their ballpark seats. The lounge also features bar stool-style seating, and several art displays celebrating the history of the Red Sox.

Not only do the new lounges have views of both the playing field and Yawkey Way, but they are designed in a way that eliminates the metal cladding installed in 1989 that sat directly on the historic 1912 Yawkey Way facade. From a preservationist point of view, this renovation is also supportive of the larger goal of restoring the original architectural components of Fenway Park.

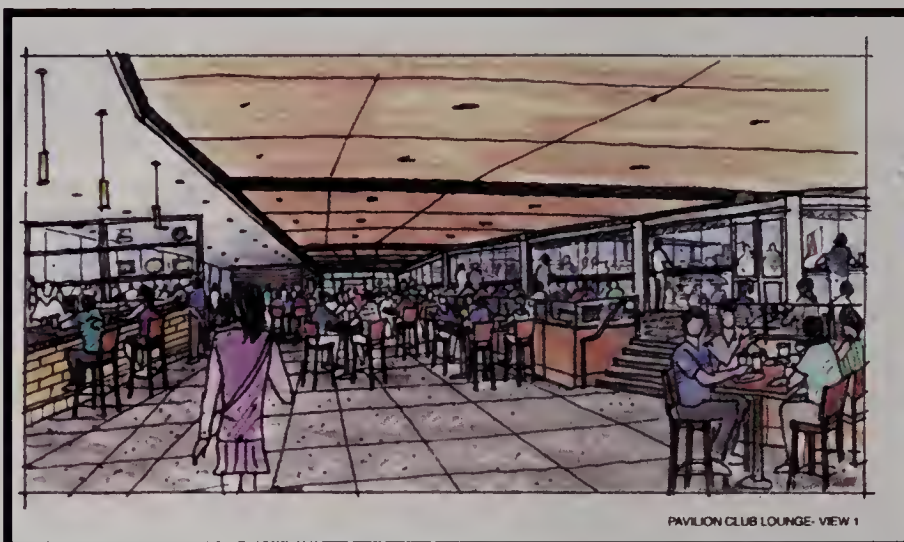

A new stair has been constructed to aid in circulation between the new pavilion seats and the rest of the ballpark. Located at the corner of Van Ness Street and Yawkey Way, the stair, designed to be similar to the Green Monster stair on Lansdowne Street, will allow fans entering the park through Gate D to move directly to the First Base Deck, constructed in 2005 as part of the clubhouse addition, and thus the first base grandstand seats, as well as to the pavilion level on the first base side. This is part of an ongoing focus on making circulation at Fenway Park safer and more convenient for fans, without destroying the intimacy that makes both the seats and the concourses memorable.

In addition to the construction of the new seating areas, the Red Sox will also debut a state-of-the-art distributed sound system, the first of its kind in the history of Fenway Park. Previously, the sound system was centralized with a single speaker cluster positioned in center field. The sound from that system was inadequate, difficult to control, and allowed sound to escape the ballpark and impact the Fenway neighborhood. The new sound system will allow the organization to better control sound, providing a more clear and vivid presentation. Other "behind-the-scenes" improvements made during the offseason designed to enhance the experience and ensure the safety of all Fenway Park patrons include a new concourse public address system, a new electrical substation and a new sprinkler system for the concourse areas have also been added. While not visible or exciting, these investments in Fenway Park are necessary and long-warranted to bring the ballpark up to code, and thus current safety standard, which are vastly different from those that existed when Fenway was last remodeled in 1934.

47-TERRY FRANCONA

Manager

OPENING DAY AGE: 46 (Turns 47 on April 22)

BORN: April 22, 1959 in Aberdeen, SD

RESIDES: Boston, MA

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL RECORD: 478-494 (.492)

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER: Third Base Coach for the Detroit Tigers (1996), Manager for the Philadelphia Phillies (1997-2000), Bench Coach for the Texas Rangers (2002), Bench Coach for the Oakland Athletics (2003), Manager for the Boston Red Sox (2004-)

CAREER NOTES

MILESTONE WATCH: Begins 2006 needing 7 victories for 200 as manager of the Red Sox and only 22 victories to reach 500 in his major league managerial career...he'll be the 17th Red Sox manager to reach 200 wins...the Red Sox' 28th game of the season will be Francona's 1,000th as a big league skipper.

QUICK START: Francona has won more games over his first 2 seasons as Red Sox manager (193), than any skipper in club history...Joe McCarthy won 192 in 1948 and 1949...Francona should become the 2nd-fastest manager to 200 wins in club annals...McCarthy needed only 323 games to win 200 between 1948 and 1950...Tito enters 2006 with 324 games under his belt.

ALMOST THERE: When the Red Sox climb 16 games above .500 for the first time in 2006, Francona will be at .500 in his managerial career for the first time since he was 1-1 on April 2, 1997, 2 games into his managerial career with the Phillies...the only time his career managerial record was above .500 was at 1-0 on April 1, 1997, after Curt Schilling shut out the Dodgers 3-0 on Opening Day in Francona's big league managerial debut...when he arrived in Boston prior to the 2004 season, he was 78 games below .500 after 4 seasons with the Phillies.

JUST WIN, BABY

Among managers who have spent more than one season in Boston, Francona ranks 3rd in winning percentage (.596) with the best mark since 1951:

MANAGER	RECORD	YEARS
Jake Stahl	144-88 (.621)	1912-13
Joe McCarthy	223-145 (.606)	1948-50
Steve O'Neill	150-99 (.602)	1950-51
Terry Francona	193-131 (.596)	2004-
Grady Little	188-136 (.580)	2002-03

SUMMARY: In his 2nd season at the helm, managed the Red Sox to a 95-67 (.586) record, a tie with the Yankees for first place in the American League East Division and, by virtue of losing the season series with New York 10-9, the A.L. Wild Card...became the first manager ever to guide the Red Sox into the postseason in both of his first 2 seasons in Boston...the Red Sox were swept in the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series by the eventual World Champion White Sox...managed a total of 52 players in 2005 (26 position players and 26 pitchers).

MORE 2005 NOTES: Earned the 100th win of his Red Sox managerial career April 8 at Toronto, a 6-5 triumph...picked up career managerial victory No. 400 by a 7-2 score May 6 vs. Seattle...the Sox' 9-4 win July 20 at Tampa Bay was Francona's 150th as Boston's skipper...was ejected 5 times (April 14 vs. New York by umpire Greg Gibson, April 24 at Tampa Bay by umpire Ted Barrett, June 7 at St. Louis by umpire Larry Young, July 2 vs. Toronto by umpire Lance Barksdale and August 26 vs. Detroit by umpire Randy Marsh)...in all, Francona has been tossed 8 times in 2 seasons as Red Sox manager and 16 times in his 6-year major league managerial career...with Tigers pitcher Troy Percival, was elected to the Arizona Fall League Hall of Fame in 2005...Francona twice participated in the AFL: as a coach for Grand Canyon in 1992 and, in 1994, as manager in Scottsdale, where he managed Nomar Garciaparra and Michael Jordan.

TOUGH ACT TO FOLLOW: In his first season at the helm in Boston, Francona guided the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...became the winningest manager in club post-season history, as Boston went 11-3 in beating the Angels in the ALDS (3-0), the Yankees in the ALCS (4-3) and the Cardinals in the World Series (4-0)...led the Sox to a 98-64 regular-season record and the American League Wild Card, finishing 2nd in the A.L. East, 3.0 games behind the Yankees...in the franchise's 104-year history, only one skipper posted a better record in his first season: Jake Stahl managed the 1912 Red Sox to a 105-47 record and the World Series championship...Francona became just the 6th manager in club annals to lead the Red Sox to the postseason in his first year at the helm, joining Jake Stahl (1912), Ed Barrow (1918), Dick Williams (1967), Joe Morgan (1988) and Kevin Kennedy (1995), just the 3rd to win the World Series in his first year (Stahl in 1912 and Barrow in 1918).

MORE 2004 NOTES: Managed a total of 50 players (25 position players and 26 pitchers, with David McCarty on both lists)...in reaching the postseason for the first time in 5 major league managerial seasons, Francona saw his club overcome 16 players enduring 19 stints on the disabled list, missing a total of 1,170 games (in 2003, the Sox lost 497 games to D.L. time)...was named the 44th manager in Red Sox history December 4, 2003...agreed to a 3-year contract with a club option for 2007.

MANAGERIAL/COACHING CAREER

CAREER NOTES: In his 27th season in pro baseball, Francona begins his 7th season as a major league manager, his 3rd with the Red Sox...previously, guided the rebuilding Phillies to a 285-363 record from 1997-2000...only 37 when hired by the Phillies, he was the youngest manager in the majors at the time...began his coaching career immediately upon the conclusion of his playing days in 1991, serving as hitting instructor for the White Sox' Rookie-level Gulf Coast League club...he managed Chicago's Single-A South Bend affiliate in 1992 and skippered Double-A Birmingham from 1993-95, earning Southern League Manager of the Year and Baseball America Minor League Manager of the Year honors after leading the Barons to the league championship in '93...in 1994, when he managed basketball great Michael Jordan, Francona was named the top managerial prospect in the minors by Baseball America...Francona also managed in the Arizona Fall League in 1992 and 1994...he guided Aguilas to the Dominican Winter League championship following the 1995 season...Francona, who concluded his minor league managerial career in 1995 with a 4-year record of 296-266, made the jump to the major leagues in 1996, when he served as third base coach on Detroit manager Buddy Bell's staff...in 1997, he was named manager of a Philadelphia club that had finished 5th in the N.L. East with a 67-95 record in 1996...under Francona's leadership, the Phillies improved their record in each of the next 3 seasons...they went 68-94 in 1997, including the league's 3rd-best record (44-33) after the All-Star break...the 1998 Phils finished 75-87, vaulting to 3rd place in the division and staying in the Wild Card chase until mid August...in 1999, Francona's Phils started 61-48 through August 6 en route to a 77-85 record and a 3rd-place finish...the Phillies went 65-97 in 2000...in 2001, he served Indians General Manager John Hart as a Special Assistant to Baseball Operations and guided Team USA to a 7-3 record and the Silver Medal in the Baseball World Cup in Taipei, Taiwan, dropping the title game to Cuba...Francona returned to the dugout as Jerry Narron's bench coach with the Rangers in 2002 and spent 2003 as Ken Macha's bench coach with the A.L. West champion Athletics.

CAREER NOTES

MR. RELIABLE: Claimed off waivers from the Pittsburgh Pirates February 4, 2003, Bronson has posted a 24-19 record with a save and a 4.19 ERA (187 ER/401.1 IP) in 73 Red Sox appearances (61 starts)...with 29 starts in 2004 and 32 starts in 2005, Arroyo's 61 starts since the beginning of 2004 trail only Tim Wakefield (63) on the Boston staff.

ONWARD AND UPWARD: Has established career highs in wins, appearances, starts, innings pitched and quality starts in both of the last 2 seasons, going 14-10 with a 4.51 ERA in 35 appearances (32 starts) in 2005...made a team-high 20 quality starts last season.

NEW DEAL: Agreed to terms with the Red Sox on a 3-year contract January 19, avoiding salary arbitration for each of the 3 campaigns.

SUMMARY: Established career highs with 14 wins, 32 starts and 205.1 innings pitched in his 2nd full season with the Red Sox...the Sox went 17-15 in his 32 starts, a team-high 20 of which were quality starts...received 5.3 runs per game worth of support (169 runs in 32 starts)...was 14-9 with a 4.56 ERA (102 ER/201.1 IP) in his 32 starts and 0-1 with a 2.25 ERA (1 ER/4.0 IP) in 3 bullpen outings. ,

TOUGH LUCK: The Red Sox scored a total of 18 runs in his 9 losses as a starter, one run or less 4 times and 2 runs or less 7 times (including a pair of shutouts)...left 5 starts on line for a win only to get a no-decision when the bullpen could not hold the advantage: April 19 vs. Toronto, June 4 vs. Los Angeles (AL), August 15 at Detroit, August 27 vs. Detroit and September 12 at Toronto.

QUICK START: Began the season 4-0 with a 3.21 ERA (19 ER/53.1 IP) through his first 8 starts (through May 16) then went 10-10 with a 4.97 ERA (84 ER/152.0 IP) in 27 appearances (24 starts) the rest of the way...allowed 2 runs or less in 5 of his first 7 starts through May 10.

JUST WIN, BABY: Prior to a loss May 25 at Toronto in his 100th major league appearance, Arroyo had won 9 consecutive decisions, the longest streak by a Red Sox pitcher since Pedro Martinez won 9 in a row June 20-August 10, 2002...in the 17-start stretch, Bronson went 9-0 with a 3.48 ERA (40 ER/103.1 IP)...before a no-decision in a 4-3 loss to the Blue Jays April 19 at Fenway, the Red Sox had won 11 straight Arroyo starts dating to August 21, 2004...the streak, which covered his last 9 starts of 2004 and his first 2 of 2005, was the longest active run in the majors...Bronson went 6-0 during the streak.

FROM THE PEN: Made 3 relief appearances...June 1 vs. Baltimore, fanned 1 in 1.1 perfect innings...August 24 at Kansas City, took the loss, allowing a run on a hit and 2 walks with one K in 1.2 innings...on the final day of the regular season, October 2, worked a scoreless inning at Fenway against the Yankees, surrendering a pair of base hits.

THOU SHALT NOT STEAL: Only 8 opponents attempted a stolen base all season, and only 5 succeeded...in his career, opponents are just 20-for-33 in stolen base tries, a 61 percent success rate.

TIGER TAMER: Earned a 2-1 win over the Tigers May 5 at Detroit...carried a no-hitter and a 1-0 lead into the 7th, when he allowed a one-out solo homer to Carlos Guillen...completed 8.0 innings, allowing just the one run on 3 hits, walking 2 and striking out 8...in his next start, May 10 vs. Oakland, allowed just one hit through the first 6.0 innings.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Held right-handed batters to a .234 average (78-for-333) and 5 home runs...lefties batted .288 (135-for-469) with 17 long balls...worked at least 6.0 innings in 25 of his 32 starts, 7.0 or more in 15 and a season-high 8.0 innings 3 times...walked 2 or fewer in 23 of 32 starts, one or less in 19 and none in 5.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Won his 2005 debut April 8 at Toronto, 6-5...allowed just 2 runs on 3 hits over 6.0 innings, walking one and striking out 4...April 24-May 5, won 3 straight starts for the first time in his career...served a 6-game suspension handed down by MLB after he was ejected by home plate umpire Ted Barrett for hitting Aubrey Huff to lead off the 7th April 24 at Tampa...dropped his appeal following his May 16 start in Oakland...made his 100th big league appearance May 25 at Toronto...beat the Reds 6-1 June 15 at Fenway for his first home win since August 26, 2004...worked into the 7th in 7 of 8 starts between June 15 and July 24...went toe-to-toe with Toronto's Roy Halladay July 3 at Fenway, suffering a 5-2 setback despite allowing just 3 runs on 8 hits and a walk in 8.0 innings...threw a team season-high 123 pitches in the game...went 4-0 with a 3.60 ERA (14 ER/35.0 IP) in 4 starts to begin September before being tagged for 7 runs in 3.0 innings in his final start of the regular season September 28 vs. Toronto.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Made one relief appearance in the Division Series vs. the White Sox in Game 1 at U.S. Cellular Field, allowing 2 runs on 2 hits and 2 walks in the 8th inning, striking out one and surrendering a home run.

SUMMARY: After splitting 4 consecutive seasons between Triple-A and the major leagues with the Pirates (2000-2002) and Red Sox (2003), enjoyed his first full big league season and finished 10-9 with a 4.03 ERA in 32 games (29 starts) for Boston...established career highs in wins, appearances, starts, innings pitched and strikeouts...finished strong, going 5-0 with a 3.78 ERA (21 ER/50.0 IP) in his last 9 starts, all Red Sox wins...did not lose after August 15...had started the year 5-9 with a 4.13 ERA (59 ER/128.2 IP) through his first 23 games (20 starts)...held the opposition to a .249 batting average, 9th-lowest in the American League...averaged only 2.4 walks per 9 innings, 10th-fewest in the A.L...his ERA was 12th-best in the league...the Sox went 17-12 in his 29 starts, 16 of which were quality starts...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 16 of his last 21 starts.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN: The Red Sox scored a total of 22 runs in the 8 starts Arroyo lost (he also lost a relief appearance), including 2 runs or fewer in 4 of his setbacks.

ROAD WARRIOR: Finished the year 7-4 with a 3.06 ERA (35 ER/103.0 IP) in 17 games (16 starts) on the road...his road ERA ranked 5th in the A.L...opponents hit just .214 (81-for-379) on the road...was 3-5 with a 5.35 ERA (45 ER/75.2 IP) in 15 games (13 starts) at Fenway Park, where opponents batted .291 (90-for-309).

TOUGH TO HIT: Opponents batted just .249 (171-for-688) with 17 homers...among Red Sox starters, only Pedro Martinez and Curt Schilling allowed a lower opponents average, and Arroyo ranked 9th in the A.L...Arroyo held righthanders to a .227 average (75-for-331) and 7 homers...lefties hit .269 (96-for-357) with 10 homers...opponents had a .314 on-base percentage and a .403 slugging percentage.

KEEPING THEM IN THE YARD: Allowed 17 homers in 178.2 innings, working an average of more than 10 innings per home run allowed...over his last 16 starts, beginning July 9, gave up only 6 long balls in 91.2 innings, an average of one approximately every 15.1 innings.

HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT: Led the major leagues with 20 hit batsmen, tying the Red Sox record set by Howard Ehmke in 1923.

DOWN BY WAY OF THE K: Arroyo, who had never before struck out more than 7 in a game, chalked up 12 K's July 19 in Seattle...the total would stand as the club season high until Curt Schilling fanned 14 September 21 vs. Baltimore...Arroyo struck out the side in the 4th, 5th and 6th and recorded 11 consecutive outs via K between the 3rd out in the 3rd and the first out in the 7th...the last major leaguer to record at least 11 straight outs on strikeouts was Arizona's Randy Johnson (13 outs in a row on K's July 4, 2001 at Houston).

INTERLEAGUE INTRIGUE: The former National Leaguer posted a stellar 3.07 ERA (10 ER/29.1 IP) in 5 interleague starts despite an 0-4 record...led the club in interleague starts and innings (29.1)...June 9 vs. San Diego, allowed just 2 runs (one earned) in 5.0 innings before being forced from the game following a 2:21 rain delay...left trailing 2-0 and took the loss, as the Sox fell 8-1...was a 6-3 loser June 14 at Colorado, allowing 4 runs (3 earned) on 7 hits in 6.0 innings...was a tough-luck 4-0 loser June 20 in San Francisco, as Jason Schmidt one-hit the Red Sox...Bronson surrendered only 2 runs on 4 hits in 6.1 innings, walking one and fanning 7.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked at least 6.0 innings in 20 of 29 starts, 7.0 or more in 9...completed 8.0 innings twice...allowed 19 unearned runs, tied with Tim Wakefield and Kansas City's Brian Anderson for 3rd-most in the majors...won his 10 games against 9 different opponents, beating Tampa Bay twice...tied Pedro Martinez for 8th in the A.L. with a 3.94 ERA in night games...was the toughest Sox starter to run against, allowing just 4 stolen bases in 9 tries.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Began the year with 4 starts in his first 5 outings, but moved to the bullpen for 2 outings when Byung-Hyun Kim was activated from the D.L...in his return to the rotation May 15 at SkyDome, limited the Jays to just 3 hits in a season-high 8.0 shutout innings in a 4-0 win...remained in the rotation the rest of the season...also worked 8.0 innings of 3-hit shutout ball July 9 vs. Texas...made 3 relief appearances (none after May 9), going 1-1 with a 5.40 ERA (2 ER/3.1 IP)...threw a team season-high 124 pitches June 20 at San Francisco.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Had no record and a 7.81 ERA (11 ER/12.2 IP) in 6 post-season appearances (2 starts)...had a 3.00 ERA (2 ER/6.0 IP) in one ALDS start vs. Anaheim...started the series-clinching Game 3 at Fenway, limiting the Angels to 2 runs on 3 hits in 6.0 innings-plus...walked 2 and fanned 7...allowed a solo homer to Troy Glaus in the 4th and was pulled with a 6-1 lead after walking Jeff DaVanon to start the 7th...the Sox won 8-6 in 10 on David Ortiz's walk-off homer...had a 15.75 ERA (7 ER/4.0 IP) in 3 games (one start) in the ALCS vs. New York...allowed 8 hits and 2 walks, fanning 3...started Game 3 at Fenway, and was tagged for 6 runs on 6 hits and 2 walks in 2.0 innings-plus...left after the first 3 men reached in the 3rd...gave up homers to Hideki Matsui (2-run shot) and Alex Rodriguez (solo homer)...fanned 2 in a no-hit, no-run 10th inning out of the pen in Game 5 at Fenway...gave up a run on 2 hits in 1.0 inning in Game 6 in the Bronx...made 2 relief appearances in the World Series, posting a 6.75 ERA (2 ER/2.2 IP)...allowed 2 runs on 4 hits and a walk with 4 K's in 2.2 innings...was touched for 2 runs on 4 hits in 2.1 innings in Game 1 at Fenway...walked none with 4 K's...got one out and issued one walk in the 8th inning of the series-clinching Game 4 win at Busch Stadium.

RED SOX

SUMMARY: Named Red Sox Minor League Player of the Year in his first season in the organization...split time between Triple-A and the majors for the 4th straight year...earned International League Pitcher of the Year and All-Star honors with Triple-A Pawtucket, before his contract was purchased by Boston August 22.

WITH THE RED SOX: Posted no record with a save and a 2.08 ERA in 6 relief appearances for the Red Sox...pitched 3.0 innings or more in 5 of 6 outings, all but one of which came at Fenway...opponents hit .164...lefties hit .161 (5-for-31), and righties batted .167 (5-for-30)...allowed just 10 hits and 5 runs (4 earned) in 17.1 innings...earned his first M.L. save in his Red Sox debut August 25 vs. Seattle, pitching 3.0 scoreless innings in relief of Pedro Martinez...retired all 12 batters faced September 24 vs. Baltimore, fanning 2...tossed 3.0 scoreless innings in his final regular season outing September 28 at Tampa Bay, allowing a hit and a walk while fanning 4.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Was on the roster for both the ALDS and ALCS, although all 3 of his playoff outings came in the ALCS vs. New York...posted no record and a 2.70 ERA...allowed one run on 2 hits and 2 walks in 3.1 innings, striking out 5...pitched a scoreless 8th in Game 2 and a scoreless 9th in Game 5...allowed a solo homer to Jorge Posada in a 1.1-inning stint in Boston's Game 6 victory.

WITH THE PAWSOX: Named Red Sox Minor League Player of the Year and International League Pitcher of the Year, going 12-6 with a 3.43 ERA in 24 starts for Pawtucket...ranked 2nd in the league and 13th in all of minor league baseball with 155 strikeouts, tied for 2nd in the IL with 12 wins and tied for 9th with a 3.43 ERA...walked 23 and fanned 155 in 149.2 innings, an average of 1.4 walks and 9.3 strikeouts per 9.0 innings...was named to both the IL's mid-season and post-season All-Star teams...he pitched 1.0 inning and allowed 2 unearned runs in the Triple-A All-Star Game July 15.

PERFECTION AT PAWTUCKET: Tossed the 4th 9-inning perfect game in the 120-year history of the IL August 10 at Pawtucket's McCoy Stadium, shutting down Buffalo 7-0...threw 101 pitches, 73 strikes...struck out 9, recorded 10 fly outs and 8 ground ball outs...earned IL Pitcher of the Week honors for his feat...the perfect game was the 2nd by a PawSox pitcher...Tomo Ohka turned the trick in a 2-0 win June 1, 2000 vs. Charlotte.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Limited IL foes to a .252 average...righties hit .213 (73-for-342)...lefties batted .305 (75-for-246)...allowed 2 earned runs or less in 14 of 24 starts...walked 2 or less in his final 22 starts...went 7-1 with a 1.54 ERA (14 ER/81.2 IP) in 12 starts at McCoy Stadium and 5-5 with a 5.69 ERA (43 ER/68.0 IP) in 12 road starts...started and finished strong, going 3-0 with a 3.18 ERA (8 ER/22.2 IP) in 4 April starts and 1-1 with a 1.77 ERA (4 ER/20.1 IP) in 3 August starts...allowed just 9 homers in 149.2 innings (one every 16.2 innings)...did not allow a homer in his final 5 starts (35.0 IP)...posted 10 or more K's twice, punching out 11 in 7.2 innings June 18 vs. Durham and fanning 10 July 21 at Toledo...did not allow a run and allowed just 4 hits and no walks in 15.0 innings in his final 2 starts prior to his promotion to Boston.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Split his 8th and final season in the Pirates organization between Pittsburgh and Triple-A Nashville...at Nashville, where he was the Opening Day starter, went 8-6 with a 2.96 ERA in 22 games (21 starts)...despite dropping 4 of his first 6 starts, rebounded to finish 2nd in the PCL in ERA and tied for the league with 3 complete games and a pair of shutouts...made 9 appearances (4 starts) for Pittsburgh, going 2-1 with a 4.00 ERA...the Bucs were 3-1 in his 4 starts...began the year in Triple-A and struck out 10 en route to hurling 7.0 innings of 3-hit shutout ball in his lone Nashville relief appearance April 8 vs. Fresno...tossed a 3-hit, 7.0-inning shutout in game 2 of a May 18 doubleheader vs. Colorado Springs...got 5 straight no decisions May 23-June 18...was recalled by Pittsburgh May 31 and dropped a 9-4 decision June 1 at St. Louis...was optioned back to Nashville the following day, and went 1-1 with a 5.75 ERA (23 ER/36.0 IP) in 6 starts before being recalled for the 2nd time July 7 when Mike Fetters was traded to Arizona...tossed 2.0 scoreless innings of relief July 7 vs. Houston before again being optioned to Nashville 6 days later...named PCL Pitcher of the Week for the week of August 5-11 after going 2-0 with a 0.50 ERA (1 ER/18.0 IP)...threw back-to-back complete games August 6 at Salt Lake (a 4-hit shutout) and August 11 at Memphis (gave up an earned run on 3 hits)...went 4-0 with a 1.75 ERA (7 ER/36.0 IP) in his last 5 Triple-A starts to earn another recall to Pittsburgh on August 15...allowed one unearned run in a 4-1 win over Tom Glavine and the Braves August 29...moved to the pen for the remainder of the season after that win, and was charged with just 2 earned runs over his final 12.0 innings for a 1.50 ERA...held opponents to a .212 (7-for-33) average in relief.

CAREER NOTES

CATCH THIS: Has caught 149 big league games (133 starts) since making his debut with Cleveland in 2002...Bard has thrown out 30 of 91 (33 percent) runners attempting to steal...the Indians went 75-74 in his 149 games behind the plate, with Cleveland pitchers posting a 4.22 ERA of 4.22...in 2005, the Tribe was 15-8 (.652) in his 23 starts, and Indians hurlers logged a 3.20 ERA (78 ER/219.2 IP) when pitching to Bard.

CHOOSING SIDES: The switch-hitter has batted .257 (39-for-152) with 6 homers and 22 RBI from the right side of the plate (vs. lefties) and .230 (79-for-343) with 7 homers and 39 RBI from the left side (vs. righthanders) in his major league career.

SUMMARY: In his first full big league season, served as the Indians' back-up catcher to Victor Martinez...Cleveland went 15-8 (.652) in Bard's 23 starts, and Indians pitchers compiled a 3.20 ERA (78 ER/219.2 IP) in his 31 games behind the plate overall...threw out 2 of 9 runners trying to steal (22 percent)...committed 3 errors in 177 chances for a .983 fielding percentage.

HANDLING THE STICK: Hit .193 with 4 doubles, a homer, 9 RBI and 6 runs scored in 34 games...batted .214 (12-for-56) from the left side (vs. righthanders) and .148 (4-for-27) from the right side (vs. lefties)...went 5-for-15 (.333) with runners in scoring position, and had 2 hits in 6 at-bats with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...batted .308 (4-for-13) when leading off an inning...went 1-for-4 (.250) with an RBI in 5 appearances as a pinch hitter...started the season 0-for-12 in his first 5 contests before going 5-for-11 (.455) with a homer and 3 RBI in his next 4 games...his lone homer came May 4, a solo shot off Minnesota's J.C. Romero in the top of the 9th, which snapped a 4-4 tie and gave the Indians a 5-4 win...had 4 2-hit games, including at Cincinnati May 22, when he had a season-high 2 RBI.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Closed the year as Cleveland's back-up catcher despite missing the first half of the season due to injury...strained his lower left abdominal muscle while running the bases in a March 27 Spring Training game against the Reds in Sarasota...when rehab and other treatments did not improve the injury, had successful surgery to repair a "sports hernia" in both his left and right sides, which showed chronic weakness in both abdominal walls...the surgery was performed at Drexel University in Philadelphia on April 14 by Dr. Bill Meyers...began a rehab assignment with Double-A Akron June 22 and, after 10 games, jumped to Triple-A Buffalo...hit .282 (33-for-117) in 29 games for the Bisons from July 24-August 31 to earn a September 1 call-up to Cleveland...enjoyed success with the Indians down the stretch, going 8-for-19 (.421) in 7 games...went 2-for-3 with a double, a homer and a season-high 3 RBI September 23 vs. Minnesota...went 3-for-4 with a run scored in his final game of the season, October 3 at Minnesota.

2003: Had his most productive offensive season in the majors, establishing career bests with 13 doubles, 8 home runs, 36 RBI, 25 runs scored and 91 games played...batted .244 for the Indians, including a .289 (24-for-83) mark as a right-handed hitter...was Cleveland's Opening Day catcher and remained atop the team's depth chart until he was optioned to Triple-A Buffalo June 27, the same day Victor Martinez was promoted...was batting .228 through 60 games at the time of the option...hit .330 with 5 homers and 21 RBI in 35 games with Buffalo to earn an August 9 recall to Cleveland, where he stayed for the remainder of the season...appeared in 31 games for the Indians down the stretch, batting .278 with 5 homers and 20 RBI...during his 2nd big league stint, batted .393 (11-for-28) with runners in scoring position...committed only 5 errors in 546 chances at the major league level for a .991 fielding percentage, 9th-best among regular American League catchers...went 11-for-19 (.579) with a homer and 7 RBI in his final 6 games to lift his average to .244 from .222...his home run September 20 vs. Boston off Derek Lowe was the 1,000th round tripper by an Indian at Jacobs Field.

2002: Played the bulk of the season at Triple-A Buffalo, but was promoted to make his major league debut with the Indians in late August when Einar Diaz suffered a season-ending injury...with the Bisons, batted .297 with 26 doubles, 6 homers, 53 RBI and 36 runs in 94 games, while his 60 assists led all International League catchers...earned an August 23 promotion to the big leagues by hitting .389 (49-for-126) in 32 games in July and August...made his major league debut August 23 vs. Seattle, collecting his first hit in the 5th inning off Joel Pineiro...his first homer was a walk-off shot in the 9th inning off James Baldwin to break a 2-2 tie, making Bard the first major leaguer to hit a walk-off home run in his debut since the Angels' Bill Parker September 9, 1971...homered the next day off the Mariners' Jamie Moyer to become only the 2nd Indian in club history (Earl Averill, 1929) to homer in both of his first 2 games...overall, hit safely in each of his first 9 big league contests, batting .333 (11-for-33)...suffered a contusion of his left big toe September 21 at Kansas City, limiting him to only 2 games the rest of the way.

2001: Was a major league Spring Training invitee with the Rockies for the 2nd straight season, but began the season at Double-A Carolina before his June 2 trade to Cleveland...reported to Double-A Akron following the trade, but was shelved with lower back spasms from July 22-August 23...rehabilitated with short-season Single-A Mahoning Valley before being activated by Akron August 24 and later promoted to Triple-A Buffalo September 1...following the minor league season, participated in the Arizona Fall League, then played for Silver Medal-winning Team USA at the Baseball World Cup in Taipei.

2000: Began his professional career as an invitee to Rockies major league Spring Training before spending most of the regular season with Single-A Salem...his .285 average would have tied for 5th-best in the Carolina League, but he fell 30 plate appearances short of qualifying...helped Salem pitchers post the 2nd-best ERA (3.82) in the league...was promoted to Triple-A Colorado Springs on August 29 to close out the season in the Pacific Coast League.

CAREER NOTES

HEADING NORTH: Joins the Red Sox in 2006 after having spent his entire career in the Florida Marlins organization since being selected with the 2nd overall pick in the 1999 Draft behind Tampa Bay outfielder Josh Hamilton...is reunited with Principal Owner John W. Henry, as the '99 draft was Florida's first under Henry's ownership.

GETTING BETTER ALL THE TIME: Since breaking into the big leagues with the Marlins at the age of 21 in 2001, has matched or improved his total number of wins, starts, innings pitched and strikeouts in every season...in 106 major league appearances into 2006(all but 3 as a starter), is 41-34 with a 3.46 ERA...enters the 2006 season having limited opponents to a .234 batting average, including identical .234 marks by both right-handed and left-handed batters...has averaged nearly a strikeout per inning in his big league career, fanning 607 in 609.0 innings of work.

OCTOBER HEROICS: As a 23-year-old, was named MVP of the Marlins' 2003 World Series victory over the Yankees...the highlight of his October heroics was a complete-game 5-hitter on 3 days rest for a 2-0 win in Game 6 of the World Series at Yankee Stadium as the Marlins wrapped up the World Championship.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed his finest season, finishing 15-8 with 2 complete games (one shutout) and a 3.38 ERA in his final year with the Marlins...one of only 11 N.L. pitchers to win at least 15 games, Beckett established career highs in wins, starts (29), innings pitched (178.2) and strikeouts (166), while ranking among league leaders in strikeouts per 9 innings (tied for 7th with 8.4), opponents average (9th at .234), winning percentage (tied for 9th at .652) and ERA (11th).

EXCLUSIVE COMPANY: Became just the 8th Marlins pitcher to win 15 games...combined with Dontrelle Willis (22 wins) to become the 3rd pair of Florida teammates to both reach 15 wins, joining Kevin Brown (17) and Al Leiter (16) in 1996 and Brown (16) and Alex Fernandez (17) in 1997.

CENTURY CLUB: Made his 100th career start September 8 at Washington, earning his 13th win, 8-4...became just the 5th pitcher to make 100 starts with the Marlins, joining A.J.

Burnett (131), Brad Penny (130), Ryan Dempster (121) and Pat Rapp (115).

CAREER NOTES

TURNING 30: Has made 30 or more starts in each of his 7 full major league seasons starting in 1999 after breaking in with San Diego at the age of 24...has won at least 9 games in each of the 7 campaigns, including a career-high 14 wins with the Cubs in 2003 and 13 wins in his first season as a Red Sox in 2005, his 5th career campaign with 10 or more victories.

QUICK OUT OF THE GATE: In 2005 jumped out to a 6-0 start for the first time in his career, posting a 3.06 ERA over his first 11 starts...it was the longest winning streak to open a season by a Sox starter since both Pedro Martinez and John Burkett went 7-0 to start 2002.

BELOW AVERAGE: Has limited foes to a .246 average (1,249-for-5,086) in his career, tied for the 8th-lowest mark among pitchers that have been in the majors since at least 1998 (minimum 750.0 innings)...his .228 mark (592-for-2595) against righthanders is tied for 6th-lowest among all pitchers over the last 8 seasons (minimum 2,500 batters faced)...has held foes to a .233 average (114-for-489) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs, and a .151 mark (309-for-2051) with 2 strikes.

SEEING STARS

An All-Star for the first time in 2005, Clement became just the 6th pitcher in club history to make the A.L. All-Star team in his first season with the Red Sox:

RHP Don Schwall	1961
RHP Erik Hanson	1995
RHP Pedro Martinez	1998
RHP Curt Schilling	2004
RHP Matt Clement	2005

SUMMARY: In his first season in Boston, Clement was selected to the American League All-Star team and finished 13-6 with a 4.57 ERA in 32 starts...ranked 7th in the A.L. with a .684 (13-6) winning percentage and tied for 9th in the league with 6.9 strikeouts per 9 innings (146 K/191.0 IP)...his 68 walks were the fewest of any full season in his career...the Red Sox were 22-10 in his starts, their most wins behind any starter...went 9-1 with a 3.33 ERA (38 ER/102.2 IP) in 16 starts through the end of June and 4-5 with a 6.01 ERA (59 ER/88.1 IP) in 16 starts the rest of the way...lost 3 of his last 5 starts after losing only 3 of his first 27 outings...only Tim Wakefield and Bronson Arroyo threw more innings on the staff, while only Wakefield rang up more K's and made more starts...18 of his 32 starts were quality starts.

STAR SIGHTING: A first-time All-Star, Clement threw a scoreless 5th inning in the American League's 7-5 win in the Mid-Summer Classic July 12 at Comerica Park in Detroit...Luis Castillo and David Eckstein flew out before Clement walked Bobby Abreu and struck out Carlos Beltran to close out the inning...entered the All-Star break 10-2 with a 3.85 ERA (50 ER/117.0 IP) in 18 starts...in 14 starts after the break, went 3-4 with a 5.72 ERA (47 ER/74.0 IP).

CONTROLLING INTEREST: Issued 68 walks in 191.0 innings, an average of 3.2 per 9 innings...the total was his lowest ever in a full big league season but was tied for 9th-highest in the A.L...walked 2 or fewer in 21 of his 32 starts...issued a season-high 6 free passes September 24 at Baltimore, but still threw 6.0 shutout innings...ranked 5th in the league with 13 wild pitches and was 2nd to only Tampa Bay's Casey Fossum (18) with 16 hit batsmen.

SUPPORT STAFF: Received an average of 6.88 runs of support per 9 innings, 3rd-highest in all of baseball behind teammate David Wells (7.97) and Chris Young of the Rangers (7.32)...the Red Sox scored 146 runs while he was in the game, the 5th-highest total in baseball...as a Cub in 2004, received an average of 2.6 runs while in the game, the 6th-lowest total in the N.L.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN: Left 6 starts with the lead and on line for a victory only to see the bullpen give up the advantage: May 11 vs. Oakland, July 21 at Chicago (AL), July 26 at Tampa Bay, August 9 vs. Texas, August 19 at Los Angeles (AL) and September 24 at Baltimore...4 of those came in a 5-start stretch between July 21 and August 19...nonetheless, the Red Sox won all 6 of those games, all by a single run and 3 in extra innings...the Red Sox scored a total of 14 runs in Matt's 6 losses, 3 or less in 5 and 2 or fewer in 3.

QUICK START: Raced out to a 6-0 start for the first time in his career, posting a 3.06 ERA over his first 11 starts...it was the longest winning streak to open a season by a Boston starter since Pedro Martinez and John Burkett both went 7-0 to start 2002...the streak was the 2nd-longest of Matt's career...he won 8 consecutive decisions September 5, 1999-May 2, 2000 as a member of the San Diego Padres.

TOUGH EARLY: Held the opposition to a .200 average (24-for-120) in the first inning, a .209 average (43-for-206) on his first 30 pitches and a .218 average (57-for-262) the first time through the lineup.

ETC.: Worked 6.0 innings or more in 21 of his 32 starts, 7.0 or more in 12 and 8.0 or more in 5...threw a total of 3,181 pitches, an average of 16.7 per inning...allowed 6 stolen bases in 8 tries...induced 20 double play grounders...allowed 18 homers...the only full season in his career when he surrendered fewer was 2001 with Florida, when he gave up 15 in 169.1 innings...3 of his 6 losses came in September...beat 10 different teams with 2 wins against the Orioles, Devil Rays and Rangers...enjoyed 3 unbeaten months: April (2-0), May (4-0) and August (2-0)...allowed 6 or more runs in a start on 7 occasions...recorded a 2.78 ERA (50 ER/161.2 IP) in his other 25 starts.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Went 8-4 with a 4.90 ERA (55 ER/101.0 IP) in 17 starts at Fenway Park and 5-2 with a 4.20 ERA (42 ER/90.0 IP) in 15 road starts...allowed only 6 homers at Fenway, 12 on the road...opponents batted .260 (192-for-738) with 44 doubles, 2 triples and 18 homers...righties hit just .244 (85-for-349) with 5 homers...lefties batted .275 (107-for-389) with 13 long balls...opponents hit .238 (20-for-84) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs and .235 (4-for-17) with the bases loaded...foes hit .185 (5-for-27) in close-and-late situations and .161 (59-for-367) with 5 homers and 146 K's in 2-strike counts...opposing lead-off hitters batted .239 (21-for-88) with a .333 on-base percentage...No. 2 hitters batted .344 (32-for-93)...7-8 hitters combined for a .172 average (26-for-151)...allowed a .557 average (30-for-79) on 1-1 counts and .229 average (153-for-668) in all other counts.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Got a no-decision in his Red Sox debut, a 4-3 loss April 5 at New York (AL)...allowed 3 runs (2 earned) on 5 hits and 3 walks in 4.1 innings...after posting a pair of no-decisions and a 4.35 ERA (5 ER/10.1 IP) in his first 2 starts, earned his first Red Sox and A.L. win April 16 vs. Tampa Bay in his Fenway Park debut as a Red Sox...allowed one run on 7 hits in 7.0 innings, walking 2 and punching out 6...5 days later in Baltimore, blanked the Orioles on 8 hits over 8.0 innings for a 1-0 win...walked one and struck out 7...tagged for 7 runs in 4.2 by the Orioles 5 days later, Matt rebounded to open may with 2 wins and a 1.80 ERA (4 ER/20.0 IP) over his next 3 starts...allowed an unearned run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings May 6 vs. Seattle and gave up just one run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings 5 days later vs. Oakland...allowed a homer to Eric Chavez in that start, the first long ball he had surrendered in 50.0 innings over parts of 7 starts since serving up a gopher ball in his 2005 debut vs. New York...fired his lone complete game of 2005--the the 6th of his big league career--in a 5-2 win over John Smoltz and the Braves May 22 at Fenway...allowed 2 runs on 4 hits...walked none and struck out 7...went 4-1 with a 3.34 ERA (13 ER/35.0 IP) in 5 interleague starts, tying Gil Meche of the Mariners and Brendan Donnelly of the Angels for the major league lead in interleague victories...struck out a season-high 9 on 3 occasions: in back-to-back starts in 8.0 innings on June 13 vs. Cincinnati and in 7.0 innings June 19 vs. Pittsburgh as well as in 8.2 innings July 6 at Texas...threw a season-high 122 pitches in the Texas start, in the process becoming the club's first 10-game winner...fired 7.0 innings of 3-hit shutout ball for an 8-0 win June 19 vs. Pittsburgh...walked one and matched his season high with 9 K's...allowed a run on 7 hits over 7.0 innings with no walks and 4 K's for a 7-1 win at Philadelphia in his next start on June 26...left his July 26 starts at Tampa Bay after only 2.1 innings, when he was hit in the right side of the head by a line drive off the bat of Carl Crawford...did not go on the D.L., but did not pitch again until August 4...went 1-2 with an 8.88 ERA (25 ER/25.1 IP) in 5 July starts, but rebounded to go 2-0 with a 3.60 ERA (12 ER/30.0 IP) in 5 August outings...earned his final win September 3 vs. Baltimore, working 8.0 innings and allowing 4 runs (2 earned)...had not lost consecutive starts all season before losing 3 in a row September 8-18...threw 6.0 innings of 4-hit shutout ball in a no-decision September 24 at Baltimore.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Made the start in Game 1 of the American League Division Series at Chicago, enduring a 14-2 setback to the White Sox...in 3.1 innings, allowed 8 runs on 7 hits and a pair of hit-by-pitches, walking none, fanning none and allowing 3 home runs to match the club post-season record (done several times)...the 8 runs allowed also matched the post-season club record set by Roger Clemens in Game 1 of the 1986 ALCS vs. California...the White Sox scored 5 runs in the first inning, capping their scoring with a 3-run homer by A.J. Pierzynski...Chicago scored another run in the 3rd inning and 2 more in the 4th to drive Clement from the game after recording only 10 outs.

SUMMARY: Capped his 3-year stint with the Cubs by going 9-13 in 30 starts...posted a 3.68 ERA, 2nd-lowest of his career (3.60)...struck out 190 in 181.0 IP, an average of 9.4 K's per 9 innings (tied for 5th-best in the N.L.)...limited foes to a .229 average, 8th-lowest in the league...after starting the season 6-3 with a 3.05 ERA (22 ER/65.0 IP) in 10 starts through May 28, won just 3 games the rest of the way with a 4.03 ERA (52 ER/116.0 IP) over his final 20 starts...dropped his first start of the year April 8 at Cincinnati and then went 5-0 with a 1.53 ERA (6 ER/35.1 IP) in 5 starts April 14-May 6...tied his career high with a 5-game losing streak June 18-July 16 despite a stellar 2.61 ERA (11 ER/38.0 IP) over the 6-start stretch.

A LITTLE HELP?: Was the victim of poor run support, as his average of 4.03 runs of support per game was 6th-lowest in the N.L...the Cubs scored just 79 runs while he was on the mound, an average of only 2.6 per start.

HOME SWEET HOME: Went 7-6 with a 3.19 ERA (40 ER/113.0 IP) in 18 starts at Wrigley Field and 2-7 with a 4.50 ERA (34 ER/68.0 IP) in 12 road starts...in his career, is 53-39 with a 3.88 ERA (326 ER/756.1 IP) in 122 starts at home and 29-42 with a 4.99 ERA (328/591.0 IP) in 104 appearances, all but 2 as a starter, on the road.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Held righties to a .224 batting average (78-for-348) and lefties to a .234 mark (77-for-329)...went 0-1 despite a 1.93 ERA (3 ER/14.0 IP) in 2 starts vs. the American League in interleague play...was 7-8 with a 2.93 ERA (38 ER/117.1 IP) in 18 starts prior to the All-Star break before going 2-5 with a 5.09 ERA (36 ER/63.2 IP) in 12 starts following the break...threw 14 wild pitches, 2nd-most in the league...worked at least 6.0 innings in 22 of his 30 starts, allowed 2 runs or less in 15 starts and issued 2 walks or less in 14 starts.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Came within 8 outs of a no-hitter in a 4-1 win April 25 vs. the Mets...Karim Garcia broke up the bid with a solo home run with one out in the 7th...worked 8.0 innings and struck out a career-high 13, allowing just 2 hits, the one run and 2 walks...tied his career high with 13 strikeouts August 18 at Milwaukee, his 4th double-digit strikeout effort of the season...in his next start August 24 vs. Milwaukee, did not allow a hit until Brady Clark doubled to lead off the 5th inning...lasted just 2.2 innings September 7 vs. Montreal and was diagnosed with stiffness and discomfort in his right trapezoid muscle.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2003: Set a career high in wins by going 14-12 with a 4.11 ERA (92 ER/201.2 IP) in 32 starts for the Cubs...limited foes to a .227 average, 6th-lowest in the NL...righthanders hit .209, 4th-lowest among NL starters...allowed just 169 hits in 201.2 innings, an average of 7.54 per 9 innings, the 6th-best ratio in the league...fanned 171 for an average of 7.63 K's per 9 innings, 10th-best in the NL...started the season 2-6 with a 4.99 ERA (34 ER/61.1 IP) in 10 starts through the end of May and went 12-6 with a 3.72 ERA (58 ER/140.1 IP) in 22 starts the rest of the way...in his final 18 starts beginning June 27, limited foes to a .197 average in 118.0 innings...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 8 straight starts June 27-August 3, going 4-2 with a 2.29 ERA (15 ER/59.0 IP)...held foes to a .146 average in that span...capped the stretch by earning NL Player of the Week honors from July 28-August 3...tossed a complete-game 2-hit shutout in a 3-0 win July 29 vs. San Francisco...allowed just 2 singles, 2 walks and a hit batsman while fanning 8...at one point, fanned 4 consecutive Giants on 12 pitches...followed that effort with a 2-1 win August 3 vs. Arizona, limiting the D-Backs to a run on 3 hits in 8.0 innings...overall, went 10-5 with 3.10 ERA (40 ER/116.0 IP) in 17 starts at Wrigley Field and 4-7 with a 5.46 ERA (52 ER/85.2 IP) in 15 starts on the road...limited foes to a .197 average (15-for-76) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...exited his April 2 season debut after 3.0 innings due to left lower back tightness...had a season-high 10 K's April 18 at Pittsburgh...at the plate, went 3-for-3 off Pittsburgh's Kris Benson May 22, notching his first multi-hit game to snap an 0-for-43 skid...recorded his 50th career win June 11 at Baltimore...July 2 at Philadelphia, combined with Mark Guthrie, Kyle Farnsworth and Joe Borowski on a one-hit 1-0 victory, allowing the Phillies' lone hit (a single by David Bell to lead off the 5th)...started Chicago's N.L. Central clincher September 27 vs. Pittsburgh, allowing one run in 7.2 innings in the 7-2 win...made 2 post-season starts, going 1-1 with a 5.11 ERA...after suffering the loss in Game 4 of the NLDS vs. Atlanta, picked up an 8-3 win in Game 4 of the NLCS at Florida, allowing 3 runs on 5 hits in 7.2 innings in defeating Dontrelle Willis, who was a part of the same 6-player deal that sent Clement to the Cubs from Florida in March, 2002.

2002: Went 12-11 with a 3.60 ERA in 32 starts, in his first season with the Cubs...set career bests with a 3.60 ERA, 215 K's, 3 complete games and a .215 average against while matching his career high with 205.0 innings...ranked 3rd in the N.L. in opponents average...his strikeout total ranked 4th in the league, as did his average of 9.4 K's per 9 innings...boasted 6 double-digit strikeout efforts...led the league with a 2.55 road ERA (28 ER/98.2 IP)...held foes to a .145 average (10-for-69) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...issued 2 walks or less in 17 of 32 starts and pitched 6.0 innings or more in 21...struck out 12 in back-to-back starts April 13 at Pittsburgh and April 19 vs. Cincinnati...also fanned 12 June 30 at the White Sox...won 3 straight starts May 23-June 2 and again August 24-September 3...May 5 at Los Angeles, tossed 4.0 no-hit innings before leaving the game in the 5th after being hit by a Kevin Brown pitch in the right bicep...went 4-1 with a 2.58 ERA over 5 starts from May 23-June 14, pitching at least 7.0 innings in each start...May 28 at Pittsburgh, tossed his first big league complete game and shutout in a 3-0 win, allowing just 2 hits and 3 walks, fanning 8...pitched 6.0 no-hit innings before Brian Giles led off the 7th with a single...followed that outing with a 4-2 win vs. Houston June 2 to wrap up his first N.L. Player of the Week honor for the week of May 28-June 3...tossed his 2nd shutout in a 4-0 win August 24 at Arizona...was hit by 3 pitches, the first Cubs pitcher to be hit 3 times since Bob Wicker in 1903.

CAREER NOTES

ONWARD AND UPWARD: Since breaking into the big leagues with the Indians at the age of 22 in 2002, Coco has improved his batting average and total of home runs, doubles and runs scored in every season...into 2006, boasts a .287 batting average with 90 doubles, 14 triples, 35 home runs, 176 RBI, 235 runs and 54 stolen bases in 415 career major league games with the Indians...those numbers translate into 162-game averages of 14 home runs, 69 RBI, 92 runs scored and 21 stolen bases...into 2006, has appeared in 216 games (203 starts) in left field and 188 games (181 starts) in center field in his big league career.

SUMMARY: Capped his Indians career by setting personal highs with a .300 average, 42 doubles, 16 homers and 86 runs in 145 games...also turned in career bests in at-bats (594), hits (178), walks (44), on-base percentage (.345) and slugging (.465)...led the A.L. with 13 sacrifice bunts...also ranked among the league's top 5 in doubles (tied for 5th), batting vs. righties (5th at .324), and road (5th at .323)...after hitting only .253 (25-for-99) with 5 doubles, one homer and 5 RBI in 23 games in April, was off and running the rest of the way, batting .309 (153-for-495) with 37 doubles, 15 homers and 64 RBI over his final 122 games...boasted an especially strong September, batting .331 (40-for-121) with 6 homers and 16 RBI in the season's final month...was named A.L. Player of the Week for the week of September 6-12 after hitting .571 (16-for-28) with 3 homers and 7 RBI.

BRIEFLY ON THE SHELF: Was on the 15-day disabled list from May 18-June 2 with a sprained right thumb, which he suffered sliding into third base the night before vs. the Angels...after fears the injury would require surgery that could cost him 2-3 months of the season, Coco bounced back and rejoined the team 15 days later...from his June 2 activation through the end of the season, Crisp hit .305 (135-for-442) with 31 doubles, 13 homers and 58 RBI in 107 games.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch-hitter batted .324 (127-for-392) vs. righthanders and .252 (51-for-202) vs. lefthanders...hit .323 (98-for-303) in 73 games away from Jacobs Field and .275 (80-for-291) in 72 games at The Jake...went 15-for-21 (71 percent) in stolen base attempts...made 133 starts in left field and 10 starts in center, compiling a .985 fielding percentage...hit better than .288 in every month of the season except April (.253)...hit .301 (69-for-229) with runners on base and .400 (40-for-100) when putting the first pitch in play...batted .364 (4-for-11) with 11 RBI with the bases loaded...his 28 bunts in play tied for 3rd in the A.L....his final day off of the season was July 30, as he appeared in the club's final 57 games.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Compiled a pair of 10-game hitting streaks: May 5-15, during which he batted .400 (14-for-35), and July 3-14, batting .349 (15-for-43)...his inside-the-park home run July 4 vs. Detroit was just the 3rd by an Indian at Jacobs Field...had three 4-hit games to match his career high for the 6th time, the last of which occurred September 11...equaled his career high with 4 runs scored August 9 at Kansas City.

WHY COCO?

As a youngster, Covelli Crisp's great-grandmother Wilda Smith called him "Co." His sister Sheileah and godbrother Marcus, inspired by Cocoa Krispies cereal, lengthened it to "Coco," and the nickname stuck.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Made his first Opening Day roster and eventually established himself as the club's everyday center fielder midway through the season en route to a .297 batting average with 15 homers and 71 RBI in 139 games...his 71 RBI and 20 stolen bases remain career highs into 2006...his campaign gained momentum as the season progressed, as he hit just .211 in April but improved to .278 in May, .289 in June and .278 in July before exploding to post a .337 average in August and a .336 mark in September...in fact, turned in an impressive .316 average (131-for-414) with 15 homers and 65 RBI in his final 110 games beginning May 21...ranked 9th in the A.L. with a .318 batting average after the All-Star break...had only 7 RBI in his first 36 games and 64 RBI in his final 101 after June 10...raised his average 40 points to .297 from .257 in his final 58 games by batting .345 (77-for-223) from July 27 on...entered Spring Training battling Alex Escobar for the last outfield spot and made the club after the April 4 trade of Milton Bradley to the Dodgers...shared the center field job with Escobar for the season's first couple of months before Escobar was optioned to Triple-A after 46 games...Coco recorded a career-high 3 stolen bases June 20 at Atlanta...hit his first career grand slam (off Gary Knotts) and drove in a career high 5 runs July 27 vs. Detroit...matched his career high with 4 hits twice: June 11 vs. Cincinnati and July 19 at Anaheim...hit in 12 straight games June 11-22 and established a new career high with a 14-game run from July 27-August 13, batting .389 (21-for-54) with 4 homers and 13 RBI during the tear...tied his career high with a season-high 4 runs scored August 4 at Toronto...made 90 starts in center field, 31 in left and 3 at designated hitter.

2003: After beginning the season with Triple-A Buffalo and batting .360 with 19 doubles, 6 triples, a homer, 24 RBI and 20 steals in 56 games, was promoted to Cleveland in June for the remainder of the season...was a solid contributor in the lead-off spot and in center field during the last 7 weeks of the season...despite not playing in the big leagues for the first 2 months of the season, ranked 8th among A.L. rookies with a .266 average, 7th with 55 runs and 3rd with 6 triples and 15 stolen bases...put 37 bunts in play, which ranked 3rd among all American Leaguers...hit .306 (56-for-186) when leading off an inning...provided strong defense, posting a .995 fielding percentage (one error in 219 total chances) with 5 outfield assists...at the time of his June 10 recall to Cleveland, led the International League with a .360 average, 81 hits and 42 runs scored...continued to lead the league in batting for a month after his promotion...ranked 3rd in the IL with a .434 on-base percentage, tied for 2nd with 19 doubles and 26 extra-base hits and 4th with 20 steals...with the Indians, posted a 13-game hitting streak July 18-31, batting .400 (24-for-60) to cap a strong July during which he hit .351 (40-for-114) with 6 doubles, 6 RBI and 14 runs in 26 games...also hit safely in 11 straight games August 16-28...had a career-high 4 hits and 4 runs scored August 27 vs. Detroit, the only Indian to score 4 runs in a game in 2003...hit his first 2 career first-inning lead-off homers August 6 vs. Seattle and August 18 vs. Tampa Bay...made 51 starts in center field, 38 starts in left and 7 starts at designated hitter...slowed down toward the end of the season, going just 3-for-39 (.077) in his last 10 games beginning September 17.

HITTING STREAK

14, July 27-August 13, 2004 with CLE

2002: Began the season with St. Louis' Double-A New Haven affiliate and was in the majors with Cleveland by mid-August after being sent to the Indians August 6 as the player to be named in the July 19 trade that dealt lefty Chuck Finley to the Cardinals...spent the first 4 months with New Haven and was batting .301 with 9 homers, 47 RBI and 26 stolen bases at the time of his trade to the Indians...was first assigned to Double-A Akron, where he hit .406 (13-for-32) in 7 games to earn an immediate promotion to the big leagues (when Milton Bradley went on the disabled list following an appendectomy) without ever spending a day in Triple-A...made his major league debut August 15 at Tampa Bay and collected his first hit the next night in Anaheim off John Lackey, going 3-for-5...posted another 3-hit effort the next night in Anaheim...was briefly sent to Triple-A Buffalo on August 30 to play in the International League playoffs but returned to the Indians after 7 games...hit his first major league home run September 11 vs. Toronto off Scott Wiggins...overall with Cleveland, batted .260 with 9 doubles, 2 triples, one homer and 9 RBI in 32 games...combined at the minor league level with New Haven, Akron and Buffalo, batted .306 with 18 doubles, 10 homers and 53 RBI, swiping 31 bases in 41 attempts (75.6 percent success rate)...played for Aguilas in the Dominican Winter League but was limited to 7 games (.333, 8-for-24) due to an injured big right toe.

2001: Earned Cardinals Minor League Player of the Year honors and was a Carolina League All-Star after a stellar season with Single-A Potomac...batted .306 with 23 doubles, 3 triples, 11 homers, 47 RBI, 80 runs scored and 39 stolen bases...led the league with 162 hits, 224 total bases, 139 games played and 530 at-bats...was 2nd in runs scored and stolen bases and 3rd in batting average...appeared in 130 games in left field and 11 games in left field.

2000: Split the season between short-season Single-A New Jersey and Single-A Peoria after beginning the season in extended spring training as he made the conversion to an outfielder...had played exclusively at second base during his first pro campaign in 1999...combined to steal 32 bases in 38 attempts between the stops...appeared in 52 games in the outfield compared to only 4 at second base.

1999: Made his professional debut with Rookie-level Johnson City after being selected by St. Louis in the 7th round and signing with the organization on June 7...appeared in 64 games at second base (committing 24 errors) and ranked 4th in the Appalachian League with 27 stolen bases.

PERSONAL

COVELLI LOYCE (COCO) CRISP...attended Los Angeles' Pierce Junior College following his graduation from Inglewood High School in Los Angeles, where he played third base...has participated in the Major League Lunch Program, and donated his time to a free baseball clinic with Cleveland State University for kids from the RBI Program and Cleveland Baseball Federation, the Western Reserve Heritage Festival and attended the awards ceremony in 2003 for the Larry Doby RBI program...is one of 8 MLB RBI Program alumni to play in the majors...was inducted into the RBI League Hall of Fame February 9, 2006.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Split the year between Boston and Triple-A Pawtucket, enjoying 5 separate stints with the Red Sox...finished 0-1 with a 1.84 ERA in 8 games (one start) for the Red Sox...in 14.2 big league innings, struck out 15, while holding opponents to just a .236 average (13-for-55)...at Pawtucket, went 6-3 with a 3.15 ERA in 23 games, all but one as a starter.

UPS AND DOWNS: Opened the season with 3 starts for the PawSox before being recalled for the first time April 26...was optioned back to Triple-A May 8, but returned July 4-7...was again recalled for 3 days July 27-30 and August 20-23...rejoined the Red Sox for good on September 2.

WITH THE RED SOX: Went 0-1 with a 1.84 ERA in 8 games, all but one in relief...in 14.2 innings, walked 5 and struck out 15...did not allow a run in 6 of his 8 appearances, throwing 7.0 shutout innings his last 4 times out...did not allow a base runner in 4 of his 7 bullpen outings...registered a 0.69 ERA (1 ER/13.0 IP) in 5 games (one start) at Fenway Park...made his first major league start September 2 vs. Baltimore and dropped a 7-3 decision...allowed 4 runs (one earned) on 7 hits in 6.0 innings, walking one and striking out a big league career-high 6...worked a total of 2.0 innings in 2 outings between that start and September 28, when he came out of the bullpen to work 4.0 innings of one-hit shutout relief vs. Toronto...walked 3 and struck out 2.

2005 WITH PAWTUCKET: Pitched in 23 games, making 22 starts, for the PawSox, finishing 6-3 with a 3.15 ERA...fanned 93 and walked only 35 in 108.2 innings, limiting opponents to a .265 (109-for-411) average and 7 home runs...allowed 3 earned runs or less in 20 of his 22 starts, including his last 17 in a row beginning May 19...from May 19 through the end of the PawSox season, went 6-2 with a 2.63 ERA (26 ER/89.0 IP) in 18 games (17 starts)...before allowing 3 runs in 3.0 innings in his final start of the season, had posted a 2.41 ERA (23 ER/86.0 IP) over his last 17 games (16 starts)...walked 2 or fewer in 19 of his 23 games...righthanders batted .256 (75-for-293) with 6 home runs, while lefties hit .288 (34-for-118) with one homer...opponents hit just .200 (9-for-45) with men in scoring position and 2 outs...posted a 4.50 ERA (11 ER/22.0 IP) in the first inning and a 2.80 ERA (27 ER/86.2 IP) thereafter, including a 2.35 ERA (22 ER/84.1 IP) in innings 2-6...fanned a season-best 8 in 5.0 innings May 24 at Norfolk...from June 13-July 31, went 4-0 with a 2.57 ERA (12 ER/42.0 IP) in 8 starts...worked a season-high 7.0 innings August 5 at Syracuse...in his only relief appearance of the season, struck out 5 in 2.0 perfect innings August 24 vs. Ottawa...walked only 3 in his final 27.1 innings of the season over 6 games (5 starts) beginning July 31...walked only one in his final 4 games (3 starts), a span of 17.0 innings.

SUMMARY: In his first career major league action, the Rule 5 draft choice appeared in 22 games for the Red Sox, all in relief, finishing with no record and a 4.23 ERA...opened the year on the 15-day D.L., missing the first 11 games of the season with a left shoulder strain that sidelined him for much of Spring Training...was activated April 19 and posted no record with a 4.23 ERA in 22 games before returning to the D.L. July 9 (retroactive to July 5) with a blister on the middle finger of his left hand...was activated September 16, but did not pitch again.

QUICK START: Posted a 1.59 ERA (2 ER/11.1 IP) in his first 7 big league outings April 23-May 12, including perfect innings in his first 2 appearances April 23 at New York and April 28 vs. Tampa Bay...did not allow a run in his first 4 outings (7.0 IP), holding opponents to an .091 average (2-for-22) with one walk and 3 K's...after recording a 1.59 ERA in his first 7 games, registered a 6.06 ERA (11 ER/16.1 IP) in his next 15 outings before going on the D.L. in July.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: Made his major league debut April 23 at Yankee Stadium, working a 1-2-3 9th with one strikeout to close out an 11-2 Red Sox win...induced Gary Sheffield to bounce to third, fanned Hideki Matsui for his first big league K, then ended the game with a Bernie Williams groundout to third.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Worked a season-high 3.0 innings in game 2 of a May 1 doubleheader at Texas, allowing 2 hits and no runs with one strikeout...in all, worked more than 1.0 inning in 8 of his 22 outings...fanned a season-best 3 on 2 occasions, in 2.1 innings May 20 at Tampa Bay and in 1.0 perfect inning June 20 at San Francisco.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Spent most of his 3rd pro season with the Mets' Single-A St. Lucie affiliate, sandwiched around a mid-season promotion to Double-A Binghamton, where he pitched 7 games from June 6-July 11...combined to go 4-11 despite a 2.52 ERA in 26 appearances (20 starts)...opened the season with St. Lucie and posted a 2.08 ERA in 11 outings (7 starts) through May 31 to earn a promotion to Binghamton...went 1-3 with a 3.60 ERA in 7 starts for the B-Mets and returned to St. Lucie after the All-Star break...went 3-3 with a 1.93 ERA in 8 outings (6 starts) upon his return...was selected by the Red Sox in the Major League Rule 5 Draft at the Winter Meetings in New Orleans on December 15.

TOUGH LUCK: Went 3-8 despite a 2.01 ERA in 19 games (13 starts) for St. Lucie...did not allow an earned run in 6 outings (31.0 IP) April 27-May 24 yet went 0-2 with a save in that span...dropped 1-0 decisions May 8 at Tampa and May 19 at Dunedin...did not earn his first St. Lucie win until his 12th outing July 16 vs. Vero Beach despite entering with a 2.08 ERA...lost 3 straight outings August 1-16 despite allowing 2 runs or less in all 3.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Struck out 93 and walked 14 in 85.0 innings with St. Lucie, an average of 9.8 strikeouts and 1.5 walks per 9.0 innings...limited Single-A opponents to a .211 batting average, including a .194 (42-for-216) mark by righties and a .250 (22-for-88) mark by lefties...combined at both stops to surrender just 4 homers in 125.0 innings, including just one by a lefty, and has allowed just 7 homers in 262.1 career minor league innings...gave up 5 earned runs in 6.0 innings May 31 at Brevard County to raise his ERA to 2.08 from 1.30...without that outing, his season-ending ERA with St. Lucie would drop to 1.59 from 2.01...struck out at least 10 twice, fanning 11 in 5.2 innings August 16 at Sarasota and 10 in 5.0 innings May 2 vs. Daytona.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Went 5-5 with one save and a 4.35 ERA in 24 games (19 starts) with the Mets' Single-A Columbia affiliate...struck out 103 in 101.1 South Atlantic League innings...went 3-0 with one save and a 1.45 ERA through the end of May and 2-5 with a 6.05 ERA the rest of the way...struck out 10 in 6.0 innings July 3 vs. Augusta.

2001: Made his pro debut with New York's short-season Single-A Brooklyn club, going 1-2 with a 2.00 ERA in 9 games (5 starts)...held opponents to a .200 average and no homers, while striking out 40 in 36.0 innings...collected his first pro win August 10 vs. Vermont, allowing one unearned run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings.

CAREER NOTES

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T GO HOME AGAIN?: A veteran of 14 major league seasons, Flaherty returns in 2006 to the organization that originally selected him in the 25th round of the 1988 Draft...made his major league debut with the Red Sox in 1992 and played a total of 48 games through the 1993 campaign before he was traded to the Tigers for catcher Rich Rowland on April 1, 1994, 3 days before Opening Day.

BEHIND THE PLATE: Has caught a total of 1,032 regular season major league games, including 920 starts, throwing out 256 of 963 potential base stealers (26.6 percent)...has made more than 100 starts behind the plate in 4 different seasons, including a career-high 124 games played and 119 starts for the Padres in 1997...however, has not reached the 100-start plateau behind the plate since 2000 with Tampa Bay.

SUMMARY: In his 3rd and final season with the Yankees, served primarily as Randy Johnson's personal catcher...in all, saw action in 47 games and batted .165 with 2 homers and 11 RBI...started 39 games behind the plate, with the Yankees going 26-13 (.666) in those contests.

I'M WITH THE TALL GUY: Started behind the plate in 21 of Randy Johnson's final 22 starts beginning June 11 at St. Louis....Johnson went 12-2 with a 3.29 ERA (50 ER/136.2 IP) in the 21 games started by Flaherty compared to a 5-6 record and 4.55 ERA (45 ER/89.0 IP) in 13 games with Jorge Posada starting behind the plate...overall, Johnson compiled a 3.18 ERA (48 ER/135.2 IP) and .220 opponents batting average with Flaherty behind the plate and a 4.70 ERA (47 ER/90.0 IP) and .277 opponents batting average with Posada as his catcher.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Committed just 2 errors in 312 total chances for a .994 fielding percentage...gunned down 9 of 44 would-be base stealers (20.5 percent).

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Went 6-for-15 (.400) in 4 games from May 2-16...closed the season with 4 RBI in his final 4 games after driving in just 7 runs in his first 43 games of the season...clubbed his first home run August 4 at Cleveland off eventual A.L. ERA leader Kevin Millwood...his 2nd homer came September 16 at Toronto off Dave Bush.

SUMMARY: Spent his 2nd season as Jorge Posada's back-up with the Yankees, batting .252 with 6 home runs and 16 RBI in 47 games...the Yankees went 20-15 (.571) in his 35 starts at catcher...hit .310 (9-for-29) against lefthanders...hit .349 (15-for-43) from the 7th inning on, and went 4-for-13 (.308) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs.

A TALE OF 2 HALVES: Hit .373 (22-for-59) with 6 doubles, 4 homers, 7 RBI and 7 runs in 23 games after the All-Star break after batting only .147 (10-for-68) with 3 doubles, 2 homers, 9 RBI and 4 runs scored in 24 games before the break...hit .400 (10-for-25) in 9 August games and .409 (9-for-22) in 9 September/October contests.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Crushed his 3rd career grand slam and tied his career high with 5 RBI June 10 vs. Colorado...hit a pinch-hit, game-winning walk-off RBI single in the bottom of the 13th inning July 1 vs. Boston...appeared in his 1,000th career game October 2 at Toronto.

2003: In his first season with the Yankees, batted .267 with 4 homers and 14 RBI in 40 games, including 31 starts at catcher...hit .313 (15-for-48) in 15 games on the road, but only .228 (13-for-57) in 25 games at Yankee Stadium...batted .333 (16-for-48) with runners on base...posted a .350 (7-for-20) average in April and identical .304 (7-for-23) marks in June and September...made his first appearance as a Yankee April 6 at Tampa Bay, going 2-for-4 with an RBI and a run scored...crushed 2 solo homers August 16 at Baltimore, his 6th career 2-homer game...became the first Yankee catcher other than Jorge Posada to hit 2 homers in a game since Mike Stanley roped 3 long balls August 10, 1995...compiled a season-high 6-game hitting streak from September 8-26, going 7-for-19 (.368).

2002: Appeared in 76 games for Tampa Bay, finishing the season 2nd on the club's all-time list with 196 RBI, 3rd with 471 games, 1,673 at-bats, 82 doubles and 122 hits, 4th with 118 extra-base hits and tied for 5th with 35 home runs...led the D-Rays with a .333 (16-for-48) average in May...had a season-high 12-game hitting streak from May 11-June 1, batting .348 (16-for-46) with 3 homers and 11 RBI...had a homer and 3 RBI September 11 vs. Boston off Pedro Martinez...joined Jorge Posada as the only 2 players in 2002 to collect 3 RBI in one game off Martinez...his 4 long balls came off Martinez, AL Cy Young Award winner Barry Zito, Freddy Garcia and Joel Pineiro...homered on back-to-back days May 28-29, accomplishing the feat for the 4th time in his career...the homer off Pineiro was his 2nd career grand slam May 28...threw out 20 of 56 (36 percent) would-be base stealers after starting the season 0-for-12.

2001: Saw action in 78 games for the Devil Rays, but did not play after September 2 due to a herniated disc in his neck...drilled a walk-off home run in the 12th inning off LaTroy Hawkins August 12 vs. Minnesota...was the 7th walk-off homer in Devil Rays history, 2nd by Flaherty (also August 13, 2000 vs. the White Sox off Bobby Howry)...his stolen base September 1 vs. Oakland was his first since September 23, 1997 with San Diego at Los Angeles...his triple July 20 vs. Texas was his first since August 28, 1997 with San Diego vs. Anaheim, a span of 1,432 days.

2000: Enjoyed his 2nd consecutive season with at least 10 home runs, the 4th such campaign of his career...tied for 2nd among A.L. catchers with a .993 fielding percentage, committing only 5 errors in 667 total chances...ranked 5th in the league with a 25.5 percent caught-stealing percentage (27 of 106)...started strong out of the gates, batting a team-best .348 (24-for-69) with 11 RBI and 9 runs in 18 April games...drilled a 3-run walk-off home run in the 9th inning August 20 off Chicago's Bobby Howry...the homer came on the 12th pitch of the at-bat.

1999: Set career highs with 14 home runs, 71 RBI and 53 runs scored in 117 games for Tampa Bay, while his .278 batting average was the highest mark of his career in the A.L...for the 2nd straight season, received the Champion Award from the Tampa Bay chapter of the BBWAA, given to the player "who best exemplifies the spirit of true professionalism on and off the field"...threw out 49 of 127 would-be base stealers, the 2nd-best percentage among A.L. regulars behind only Ivan Rodriguez (54 percent)...tied for 3rd in the A.L. with 10 sacrifice flies...had far better success against righties, batting .301 (110-for-366) compared to a .175 (14-for-80) mark against lefties...batted a combined .347 (40-for-115) against the 4 A.L. playoff teams (Boston, New York, Cleveland, Texas)...had a career-high 17 RBI in May...put together a 13-game hitting streak from August 7-27, tied with Dave Martinez for the longest streak of the season by a Devil Ray...both of his 2-homer games came at Texas, May 17 and September 17...had 5 homers total at the Ballpark at Arlington, tied with Carlos Delgado for 2nd-most by a visiting player (Tino Martinez had 6).

1998: In his first season with the Devil Rays, was awarded the Champion Award by the Tampa Bay chapter of the BBWAA...batted .303 (20-for-66) in August, but only .175 the rest of the season...hit .306 during a 12-game hitting streak from August 27-September 14...missed 23 games from May 26-June 19 after fracturing his left thumb May 25 at Oakland...returned June 20 to deliver a bases loaded single in Tampa Bay's 8-5 win over Boston...his double off Detroit's Justin Thompson March 31 was the first 2-bagger in Devil Rays history.

1997: Appeared in a career-high 129 games in his final season with the Padres, batting .273 with 21 doubles, 9 homers, 46 RBI and 38 runs scored...tied for 6th among major league catchers with 119 games started behind the plate...excelled late in the season, batting .320 (56-for-175) after the All-Star break and .370 (17-for-46) in September...batted .404 (19-for-47) in 14 Interleague games, the 4th-best mark in the majors...cracked a pair of home runs May 1 at New York to help the Padres snap an 8-game losing skid.

1996: Split the season between Detroit and San Diego, rattling off a 27-game hitting streak that began 3 days after his June 18 trade to the Padres...the tear, which lasted from June 21-July 27, was the 2nd-longest ever by a big league catcher and the 2nd-longest in Padres history...Benito Santiago compiled a 34-gamer with San Diego in 1987...Flaherty batted .375 (42-for-112) with 7 homers and 24 RBI during the streak...started 65 of the Padres' 85 games following the trade, but was sidelined for the remainder of the regular season after spraining his left ankle during a stolen base attempt September 21 vs. Los Angeles.

1995: Spent his first full season in the majors with the Detroit Tigers, clubbing 11 homers and driving in 40 runs in 112 games...6 of his 11 home runs came in a 9-game stretch from June 11-23...the power surge was bookended by a pair of 2-homer games, June 11 at Minnesota and June 23 vs. Milwaukee...with 104 games started, trailed only OF Bobby Higginson and OF Chad Curtis for the team lead...posted his best monthly average in May, when he hit .339 (21-for-62) in 21 games.

1994: Was acquired by the Tigers from the Red Sox 3 days before Opening Day, and split the season between Triple-A Toledo and Detroit...appeared in 34 games for the Tigers, including 12 starts behind the plate, and did not commit an error in 87 chances.

1993: Was named Triple-A Pawtucket's team MVP after batting .271 with 22 doubles, 6 home runs, 35 RBI and 29 runs scored in 105 games...gunned down 35 of 89 would-be base stealers (45 percent), the 4th-best percentage in the International League...had 2 separate stints in Boston, going 3-for-13 (.120) in 13 games.

1992: Had his contract purchased by Boston April 7 and made his big league debut with a start behind the plate in the first game of a doubleheader April 12 at Cleveland...doubled off Charles Nagy in his first major league at-bat...on July 27 was sent down to Pawtucket, where he hit .250 in 31 games before being recalled by Boston September 13...hit .267 in 7 games in his 2nd stint in Boston.

1991: Split the season between Double-A New Britain and Triple-A Pawtucket...hit .333 (14-for-42) in May to earn a May 15 promotion to Pawtucket, where he hit .186 in 45 games...returned to New Britain for the remainder of the season on July 20.

1990: Played almost exclusively at Triple-A Pawtucket, batting .227 with 4 homers and 32 RBI in 99 games...appeared in one game at third base May 30 at Rochester.

1989: Was named to the Florida State League All-Star team in his 2nd pro season after batting .260 in 95 games for Winter Haven.

CAREER NOTES

MILESTONES TO GO BEFORE I

SLEEP: Enters the 2006 season needing 10 saves for 200 in his major league career...into 2006, 36 pitchers (12 of whom were active at the end of 2005) had reached 200 saves all-time...Keith's first save of 2006 will be his 48th as a Red Sox, tying him with Heathcliff Slocumb and Mike Fornieles for 10th on the club's all-time list...with 23 saves in 2006, Keith would crack the top 6 in Red Sox history.

30-30 VISION?:

Foulke's 32 saves in 2004, his first season with the Red Sox, were 7th-most in a single season in club history...the Sox record is 46, set by Tom Gordon in 1998...with 30 saves in 2006, Foulke would become the first Red Sox pitcher ever with multiple 30-save campaigns.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES: Foulke has converted 190 of 225 career save opportunities--an 84.4 percent success rate, 8th-best among active major league closers...in the American League, only New York's Mariano Rivera (87.9) and Detroit's Troy Percival (85.9) have better lifetime save percentages.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Before his injury-plagued 2005 campaign, Keith had recorded an ERA of 2.97 or lower and has made at least 65 appearances in 6 straight seasons from 1999-2004...he has at least 32 saves in 4 of the last 6 years, including a pair of 40-save campaigns...saved 42 for the 2001 White Sox and 43 for the 2003 A's.

TOUGH TO HIT: Has limited opponents to a .219 (572-for-2,612) average and 78 home runs lifetime...before 2005, had not allowed a better-than-.225 average in his first 7 full seasons, keeping opponents below .200 in 1999, 2001 and 2003...they hit just .206 in 2004...righthanders have hit .212 (277-for-1,305) with 39 homers all-time...lefties have hit .226 (295-for-1,307) with 39 homers...in 536 career relief outings, Foulke has allowed a .212 (522-for-2,458) mark...overall, opponents have hit .211 (332-for-1,570) with the bases empty, .230 (240-for-1,042) with men on, .231 (143-for-618) with men in scoring position, .217 (414-for-1,912) in his first inning, .213 (502-for-2,352) from the 7th inning on and .215 (305-for-1,421) in close-and-late situations...first batters faced have hit .210 (106-for-504).

COME EARLY, STAY LATE: Foulke has excelled both early and late in the season...into 2006, he is 5-6 with 28 saves in 32 chances and a 2.33 ERA (28 ER/108.1 IP) in 87 March/April outings and 7-2 with 34 saves in 39 chances and a 1.92 ERA (21 ER/98.1 IP) in 78 September/October regular season outings...is 16-11 with 91 saves in 105 chances and a 2.43 ERA (79 ER/292.1 IP) in 229 career outings after the All-Star break.

STAY RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE: Over the last 4 seasons, Foulke has stranded 59 of 74 inherited runners, allowing only 20 percent of inherited runners to score...in his career, into 2006, Foulke has allowed only 22.6 percent of all inherited runners to score (44 of 198).

SUMMARY: Endured an injury-plagued campaign, pitching through problems with both knees for much of the year before undergoing an arthroscopic procedure on his left knee on July 7...was on the 15-day D.L. from July 5-September 1, missing 50 games...returned to appear in 6 September contests, not pitching after September 18...is scheduled to undergo arthroscopic surgery on his right knee following the regular season...finished 5-5 with 15 saves in 19 chances and a 5.91 ERA in 43 games...retired 30 of 43 first batters faced (70 percent) and stranded 9 of 13 inherited runners (69 percent).

BEFORE AND AFTER: Went 5-5 with 15 saves in 19 chances and a 6.23 ERA in 37 games before the procedure on his left knee...in 35.2 innings, gave up 27 earned runs on 46 hits with 15 walks and 29 strikeouts...made 3 rehab appearances for Single-A Lowell...then, in 7 September appearances after being activated from the D.L., posted no record and a 4.05 ERA...in 6.2 innings, allowed 3 earned runs on 7 hits with 3 walks and 5 K's.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked more than 1.0 inning in 8 of his 43 appearances, including a season-high 2.0 scoreless innings for a win April 14 at New York and again in his final 2005 outing September 18 vs. Oakland...gave up 8 homers in 45.2 innings after surrendering only 8 long balls in 83.0 innings in 2004...allowed at least one run in 14 of his 43 appearances, 2 runs or more in 9...opponents batted .288 (53-for-184) after hitting .206 in 2004 and .214 over his first 8 seasons (1997-2004)...righthanders batted .333 (26-for-78) with 5 homers...lefties hit .255 (27-for-106) with 3 long balls...was 5-for-5 in save chances and posted a 3.72 ERA (4 ER/9.2 IP) when pitching without a day's rest...was 10-for-14 in save opportunities and logged a 6.50 ERA (26 ER/36.0 IP) with one or more day's rest...5 of the 8 homers he allowed came in 2-strike counts.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned his first 2005 win April 14 vs. New York, pitching 2.0 scoreless innings and allowing one hit and 3 walks with 2 K's...threw a season-high 53 pitches...took the loss in his 500th career relief appearance April 19 vs. Toronto...entered with the game tied 3-3 in the 9th inning and allowed an RBI single to Corey Koskie...earned a win and 8 saves in 13 appearances during the month of May...picked up 3 wins in June...fanned a season-high 3 in a scoreless inning June 15 vs. Cincinnati...underwent arthroscopic surgery to treat damaged cartilage in his left knee July 7...the procedure was performed by Red Sox Medical Director Dr. Thomas Gill at Massachusetts General Hospital...in his first outing after being activated from the D.L., allowed one hit in 0.1 scoreless inning September 2 vs. Baltimore...did not allow a run his next 2 appearances either (a total of 2.2 innings against the White Sox and Angels) before being touched for 3 runs in 1.2 innings his next 2 times out September 12-13 at Toronto...threw 2.0 innings of 2-hit shutout ball with one K September 18 vs. Oakland in his final appearance.

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, went 5-3 with 32 saves (5th most in the A.L.) and a 2.17 ERA in 72 appearances...in 83.0 innings, allowed only 63 hits and a .206 average...walked only 15 and fanned 79...the Red Sox went 59-13 in games in which he appeared and even won 5 of the 7 games in which he suffered a blown save (over the last 2 seasons, his clubs are 9-3 when he blows a save)...set down 58 of 72 first batters faced (81 percent), and stranded 13 of 17 inherited runners.

EARNING HIS KEEP: Matched his career high in appearances for the 4th time in the last 5 years, appearing in 72 games for the Red Sox...joined Mike Timlin (76 appearances) and Alan Embree (71) to give the Red Sox their first-ever trio of pitchers with 70 appearances in a season.

STRETCHING IT OUT: Had 7 saves of more than 1.0 inning, 5 of the 4-out variety, a 5-out save and one 2.0 inning save: August 16 vs. Toronto.

GREAT START: Was 1-0 with 10 saves and a 0.36 ERA (1 ER/25.1 IP) in 22 appearances through May 28 before his first blown save May 30, when Seattle's Raul Ibanez hit a 3-run homer to give the Mariners a 7-5 lead at Fenway...the Sox tied it with 2 in the bottom of the inning and won it on David McCarty's walk-off 2-run homer in the 12th.

AT HOME ON THE ROAD: Was 1-0 with 17 saves in 19 chances and a 1.18 ERA (5 ER/38.0 IP) in 33 road appearances and 4-3 with 15 saves in 20 chances and a 3.00 ERA (15 ER/45.0 IP) at Fenway Park.

NICE HANDS: Did not commit an error for the 5th straight season...begins 2005 with a 328-game errorless run dating to his last miscue, July 18, 1999 with the White Sox at Milwaukee.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Pitched at least 1.0 inning in 70 of 72 appearances, including each of his first 60 outings before throwing 0.2 innings September 5 vs. Texas and 0.1 inning September 8 at Oakland...collected his 150th career save May 11 vs. Cleveland, while his 32nd and final save of this season was No. 175 of his career...struck out 3 batters in consecutive outings July 19-20 at Seattle...before July 19 at Seattle, when he suffered a blown save by allowing 2 home runs, had allowed only 2 homers in 40 games (48.0 IP)...had allowed 2 homers in a relief appearance only twice in his career in the regular season, last April 28, 1999 with Chicago vs. Tampa Bay...tossed a season-high 2.0 innings 7 times...recorded a save in 7 straight appearances August 21-September 3, part of a run in which he converted 16 straight save chances July 20-September 17...had at least one punchout in 12 straight outings August 10-September 3 (16 K's)...did not walk a batter over his final 16 appearances starting August 26 (15.2 IP)...made his 500th career appearance September 28 at Tampa Bay.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his only season in Oakland, was named to the A.L. All-Star team for the first time and earned A.L. Fireman of the Year honors after posting a 9-1 record with a league-high 43 saves and a 2.08 ERA in 72 appearances for the A.L. West champions...tied for 7th in A.L. Cy Young Award voting, the only relief pitcher in the league to receive votes...his 9 wins, 2.08 ERA and .184 opponents average were all career bests, while his 72 appearances matched his personal high for the 3rd time in 4 years...finished strong, posting a 2-0 record, 19 saves in 20 chances and a 1.24 ERA (5 ER/36.1 IP) in 30 games after the All-Star break, including a 1.21 ERA (4 ER/29.2 IP) in August and September.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: In addition to leading the league in saves, led the A.L. and tied Eric Gagne of the Dodgers and Billy Wagner of the Astros for the M.L. lead with 67 games finished, tied for the league lead with 9 relief wins, finished 2nd in save percentage (43-for-48, 89.6) and average allowed by a reliever (.184), was 3rd in relief innings pitched (86.2, most by any major league closer) and hits allowed per 9 innings by a reliever (5.92), 4th in relief K's (88), 7th in relief ERA and strikeout-to-walk ratio (4.4-to-1), 8th in walks (2.08) and strikeouts (9.14) per 9 innings by a reliever and ranked 9th in the A.L. in appearances.

OUR SAVIOR: Foulke's career-high 43 saves led the A.L. and ranked 4th in the majors behind Eric Gagne of the Dodgers (55), John Smoltz of the Braves (45) and Billy Wagner of the Astros (44)...converted his last 14 save chances in a row, with his last blown save coming August 14 vs. Boston...earned at least one save against 16 clubs, including every A.L. team...interleague foes Atlanta and Philadelphia are the only clubs he faced (once each) against whom he did not have a save...had 5 saves each against the Angels and Rangers and 4 against the Indians and Devil Rays...worked at least 1.0 full inning in 42 of his 43 saves, all but August 17 vs. Toronto, when he recorded only one out...worked more than an inning in 10 saves, including a 2.0-inning save August 12 vs. Boston...blew 5 saves, but the A's won all but one of the games...the only save Foulke blew that led to an Oakland setback was August 14 vs. Boston, when Manny Ramirez hit a game-tying solo homer to lead off the top of the 9th before the Sox won it 4-2 with 2 in the 10th.

PART OF A WINNING EQUATION: Earned the win (9) or save (43) in 52 of Oakland's 96 victories, 54 percent...the only pitcher in baseball who won or saved a higher percentage of his team's victories was the Dodgers' Eric Gagne (67 percent)...the only other pitchers who won or saved half of their team's wins were Houston's Billy Wagner (52 percent), Tampa Bay's Lance Carter (52 percent) and Baltimore's Jorge Julio (51 percent).

SEEING STARS: Making his first career appearance in an All-Star Game, worked a 1-2-3 9th inning to save the American League's 7-6 win over the National League in the July 15 Mid-Summer Classic at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago...retired Paul LoDuca and Luis Castillo on fly balls to center and Rafael Furcal on a fly ball to right.

ABOVE AVERAGE: Ranked 3rd among A.L. relievers, holding opponents to a .184 (57-for-309) average with 11 doubles, 2 triples and 10 homers...a righthander, he held lefties to a .158 (24-for-152) average with 5 homers...that's the 2nd-lowest average allowed to left-handed batters by any pitcher in the A.L. (minimum 125 batters faced)...Cleveland's David Riske held lefties to a .145 average...righties hit .210 (33-for-157) with 5 homers...first batters faced hit .190 (12-for-63) with 6 walks and 3 hit by pitches...held the opposition to a .138 average with runners on...among A.L. relievers, ranked 2nd to Seattle's Shigetoshi Hasegawa (.134)...opponents hit just .171 (12-for-70) with runners in scoring position (6th-best among A.L. relief pitchers), .098 (4-for-41) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...held opponents to a .249 on-base percentage, tied for 2nd by any A.L. reliever.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked more than 1.0 inning in 21 of 72 appearances...had 4 "tough saves," 2nd to only Mariano Rivera (5) in the A.L...stranded 19 of 23 inherited runners (83 percent)...was 7-0 with 23 saves in 27 chances and a 2.26 ERA in 41 games at home and 2-1 with 20 saves in 21 chances and a 1.80 ERA in 31 games on the road...finished 4-0 with 26 saves in 28 chances and a 1.58 ERA at night and 5-1 with 17 saves in 20 chances and a 2.80 ERA during the day...his highest ERA for any month during the season was 3.07 in June...posted a 2.03 mark in April, a 2.51 in May, a 2.45 in July, a 1.02 in August and a 1.50 in September...in addition to 88 K's, induced 125 fly ball outs and 63 ground ball outs, a 2-to-1 ratio of fly balls to grounders.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Allowed as many as 2 runs in an outing only 4 times...had worked 31.2 consecutive innings without a walk dating to August 1, 2002 before issuing his first free pass of 2003 April 16 at Seattle...worked a season-best 9.0 consecutive scoreless innings May 11-29...dropped his only decision of the season June 28 at San Francisco, when he allowed a bases-loaded single to Pedro Feliz in the bottom of the 10th, lifting the Giants to an 8-7 win...the loss, his first since June 8, 2002 with the White Sox vs. Montreal, snapped a career-best 6-game winning streak...did not lose to an A.L. club in 2003, and begins 2004 with an 11-game winning streak vs. the A.L...his last loss at the hands of an A.L. foe was May 29, 2002 with Chicago vs. New York...retired 17 consecutive batters over a 6-game stretch July 6-21...made his 400th career appearance July 20 at Minnesota...matched his season high with 4 strikeouts August 14 vs. Boston, part of a 23-game run from June 18-August 16 when he fanned at least one batter in every game in which he appeared...earned saves in 4 straight A's games August 16-20.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Went 0-1 with a 3.60 ERA (2 ER/5.0 IP) and a blown save in 3 ALDS appearances against the Red Sox...the blown save and loss came in Game 4 at Fenway Park, when he came on to start the 8th clinging to a 4-3 lead and allowed a 2-run double to David Ortiz as the Sox evened the series at 2-2...tossed 3.0 scoreless innings in Game 1, his longest outing since August 25, 1999 at Tampa Bay (also 3.0 innings).

CAREER NOTES

SLICK IN THE FIELD: Regarded as one of the best defensive shortstops in the game, Alex has made a career-low 16 errors each of the last 3 seasons and owns a .968 career fielding percentage...is one of only 7 shortstops in all of baseball to make 16 errors or less with 100 or more starts at the position in each of the last 3 seasons, joining Cesar Izturis, David Eckstein, Cristian Guzman, Derek Jeter, Royce Clayton and Jimmy Rollins.

AN ALL-STAR AT FENWAY: Alex was selected to the National League All-Star team in 1999 and received one at-bat as a defensive replacement at shortstop at the game played at Fenway...just the 2nd rookie shortstop to be named to the N.L. All-Star team, Alex led all rookies in hits (155), runs (81) and triples (8)...he was the only unanimous selection to the 1999 Topps All-Star Rookie Team and finished 5th in BBWAA Rookie of the Year voting...was named the "Novato Latino Mas Destacado" (Most Valuable Latin Rookie) at the Latin Sports Awards.

BEEN THERE, DONE THAT: As he does in 2006, Alex also began the 1999 season filling the shoes of Edgar Renteria, who was traded to the Cardinals during the previous offseason...ironically, Renteria was traded by the Red Sox to the Braves this past offseason, and Gonzalez signed with the Red Sox nearly 2 months later.

A CAREER YEAR: Set career highs with 23 homers, 79 RBI, 67 runs scored and 159 games played for the Marlins in 2004...led all N.L. shortstops in homers and RBI, also setting Marlins single-season records for shortstops...his .264 average in 2005 was his highest since posting a .274 average with the Marlins in his All-Star season of 1999.

SUMMARY: In his final season in Florida, hit .264 with 5 homers and 45 RBI in 130 games...reached 30 doubles for the 3rd season in a row and the 4th time in 5 years...had the 2nd highest batting average of his career (he batted a career-best .277 in 1999), but his 5 home runs were 18 fewer, and his 45 RBI were 34 fewer, than his 2004 totals (albeit in 29 fewer games)...set a career-best with a .319 on-base percentage...made 124 starts at shortstop and committed only 16 errors en route to a .974 fielding percentage.

HE WENT STREAKING: Recorded a career-best and team season-high 17-game hitting streak June 9-27, tied for the 5th-longest in the N.L. in 2005...batted .302 (19-for-63) with a homer and 5 RBI during the tear...only Jimmy Rollins (36 games), Cliff Floyd (20), Jose Reyes (20) and Derrek Lee (18) had longer runs in the N.L...Alex also recorded a pair of 11-game streaks, May 14-26 (.472, 17-for-36) and June 29-July 9 (.326, 14-for-43).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .300 in 2 of his 5 full months: May (.300) and July (.300), and went 3-for-9 (.333) in limited September action due to a bone bruise on his right elbow suffered September 5 that limited him to just 5 appearances as a pinch runner...the right-handed hitter batted .277 (96-for-347) vs. righthanders but just .216 (19-for-88) vs. lefties...batted .320 (16-for-50) in 14 interleague games...went 4-for-10 (.400) with the bases loaded...batted .357 (25-for-70) when putting the first pitch in play.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Had a season-high 3 hits on 6 occasions, most recently August 10 vs. Arizona, when he went 3-for-3 with a pair of doubles and 3 RBI...recorded 6 RBI in a 3-game span from August 8-10...recorded 2 doubles in a game May 16 at Los Angeles and August 21 vs. Los Angeles.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Established career highs and broke his own Marlins single-season records for home runs and RBI by a shortstop, batting .232 with 23 homers and 79 RBI in a career-best 159 games...led all National League shortstops in homers and RBI, and tied for 3rd with Derek Jeter among major league shortstops in homers and ranked 4th among major league shortstops in RBI...became the first Marlins middle infielder in club history to reach 20 homers...coupled with his 18 homers in 2003, his combined 41 homers from 2003-04 are one more than the 40 homers he has hit in his other 6 seasons combined into 2006...saw action in 1,351.2 of Florida's 1,439.0 innings, 93.9 percent...posted a .976 fielding percentage at shortstop, committing only 16 errors in 666 total chances...began his season slowly, batting .198 (26-for-131) in his first 39 contests, but then upped his average to a season-high .253 during the next 26 games by batting .330 (31-for-94) from May 21-June 19...during that 26-game stretch, had 5 homers and 17 RBI after hitting 3 homers with 9 RBI in his first 39 games...hit 7 home runs with 21 RBI in July, setting a new career best for homers in a calendar month...set his career high with his 19th homer September 7 vs. New York, a 5th-inning blast off Tom Glavine...established a new career high with RBIs No. 78 and 79 September 29 at Montreal...recorded a pair of season-high 6-game hitting streaks: May 29-June 4 (.375, 9-for-24) and August 10-15 (.455, 10-for-22)...hit his first career grand slam July 29 off Philadelphia's Paul Abbott, matching his career high with 5 RBI for the 3rd time in the process...homered in back-to-back games twice: July 9-10 vs. the Mets and September 23-24 vs. Philadelphia and at Atlanta, when he slugged 3 homers thanks to his 4th-career 2-homer game (off Atlanta's Russ Ortiz and Juan Cruz).

2003: Posted strong offensive and defensive numbers in helping the Marlins to the World Championship...batted .256 with 18 homers and 77 RBI in 150 games, setting career highs in homers, RBI and games (all totals were surpassed in 2004)...also set career highs with 33 walks and a .443 slugging percentage...ranked 5th among National League shortstops with a .976 fielding percentage, committing only 16 errors in a career-high 685 total chances (including only 2 errors in his final 53 games)...ranked 2nd among league shortstops in home runs and 3rd in RBI...posted his 3rd-career 2-homer game April 4 at Atlanta, the middle game of a 3-game stretch during which he hit 4 homers...batted .352 (32-for-91) in 24 games in April, the 8th-best average in the league for the month...added a .310 batting average in May (27-for-87), the first time he posted consecutive .300-plus batting months in his career to take a .324 mark into June...hit in 19 of 22 games from May 14-June 7, batting .371 (29-for-78) in that span...pushed his batting average as high as .340 as of June 8, 4th in the NL at that time...in fact, had his batting average at .300 or better through July 2 before batting just .203 (49-for-241) in 72 games the rest of the way to lower his season-ending average to .256...hit in a season-high 10-straight games from May 28-June 7, the 3rd double-digit hitting streak of his big league career...batted .419 (13-for-31) with a homer and 10 RBI during the tear...his 12 of his 18 homers in his first 66 games (March 31-June 19) before going homerless in his next 34 games...overall, hit only 6 homers in his last 84 games...endured a season-high 0-for-23 slide from August 26-September 2...ended his regular season on a stronger note, hitting safely in 9 of his last 11 games entering the postseason...batted .161 with 4 doubles, one home run and 6 RBI as the club's starting shortstop in all 17 post-season games, but slugged one of the biggest home runs in World Series history...began the playoffs with an .087 average (4-for-46) in his first 13 games before hitting safely in each of his final 4 games at a .375 clip (6-for-16)...in the World Series, hit a walk-off homer off New York's Jeff Weaver in the 12th inning of Game 4, the first walk-off homer in Marlins post-season history and the 13th in World Series annals...became the 3rd player in baseball history to have his first career post-season homer come as a World Series walk-off, joining Dusty Rhodes (of the 1954 New York Giants vs. Cleveland) and Eddie Matthews (of the 1957 Milwaukee Braves vs. the New York Yankees)...he became the 3rd player to hit a walk-off home run against the Yankees in World Series play, joining Matthews and Bill Mazeroski, who connected for his famous Game 7 homer for the Pirates in 1960.

2002: Was limited to only 42 games with the Marlins before his season ended May 18 at San Francisco due to a dislocated left shoulder...suffered the injury in the 3rd inning at Pac Bell Park, diving for a ball hit in the hole by Barry Bonds...batted .225 with 7 doubles, 2 homers and 18 RBI in the 42 games...hit .290 in his first 19 games through April 23 before slipping to a .171 mark during his next (and final) 23 games...at the time of his injury, ranked among team leaders with 10 multi-hit games, behind Mike Lowell (16), Preston Wilson, Cliff Floyd and Luis Castillo (12 apiece)...collected an RBI in a career-high 6-straight games April 21-26 (7 RBI total)...committed 3 errors in 188 total chances for a .983 fielding percentage, 4th among league shortstops at the time of his injury...played 5 rehab games in the Gulf Coast League Marlins, collecting 2 hits in 12 at-bats, before being shut down for the rest of the year due to the shoulder injury following his game on July 16...underwent surgery July 23 with Dr. James Andrews in Birmingham, AL to repair the shoulder and partially torn labrum.

2001: Batted .250 with 9 homers, a career-high 36 doubles, one triple and 48 RBI in 145 games for the Marlins...season was filled with peaks and valleys, as he batted .307 in April, .207 in May, .232 in June and .325 in July, at the time the best average in a calendar month in his career, before hitting just .223 over his final 46 games of the season...led all major league shortstops with 26 errors, one shy of his own club record in 1999...matched his then-career high with a 13-game hitting streak July 6-21, batting .358 (19-for-53) with 3 homers and 12 RBI...hit 3 homers in 2 days for the first time in his career July 13-14, turning the trick in a span of 5 at-bats...on July 13, hit a 2-run homer off New York's Ted Lilly and a solo shot off Ramiro Mendoza, his 2nd-career multi-homer game...homered off Roger Clemens that next day...collected a season high 3 RBI June 10 at Toronto and July 13 vs. New York...matched his career high with 4 hits September 17 at Montreal, his 3rd-career 4-hit game.

2000: Batted only .200 with 7 homers and 42 RBI in an injury-shortened 109-game campaign...missed 31 games due to a grade 2 sprain of the medial collateral ligament in his left knee from July 28-September 1...bookended that stay on the disabled list by compiling a then-career-best 13-game hitting streak from July 21-September 8...hit safely in 6-straight games from July 21-27, when he injured the knee, and then returned to hit safely in his first 7 games upon activation from the disabled list...batted .333 (17-for-51) during the streak...prior to the injury, posted his first-career 2-homer game June 20 vs. Milwaukee...collected a career-high 5 RBI with 3 extra-base hits June 14 at Philadelphia, going 3-for-5 with 2 doubles and a triple...hit safely in 14 of 16 games in July and had a season-high .317 batting average (19-for-60) in the month.

1999: Became the 2nd rookie shortstop ever named to the National League All-Star team as he led rookies in hits (155), runs (81), multi-hit games (46) and triples (8)...ranked 2nd in total bases (241), extra-base hits (50) and slugging percentage (.430) and tied for 3rd with 14 homers and 28 doubles...was the only unanimous selection to the Topps All-Rookie team and finished 5th in voting by the baseball writers for the Rookie of the Year award and was named the "Novato Latino Mas Destacado" (Most Valuable Latin Rookie) at the Premios Latinos Deportivos (Latin Sports Award) in Miami in November...was also named to Baseball Digest's All-Rookie team...batted .383 (23-for-60) from April 14-May to raise his batting average from .147 to .301...reached base safely in 11 straight contests from April 19-30, posting a .430 on-base percentage...had a career high 4 hits

HITTING STREAK

17, June 9-27, 2005 with FLA

April 29 vs. Chicago, later matched June 26 at Montreal...hit safely in 14 of 15 games from May 18-June 2 (23-for-68, .338) a stretch that included a pair of season-high 7-game hitting streaks...went 0-for-1 at the All-Star Game at Fenway Park on July 13...hit safely in 9 of 10 games from September 6-21, batting .378 (17-for-45), and delivered 4 multi-hit games in a row from September 17-20...suffered a hairline fracture of his left forearm November 7 when he was hit by a pitch in a Winter League game in Caracas, VZ...was in a cast until December 6 and wore a removable splint for another 2 weeks.

1998: Spent most of the season with Triple-A Charlotte before earning his first call-up to majors August 25...made his major league debut with the Marlins that night at St. Louis, making the start at shortstop...his first game featured his first major league homer (also his first major league hit), an 8th-inning blast off Donovan Osborne in his 4th big-league at-bat...had 3 hits and 3 RBI in his 4th game August 28 at Cincinnati...on September 26 in Game 2 of a doubleheader vs. Philadelphia, connected for Florida's only walk-off homer of the season when he broke a scoreless game with a one-out, solo shot in the bottom of the 13th inning...overall, batted .151 with 3 homers and 7 RBI in 25 games with the Marlins...with Charlotte, hit .277 with 20 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers in 108 games and was named the top major league prospect in the International League by Baseball America in a vote by league managers at the end of the season...was the International League's Player of the Week from June 8-14 after hitting .531 (17-for-32) with 2 homers, 7 RBI and an .813 slugging percentage...highlighted his week by hitting for the cycle June 13 vs. Columbus.

1997: Was an Eastern League post-season All-Star after batting .254 with 16 doubles, 19 homers and 65 RBI in helping Portland to the Eastern League Championship Series...started the season at Double-A, making the jump after only 21 games on the Single-A level...selected by league managers in Baseball America's Tools of the Trade as the Best Defensive Shortstop in the Eastern League...named the No. 4 prospect in the Eastern League by Baseball America following a vote of league managers...smashed 3 homes with 6 RBI May 24 vs. New Britain...at the time, the 3 homers were more than he totaled in his previous 2 minor league seasons combined.

1996: Split the season between the Gulf Coast Marlins, Single-A Kane County and Double-A Portland...began on the D.L. with a left shoulder subluxation and missed more than 3 months after undergoing surgery...made a rehab appearance with the Gulf Coast club, batting .390 (16-for-41) before his August 17 activation to Kane County...was soon promoted to Portland but ended the season on the D.L. with a strained right thumb.

1995: In his first minor league season in the United States, finished 10th in the Gulf Coast League with a .294 batting average...hit his only 2 homers of the 1995 and 1996 campaigns in the same game, slugging a pair of homers with 5 RBI August 12 vs. the Mets...was promoted to Single-A Brevard County to conclude his campaign.

1994: Spent his first professional season with the Dominican Summer League Marlins, batting .238 with 9 doubles, 5 triples, 4 homers and 39 RBI in 66 games.

PERSONAL

ALEXANDER (ALEX) GONZALEZ...Alex and his wife Johanna are the parents of Alexander, Jr. (6/30/99) and Jhoander (10/16/01)...a native of Cagua, VZ, Alex helped lead Venezuela to the 2006 Caribbean Series Championship, its first since 1989, by scoring the winning run in the bottom of the 9th inning in the decisive game vs. the Dominican Republic on February 7...earlier in the series, Alex slugged a game-winning, walk-off 2-run homer to lead Venezuela to an 11-9 win vs. the Dominican Republic.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started all 3 games of the ALDS vs. Chicago at second base, going 3-for-12 (.250) with a pair of doubles.

2004: Was limited to only 75 games in his first season with the Royals, missing the final 60 contests after tearing his posterior cruciate ligament in his left knee in early August...still managed to steal a career-high 10 bases, while batting .263 with 11 doubles, 3 homers, 26 RBI and 37 runs scored...had surgery to repair his right rotator cuff and did not play again after being placed on the 15-day D.L. August 3...also spent time on the D.L. from May 1-27 with a left knee meniscus tear...was batting .333 (26-for-78) through 21 games prior to his first D.L. stint...came back after missing 22 games to deliver a game-winning infield single in Kansas City's 2-1 win over Minnesota May 28...however, batted just .235 (47-for-200) over his final 54 games after being reinstated...recorded an RBI in 5 straight games from June 26-30, the longest such stretch of his career...posted a season-high 10-game hitting streak from April 17-29, batting .435 (20-for-46)...batted .344 (11-for-32) in close-and-late situations, .323 (10-for-31) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs and .321 (26-for-81) from the 7th inning on.

2003: In his 4th and final year with the White Sox, drilled 15 doubles and scored 51 runs in 90 games...hit .303 (50-for-165) against lefties, but only .176 (15-for-85) against righties...batted in the leadoff spot 37 times, with Chicago going 22-15 in those contests...hit .274 (40-for-146) in the leadoff spot and .333 (15-for-45) in 14 games in the number 2 slot in the order...had his best month in July, batting .354 (17-for-48) in 19 games...clubbed his 2nd career pinch-hit homer July 19 vs. Detroit, a 3-run shot off Nate Cornejo...reached base safely 6 times May 7 at Oakland, going 2-for-2 with a double, 2 runs scored, a stolen base and a career-high 4 walks.

2002: Appeared in 70 games for the White Sox before having his season cut short due to injury...tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee August 25 vs. Tampa Bay and underwent surgery September 9...hit .285 (45-for-158) in 48 games before the All-Star break, but only .211 (15-for-71) in 22 games after the break...went 4-for-4 with 2 homers and 6 RBI May 7 at Oakland...the 2 homers and 6 RBI were both career highs and the 4 hits matched his career best.

2001: Batted .303 (44-for-145) in 74 games for the White Sox, collecting 9 doubles, 2 homers and 15 RBI...would have led the club in batting average and on-base percentage (.370), but did not have the necessary plate appearances to qualify...got hot as the season progressed, batting .361 (22-for-61) after the All-Star break after a .262 (22-for-84) first half...hit .368 (25-for-68) in 39 games on the road and .247 (19-for-77) in 35 home games...had his best month in August, batting .452 (14-for-31) in 12 games...that month featured an 8-game hitting streak...drove in the game-winning run in back-to-back games September 21-22 vs. Kansas City...made his first career appearance in the outfield (as a leftfielder) June 3 vs. Detroit.

2000: Split the season between the Devil Rays and White Sox organizations, batting a combined .274 with 2 homers and 17 RBI in 70 big league games...began the season with Tampa Bay before being traded to Chicago May 31 for RHP Tanyon Sturtze...went on to make 19 starts at shortstop, 12 starts at second base and 4 starts at third base for the ChiSox...clubbed his first career grand slam August 9 vs. Seattle.

1999: Hit .315 in 39 games for the Devil Rays after being released by the Braves April 2...signed a minor league contract with Tampa Bay April 9 and began the campaign with Triple-A Durham before his contract was purchased by the Devil Rays July 30...homered in his first game with the D-Rays, August 1 at Oakland...closed the season with a 10-game hitting streak from September 19-October 2, batting .447 (17-for-38) with 7 RBI and 11 runs scored.

1998: Played in 105 games for the Braves in his 2nd full major league season, batting .211 with 14 doubles, 5 homers, 22 RBI and 32 runs scored...the 105 games would be his most until the 2005 campaign, when he took the field in 110 contests...hit .346 (9-for-26) in May and .354 (17-for-48) in July...went 4-for-4 with a homer, 2 RBI and 3 runs scored July 19 vs. Milwaukee...appeared in one Division Series game vs. Chicago and 4 NLCS games vs. San Diego, going a combined 1-for-3 with a double, RBI and 2 runs.

1997: In his first full major league season, became Atlanta's everyday second baseman after Mark Lemke suffered a torn ligament in his ankle August 20...started 46 games for the Braves, batting .250 with 7 homers and 18 RBI in those contests...homered in back-to-back starts June 22 at Philadelphia and June 26 vs. Philadelphia...also turned the trick August 26-27 vs. Houston...saw action in 6 post-season games, going 2-for-11.

1996: Made his big league debut with 3 separate stints in Atlanta, the first of which began April 19 when Mike Mordecai went on the D.L....was hit by San Diego's Joey Hamilton in his first major league plate appearance April 19 and then singled off Hamilton his next time up for his first big league hit...was optioned to Triple-A Richmond May 4, but spent time in Atlanta from May 24-June 12 and September 3 through the end of the season.

1995: Batted .190 in 50 games for Richmond, his first season at the Triple-A level...collected 6 doubles, 4 homers, 17 RBI and 20 runs scored.

1994: Tied for 6th in the Southern League with a .300 average for Double-A Greenville...went 2-for-2 in the SAL All-Star Game and 5-for-17 (.294) in the playoffs.

1993: Was named Single-A Durham's Player of the Year after leading the club in 9 offensive categories, including home runs (15) and RBI (69)...was selected to the Carolina League All-Star team, and led all league second basemen with a .968 fielding percentage.

1992: Drilled 10 home runs for Single-A Macon, batting .240 with 15 doubles, 31 RBI and 50 runs scored in 112 games...also stole 9 bases in 15 attempts.

1991: Was named the Idaho Falls Player of the Year after ranking 4th in the Pioneer League with 95 hits and 5th with 131 total bases, while batting .347 in 66 games...earned a spot on the league's post-season All-Star team.

1990: Began his professional career with Pulaski after being selected by the Braves in the 9th round of the First-Year Player draft.

CAREER NOTES

ON THE FAST TRACK: Less than 5 months removed from the campus of St. John's University, made his major league debut for the Red Sox in 2005, in the process becoming the first player in Red Sox history to reach the majors the year he was drafted...became the 3rd member of the 2005 draft class to reach the big leagues, following Braves righthander Joey Devine and Nationals third baseman Ryan Zimmerman.

SUMMARY: Boston's 2nd pick in the first round (26th overall) in the 2005 draft, Hansen signed a major league contract and reached the big leagues in his first pro season...made 2 appearances for the Rookie-level Gulf Coast Red Sox before pitching 10 times in the regular season and 3 times in the Eastern League playoffs for Double-A Portland...including his post-season outings, did not allow a run in the 15 minor league games (15.2 IP)...was recalled by Boston September 19 and recorded no record and a 6.00 ERA in 4 relief games, allowing 2 runs on 6 hits and a walk in 3.0 innings...fanned 3.

ON THE FAST TRACK: The first player in Red Sox history to reach the majors the year he was drafted, he became the 3rd member of the 2005 draft class to reach the big leagues, following Braves righthander Joey Devine and Nationals third baseman Ryan Zimmerman.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: Made his major league debut the night of his September 19 recall...entered the game at Tampa Bay in the bottom of the 5th, with the Red Sox trailing 5-4...worked a 1-2-3 inning, striking out Toby Hall, the first batter he faced in the majors...induced Damon Hollins to pop to shortstop before striking out Julio Lugo...in his 2nd outing, September 24 at Baltimore, allowed 4 hits, including a Melvin Mora 2-run homer in 0.2 innings...rebounded to not allow a run in 1.1 innings over his final 2 outings.

2005 IN THE MINORS: Held opponents to a .229 average (11-for-48) with one walk and 14 K's in 12.2 shutout regular season innings in the minors...made his professional debut August 4 for the Gulf Coast Red Sox and earned a win against the Reds with a perfect inning that featured 2 K's...after allowing 2 hits and fanning 2 in a 2.0-inning start 4 days later, was promoted to Portland...with the North Division champion Sea Dogs, allowed 9 hits and no runs with a walk and 10 punchouts in 9.2 innings over 8 regular season relief appearances before hurling 3.0 scoreless innings over 3 appearances in the postseason...picked up his first professional save in his August 11 Double-A debut vs. Norwich...allowed one hit and struck out one in 1.0 inning...worked more than an inning in 3 of his 8 Portland outings, including a 2.0-inning stint in game 2 of an August 16 doubleheader vs. Binghamton...after blanking New Hampshire for 1.1 innings August 26, was shut down with mild arm fatigue...did not pitch again until September 11, when he made the first of 3 scoreless post-season appearances...threw 2.0 innings over 2 appearances in the North Division playoffs against Trenton and 1.0 inning in Game 3 of the Eastern League Championship Series at Akron prior to his recall by the Red Sox.

PERSONAL

CRAIG ROBERT HANSEN...pitched 3 seasons at St. John's University...was named the 2005 Big East Pitcher of the Year after going 3-2 with a school-record 14 saves and a 1.68 ERA in 31 appearances (all but one in relief) for the Red Storm... was honored as a First-Team All-Big East selection and Third-Team Louisville Slugger All-American...as a sophomore in 2004, led the Big East with a team-best 31 appearances and ranked 2nd in the conference with 10 saves...did not allow an earned run in 69.0 innings in his senior campaign at Glen Cove High School, going 8-0 with 3 saves to earn conference MVP honors...was an All-County selection as a junior and senior...also played 4 years of basketball in high school, earning All-Conference distinction as a junior and senior.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: After 11 seasons in American pro ball, signed to play for the Yokohama Bay Stars of Japan's Central League on January 18 and went 0-1 with a 4.38 ERA in 44 relief appearances...struck out 22 in 24.2 innings, an average of 8.0 strikeouts per 9 innings.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Signed a minor league contract with the Tampa Bay Devil Rays January 13 and began the season with the Triple-A Durham Bulls, going 1-2 with a 3.80 ERA in 17 games before having his season cut short due to bone spurs in his left elbow, which required surgery...did not pitch again after being placed on the D.L. June 11...struck out 27 batters in 23.2 innings and limited opposing hitters to a .198 batting average...allowed just 2 runs in his first 11 games of the season (14.2 IP), including an 8.1-inning scoreless streak spanning 7 outings from April 21-May 14.

2003: Spent the season with Triple-A Nashville after signing a minor league contract with the Pirates January 24...ranked 3rd on the team with 45 appearances to help lead the Sound to their first playoff appearance since 1994...did not allow a run in 33 of his 45 outings, with 14 of his 24 earned runs coming in 4 appearances...logged a 2.27 ERA (10 ER/39.2 IP) in his other 41 games...enjoyed success at the start and end of the season, allowing just 2 runs in his first 9 games (7.0 IP) and 2 runs in his final 9 games (11.2 IP) of the year...was on the D.L. from June 26-July 27 with bone chips in his left elbow.

2002: Spent the majority of the season in the Padres organization after being designated for assignment by the Oakland Athletics May 25 and subsequently released June 3...signed a minor league contract with the Padres June 15 and reported to Triple-A Portland...after 7 Triple-A appearances, earned a July 1 promotion San Diego, where he stayed for the remainder of the season...did not allow an earned run in his first 8 games with the Padres (4.2 IP)...also did not surrender an earned run in 11 consecutive appearances from August 6-September 1 (6.1 IP)...earned his first National League win with 0.2 scoreless innings July 12 vs. St. Louis.

2001: In his 8th season in the Angels organization, including his 4th consecutive season on the Opening Day roster, tied with Al Levine for the team lead with 63 relief appearances...with 38 strikeouts in 37.0 innings, averaged 9.24 K's per 9 innings...worked less than 1.0 inning in 42 of his 63 appearances...stranded 37 of his 50 inherited runners and retired 39 of 63 first batters faced...made his 300th career appearance October 5 vs. Oakland...notched his lone win of the season with a scoreless 10th inning September 6 vs. Kansas City...was placed on the D.L. May 17 (retroactive to May 11) with an inflamed left elbow...made 2 rehab appearances with Single-A Rancho Cucamonga and was activated from the D.L. May 30.

2000: Made 61 appearances for the Angels following 6 outings at Triple-A Edmonton to begin the season...led Angels relievers by stranding 49 of his 59 inherited runners (83 percent)...matched his career high with 40 strikeouts, averaging just under one strikeout per inning pitched (40 K's in 41.0 IP)...posted a 9.1-inning scoreless streak spanning 13 outings from June 29-July 24...made his 200th career appearance June 29 at Seattle.

1999: Split the season between Anaheim and Triple-A Edmonton, making 3 separate stints with the big league club...enjoyed far better success in the minors, going 2-1 with a 2.30 ERA in 20 games compared to a 2-3 record and 8.06 ERA in 28 games at the major league level...limited Triple-A foes to a .202 batting average...made 10 appearances with Anaheim to begin the season before being optioned to Edmonton May 8...was recalled June 27 and made 2 appearances for the Angels before being sent back to Edmonton July 6...recalled again July 23 and went on to appear in 16 games for the Angels over the rest of the season.

1998: In his 2nd big league season with the Angels, struck out 29 and did not allow a home run in 30.1 innings of work...after pitching in 42 games for the Angels, was optioned on August 3 to Triple-A Vancouver, where he recorded 2 saves and a 1.74 ERA in 10 games before being recalled by the Angels September 1...allowed just one run in his 11 September contests (5.0 IP) to close out the season...allowed just one earned run in his final 24 big league games (11.1 IP)...notched the win in his 100th career appearance April 6 vs. Boston...served a 2-game suspension June 18-19 stemming from his ejection June 2 at Kansas City in which he hit Jose Offerman with a pitch.

1997: Led the Angels with 66 appearances in his first full big league campaign...allowed only 12 of his 56 inherited runners to score (21.4 percent), the 4th-best percentage in the A.L...registered his first career save May 14 vs. Baltimore...was not scored upon in 13 straight appearances from April 17-May 17 (6.2 IP).

1995: Pitching for Single-A Lake Elsinore, led California League pitchers with 56 appearances and ranked 4th among relievers with 11.0 strikeouts per 9.0 innings (101 K's in 82.2 innings)...following the conclusion of the minor league season, participated in the Hawaiian Winter League and the Arizona Fall League.

1994: Made his professional debut with Single-A Boise, allowing just 2 earned runs in 35.0 innings for an ERA of 0.51...with 59 strikeouts in 35.0 innings, ranked 2nd among Northwest League relievers with 15.2 strikeouts per 9.0 innings...also tied for 4th in the league with 11 saves while limiting the opposition to a .171 batting average.

RED SOX

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

HE'S WELL TRAVELED: The Red Sox are Huckaby's 8th organization in his 16-year professional career, plus he's had 2 tours with the Rangers and Blue Jays...since the start of 2001 alone, Huckaby has played for the Diamondbacks (2001), the Blue Jays (2002-03), the Rangers (2004), the Orioles (2004), the Blue Jays again (2005) and now the Red Sox.

ONE MINOR MATTER I'D LIKE TO BRING TO YOUR ATTENTION: Has appeared in 1,075 minor league games with 11 clubs over 15 seasons from 1991-2005, batting .275 with 31 homers and 433 RBI...played 6 consecutive full seasons in Triple-A from 1995-2000 before making his major league debut at the end of the 2001 season with Arizona following stints at Double-A El Paso and Triple-A Tucson...made his big league debut October 6 at Milwaukee after 929 minor league games, striking out against Mike DeJean in the 8th after coming in as a defensive replacement in the 6th...has played for 6 different major league clubs.

STOP, THEIF!: Has thrown out 31.6 percent of potential base stealers over all or part of 6 major league seasons beginning in 2001...has thrown out 30 of 95 potential base stealers in 152 career games (123 starts), including 8 of 20 (40 percent) in 2005 with the Blue Jays.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Made 27 starts and appeared in 35 games overall for the Blue Jays, throwing out 8 of 20 potential base stealers (40 percent)...had just one passed ball in 243.0 innings...batted .207 with 4 doubles and 6 RBI...started the year at Triple-A Syracuse, where he made 9 starts behind the plate prior to having his contract purchased April 26...was designated for assignment August 26, and outrighted to Syracuse August 30...made 6 starts for the SkyChiefs before having his contract purchased again September 6...appeared once for the Blue Jays down the stretch, going 1-for-3 with an RBI double September 19 vs. Seattle...overall at Syracuse, hit .268 with a double, a homer and 3 RBI in 15 games.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Appeared in a combined 24 games with the Rangers and Orioles, batting .140 with 3 doubles...started the year with Texas' Triple-A Oklahoma club, hitting .241 with 2 homers and 10 RBI in 25 games before his contract was purchased May 21...made 8 starts behind the plate and was designated for assignment July 2...was claimed off waivers by the Orioles July 6, and appeared in 8 games (4 starts) before getting designated for assignment again August 10...elected free agency August 16 and re-signed with Texas the next day...reported to Oklahoma and batted .350 with 5 doubles, 10 RBI and 10 runs scored in 10 games prior to having his contract purchased September 1...appeared in 8 games the rest of the way, including starts in each of the Rangers' final 4 games of the year.

2003: Made Toronto's Opening Day roster, but spent the majority of the year with Triple-A Syracuse, hitting .292 with 14 doubles, 3 homers and 25 RBI in 75 games with the SkyChiefs...was the starting catcher for Roy Halladay on Opening Day vs. the Yankees...with one out in the top of the 3rd inning and Derek Jeter on first, Jason Giambi hit a slow roller to Halladay, who threw to first for the out...with no one covering third, Jeter tried advancing to third...Huckaby hustled to cover the bag, colliding with and tagging out the Yankees shortstop, who dislocated his left shoulder and was placed on the 15-day D.L...made 2 more starts before being designated for assignment April 12 and accepting that assignment 6 days later...batted .226 in 20 games, and had his contract purchased again June 2...stroked an RBI double as a pinch hitter June 5 at St. Louis, and was a defensive replacement the next night at Cincinnati...was outrighted to Syracuse June 12, and in 55 contests the rest of the season, hit .312 (64-for-205) with 3 homers and 20 RBI...batted .338 (23-for-68) in 20 July games, including a season-best 11-game hitting streak July 6-22, when he hit at a .442 clip (19-for-43)...overall, played 46 International League games at catcher, 23 at first base, 2 at third base and 5 as the designated hitter.

2002: Appeared in a career-high 88 games (77 starts) with the Blue Jays over 2 stints, batting .245 with 3 home runs and 22 RBI...opened the year at Triple-A Syracuse, and hit .272 in 21 games prior to having his contract purchased May 8...made 5 starts and one appearance as a defensive replacement, and was designated for assignment May 21...accepted his assignment to Syracuse May 27, and went 3-for-4 with 2 doubles, 3 RBI and 2 runs scored that night vs. Columbus...made 6 starts before having his contract purchased for a 2nd time June 4...stayed with the big league club through the end of the season, and batted .247 in 82 games...had a career-high 4 hits in his 3rd start back June 7 vs. Colorado...the Blue Jays were 52-36 in games in which he appeared.

2001: In his 3rd and final year in the Diamondbacks chain, hit .346 in 30 games at Double-A El Paso and .290 in 78 contests at Triple-A Tucson before making his major league debut October 6 at Milwaukee...came on to catch in the 6th inning, and later struck out against Mike DeJean in the 8th in his first plate appearance...with El Paso, hit .339 (19-for-56) with runners on base...played 12 games at catcher, 16 at first base and one as the designated hitter...with Tucson, batted .365 (27-for-74) against lefthanders and .261 (49-for-188) against righthanders...hit .324 (22-for-68) with 29 RBI with runners in scoring position...appeared 36 times at catcher, 28 at first base, one at second base and 11 at third base.

SUMMARY: After posting an 11-6 record, a league-leading 2.61 ERA and a league-best 163 strikeouts for Double-A Portland, was named Eastern League Pitcher of the Year and Red Sox Minor League Pitcher of the Year...was selected as the left-handed pitcher on the Eastern League's year-end All-Star team and on the year-end Topps Double-A All-Star squad...also earned mid-season All-Star honors, but did not appear in the game...was named Red Sox Minor League Pitcher of the Month in both June and July, going 3-1 with a 1.69 ERA (6 ER/32.0 IP) in 6 starts in June and 2-2 with a 1.54 ERA (4 ER/23.1 IP) in 4 starts in July.

LEADER IN THE FARM: Ranked first in the organization with his 163 strikeouts and first among full-season pitchers with his 2.61 ERA...was one of 3 Sox farmhands with an organization-best 11 wins, joining Pawtucket's Abe Alvarez and Tim Kester.

INNINGS EATER: Pitched a career-high 148.1 innings over 26 starts...tossed 3 complete games, including a pair of 7-inning complete-game efforts...his 9-inning complete game was August 1 vs. New Britain, a 4-2 win...the pair of 7-inning gems came May 29 at Norwich and July 11 at New Hampshire.

"K" MAN: Struck out 163 in 148.1 innings to average 9.9 K's per 9 innings pitched...fanned a career-best 13 in his 7-inning complete game July 11 at New Hampshire...the 13-K effort was the 4th performance of 10 or more strikeouts in a string of 5 starts...started with a pair of 10-strikeouts efforts June 19 vs. Erie and June 24 at Norwich...following a 5-punchout game June 30 vs. Altoona, fanned 12 July 5 at Trenton and then 13 July 11...overall, had 50 strikeouts in 29.0 innings during that span, an average of 15.5 K's per 9 innings.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started Game 1 of both the Northern Division Championship Series vs. Trenton and Eastern League Championship Series vs. Akron...in a 5-3 Sea Dogs win vs. Trenton September 7, did not figure in the decision despite allowing only 2 runs on 4 hits in 7.0 innings, striking out 9...earned a 6-4 win vs. Akron September 13, allowing 3 runs (one earned) on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, fanning 6.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Held the opposition to a .215 batting average, including a .199 mark by righthanders and a .255 mark by lefties...of his 10 home runs allowed, just one came off the bat of a lefthander...after going 1-0 with a 5.68 ERA (12 ER/19.0 IP) in 4 April starts, went 10-6 with a 2.09 ERA (30 ER/129.1 IP) in 22 starts the rest of the way...tossed at least 6.0 innings in 15 of his 26 starts...14 of his 26 starts were "quality starts"...from the 6th inning on, posted a 0.68 ERA (2 ER/26.1 IP)...had a 2.95 ERA (40 ER/122.0 IP) in innings one through 5...72 percent of the outs he recorded came via the strikeout or the ground out (163 strikeouts, 146 ground ball outs and 123 fly ball outs)...figured in only 2 decisions in his first 8 starts, going 1-1 with a 3.38 ERA (17 ER/45.1 IP) in that span...then earned the win in 4 straight starts May 29-June 14, posting a 2.25 ERA (6 ER/24.0 IP) during that time...in back-to-back wins July 5 at Trenton and July 11 at New Hampshire, tossed 7.0 scoreless innings in both outings and had a combined 25 strikeouts...in his final 2 regular-season outings, went 2-0 with a combined 13.0 shutout innings, 4 hits allowed, 12 strikeouts and 2 walks.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Went 7-6 with a 4.28 ERA in 21 games (20 starts) for Single-A Sarasota...struck out 97 in 90.1 innings, an average of 9.7 K's per 9 innings...held opponents to a .244 average...in his first start April 10 vs. Fort Myers, allowed 3 runs on 9 hits in 4.0 innings...then allowed 9 runs on 6 hits and 3 walks while not recording an out in his only relief appearance of the year April 15 vs. Tampa...followed that outing by going 3-0 with a 0.59 ERA (2 ER/30.1 IP) in his next 4 starts...posted the first double-digit strikeout game of his career, fanning 10 May 23 vs. Lakeland.

2003: Appeared in 24 games (21 starts) for Single-A Augusta, going 6-9 with a 3.65 ERA...was 1-1 with a 1.85 ERA (5 ER/24.1 IP) in 5 April starts to earn Red Sox Minor League Pitcher of the Month honors...following an 0-2 mark and a 6.00 ERA (14 ER/21.0 IP) in 5 starts in May, went 1-3 in 5 June starts but posted a 1.46 ERA (4 ER/24.2 IP) in that span.

2002: Started one game after being selected in the 2nd round of the First-Year Player Draft, taking the loss August 23 vs. the Gulf Coast League Rangers after allowing 6 runs (one earned) on 5 hits and a walk in 0.2 inning...participated in the Fall Instructional League following the season.

AWARDS AND HONORS: In addition to his 2005 Rawlings Gold Glove, Lowell is a 3-time N.L. All-Star (2002-04)...in 2003, he won the N.L. Silver Slugger Award after establishing career highs with 32 home runs and 105 RBI...a testicular cancer survivor, Lowell was honored by the Red Sox with the 1999 Tony Conigliaro Award, presented annually to a major leaguer who has overcome adversity through attributes typified by the former Red Sox great.

A CAREER YEAR: Turned in the finest season of his career in 2003, when he hit .276 with a career-high 32 home runs and 105 RBI in helping the Marlins to the World Championship...was named to the National League All-Star team and earned the N.L. Silver Slugger Award...set a new single-season career high with his 25th home run June 28 at Fenway, a game-winning 3-run homer off Brandon Lyon with 2 strikes and 2 outs in the top of the 9th to give the Marlins a 9-8 win, capping a dramatic 7-run comeback after they trailed 8-1...the Red Sox had pounded the Marlins 25-8 the night before...tied for 2nd in the N.L. with 28 homers at the All-Star break in 2003...finished with 32 home runs despite not going deep after August 15, as he suffered a fractured left finger August 30 and did not return until the last game of the regular season...also led the N.L. with a .973 fielding percentage at third base, committing only 3 errors in his final 66 contests.

ABOVE AVERAGE: In 989 games with the Yankees (1998) and Marlins (1999-200) into 2005, has hit .276 with 241 doubles, 143 home runs and 578 RBI, an average of 39 doubles, 23 homers and 95 RBI per 162 games in his career.

SUMMARY: In his final season with the Marlins, won his first National League Gold Glove after leading league third basemen with a .983 fielding percentage...became the 4th different Marlin and first Marlins third baseman to win the award...at the plate, batted just .236 with 8 home runs and 58 RBI, his lowest totals since becoming Florida's everyday third baseman in 2000...however, collected 36 doubles, the 5th time in his career to reach that total, and struck out only 58 times, the lowest total of his career...appeared in 150 games, the 3rd-highest total of his career and 4th time in his last 5 seasons with at least 146 games played.

AN UNCOMMON SLOW START: Batted just .198 (16-for-81) in 21 games in April and hit only .202 (17-for-84) in 25 games in May to post a .200 (33-for-165) batting average when the calendar turned to June...in his previous 5 seasons from 2000-04, compiled a .320 batting average (156-for-487) in April and a .276 average (119-for-431) in May en route to a season-ending average of .270 or better in each of those 5 campaigns...after hitting .200 in his first 46 games in 2005, batted .254 (85-for-335) in his final 104 games, including a .322 (28-for-87) clip in July to raise his batting average to .245 on August 1, its highest point since it stood at .294 on April 8.

MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GLOVE: Committed only 6 errors in 356 total chances at third base en route to earning the Golden Glove...his .983 fielding percentage at the hot corner was the best in the majors and in his career, while his 6 errors in 135 games at third were his lowest single-season total since making 4 errors in 83 games in 1999...in National League history, only Vinny Castilla (2002 with Atlanta and 2004 with Colorado) has played at least 135 games in a season and committed only 6 errors...led all N.L. third baseman with 34 double plays turned and ranked 3rd in the league with 0.85 putouts per 9 innings...also played 8 games at second base, making his first appearance September 21 at New York...marked the first time in his major league career at a position other than third base.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .304 (28-for-92) vs. left-handed pitching but just .221 (90-for-408) vs. righthanders...did not make his first error until May 6 vs. Colorado, his 25th game of the season, and did not commit his 2nd miscue until June 25 at Tampa Bay, 40 games later...batted .245 (68-for-278) at Dolphins Stadium, appearing in all 81 games at home, and hit .225 (50-for-222) in 69 games on the road...batted .333 (6-for-18) with a double, home run and 17 RBI with the bases loaded...hit .333 (20-for-60) with 2 homers and 12 RBI when putting the first pitch in play...had 22 multi-hit games, including 7 contests with 3-hit efforts.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Had a season-high 9-game hitting streak from September 17-27 and also posted a pair of 7-game hitting streaks from April 22-May 1 and June 8-15...reached base safely in his final 14 games of the year...had a double in 5 straight games from April 24-May 1, the longest such streak of his career...posted a season-high 4 RBI June 10 at Texas, when he connected for his 4th-career grand slam (off Ryan Shouse)...it was his 3rd home run of the season, his first since April 12 at Philadelphia, snapping a stretch of 45 games and 161 at-bats with a homer...had an RBI in a season-high 5 games in a row from July 18-23 (7 RBI total).

2004: One year after setting career highs 32 homers and 105 RBI in an injury-shortened 2003 regular season (130 games), Lowell completed arguably his finest season in the big leagues in 2004, earning N.L. All-Star honors for the 3rd season in a row along the way...in 158 games with the Marlins, he set career highs with a .293 batting average and a .365 on-base percentage, matched his career best with 44 doubles and complimented his campaign with 87 runs scored, 27 homers and 85 RBI...it was his 3rd-straight 20-homer campaign and 4th overall in his Marlins career, joining Derrek Lee and Preston Wilson as the lone Marlins with four seasons with at least 20 homers...his batting average was above .300 in 4 of the season's 6 months...began the year by batting .346 (65-for-188) in 50 games through the end of May, including a .373 mark in May (3rd-best in the NL) before batting .236 in June...rebounded to bat .301 in July, dipped to .221 in August and hit .313 in September/October...tied for 2nd in the league with 31 go-ahead RBI and 18 game-winning RBI...his .344 batting average vs. lefties ranked 4th, his 44 doubles tied for 7th and his 72 extra-base hits tied for 12th...ranked 2nd among league third basemen with a .982 fielding percentage, trailing only Vinny Castilla's .987 mark...went 70 games without an error before committing a miscue September 30 at Philadelphia, just his 2nd in his last 100 games...had 14 homers through the end of May, just 13 more the rest of the way...became the first Marlin to hit 3 homers in a game April 21 at Philadelphia, connecting for blasts off Eric Milton, Tim Worrell and Billy Wagner...with a home run the next night, posted 4 home runs in a 2-game span for the first time in his career...had 3 two-homer games in an 11-game span, homering twice May 7 vs. San Diego, May 12 at Houston and May 20 vs. Houston...established several Marlins all-time franchise records throughout the season: hit his club record 130th homer as a Marlin July 27, surpassing Derrek Lee; surpassed Lee as the club's extra-base hit leader with a first-inning double June 24 vs. Atlanta, his 307th extra-base hit; passed Lee's club record of 1,328 total bases June 30 at Atlanta; became the first Marlin to reach 500 RBI August 16 at Los Angeles...posted a season-high 12-game hitting streak from August 14-27, batting .313 (15-for-48) during the tear...also had an 8-game hitting streak from April 27-May 5 (.448, 13-for-29), an 11-game run from May 7-20 (.390, 16-for-41) and an 8-game streak to conclude the season (11-for-31, .355).

2003: Received the Louisville Silver Slugger Award and earned his 2nd-straight All-Star nod after setting career highs with 32 homers and 105 RBI in just 130 games...missed all but one game in September after suffering a fractured fourth metacarpal on his left hand August 30 and returned to play in 15 of Florida's post-season contests, helping to lead the Marlins to the World Championship...led all National League third basemen with a .973 fielding percentage (9 errors in 336 total chances)...made only 3 errors in his final 66 games and 5 miscues over his final 99...at the time became just the 4th Marlin to be named to the All-Star team in back-to-back seasons, joining Luis Castillo (2002-03), Jeff Conine (1994-95) and Kevin Brown (1996-97)...posted the club's 7th 100-RBI campaign, the first player to do so twice...began the season powerfully, connecting for a home run in 3 straight games from April 3-5...also had 4 homers in a 5-game span from April 26-30 and 4 homers in 4 games from May 11-14...tied a club record with 3 doubles April 28 at Arizona, the only day in that 5-game span in which he did not homer...posted 3 two-homer games: May 13 at San Diego, June 3 vs. Oakland and June 15 at Texas...overall, had 8 homers in April, 8 homers in May and 9 homers in June (matching the club record for June)...had a career high 6 RBI June 3 vs. Oakland...June 25 in Shea Stadium, hit his 100th major league home run and 24th of the season (already matching his career high)...set a new single-season career high with his 25th homer June 28 at Fenway Park, a 2-out, 2-strike, 3-run homer off Brandon Lyon in the top of the 9th to give the Marlins a 9-8 win and complete a 7-run comeback, the largest in club history...entered the All-Star Break with a career-high 28 homers, tied for 2nd in the N.L. and 3rd in the majors...ranked 4th in the league with 76 RBI prior to the break...set Marlins pre-All Star break records in homers and RBI...collected an RBI in 8-straight games from July 13-27, matching the club record...hit safely in 23 of 26 games from July 13-August 16, batting .351 (34-for-97) in that span...the tear included a season-high 11-game hitting streak from July 13-30, during which he batted .425 (17-for-40)...became the 4th Marlin to reach 30 homers August 2 vs. Houston...became Florida's all-time RBI leader with his 423rd RBI August 8 at Milwaukee...was later surpassed by Jeff Conine September 25, but passed Conine for good in 2004...set his career best with his 32nd homer August 15 vs. San Diego...saw his season interrupted August 30 vs. Montreal when he was hit by a Hector Almonte pitch in the 8th inning, fracturing the 4th metacarpal on his left hand...was placed on the disabled list the next day...was cleared by Dr. Brian Fingado to resume a progressive swinging program on September 26...was activated from the disabled list September 28, the regular season's final day, and made the start at third base...played in 15 post-season games and hit .196 (9-for-46) with 2 homers and 5 RBI...became the 6th player in post-season history to hit a pinch-hit homer in extra innings when he led off the 11th inning of Game 1 of the NLCS with a solo homer off Chicago's Mark Guthrie, leading the Marlins to a 9-8 win at Wrigley Field...hit safely in 4 of 6 games in the World Series vs. New York, including a 2-for-3 effort with a double in Florida's Series-clinching 2-0 win in Game 6 at Yankee Stadium.

2002: Became an All-Star for the first time and set career highs with 160 games, 88 runs scored, 44 doubles (matched in 2004) and 24 homers (surpassed in 2003)...turned in a .276 batting average and drove in 92 runs...his 44 doubles ranked 2nd in the National League (behind Bobby Abreu's 50) and, at the time, tied for the 2nd-most doubles by a Marlin in a single-season in club history...began the season strong, batting .385 (40-for-104) in 26 games in April and held a .311 mark through the All-Star break, the 11th-best average in the N.L. at the time of his All-Star game selection...went 2-for-3 in the Mid-Summer Classic in Milwaukee...batted just .232 in 72 games after the break...despite his slower 2nd half, finished with a strong September, batting .310 (35-for-113) with 8 homers, 8 doubles and 21 RBI in 28 games...the month featured a 16-game hitting streak, matching his 2000 career best...hit .364 (24-for-66) with 3 homers and 13 RBI during this tear of 2002...received his 2nd-career National League Player of the Week honor for the period ending September 29 after batting .364 (8-for-22) with 5 homers and 7 RBI, leading the NL in homers and total bases (25) during that span.

2001: Continued to enhance his resume in 2001 by batting .283 with 18 homers and 100 RBI in 146 games...became the 6th Marlin in club history to reach 100 RBI, collecting his final RBI on the season's last day at Atlanta on October 7...his .283 batting average and 146 games played were career bests at the time...ranked 3rd in the majors with a .976 fielding percentage at third base, committing 9 errors in 377 total chances...his 9 errors were fewest in club history, bettering the '12 errors set by himself in 2000 and Terry Pendleton in 1996...hit .302 in 22 games in April, his best batting average of any full calendar month during the campaign, though he hit .291 in June, .290 in July and .299 in August...began the season with 12 RBI in his first 7 games, including a pair of 4-RBI contests April 6 vs. Atlanta and April 13 at Montreal...his 4 RBI on April 6 came courtesy of his 3rd-career grand slam, an 8th-inning blast off Marc Valdes...collected a season-high 14-game hitting streak from April 18-May 4, batting .345 (19-for-55)...missed a total of 13 games through mid-May due to minor injury: missed 2 games April 9-10 after sustaining a thumb injury April 8 vs. Atlanta; missed 2 starts May 6 and 7 after being hit by a Mark Leiter pitch on the left arm May 5; missed 9 games from May 11-13 and May 17-22 after spraining his left wrist May 10 at Los Angeles...homered in back-to-back games 3 times in 2001: April 29 at Houston and May 1 vs. St. Louis; June 14 at Boston and 15 vs. Tampa Bay; and September 27 vs. Atlanta and 28 vs. Philadelphia...recorded his first-career 4-hit game June 6 vs. Pittsburgh...recorded a career-high 62 RBI before the All-Star Break...hit the club's 161st homer of the season, establishing a new single-season Marlins record, September 28 vs. Philadelphia...was his 18th and final homer of the year.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed his finest professional season, leading the Double-A Texas League with a .324 batting average, a .564 slugging percentage and 59 extra-base hits, while ranking 2nd with 242 total bases, 3rd with 98 runs and 34 doubles and 4th with a .392 on-base percentage...was selected to both the mid-season and post-season TL All-Star teams after clubbing 19 homers and driving in 60 runs in 116 games for the Springfield Cardinals...did not play the field after suffering a torn labrum July 29...was placed on the D.L. August 22 and had season-ending surgery on his right shoulder September 1.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Hit .309 (63-for-204) with 10 homers and 28 RBI in 58 home games and .338 (76-for-225) with 9 long balls and 32 RBI in 58 games on the road...batted .409 (52-for-127) with 8 homers against lefties and .288 (87-for-302) with 11 homers against righties...recorded a .393 (22-for-56) average in 15 August games before being shut down with the labrum tear...was also hot to begin the season, batting .394 (28-for-71) in 21 games in April...spent the majority of his time in right field, but also saw action at the other 2 outfield positions and at first base.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Posted a season-best 13-game hitting streak July 28-August 16, batting .408 (20-for-49) with 14 runs...had a pair of 2-homer games: April 18 at Wichita en route to a season-high 5 RBI and July 6 vs. Tulsa.

2004: In his 7th and final season in the Indians organization, was limited to 89 games with Double-A Akron, batting .267 with 11 homers, 40 RBI and 44 runs...started slowly, batting .234 (18-for-77) in 22 games in April and May before hitting .289 (13-for-45) in June and .324 (22-for-68) in July...closed the season by going 11-for-27 (.407) with 2 triples, 2 homers, 8 RBI and 5 runs in 7 September contests...went 3-for-7 (.429) with a home run as a pinch hitter...the pinch-hit homer came July 21 vs. Trenton, starting a streak of 3 straight games with a long ball.

2003: Was named the Eastern League's Post-Season MVP after helping lead Double-A Akron to the league title...hit .483 (14-for-29) with 3 doubles, a triple, 2 home runs, 11 RBI, 5 runs scored, a .500 on-base percentage and a .862 slugging percentage in 7 playoff games...batted .223 in 122 regular season games with the Aeros, clubbing 10 homers with 44 RBI and 49 runs.

2002: Smacked 16 home runs for Single-A Kinston, the 4th-highest total in the Carolina League...also legged out 20 doubles with 58 RBI and 65 runs in 113 games, but batted only .231 with a .292 on-base percentage...hit safely in 8 of his final 9 games of the season, going 13-for-36 (.361) with 4 homers, 11 RBI and 11 runs.

2001: Opened the season on the D.L. with a left wrist injury, first seeing action June 1 with Single-A Columbus, where he hit .373 (22-for-59) in 15 games to earn a late-June promotion to advanced Single-A Kinston...batted .252 in 66 games at Kinston over the remainder of the season, but hit lefties at a .308 (24-for-78) clip.

2000: Spent his first season at advanced Single-A Kinston, batting .223 with 17 doubles, 6 homers, 51 RBI, 46 runs and 12 stolen bases in 110 games...had a season-high 15-game hitting streak July 8-23, going 20-for-55 (.364) with 13 RBI and 11 runs...went 3-for-4 with a double, 2 homers and 6 RBI July 15 at Lynchburg.

1999: Tied for the South Atlantic League lead with 11 triples and had a career-best 23 stolen bases in his first full pro season...also belted 25 doubles and 10 homers for Single-A Columbus...hit .242 with 62 RBI and 64 runs in 127 games...went 5-for-5 with a double, homer, 3 runs and 4 RBI in his 2nd game of the season, April 9 vs. Hagerstown.

1998: Made his pro debut with Rookie-level Burlington of the Appalachian League after being selected by the Indians in the 6th round...hit .306 in 12 games before undergoing right elbow surgery to repair a tear of his UCL July 20.

CAREER NOTES

PLAYING THE FIELD: Has played the outfield exclusively since his 2001 major league debut with Minnesota...has appearing defensively 413 times, including 237 starts in right field, 76 starts in left and 18 starts in center.

A POSTSEASON TO REMEMBER: Went 7-for-14 (.500) with 2 doubles and 4 runs scored in 9 games of Minnesota's 2002 playoff run to the American League Championship Series...appeared twice as a defensive replacement and twice as a pinch hitter in the Division Series vs. Oakland, collecting a hit in both pinch-hitting appearances...was 5-for-12 (.417) in 5 games (3 starts) vs. Anaheim in the ALCS.

BEAST IN THE EAST: Is a career .300 hitter (57-for-190) against American League East clubs...has batted a combined .404 (46-for-114) in 37 games against the Red Sox, Blue Jays and Devil Rays, but just .145 (11-for-76) in 22 games against the Yankees and Orioles...is 8-for-18 (.444) with a home run in his career at Fenway Park.

SUMMARY: Belted a career-high 17 home runs over 98 games with Colorado, while batting .214 with 38 RBI and 34 runs scored...made 64 starts, including 43 in right field, 13 in left and 8 in center...was the Opening Day right fielder April 4 vs. San Diego, and strained his left calf muscle that night while leaping over the dugout railing to meet game-winning home run hitter Clint Barmes at home plate after a 12-10 victory...was placed on the 15-day D.L. the next day...following 3 rehab appearances April 23-26 with Triple-A Colorado Springs, returned to the Rockies April 28.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: With 17 homers in 266 at-bats, averaged a homer every 15.6 at-bats...had 4 homers in a 6-game span July 31-August 9...was just 1-for-23 with 3 walks in 26 pinch-hitting appearances...the lone hit was a solo homer July 10 vs. San Diego...hit .274 (31-for-113) against lefties and just .170 (26-for-153) against righthanders...batted .266 (38-for-143) with 13 homers and 29 RBI in 55 games at Coors Field, while hitting at a .154 clip (19-for-123) with 4 homers and 9 RBI in 43 road games.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Stroked a game-tying solo home run with one out in the 9th May 11 vs. Atlanta, knotting the score at 5-5...the Rockies walked off with the win later in the inning when Todd Greene stroked a 2-out, bases-loaded single...clubbed a game-tying 2-run homer with 2 outs in the 8th inning May 4 at San Diego, making it 6-6 in an 8-7, 12-inning loss...his 4th-inning 2-run homer May 31 vs. St. Louis held up in a 2-1 victory.

2004: Hit a career-high .274 over 117 games with the Giants, his lone year in San Francisco...led the Giants with 26 pinch-hitting appearances, going 7-for-18 (.389) with 2 homers, 7 walks and one hit-by-pitch...made 64 starts, including 40 in right field, 19 in left, 4 in center and one as the designated hitter...had just one hit in his first 24 at-bats before batting .297 (71-for-239) in 100 games the rest of the way...hit .333 (36-for-108) over his last 44 contests beginning July 27, including a .400 average (20-for-50) with 3 homers in 22 August games...posted a .414 on-base percentage from May 2 to season's end, and finished 3rd on the club with a .394 mark overall...his first homer in a Giants uniform was his 2nd career pinch-hit homer, a solo shot May 8 at Cincinnati off

Danny Graves...had a pinch-hit, inside-the-park home run August 4 vs. the Reds off Jose Acevedo...it marked San Francisco's first inside-the-park homer at SBC Park and the 2nd overall (Cardinals infielder Fernando Vina turned the trick in 2000)...also marked the first pinch-hit, inside-the-park homer in the majors since July 25, 1998, when Pittsburgh's Turner Ward accomplished the feat vs. Atlanta...belted a 2-run homer July 27 at San Diego off David Wells, reaching the 2nd balcony of the Western Metal Supply Co. building down the left field line at Petco Park...joined Sammy Sosa and Ramon Hernandez as the only players to hit a home run of that distance...played the final 3 months of the season with a ruptured tendon in his right biceps.

2001: Made his major league debut with Twins, batting .235 (12-for-51) with 2 doubles in 20 games after making the jump straight from Double-A New Britain...had his contract purchased August 29 after hitting an Eastern League-leading .336 with 24 homers and 91 RBI in 135 games...was an E.L. All-Star, and connected for a home run in the game...ranked 2nd in the E.L. with 41 doubles, 293 total bases, a .395 on-base percentage and a .566 slugging percentage...also ranked 3rd with 68 extra-base hits...made his debut August 29 vs. Texas, starting in right field and flying out to Gabe Kapler in his first at-bat...had a 2-run single in the 5th off Rob Bell for his first hit, and knocked in a 3rd run with a sacrifice fly in the 7th ...finished the year by hitting safely in his last 7 games, going 7-for-24 (.292) with 4 runs scored.

2000: Appeared in 101 games for Single-A Fort Myers and knocked in a then career-high 75 runs.

1999: Hit .167 in 12 games with Double-A Akron before being transferred April 24 to Single-A Kinston, where he batted .280 with 29 doubles, 8 homers and 60 RBI in 112 games.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed a 3rd consecutive career year, further cementing his status as one of the elite sluggers and clutch performers in the game by batting .300 and establishing career highs with 47 home runs, 148 RBI, 119 runs, 102 walks, a .604 slugging percentage and a .397 on-base percentage...was named team MVP for the 2nd consecutive year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA and finished 2nd to Alex Rodriguez in A.L. MVP voting (listed first or 2nd on every ballot cast)...won the Hank Aaron Award, his 2nd consecutive Silver Slugger Award, and received the Edgar Martinez Award as the top DH in the A.L. for the 3rd straight year...won the Players Choice Award as the A.L.'s Outstanding Player...led the majors in RBI (148) and ranked among A.L. leaders in extra-base hits (first with 88), home runs (2nd with 47, just one behind Rodriguez), slugging (2nd at .604), RBI ratio (2nd with one every 4.1 at-bats), walks (2nd with 102, 27 more than his previous best from 2004), total bases (3rd with a career-high 363), runs (3rd with 119), home run ratio (3rd with one every 12.8 at-bats), on-base percentage (4th at .397), average with runners in scoring position (5th at .352), intentional walks (tied for 7th with 9) and doubles (tied for 8th with 40)...played in a career-high 159 games and set a personal best with 601 at-bats...was elected to start the All-Star Game at DH as the leading vote-getter in baseball, his 2nd trip to the Mid-Summer Classic and first start.

WHAT A FINISH: Was named A.L. Player of the Month for September after batting .320 (33-for-103) with 11 homers, 29 RBI, a .425 OBP and a .670 slugging percentage in 29 games...Ortiz's 11 home runs were the most in September in Red Sox history...Jimmie Foxx hit 10 in September of 1938, and Tony Conigliaro hit 10 in September of 1970...from August 1 through the end of the regular season, in his final 57 games, Big Papi batted .303 (64-for-211) with 22 homers, 60 RBI, a .412 OBP and a .673 slugging percentage.

WHEN IT MATTERS MOST: 19 of Ortiz's 47 home runs either tied a game or gave the Red Sox the lead...Papi led the A.L. with 34 go-ahead RBI and 21 game-winning RBI...hit .352 (57-for-162) with runners in scoring position, .368 (21-for-57 with runners in scoring position and 2 outs), .400 (6-for-15) with a double, 2 homers and 20 RBI with the bases loaded and .346 (27-for-78) with 11 homers in close-and-late situations...19 of his 47 home runs came from the 7th inning on.

WALKING AWAY A WINNER: Delivered 3 walk-off hits, including a pair of game-ending home runs...June 2 vs. Baltimore, crushed a 3-run homer with 2 outs in the bottom of the 9th for a walk-off 6-4 win over B.J. Ryan and the Orioles...launched a walk-off solo homer off Scot Shields with one out in the bottom of the 9th to give the Red Sox a 3-2 win over the Angels September 6 at Fenway...September 29 vs. Toronto, in a game he had tied with a homer in the 8th, singled Johnny Damon home from second with one out in the bottom of the 9th to give the Sox a walk-off 5-4 win...in his Red Sox career, has delivered 10 walk-off hits in the regular season, including 6 walk-off home runs...additionally, hit a pair of walk-off home runs and a walk-off single in the 2004 postseason.

HEROICS: Doubled home Trot Nixon with 2 outs in the top of the 9th to give the Red Sox a 2-1 win May 5 at Detroit...the game-winning hit came off Ugueth Urbina...June 2 vs. Baltimore, crushed a 3-run homer with 2 outs in the bottom of the 9th for a walk-off 6-4 win over B.J. Ryan and the Orioles...August 16 at Detroit, hit a game-tying solo homer off Fernando Rodney with one out in the 9th, then hit a 2-run homer in Boston's 7-run 10th en route to a 10-7 victory...launched a walk-off solo homer off Scot Shields with one out in the bottom of the 9th to give the Red Sox a 3-2 win over the Angels September 6 at Fenway...the walk-off homer was the 5th of his career, his 4th as a Red Sox, plus 2 in the 2004 postseason...homered twice, including a blast to snap a 5-5 tie in the 11th, giving the Sox a 6-5 win September 12 at Toronto...the game-winner off Pete Walker was his 40th homer of the season...2 days later, in the series finale, hit a game-winning 2-run homer off Josh Towers, snapping an 8th-inning 3-3 tie in a 5-3 win...down 2-1 in the 6th, hit a game-tying solo homer in an eventual 10-inning 3-2 win September 16 vs. Oakland...September 29 vs. Toronto, with the Sox in danger of falling 2.0 games out of first place and a game back in the Wild Card hunt with 3 games to play, slugged an 8th-inning solo homer off Vinny Chulk to tie the Blue Jays 4-4...an inning later, singled Johnny Damon home from second with one out in the bottom of the 9th to give the Sox a walk-off 5-4 win.

DESIGNATED SLUGGER: Of his 47 home runs, 43 came as a designated hitter, most ever by a DH since the DH rule went into effect in 1974...Edgar Martinez hit 37 for the Mariners in 2000, and Rafael Palmeiro hit 37 for the Rangers in 1999...his 145 career homers as a DH are already 7th-most in history despite the fact he's played far fewer games as DH than any player in the top 10:

PLAYER (GAMES AS DH)	HR
1. Edgar Martinez (1,403)	243
2. Harold Baines (1,643)	235
3. Don Baylor (1,284)	219
4. Jose Canseco (846)	208
5. Chili Davis (1,161)	200
6. Frank Thomas (959)	196
7. David Ortiz (615)	145
8. Hal McRae (1,388)	143
9. Brian Downing (822)	125
Andre Thornton (735)	125

EXCLUSIVE COMPANY: With 47 homers--2nd to only Jimmie Foxx's 50 in 1938 in club annals--joined Carl Yastrzemski (1969 and 1970) and Manny Ramirez (2004 and 2005) as one of 3 players in Red Sox history to record consecutive 40-homer seasons...Ortiz hit 41 long balls in 2004...Papi's 88 homers over the last 2 seasons are most in club history...Jimmy Foxx hit 86 in 1937 (36) and 1938 (a club-record 50)...David hit 2 homers in a game 9 times...the only Red Sox with more multi-homer games in a season is Foxx, who had 10 in 1938.

ROAD WARRIOR: 27 of his 47 home runs and 74 of his 148 RBI came on the road...broke Ted Williams' 1957 Red Sox record of 26 home runs hit on the road in a season...Ortiz hit 24 on the road in 2004, 3rd-most in club annals.

PICK YOUR POISON: Ortiz (47 homers and 148 RBI) and Manny Ramirez (45 homers and 144 RBI) combined for 92 home runs and 292 RBI...no pair of teammates in baseball hit more home runs or combined for more RBI...over the last 2 seasons, they are tied for the most home runs in baseball (88 each), while they rank one and 2 in RBI (Ortiz with 287 and Manny with 274)...in club history, no teammates have hit more homers in a season than David and Manny in 2005, and only Vern Stephens and Ted Williams combined for more RBI in a season, when they both drove in 159 for a total of 318 in 1949...David and Manny are the first teammates in Red Sox history with consecutive 40-homer seasons...the only other pair of Sox to ever slug 40 long balls in the same season even once is Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...they join Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig (1930-31) as the only teammates in baseball history with consecutive 40-homer, 140-RBI campaigns.

RED SOX

SUMMARY: Teamed with Manny Ramirez to form the most fearsome 3-4 punch in baseball before turning in an October performance for the ages in helping lead the Red Sox to their first World Championship in 86 years...won the Thomas A. Yawkey Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox' Most Valuable Player...batted .301 with 47 doubles, 3 triples, 41 homers, 91 extra-base hits, 139 RBI, 351 total bases, 75 walks, a .380 on-base percentage and a .603 slugging percentage--all career bests...was named to his first career A.L. All-Star team, won the Edgar Martinez Award as the American League's top designated hitter in a media vote and received his first career Silver Slugger Award...finished 4th in A.L. MVP voting.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked at or near the top of the league in virtually every major offensive category including: extra-base hits (first with 91), RBI ratio (first with one every 4.2 at-bats), RBI (2nd with 139), total bases (2nd with 351), slugging (2nd at .603), home runs (tied for 2nd with 41), doubles (3rd and 47), home run ratio (3rd with one every 14.2 at-bats) and batting with runners in scoring position (4th at .350).

SEEING STARS: A first-time All-Star, Ortiz cracked a 6th-inning 2-run homer off Carl Pavano at the Mid-Summer Classic in Houston...also walked twice and scored 2 runs.

DYNAMIC DUO: Ortiz and Manny Ramirez became the first pair of A.L. teammates since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1931 to both bat .300 with 40 homers and 100 RBI...in major league history, the feat has been accomplished only 11 other times (including by Albert Pujols and Jim Edmonds of the Cardinals in 2004)...Ruth and Gehrig are the only other A.L. teammates to turn the trick (in 1927, 1930 and 1931)...Ortiz and Ramirez were the first pair of teammates in major league history with 40 homers and 40 doubles in a season...the only other Red Sox teammates to club 40 long balls in the same season are Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...Ramirez (130 RBI) and Ortiz (139 RBI) became only the 3rd pair of Sox to reach 130 RBI in the same season...Vern Stephens and Ted Williams both knocked in 159 in 1949, and Walt Dropo and Stephens plated 144 each in 1950.

EXTRA!...EXTRA!: David's league-leading 91 extra-base hits were one shy of matching the Red Sox record of 92, set by Jimmie Foxx in 1938...his 41 homers and 139 RBI are both tied for 9th-most in club annals...since 1950, the only Red Sox with more RBI in a season was Mo Vaughn (143 in 1996)...Ortiz's 47 doubles are tied for 7th-most in Sox history.

TWO CAN PLAY AT THAT GAME: Ortiz and Manny Ramirez homered in the same game 12 times, setting a club record...Jim Rice and George Scott went deep in the same game 11 times in 1977, and Jimmie Foxx and Ted Williams turned the trick 11 times in 1940...the pair homered back-to-back 6 times in 2004, tying a major league record held by Hank Greenberg and Rudy York of the 1938 Tigers and Frank Thomas and Magglio Ordonez of the 2000 White Sox...prior to 2004, no Red Sox teammates had gone deep back to back more than 3 times in a season.

HOME, SWEET HOME: Batted .325 with 17 homers and 64 RBI in 77 games at Fenway and .274 with 24 long balls and 75 RBI in 73 road games...David's 24 road home runs tied Mo Vaughn (1995) for the 2nd-most ever hit away from home by a Boston player...Ted Williams connected for 26 road homers in 1957.

NEW DEAL: A potential free agent at the end of the 2004 season, Ortiz signed a 2-year contract extension with a club option for the 2007 season on May 21, 2004.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had a team-high 33 go-ahead RBI, knocked in 10 game-tying runs and delivered 50 RBI with 2 outs...started 111 games as DH and 32 at first base...homered at least once against 18 of the 19 clubs the Red Sox faced in 2004, all but the Padres...was, however, 6-for-13 (.462) in the 3-game set vs. San Diego...hit

.326 with 31 homers and 96 RBI off righthanders...batted .352 (25-for-71) with 6 homers and 18 RBI in interleague play...his biggest month was June, when he batted .365 with 10 homers and 31 RBI in 25 games...had 7 homers and 21 RBI in 19 games vs. Toronto and 5 homers and 15 RBI in 18 games vs. Baltimore...hit 12 homers with 2 strikes....batted .307 (115-for-374) with 26 homers and 89 RBI batting 3rd and .280 (52-for-186) with 14 homers and 46 RBI in 51 games out of the clean-up spot.

HEROICS: Smoked a game-winning 2-run homer off Toronto's Aquilino Lopez to lift the Sox to the 12-inning, 6-4 victory on April 11...the blast was his 2nd walk-off homer as a Red Sox (September 23, 2003 vs. Baltimore)...June 11 vs. Los Angeles, sliced a single down the right field line in the 9th to score Johnny Damon for the walk-off 2-1 win...had earlier staked the Sox to a 1-0 lead with a solo homer off Odalis Perez in the 7th...slugged 2 homers August 14 vs. the White Sox, including a solo shot in the 8th inning to break a 3-3 tie in Boston's 4-3 win...crushed homer No. 31 of the season in the 8th August 22 in Chicago to match his 2003 career high, snap the 5-5 tie and give the Sox their 6-5 win.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Had an extra-base hit in 9 straight games April 19-29 (9 doubles and 2 homers), 2 shy of the A.L. record set by Jesse Barfield in 1985...homered in his first 2 at-bats May 5 at Cleveland to lead the Sox to a 9-5 win...posted a season-best 12-game hitting streak April 19-May 1...was 18-for-50 (.360) with 9 doubles, 3 homers, 8 RBI and 7 runs during the tear...fell a triple shy of the cycle May 11 vs. Cleveland, going 3-for-4...clubbed his 100th career homer May 28 vs. Seattle, a grand slam that put the Sox up 6-4 in the 5th inning...was his 2nd career grand slam, his first since September 7, 2000 with Minnesota at Boston off Ramon Martinez...posted a career-high 5 RBI June 17 at Colorado, going 3-for-4 with a double and a home run...followed that up with 3 hits, a homer and 4 RBI June 18 at San Francisco and 2 hits and a run June 19...was named A.L. Player of the Week for the week of June 21-27 after hitting .440 (11-for-25) with 4 homers, 3 doubles, 9 RBI and 8 runs...hit safely in 10 straight games June 22-July 2...hit .429 (18-for-42) with 7 homers, 5 doubles, 13 RBI and 12 runs during the tear...homered in 3 straight games June 27-30...went 3-for-7 in a July 22 doubleheader vs. Baltimore, including his first-career 2-triple game in Game 1 to give him a career-high 3 triples in 2004...homered in 3 straight games for the 2nd time in 2004 September 4-6...September 6 at Oakland, posted his 8th game of the season with at least 4 RBI...entered 2004 with just 8 such games in his entire career...clubbed a solo homer September 18 at New York to break up Jon Lieber's no-hit bid with 2 outs in the 7th.

IN THE POSTSEASON: The MVP of the 2004 ALCS, Ortiz batted .400 (22-for-55) with 5 homers, 19 RBI and 13 runs scored in 14 post-season games for the World Champs...Senor Octubre delivered 3 extra-inning walk-off game-winning hits, a 10th-inning homer to win the Game 3 finale of the ALDS vs. Anaheim, a 12th-inning homer to keep the Sox alive in Game 4 of the ALCS vs. the Yankees and, the next night, a 14th-inning RBI single to slay the Yanks again and force Game 6...no player in major league history has more than 2 post-season walk-off hits in his career, and no player ever had more than one in a single post-season...Ortiz's total of 19 post-season RBI matched the major league record for a single postseason shared by Cleveland's Sandy Alomar Jr. in 18 games in 1997 and Anaheim's Scott Spiezio in 16 games in 2002...went 6-for-11 (.545) with 2 doubles, a homer, 4 RBI and 4 runs scored in the 3-game ALDS vs. Anaheim...ended the series with a walk-off 2-run homer off Jarrod Washburn in the 10th inning of Game 3 at Fenway...the blast capped a 4-for-6 game with 2 doubles, a homer and 2 runs scored...en route to MVP honors, batted .387 (12-for-31) with a triple, 3 homers, 11 RBI and 6 runs scored in 7 games in the ALCS vs. the Yankees...went 2-for-4 with a triple, 2 RBI and a run in Game 1...was 3-for-5 with a run in Game 3...down 3 games to none, gave the Sox life with walk-off game-winning hits in Games 4 and 5...was 2-for-5 with a homer, 4 RBI and a run in Game 4...the 12th-inning long ball off Paul Quantrill with a man on games the Sox a 6-4 win...in Game 4, went 3-for-6 with a homer, 3 RBI and 2 runs...went deep in the 8th off Tom Gordon...delivered a 14th-inning game-winning single off Esteban Loaiza, as the Sox prevailed 5-4...was 1-for-4 with a home run and 2 RBI in Game 7, getting the 10-3 pennant-clinching rout started with a 2-run homer off Kevin Brown in the top of the first...was 4-for-13 (.308) with a double, a homer and 4 RBI in the World Series...slammed a towering first-inning 3-run homer off Woody Williams in Game 1...the Sox would never trail in the series...Ortiz became the 28th player in history to go deep in his first World Series at-bat, the first since Anaheim's Troy Glaus in Game 1 of the 2002 Fall Classic...the only other Boston player to turn that trick was pitcher Jose Santiago in Game 1 of the 1967 Series vs. St. Louis off Bob Gibson...finished the Series opener 2-for-3 with the homer, 4 RBI and 2 walks...was 1-for-3 with a double, a walk and a run scored in the title-clinching Game 4.

SUMMARY: In his Red Sox debut, posted then career bests with a .288 average, 31 homers and 101 RBI in 128 games and provided far more than his fair share of heroics...finished 5th in A.L. MVP voting behind Alex Rodriguez, Carlos Delgado, Jorge Posada and Shannon Stewart...was named Baseball's Outstanding DH...appeared in only 31 of the club's first 54 games through the end of May, batting .272 with 2 home runs and 19 RBI...moved into the lineup on a regular basis after Shea Hillenbrand was traded to Arizona and hit .293 with 29 homers and 82 RBI in 97 games the rest of the way...appeared in 45 games (44 starts) at first base and 73 games as DH...posted 6 multi-homer games, a single-season total surpassed by only 3 players in Red Sox history...his 21 homers after the All-Star break were 3rd-most in the A.L. and ranked 6th in the majors...his 55 RBI after the break were 5th in the A.L. and 8th in the majors.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Finished 3rd in the A.L. with a .592 slugging percentage...his ratio of an RBI every 4.4 at-bats was 2nd in the A.L., and his average of a homer every 14.5 at-bats was 5th in the league...with 16 game-winning RBI, was one behind league leaders Eric Chavez and Hideki Matsui...ranked 5th in the league with a .961 OPS (on base + slugging)...was 9th with 8 sac flies and 10th with 39 doubles.

POWER SURGE: After hitting 3 homers in his first 50 games (163 at-bats), an average of one every 54.3 at-bats, hit 28 long balls in his last 78 games (285 at-bats), one every 10.2 AB's.

EXTRA!...EXTRA!: 72 of his 129 hits (56 percent) went for extra bases, 39 doubles, 2 triples and 31 home runs...July 27-August 7, saw 12 hits in a row go for extra bases, banging 5 doubles, 2 triples and 5 home runs in that stretch.

STREAKS: Homered in 3 straight games (5 total), going deep once July 3 at Tampa Bay and twice on both July 4 and 5 at New York...went 6-for-14 (.429) with 5 homers, 6 RBI and 6 runs in the 3 games...homered in 6 consecutive starts August 23-30...went deep in 3 straight games August 23-25 vs. Seattle, did not homer as a pinch hitter August 26 vs. Toronto, then went deep in 3 starts in a row August 27 vs. Toronto and August 29-30 vs. New York...in all, homered in 3 straight games 3 times.

SAFE AT HOME: Batted .315 (76-for-241) with 17 homers and 62 RBI in 69 games at Fenway Park and .256 (53-for-207) with 14 long balls and 39 RBI in 59 games on the road.

BIG AUGUST: Set single-month career highs with 11 homers, 24 RBI and 19 runs in August, posting a .723 slugging percentage in 27 games...in all of baseball, only Alex Rodriguez (15) and Frank Thomas (13) hit more homers in the month...the 11 homers were the most by a Red Sox in any calendar month since Nomar Garciaparra hit 11 in July of 1998.

58-JONATHAN PAPELBON RHP

BATS: Right

OPENING DAY AGE: 25

BORN: November 23, 1980 in Baton Rouge, LA

RESIDES: Jacksonville, FL

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 0 years, 64 days

ACQUIRED: Selected in the 4th round of the 2003 First-Year Player Draft

SIGNED BY: Joe Mason (Red Sox)

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2006

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Advanced from Double-A Portland to Triple-A Pawtucket before making his major league debut with 17 appearances (3 starts) for the Red Sox...with Boston, went 3-1 with a 2.65 ERA...in 34.0 innings, struck out 34, holding the opposition to 33 hits and a .260 average...had no record and a 2.25 ERA (4 ER/16.0 IP) in his 3 starts, all Red Sox wins...was 3-1 with 4 holds and a 3.00 ERA (6 ER/18.0 IP) out of the bullpen...closed out the season with 5 scoreless outings (6.0 IP)...did not surrender a run in 10 of his last 11 appearances.

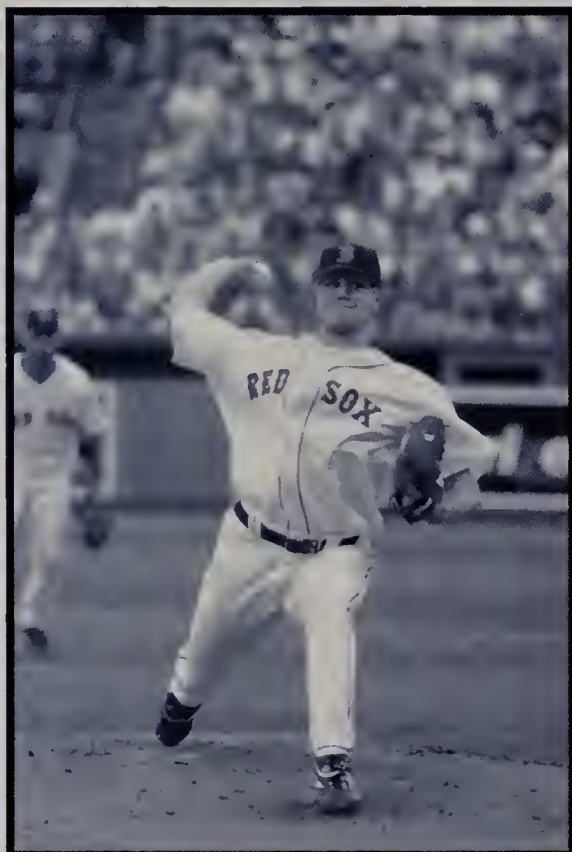

ON THE FAST TRACK: A 4th-round pick in 2003, he is the 2nd member of Boston's 2003 draft class to reach the majors, joining lefty Abe Alvarez, who started one game in 2004.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING: Did not figure in the decision in his major league debut July 31 vs. Minnesota...allowed 3 runs (2 earned) on 4 hits in 5.1 innings...walked 5 and struck out 7...allowed solo homers to Justin Morneau and Jacque Jones...left a 2-2 tie...the Sox went on to win 4-3 on a pinch-hit RBI single by Manny Ramirez with 2 outs in the 8th...Papelbon opened the game by striking out the first 2 hitters he faced in the majors: Shannon Stewart and Luis Rodriguez...earned his first big league win with 3.0 innings of no-hit, no-run relief in a 5-3, 11-inning victory September 12 at Toronto.

MORE RED SOX HIGHLIGHTS: Recalled to make his 2nd start August 16 at Detroit...allowed 2 runs on 6 hits and 2 walks in 5.0 innings, fanning 6...left in a 2-2 tie...down 3-2, the Sox tied the game on a one-out solo homer by David Ortiz in the 9th...Ortiz hit a 3-run homer in a 7-run top of the 10th as the Sox grabbed a 10-3 lead...Boston survived a 4-run Tigers bottom of the 10th to hang on for the win...worked 5.2 scoreless innings August 21 at Los Angeles (AL) before moving into the bullpen...allowed 4 runs in 4.0 innings in his first 3 relief outings before pitching shutout ball in 10 of 11 September/October games...went 3-0 with a 1.29 ERA (2 ER/14.0 IP) in those 11 games...struck out the side in a scoreless inning September 1 vs. Tampa Bay, the start of a 5-game, 7.0 inning scoreless run through September 17...after allowing 2 runs in an inning September 19 at Tampa Bay did not give up a run in 6.0 innings his last 5 times out...worked a perfect inning of relief with one K for win No. 2 September 24 at Baltimore...5 days later against Toronto at Fenway, threw 2.2 scoreless innings and earned his 3rd win when David Ortiz stroked a walk-off single in the 9th.

NUMBERS, PLEASE: Opponents were 1-for-5 attempting to steal...lefties hit just .190 (11-for-58)...righthanders batted .319 (22-for-69)...with men on, held the opposition to a .170 average (9-for-53), including a .160 mark (4-for-25) with men in scoring position...opponents were 0-for-13 with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...with 2 strikes, held foes to a .184 average (14-for-76).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Appeared in Games 2 and 3 of the ALDS vs. Chicago, allowing just 2 hits over 4.0 scoreless innings...walked none and punched out a pair.

2005 AT PORTLAND: Began the season with Double-A Portland, where he was named to the Eastern League's mid-season All-Star team...with the Sea Dogs, went 5-2 with a 2.48 ERA (24 ER/87.0 IP) in 14 starts, limiting opponents to a .196 batting average...struck out 83 and walked only 23 in 87.0 innings...at the time of his promotion to Triple-A, ranked 2nd in the league in ERA and 6th in strikeouts...allowed 2 runs or less in 9 of his 14 starts while pitching 6.0 innings or more in 10 of his starts...began the year 3-1 with a 1.93 ERA (9 ER/42.0 IP) in his first 7 starts...did not allow an earned run in consecutive starts (13.0 IP) April 28 at Binghamton and May 4 at New Britain...in 6 starts from April 28-May 31, went 1-1 with 4 no-decisions despite a 1.38 ERA (6 ER/39.0 IP)...struck out a season-high 12 in 8.0 innings June 11 at Bowie...in his final start with Portland, in game one of a July 2nd doubleheader vs. Norwich, exited the game after pitching 6.0 no-hit innings, walking one and fanning 10...was his first start since June 21 due to a minor hip flexor strain...finished 4-2 with a 4.03 ERA (24 ER/44.2 IP) in 8 starts at Hadlock field and 1-0 with a 0.85 ERA (4 ER/42.1 IP) in 6 road starts...opponents hit just .146 (20-for-137) with one homer on the road...enjoyed his best month in May, going 1-1 with a 1.64 ERA (6 ER/33.0 IP) in 5 starts, allowed just a .120 (12-for-100) average.

2005 WITH PAWTUCKET: Went 1-2 with a save and a 2.93 ERA in 7 games (4 starts) for the PawSox...in 27.2 innings, allowed 21 hits, including 2 homers, and a .208 opponents average...walked only 3, while punching out 27...upon his July 4 promotion from Portland, went 1-2 with a 3.57 ERA (8 ER/22.2 IP) in 4 starts, allowing one earned run in 3 of the 4 starts...in his July 7 Triple-A debut vs. Ottawa, held the Lynx to a run on 3 hits in 6.0 innings, walking none with 7 K's...allowed just one run on 6 hits over 8.0 innings July 21 vs. Louisville, but suffered a 1-0 loss...was promoted to Boston for one start July 31 and optioned back the following day...upon his return to Pawtucket, made his last 3 Triple-A appearances out of the bullpen, working a total of 5.0 no-hit, no-run innings...walked one and fanned 6...in his last Triple-A appearance, August 11 at Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, earned his first professional save, working 3.0 perfect innings and striking out 4...posted a 1.20 ERA (2 ER/15.0 IP) in 3 games (2 starts) at McCoy Stadium.

CAREER NOTES

PROSPECT WATCH: Begins 2006 as the No. 5 prospect in the Red Sox organization, according to Baseball America...with third baseman Andy Marte, the No. 1 prospect, traded to Cleveland in January, Pedroia is the top remaining position player prospect in the BA rankings and trails only pitchers Jon Lester, Jonathan Papelbon and Craig Hansen on the list...BA ranks Pedroia as the best hitter for average in the organization, the player with the best strike zone discipline and the best defensive infielder among Red Sox prospects.

A STRICT DISCIPLINARIAN: Pedroia has worked 77 walks while striking out only 50 times in 159 games (617 at-bats) over his first 2 professional seasons.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his first full pro season, was named Red Sox Minor League Offensive Player of the Year and earned a spot on the Double-A Eastern League's post-season All-Star team...advanced to Triple-A Pawtucket from Double-A Portland on June 22 after batting .324 with a .409 on-base percentage, 19 doubles, 8 homers, 40 RBI and 35 runs in 66 games for the Sea Dogs...battled a wrist injury while playing for the PawSox, batting .255 with 9 doubles, 5 homers, 24 RBI and a .356 on-base percentage in 51 games...played a total of 97 games at second base and 16 games at shortstop, committing only 7 errors.

WITH PORTLAND: The second baseman on the Eastern League's post-season All-Star team, Pedroia ranked 4th in the league in on-base percentage and 5th in batting average at the time of his promotion to the PawSox...was crowned the organization's Minor League Base Runner of the Month for April after legging out 7 doubles and scoring 12 runs in 18 games...took home the Sox' Minor League Quality Plate Appearance Award for the month of June, batting .318 (34-for-107) with 17 walks and only 10 strikeouts in 29 games between Portland (23 games) and Pawtucket (6 games)...batted .319 or better with more walks than strikeouts in all 3 of his months with the Sea Dogs.

WITH PAWTUCKET: Led the PawSox during the month of August with 26 runs scored and was 2nd with 5 home runs and 33 hits after recovering from being hit with a pitch on his right wrist in just his 6th Triple-A game June 27 at Richmond...missed 8 games with the injury from June 28-July 5 and was shelved for another 14 contests from July 18-30 after the wrist had not sufficiently healed...batted just .222 (10-for-45) in his 10 July games...hit .326 (14-for-43) against left-handed pitching.

CAREER NOTES

JUST MANNY BEING MANNY: In 2005, Manny topped 30 homers and 100 RBI for the 8th consecutive season...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, Manny is one of 8 players in baseball history to have registered at least 8 consecutive 30-homer 100-RBI seasons, joining Jimmie Foxx (12 from 1929-40), Lou Gehrig (9 from 1929-37), Rafael Palmeiro (9 from 1995-2003), Sammy Sosa (9 from 1995-2003), Babe Ruth (8 from 1926-33), Albert Belle (8 from 1992-99) and Alex Rodriguez (8 from 1998-2005)...the 30-homer, 100-RBI season was Manny's 10th in the last 11 seasons, his 5th in as many years in Boston...the only other Red Sox with at least 5 seasons of 30 homers are Ted Williams (8) and Jimmie Foxx (5)...Ramirez joins Foxx (1936-40) as the only Red Sox to reach that plateau in 5 consecutive seasons...Manny's 5 seasons with 100 RBI for Boston trail only 4 players in Sox history: Ted Williams (9), Jim Rice (8), Bobby Doerr (6) and Jimmie Foxx (6)...Carl Yastrzemski and Jackie Jensen also had 5 100-RBI seasons for the Sox...Manny's 5 straight 100-RBI seasons represent the 2nd-longest run in club annals behind Jimmie Foxx's run of 6 in a row from 1936-41.

AWARDS AND HONORS: Including each of the last 7 years in a row, Manny has won 8 Silver Slugger Awards (1995, 1999-2005) and a pair of Hank Aaron Awards (1999, 2004)...a 9-time All-Star (1995, 1998-2005), Ramirez has been voted an All-Star starter in each of the last 5 seasons since coming to Boston...only 2 other Red Sox have been selected to start at least 5 or more All-Star Games in a row: Wade Boggs (7 straight, 1986-92) and Carl Yastrzemski (6 straight, 1967-72).

RED SOX

STAYING ACTIVE: Into 2006, Ramirez ranks among active major league leaders in slugging (4th at .599), on-base + slugging (4th at 1.008), batting (tied for 6th at .314), home runs (8th with 435), RBI (8th with 1,414) and on-base percentage (9th at .409).

MILESTONE WATCH: Begins 2006 only 78 hits shy of 2,000 in his career; 15 home runs shy of 450; 86 RBI shy of 1,500; 39 extra-base hits shy of 900; 46 walks shy of 1,000; and 332 total bases shy of 4,000...as a Red Sox, needs one homer for 200; 164 hits for 1,000; 26 doubles for 200; and 90 RBI for 700.

200 HERE, 200 THERE: Manny's first home run of 2006 will be his 200th as a Red Sox...according to SABR home run guru David Vincent, Manny, who hit 236 as an Indian, will become the 4th player in major league history to hit 200 homers with 2 different teams...the other 3: Jimmie Foxx (302 for the Athletics and 222 for the Red Sox), Mark McGwire (363 for the Athletics and 220 for the Cardinals) and Rafael Palmeiro (321 for the Rangers and 223 for the Orioles).

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: With 20 career grand slams (including 3 in 2005 and 7 since joining the Red Sox in 2001), ranks 2nd to only Lou Gehrig (23) in major league history...in club annals, only Ted Williams (17), Rico Petrocelli (9), Bobby Doerr (8) and Jim Rice (8) have hit more grand slams.

MR. OCTOBER: The 2004 World Series MVP, Ramirez hit safely in all 14 post-season games en route to the World Championship, batting .350 (21-for-60) with 3 doubles, 2 homers, 11 RBI and 8 runs scored in leading the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...before going 0-for-4 in Game 1 of the 2005 ALDS at Chicago, Ramirez had hit safely in 17 post-season games in a row, going 24-for-73 (.329) with 4 doubles, 3 homers and 12 RBI...the streak tied for longest in major league post-season history with Yankees Hank Bauer (1956-58) and Derek Jeter (1998-99)...beginning with Game 4 of the 2003 ALDS, Ramirez has hit in 24 of his last 26 post-season contests, batting .336 (36-for-107) with 4 doubles, 7 homers and 22 RBI...with 2 home runs in Game 3 of the 2005 ALDS, Ramirez ran his career post-season home run total to 20, 2nd-most in baseball history and only 2 shy of tying the all-time record...Bernie Williams has hit 22...Manny's 7 post-season homers with the Red Sox are surpassed by only 2 players in club annals...Jason Varitek has 9, while David Ortiz has hit 8.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed another All-Star season, batting .292 with 30 doubles, 45 homers, 144 RBI, 112 runs scored, a .388 on-base percentage and a .594 slugging percentage...won his 7th consecutive Silver Slugger Award (8th overall), his 5th in as many seasons in Boston..matched his career high in home runs (1998 with Cleveland), topping 40 for the 5th time...surpassed his 2005 total of 144 RBI in 1998 (145) and 1999 (165) while playing for Cleveland...became one of 8 players in history with 8 consecutive 30-homer, 100-RBI seasons.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: Ranked among A.L. leaders in home run ratio (first, one every 12.3 at-bats), RBI ratio (first, one every 3.8 at-bats), grand slams (tied for first with 3), home runs (3rd with 45), RBI (3rd with 144), slugging (4th at .394), average with runners in scoring position (4th at .358), total bases (6th with 329), walks (6th with 80), extra-base hits (tied for 6th with 76), runs (tied for 7th with 112) and OBP (7th at .388).

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER 40: With 45 home runs, joined Carl Yastrzemski as just the 2nd player in Red Sox history with 3 seasons of at least 40 long balls...with Boston, drilled 41 in 2001 and a league-leading 43 in 2004...Manny also topped 40 as an Indian in 1998 and 1999.

ONE-TWO PUNCH: David Ortiz (47 homers and 148 RBI) and Manny (45 homers and 144 RBI) combined for 92 home runs and 292 RBI...no pair of teammates in baseball hit more home runs or combined for more RBI...over the last 2 seasons, they are tied for the most home runs in baseball (88 each), while they rank one and 2 in RBI (Ortiz with 287 and Manny with 274)...in club history, no teammates have hit more homers in a season, and only Vern Stephens and Ted Williams combined for more RBI in a season, when they both drove in 159 for a total of 318 in 1949...David and Manny are the first teammates in Red Sox history with consecutive 40-homer seasons...the only other pair of Sox to ever slug 40 long balls in the same season even once is Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...they join Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig (1930-31) as the only teammates in baseball history with consecutive 40-homer, 140-RBI campaigns.

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: With 3 grand slams in 2005--April 16 vs. Tampa Bay off Dewon Brazelton, June 26 at Philadelphia off Brett Myers and July 5 at Texas off Chris Young--ran his career total to 20, 2nd-most in major league history behind only Lou Gehrig (23)...has hit 7 as a member of the Red Sox, trailing only Ted Williams (17), Rico Petrocelli (9), Bobby Doerr (8) and Jim Rice (8) in club history.

SEEING STARS: Named to his 9th All-Star team, Ramirez was voted an All-Star starter for the 5th straight season since coming to Boston...only 2 other Red Sox have been selected to start 5 or more All-Star Games in a row: Wade Boggs (7 straight, 1986-92) and Carl Yastrzemski (6 straight, 1967-72)...starting in left field, went 0-for-2 in the Mid-Summer Classic July 12 in Detroit...grounded into a double play against Chris Carpenter in the first and struck out against Roy Oswalt in the 3rd.

YOUR TURN...

Manny Ramirez and David Ortiz homered in the same game 9 times in 2005 after setting a club record by turning the trick 12 times in 2004...they went deep in the same game 9 times in 2003...having homered in the same game 30 times in 3 seasons, they trail only Dwight Evans and Jim Rice (56) and Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams (38) in club annals.

AS MANNY GOES, SO GO THE SOX: Manny hit .353 (112-for-317) with 17 doubles, 36 homers, 112 RBI, 83 runs scored, a .451 on-base percentage and a .748 slugging percentage in Red Sox wins in 2005...in Boston setbacks, Manny hit .211 (50-for-237) with 13 doubles, a triple, 9 homers, 32 RBI, 29 runs scored, a .297 on-base percentage and a .388 slugging percentage.

CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN DOWN: After starting the season 8-for-38 (.211) with no homers and 4 RBI through his first 10 games, exploded with 5 homers and 12 RBI over his next 3-plus games (10 at-bats)...April 16 vs. Tampa Bay, went 2-for-3 with a pair of homers--including a grand slam off Dewon Brazelton--and all 6 Sox RBI in a 6-2 win...2 days later, on Patriots Day vs. Toronto, went 2-for-2 with 2 more homers, 5 RBI, 2 walks and 3 runs scored in a 12-7 win...April 19 vs. Toronto, crushed a majestic first-inning solo home run off Roy Halladay that sailed above the light tower atop Fenway's left field wall, bounced on the roof of the parking garage across Lansdowne Street and came to rest on the train tracks next to the Massachusetts Turnpike.

SIZZLING FINISH: At .292 to end the season, Manny's batting average was at its highest point since it stood at a 2005-best .294 on April 20...a career .316 hitter into 2005, Manny's average stood at .224 on May 27, but he hit .324 (125-for-386) in 105 games the rest of the way...over his final 17 games beginning September 15, hit .377 (23-for-61) with 10 homers and 22 RBI...Manny went deep 9 times in his last 12 games.

WHATEVER IT TAKES: Was hit by a Keiichi Yabu pitch with the bases loaded to give the Red Sox a walk-off 3-2 win in 10 innings September 16 vs. Oakland...it was the Red Sox' first walk-off hit batsman since June 16, 1997, when Philadelphia's Ricky Bottalico hit Troy O'Leary in the bottom of the 10th to give the Sox to the 5-4 win...the last game-ending hit-by-pitch in the majors had been August 23, 2002 when Atlanta's Kevin Gryboski hit the Dodgers' Paul Lo Duca.

HEROICS: Slammed a 7th-inning 2-run homer off Pete Walker to snap a 4-4 tie and give the Red Sox a 6-4 win July 2 vs. Toronto...singled home a run in the first and snapped a 1-1 tie with a solo homer off Danny Haren in the bottom of the 6th...hit a go-ahead 2-run homer in the 8th inning to give the Red Sox a 5-3 lead July 4 at Texas, but the Rangers rallied for a 6-5 win...one pitch after Joe Crede dropped his foul pop up, Manny slugged a 9th-inning solo homer off Luis Vizcaino to snap a 5-5 tie and give the Sox a 6-5 win July 21 at Chicago (AL)...bounced a pinch-hit RBI single up the middle off Juan Rincon with 2 outs in the bottom of the 8th to give the Red Sox a 4-3 win over the Twins and a sweep of the 3-game series July 31 at Fenway...knocked in both Boston runs in a 2-1 win September 18 vs. Oakland.

THE LONG ARM OF THE LAW: Led major league outfielders with 17 assists, his highest single-season total since ringing up a career-high 19 assists with the Indians in 1996...the last Red Sox outfielder to record more assists in a single season was Jim Rice with 21 in 1983.

SUMMARY: Capped his finest season as a Red Sox with his first career American League home run crown then earned Most Valuable Player honors in the World Series...batted .308 with 44 doubles, 43 homers, 130 RBI, 348 total bases, 108 runs scored, 82 walks, a .613 slugging percentage and a .397 on-base percentage in a team-high 152 games...topped 30 long balls and 100 RBI for the 7th season in a row, a streak matched only by Alex Rodriguez over the last 7 seasons.

IF THE CROWN FITS...: With 43 homers, Ramirez captured his first career home run title, the first by a Red Sox since Tony Armas clubbed 43 homers in 1984...it was the 18th home run title in franchise history.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: In addition to leading the league in homers, Manny topped the A.L. in home run ratio (one every 13.2 at-bats), slugging (.613) and OPS (1.010) and ranked 2nd with 87 extra-base hits, tied for 2nd with an RBI every 4.4 at-bats, 3rd with 130 RBI, 4th with 348 total bases and 7th with a .340 average with runners in scoring position.

SEEING STARS: Named to his 7th All-Star team, (1995, 1998-99, 2001-2004), Ramirez was voted an All-Star starter for the 4th straight season since coming to Boston...only 2 other Red Sox have been selected to start 4 or more All-Star Games in a row: Wade Boggs (7 straight, 1986-92) and Carl Yastrzemski (6 straight, 1967-72)...Manny hit a first-inning 2-run homer off Roger Clemens in the Mid-Summer Classic in Houston.

ONE-TWO PUNCH: Manny and David Ortiz became the first pair of A.L. teammates since Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in 1931 to both bat .300 with 40 homers and 100 RBI...in major league history, the feat has been accomplished only 11 other times (including by Albert Pujols and Jim Edmonds of the Cardinals in 2004)...Ruth and Gehrig are the only other A.L. teammates to turn the trick (in 1927, 1930 and 1931)...Ortiz and Ramirez were also the first pair of teammates in major league history with 40 homers and 40 doubles in a season...the only other Red Sox teammates to club 40 long balls in the same season are Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...Ramirez (130 RBI) and Ortiz (139 RBI) became only the 3rd pair of Sox to reach 130 RBI in the same season...Vern Stephens and Ted Williams both knocked in 159 in 1949, and Walt Dropo and Stephens plated 144 each in 1950.

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: With 2 grand slams in 2004--August 20 at Chicago off Mark Buehrle and September 10 at Seattle off Aaron Taylor, ran his career total to 17, one behind active leader Robin Ventura and 5th-most in major league history behind Lou Gehrig (23), Eddie Murray (19), Willie McCovey (18) and Ventura.

SPREADING THE WEALTH: With his first career homer against the Dodgers on June 12, Manny has homered against 26 of the 30 major league clubs...he has not gone deep against the Rockies or Giants, both of whom he faced for the first time in his career in 2004...he's never faced the Diamondbacks and has not gone deep in 7 career games (25 at-bats) against the Cubs...10 active major leaguers have homered against all 30 clubs.

PINCH ME, I'M DREAMING: Manny collected only the 2nd pinch hit of his major league career when he delivered a 9th-inning single off Brendan Donnelly July 16...now 2-for-18 in the pinch all-time, Manny's last pinch hit came during his first major league season, September 21, 1993 vs. Baltimore...batting for Sam Horn, he singled in the bottom of the 8th against Jim Poole.

IN THE POSTSEASON: The World Series MVP, Ramirez hit safely in all 14 post-season games, batting .350 (21-for-60) with 3 doubles, 2 homers, 11 RBI and 8 runs scored...went 5-for-13 (.385) with 2 doubles, a homer, a team-high 7 RBI and 3 runs scored in the 3-game ALDS vs. Anaheim, driving in at least 2 in each game...was 2-for-5 with a double, a homer, 3 RBI and 2 runs in Game 1...took Scot Shields deep with 2 on in the 4th, part of a 7-run explosion in a 9-3 win...had a double in 3 tries and knocked in a pair in Game 2...was 2-for-5 with 2 RBI in Game 3...batted .300 (9-for-30) with a double and 3 runs scored in the 7-game ALCS vs. the Yankees...was 2-for-3 with 3 walks and a run scored in Game 4 and 2-for-6 in Game 5...earned World Series MVP honors, batting .412 (7-for-17) with a homer and 4 RBI in the 4-game sweep vs. St. Louis...went 3-for-5 and drove in a pair in Game 1...went 2-for-4 with a homer, 2 RBI and a key outfield assist in Game 3...after staking the Sox to a 1-0 lead with a first-inning home run off Jeff Suppan, helped Pedro Martinez and the Red Sox escape a bases-loaded, one-out jam in the bottom of the inning, catching a Jim Edmonds fly ball, then throwing out Larry Walker at home plate.

SUMMARY: Slammed a team-leading 37 homers, drove in 104 runs, scored 117 and ranked 2nd in the league with a .325 batting average in a career-high 154 games...voted to start the All-Star Game, he led the A.L. with a .427 on-base percentage, aided by a career-high 97 bases on balls...was intentionally walked a league-high 28 times, most ever by a Red Sox right-handed hitter...finished 6th in A.L. MVP voting, his 6th straight top 10 finish...won his 6th A.L. Silver Slugger Award, his 5th in a row.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: Led the American League with a .427 on-base percentage, his 2nd straight OBP crown, and 28 intentional walks...reached base 290 times, 2nd to only Toronto's Carlos Delgado (300) in the A.L...after winning the 2002 batting title, was 2nd in batting at .325, one point behind teammate Bill Mueller...his 117 runs scored and .587 slugging percentage were both 4th-best in the league...trailed only Delgado in the A.L. with a 1.014 OPS (on-base percentage + slugging percentage)...his 97 walks were 5th in the league, while his 37 homers were 7th in the A.L...ranked 8th in the A.L. with 334 total bases and 9th with a career-high 185 hits...led the league with a .385 average vs. lefthanders...was 7th in the league with an average of one homer every 15.4 at-bats...grounded into 22 double plays, 3rd-most in the league.

SEEING STARS: Although he did not attend to rest a tender hamstring, Manny was named to his 7th career All-Star team, voted to start for the 5th year in a row.

ANYTHING YOU CAN DO...: The combo of Manny and David Ortiz homered in the same game 9 times in 2003, as did the combo of Manny and Trot Nixon...only 4 Sox tandems have homered in the same game more often in a season:

PLAYERS	YEAR	GAMES
Jim Rice and George Scott	1977	11
Jimmie Foxx and Ted Williams	1940	11
Fred Lynn and Jim Rice	1979	10
George Scott and Carl Yastrzemski	1977	10
Manny Ramirez and David Ortiz	2003	9
Manny Ramirez and Trot Nixon	2003	9
Dwight Evans and Jim Rice	1982	9
Butch Hobson and George Scott	1977	9
Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski	1969	9

ANYTIME, ANYPLACE: Ramirez ranked among American League leaders in batting average during the day (tied for 6th at .321) and at night (5th at .327), at home (7th at .331) and on the road (tied for 7th at .320)...he hit .326 with the bases empty and .325 with men on...hit .338 with runners in scoring position and .370 with men in scoring position and 2 outs.

I MEANT TO DO THAT: Led the A.L. with 28 intentional walks, 5 shy of the Boston and A.L. record of 33, set by Ted Williams in 1957 and matched by John Olerud of the Blue Jays in 1993...Ramirez's total was a career high and most ever by a Red Sox right-handed hitter.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had 23 go-ahead RBI, 2nd to only David Ortiz (24) on the club...added 10 game-tying RBI and 41 two-out RBI...had 34 multiple-hit games, including 11 games with 3 hits...drove in 2 or more runs 29 times, including 7 games with 3 RBI and 3 games with 4 RBI...hit .385 with 8 homers vs. lefthanders and .305 with 29 homers vs. righthanders...hit .331 with 18 long balls and 48 RBI at Fenway Park and a team-best .320 with 19 homers and 56 RBI on the road...batted .345 with 28 homers in innings 1-6 and .280 with 9 homers from the 7th inning on.

HEROICS: April 4 at Baltimore, teamed with Nomar Garciaparra on a relay to the plate to gun down Deivi Cruz with the tying run to end an 8-7 win over the Orioles...scored the go-ahead run in a 6-5 win May 10 at Minnesota on an alert base-running play, dashing home from third when Torii Hunter's throw to the infield got away on a fly ball to shallow center...singled home Todd Walker for a walk-off 3-2 win over Houston in 14 innings on June 15, completing a 3-game sweep...hit a game-tying single with 2 outs in the bottom of the 9th July 19 vs. Toronto, and the Sox went on to win in 10...made a sliding catch in the left field corner with 2 outs in the top of the 9th to save a come-from-behind 6-4 win over the Yankees July 27 at Fenway...down 3-2 August 9 vs. Baltimore, hit a game-tying homer in the 6th and the Sox went on to a 6-4 win...with the Sox trailing Oakland 2-1 in the 9th and on the verge of losing 3 of 4, slammed a leadoff homer off Keith Foulke to tie the game...Boston went on to win 4-2 in 10, salvaging a split of the 4-game set.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Tied for 5th in the A.L. with 11 outfield assists, the 2nd-highest total of his career...had 19 with the Indians in 1996...made 4 errors and posted a .982 fielding percentage, playing 128 games (126 starts) in left field.

ETC.: Batted 4th in every game in which he appeared...opened the season by hitting safely in 9 in a row, running his hitting streak over 2 seasons to 22 games...hit .342 (13-for-38) during the season-opening 9-game tear...went 4-for-4 with 2 doubles, a homer and 4 RBI in an 11-4 win in game one of a June 3 twinbill at Pittsburgh...walked a career-high 5 times (twice intentionally) June 12 vs. St. Louis...his lone multi-homer game of 2003 came July 3 at Tampa Bay...July 21 vs. Detroit, went 4-for-4 with a double, a homer and 3 RBI...doubled twice, hit his 30th homer, scored 3 and knocked in 3 in a 14-5 win August 21 vs. Oakland...did not play between August 28 and September 3 due to a severe case of pharyngitis.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Hit .265 (13-for-49) with a double, 3 homers and 7 RBI in 12 post-season games against the Athletics and Yankees...went 4-for-20 (.200) with a homer, 3 RBI and a pair of runs in the ALDS vs. Oakland...after going 1-for-12 in the first 3 games, was 2-for-4 in Game 4 and, in the decisive Game 5, delivered the blast that propelled the Red Sox into the ALCS, a 6th-inning 3-run homer off Barry Zito, snapping a 1-1 tie in an eventual 4-3 win...batted .310 (9-for-29) with a double, 2 homers, 4 RBI and 6 runs in the ALCS...was 4-for-5 with a 5th-inning solo homer off Mike Mussina in the Game 1 win at Yankee Stadium...delivered a 2-run single off Roger Clemens to get the scoring started in Game 3 at Fenway...hit a solo homer leading off the 4th off David Wells in Game 5...doubled in a 3-run 7th and scored twice in the Game 6 win in New York.

SUMMARY: Clinched his first A.L. batting title with a .349 batting average...despite appearing in only 120 games due to a fractured left index finger, slugged 33 homers and knocked in 107 en route to his 5th Silver Slugger Award, his 4th in as many years...was named to his 6th A.L. PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

1999: Earned his first career All-Star start and tied for 3rd in A.L. MVP voting after batting .333 with 44 homers (4th-most in Cleveland history) and a league-leading and career-high 165 RBI...ranked among the top 5 in the league in all 3 Triple Crown categories, first in RBI, 3rd in homers and 5th in batting average...broke Hal Trosky's 1936 club RBI record of 162 RBI September 30 vs. Toronto, when he ran his season total to 164 with a 3-run homer off John Bale...was the first player since Jimmie Foxx in 1938 to top 160 RBI and the first Indian ever with back-to-back seasons of 130 or more RBI...his ratio of 1.12 RBI per game is tied for 10th all-time with Babe Ruth (1931) and Hank Greenberg (1935)...the ratio was baseball's best since Jimmie Foxx's 1.17 in 1938...was named to The Sporting News All-Star team for the 2nd time and was also named to the A.L. Silver Slugger Team for the 2nd time...named Indians Co-Man of the Year after also ranking among league leaders in slugging (first at .663), OPS (first at 1.105), on-base percentage (2nd at .442), extra-base hits (3rd with 81), runs scored (4th with a career-best 131), total bases (4th with 346), times on base (6th with 283), hit by pitches (7th with a career-high 13), sac flies (7th with 9) and walks (9th with 96).

1998: Was named Indians Man of the Year after batting .294 with a career-high 45 home runs (3rd-most in club annals) and 145 RBI in 150 games...finished 6th in A.L. MVP voting and was named to his 2nd All-Star team...ranked among A.L. leaders in homers (3rd), RBI (4th), extra-base hits (4th with a career-high 82), slugging (4th at .599), total bases (8th at 342) and OPS (9th at .976)...joined Frank Howard (1968) as the 2nd player in history to hit 8 homers in a 5-game span September 15-19...the barrage included a 3-homer game September 15 vs. Toronto...toured Japan with a major league All-Star team following the season.

1996: Topped 30 homers and 100 RBI for the 2nd year in a row, batting .309 with 33 long balls and 112 driven in...tied for the A.L. lead with 3 grand slams, finished 5th with 81 extra-base hits, 6th with a career-best 45 doubles and 9th with 320 total bases...led A.L. outfielders with a career-high 19 assists.

1995: Won his first career Silver Slugger Award and was named to The Sporting News All-Star Team after hitting .308 with 26 doubles, a triple, 31 homers and 107 RBI in 137 games...became just the 25th player in major league history with a 30-homer, 100 RBI season at the age of 23 or younger, just the 2nd Indian (Hal Trosky in 1934 and 1936)...was selected by Buck Showalter as a reserve on the A.L. All-Star team, his first trip to the Mid-Summer Classic...was named A.L. Player of the Month for May after batting .394 (39-for-99) with 8 doubles, 11 homers and 27 RBI...smoked his first career grand slam August 4 vs. Chicago off Jason Bere...Manny and Albert Belle combined for 81 homers, most ever by a pair of Cleveland teammates...signed a 4-year contract with a club option for 2000 on December 7.

1994: Finished 2nd to Kansas City's Bob Hamelin in Rookie of the Year voting after a debut season in which he batted .269 with 17 homers and 60 RBI in 91 games...was named the 3rd-best rookie by Baseball America behind Raul Mondesi of the Dodgers and Hamelin of the Royals...Manny was 2nd among A.L. rookies in almost every offensive category including hits, doubles, home runs and RBI...following the season, played for Aguilas in the Dominican Winter League.

1993: Was named Minor League Player of the Year by Baseball America, combining to hit .333 (163-for-489) with 31 homers and 115 RBI in 129 games with Double-A Canton-Akron and Triple-A Charlotte...Baseball America named him the No. 2 Prospect in the Eastern League...was promoted to Triple-A Charlotte July 19, where his teammates included Jim Thome, Alan Embree and Sam Horn...had his contract purchased by Cleveland September 1, and made his major league debut the next day, going 0-for-4 at Minnesota...in his 2nd game, September 3 at New York, he went 3-for-4 a double, 2 homers, 3 RBI and 3 runs scored...his first big league hit was a double off Melido Perez, and his first homer came off Perez in the same game.

1992: Due to injury, played in only 81 games at Single-A Kinston, where he hit .278 with 13 homers and 63 RBI...was named the No. 3 Prospect and the Most Exciting Player in the Carolina League by Baseball America...collected 47 RBI in 47 games May 1-June 30, including at least one in 7 straight games June 4-10...severely bruised the hamate bone in his left hand on July 4 and appeared in just one more game...was 2nd in the league in RBI at the time of injury...batted .302 (25-for-83) in the Florida Instructional League.

1991: Made his pro debut for Burlington of the Rookie-level Appalachian League...took home league MVP honors and was named short-season Player of the Year by Baseball America...won the league home run and RBI titles, barely missing the Triple Crown when he finished 3rd in batting at .326...slugged 19 homers and knocked in 63 in 59 games...also led the league in slugging (.679) and total bases (146)...won Howe SportsData Minor League Player of the Week recognition for the week of August 11-17 after homering in 4 straight games.

CAREER NOTES

THREE-YEAR RETURNS: Into 2006, Riske has appeared in at least 58 games and logged more than 70.0 innings in each of the last 3 seasons, going 12-9 with 14 saves and a 3.04 ERA (76 ER/224.2 IP) in 198 games over that span...drafted by the Indians in the 56th round in 1996 (1,560th overall selection), he enters 2006 17-12 with 16 saves and a 3.55 ERA (125 ER/317.1 IP) in 287 career big league games, all in relief...has averaged more than one strikeout per inning pitched in his career, fanning 318 in 317.1 innings into 2006...has limited opposing batters to a .227 career average, including a .205 clip by lefties.

SUMMARY: Capped his Cleveland career with a superb campaign out of the bullpen, going 3-4 with one save and a 3.10 ERA in 58 relief appearances...limited foes to a .208 batting average, the 11th-lowest mark among all American League relievers...was equally dominant against both righties (.204) and lefties (.213)...with 72.2 innings, reached 70.0 frames in relief for the 3rd-straight season...allowed only 7 of 30 inherited runners to score, good for a 76.7 prevention rate that tied for 12th in the league.

GREAT START, STRONG FINISH: Posted 14.0 consecutive scoreless innings from April 11-May 17, the longest streak by an Indians reliever in 2005, and did not allow an earned run through his first 17.0 frames, covering 13 appearances...after allowing a career-high 3 home runs June 25 vs. Cincinnati, accounting for 4 earned runs in 1.0 inning of work (capping a stretch during which he allowed a total of 9 earned runs in 4-straight outings), posted a 2.72 ERA (11 ER/36.1 IP) in 29 appearances from June 29 through the end of the season...in fact, if the June 25 hiccup were to be removed from Riske's end-of-season totals, he would boast a 2.64 ERA in his remaining 57 outings.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Issued only 15 walks in 72.2 innings, an average of only 1.86 walks per 9 innings...collected all 3 wins on the road and his one save at home...overall, made exactly 29 appearances at home and on the road, posting a 3.72 ERA at Jacobs Field (16 ER/38.2 IP) and a 2.38 ERA (9 ER/34.0 IP) away from the Jake...recorded a near microscopic 0.38 ERA in 17 outings during the day, allowing just one run in 23.2 innings with a .175 batting average against...went 2-0 with one save and a 1.42 ERA (2 ER/10.2 IP) in 10 outings when pitching without a day of rest...allowed a .131 batting average (16-for-122) once the count reached 2 strikes...limited opponents to a .220 batting average with runners on base, 18th among league relievers, and allowed just a .212 batting average with runners in scoring position...held first batters faced to a .151 batting average, and walked only 3 of his first 58 batters faced all season.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Pitched 1.0 inning or more in 50 of 58 appearances, more than 1.0 inning in 25 outings...did not issue more than one walk in any outing all season, and walked none in 43 appearances...had a season-high 4 strikeouts May 6 at Texas (1.2 innings)...recorded his lone save May 27 vs. Oakland, his first since July 17, 2004 at Seattle...posted a 1.80 ERA in 12 July outings, allowing only 3 earned runs in 15.0 innings...pitched a season-high 2.2 innings in his final outing October 2 vs. the White Sox, allowing no runs and scattering 3 hits...despite a 7.50 ERA in September, finished strong by posting a 1.29 ERA (1 ER/7.0 IP) in his final 5 appearances.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Began the season as Cleveland's closer, struggled in the spot and returned to the set-up position in mid-May, where he blossomed and regained his dominant form...appearing in a career-high 72 games, he went 7-3 with 5 saves and a 3.72 ERA, fanning 78 batters in 77.1 innings...tied for 4th in the league in relief wins, tied for 12th in appearances and ranked 15th in relief innings pitched...after carrying a 12.34 ERA (16 ER/11.2 IP) thru his first 12 outings of the season, turned his season around as a set-up man, going 7-2 with a 2.19 ERA (16 ER/65.2 IP) in his final 60 appearances to lower his ERA 8.62 points to a season-ending 3.72...won a career-high and 2004 Cleveland season-high 7 decisions in a row from May 29-August 25, the longest winning streak among all major league relievers and tied for the 7th-longest winning streak in the American League all season...as a closer to start the year, blew his first 2 save chances Opening Day at Minnesota on April 6 and April 10 at Kansas City before recording his first 2 saves April 18 vs. Detroit and April 22 vs. Kansas City...was removed from the closer's role after posting an ERA of 12.27 in 8 April outings...would soon turn in his best months of the season in June (1.00 ERA, 2 ER/18.0 IP with 26 strikeouts) and August (1.76 ERA, 3 ER/15.1 IP)...in his final 32 outings from July 22 through the end of the season, had a 2.03 ERA (7 ER/31.0 IP), while his ERA after August 2 was 1.73 (5 ER/26.0 IP) in 27 outings...26 of his 35 2nd-half outings were scoreless...fanned a season-high 5 batters June 11 vs. Cincinnati...ranked 2nd on the club with 9 holds...his .224 batting average allowed vs. lefties was 12th-best among league pitchers.

2003: Turned in another consistent campaign, concluding as the club's closer for the final 6 weeks and going 7-for-7 in save opportunities...overall, went 2-2 with 8 saves and a 2.29 ERA, the 8th-lowest ERA among American League relievers...led the club with 17 holds (tied for 10th in the league) finished 2nd on the team with 68 appearances and 8 saves...his .138 batting average vs. lefties was the lowest in the A.L...ranked fourth among league relievers with a .196 batting average against and was 5th with a .181 average against with runners on base...only 9 of his 39 inherited runners scored, the 8th-best percent (23) in the league...got off to a shaky start, allowing 6 runs and 2 home runs in his first 4 appearances (covering 4.1 innings) and took a 12.46 ERA into his 5th outing of the season...suffered a blown save on Opening Day at Baltimore, March 31, allowing a 2-run homer to Marty Cordova...after posting a 4.22 ERA (5 ER/10.2 IP) in 8 outings in April, finished the season by posting an ERA of 2.84 or lower in each of the season's final 5 months, 1.98 or lower in 4 of the months...in fact, he boasted a microscopic 1.66 ERA (13 ER/70.1 IP) in his final 64 outings of the season, a 1.56 ERA (10 ER/57.2 IP) in his final 55 outings, and a 1.07 ERA (3 ER/25.1 IP) in his final 24 games from July 27 on...did not allow an earned run in 14 consecutive outings, covering 13.1 innings, for a month from May 15-June 15...posted a 0.66 ERA (1 ER/13.2 IP) in 13 outings in August, holding foes to a .109 batting average...was named the club's closer on August 15 and saved all 7 chances through the rest of the year...issued only 20 walks while fanning 82 in 74.2 innings, an average of 2.4 walks and 9.9 strikeouts per 9 innings...limited opponents to a .191 batting average with runners in scoring position, a .205 mark in such situations and 2 outs...was practically unhittable when the count reached 2 strikes, holding opponents to a .109 batting average...opponents batted just .050 (1-for-20) when facing a 3-2 count...the Indians went 40-28 (.588) in games in which he appeared...retired 69 percent of first batters faced (47-of-68).

2002: Split the season between the Indians, Triple-A Buffalo and the disabled list, going 2-2 with a 5.26 ERA in 51 big league outings...struck out 65 in 51.1 innings with the Tribe, an average of 11.4 strikeouts per 9 innings, the 3rd-best mark among relievers in the majors...after a fantastic spring during which he posted a 0.75 ERA (1 ER/12.0 IP) in 10 outings, carried that momentum into April by not allowing an earned run in his first 8 outings and taking a 3.86 ERA (5 ER/11.2 IP) into May...struggled in May and June, combining to go 1-1 with a 7.31 ERA (13 ER/16.0 IP) in 21 outings before being placed on the 15-day disabled list on June 19 with a lower back and right hamstring strain...was on the shelf through July 17 after making 4 rehab outings with Triple-A Akron from July 4-14...upon his activation, made 2 outings (2 ER/3.0 IP) and was optioned to Buffalo July 20 when Charles Nagy returned from injury...was recalled on August 15 for the rest of the season...much like April, posted a solid September by going 1-0 with a 3.29 ERA (5 ER/13.2 IP), including a 1.59 ERA (2 ER/11.1 IP) in his final 8 appearances of the season...struck out a career-high 6 batters September 11 vs. Toronto.

2001: Established himself as a reliable big league set-up man following a strong 2nd half with the Indians after beginning the campaign with Triple-A Buffalo...stayed healthy through the entire season after spending nearly all of 2000 on the disabled list with back and shoulder problems...went 2-0 with a 1.98 ERA in 26 relief outings for the Tribe, limiting foes to a .206 batting average...tossed scoreless ball in 21 of the 26 outings...made a brief 4-day appearance with Cleveland from June 23-26, returned to Buffalo and then was recalled to the Indians on July 23 for the rest of the season...made his 2001 Indians debut June 25 at New York, tossing 2.2 scoreless frames, a career high...was impressive in August, going 1-0 with one save and a 2.13 ERA (3 ER/12.2 IP) in 12 appearances...earned his first career save August 22 at Oakland...his August 26 win at Seattle was the 2nd of his career, and his 2nd against his hometown Mariners...in his last 15 outings from August 22 through the end of the season, went 2-0 with a 2.89 ERA (3 ER/9.1 IP)...overall, limited foes to a .161 batting average (5-for-31) with runners in scoring position, including a .067 mark (1-for-15) in those situations and 2 outs...in the Division Series vs. Seattle, provided 3 scoreless outings covering 3.2 innings, fanning 5...spent the first half of the season with Buffalo, going 1-2 with a 2.36 ERA in 38 relief outings...the 15 saves ranked 5th in the International League at the time of his 2nd recall to Cleveland.

2000: Battled injuries for nearly the entire season and was limited to just 5 appearances between Double-A Akron and Triple-A Buffalo...reported to spring training in February and began experiencing soreness in his lower back...was diagnosed as a bulging disc, and he was placed on the disabled list March 25...began a 30-day rehab assignment in Akron on April 22, then made 2 relief outings for Buffalo on April 25 and 28 before feeling more pain in the region...had surgery May 5 in Cleveland by Dr. Louis Keppler to repair the bulging disc...was transferred to the 60-day disabled list May 29...began a rehab assignment with Akron on August 28 and was activated by the Indians on September 4, but did not pitch again...attempted to pitch for Buffalo in the International League playoffs but experienced pain in his throwing shoulder...was placed back on the 60-day disabled list on September 14 with a torn labrum in his right shoulder and had surgery September 26 in Los Angeles by Dr. Lewis Yocum.

1999: Turned in another sensational minor league campaign and got his first taste of the big leagues during the final 7 weeks of the season...began the season in Double-A Akron, where he allowed only 5 hits in 23.2 innings en route to 12 saves and a 1.90 ERA in 23 outings...held Eastern League batters to a .067 average (5-for-75) with one homer and 33 strikeouts in 23.2 innings...promoted to Triple-A Buffalo June 21, he went 3-0 with 4 saves and a 0.79 ERA in 19 outings to earn his first call to the majors on August 9, when his contract was purchased by the Indians...made his major league debut August 14 vs. Baltimore and pitched a scoreless 9th inning, fanning Albert Belle looking to end the frame...earned his first major league win in his hometown of Seattle on August 22 at Safeco Field, tossing 1.2 scoreless innings...was placed on the disabled list August 31 with a strained left oblique muscle and began a rehab assignment on September 2, appearing in 4 games and tossing 5.0 hitless innings...was activated on September 10 and remained with the Tribe the rest of the way, going 1-1 with an 8.36 ERA in 12 relief appearances...was eligible for post-season play, but was not on the 25-man Division Series roster...at the minor league level, combined to go 3-0 with 18 saves and a 1.23 ERA (7 ER/51.1 IP) in 46 outings...held minor league hitters to a combined .113 batting average against (19-for-168), surrendering only one long ball.

1998: Earned Indians Minor League Pitcher of the Year and Carolina League Reliever of the Year kudos...went 1-1 with a league-high 33 saves and a 2.33 ERA in 53 outings for Single-A Kinston...won league Rolands Reliever of the Year honors with 99 points and was a mid-season and post-season CL All-Star...struck out 67 in 54.0 innings, an average of 11.2 strikeouts per 9 innings...was promoted to Double-A Akron on September 1 and made 2 scoreless outings, notching one save...the 34 saves in 1998 ranked 3rd among all minor leaguers...was named best reliever in the Carolina League by Baseball America.

A TALE OF THREE SEASONS: Began the year on the D.L. as he continued his recovery from off-season surgery on his right ankle...was activated April 13 and made 3 starts, going 1-2 with an 8.15 ERA (16 ER/17.2 IP) before returning to the D.L. April 29 (retroactive to April 24) with a right ankle bone bruise...was activated July 13 and went into the Boston bullpen, assuming the role of closer due to Keith Foulke's knee problems...between July 14 and August 21, made 21 relief appearances, going 4-3 with 9 saves in 11 chances and a 5.18 ERA (14 ER/24.1 IP), working regularly from the pen for the first time since 1992 with the Phillies...on August 25, returned to the starting rotation, where he closed out the regular season by going 3-3 with a 5.08 ERA (29 ER/51.1 IP) in 8 starts.

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: With 87 strikeouts in 93.1 innings, climbed into a tie with Mickey Lolich for 16th place on the all-time strikeout list...ranks 5th among active pitchers behind Roger Clemens (4,502), Randy Johnson (4,372), Greg Maddux (3,052) and Pedro Martinez (2,861).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Completed at least 6.0 innings in each of his last 7 starts...the Red Sox scored 46 runs in his 4 wins as a starter (11.5 per game)...opponents hit .314 (121-for-385) with 12 homers, including a .343 average (61-for-178) and 8 homers by right-handed hitters...the opposition registered a .423 average (55-for-130) when hitting one of the first 2 pitches of an at-bat and a .259 average (66-for-255) thereafter...of the 12 homers he allowed, 6 came among his first 15 pitches of a game.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Picked up his first victory of the season on Patriots Day, winning a 12-7 shootout with the Blue Jays...allowed 5 runs on 10 hits in 5.0 innings, striking out a season-high 10...the 10-K game was his 91st all-time, 6th-most in major league history, 4th among active pitchers...moving to the pen, picked up his first relief wins since April 27, 1992 with Philadelphia at San Diego...his saves were his first since May 3, 1992 with the Phillies at San Francisco...September 10 at Yankee Stadium, beat the Yankees 9-2 for his first win in his 4th start since returning to the rotation...allowed 2 runs on 5 hits in a season-high 8.0 innings...2 starts later, limited the Devil Rays to 2 runs on 5 hits in 7.0 innings in a 15-2 win at Fenway...after a no-decision against Toronto, won his final start of the season on the final day of the season, beating the Yankees 10-1 October 2 at Fenway...gave up a run on 8 hits in 6.0 innings.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Having beaten the Yankees on the final day of the regular season to help the Red Sox secure a playoff spot, did not pitch in the ALDS vs. Chicago...was scheduled to start Game 4; however, the White Sox completed a 3-game sweep.

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, led the majors with 21 wins and posted an A.L.-best .778 winning percentage (21-6) en route to his 6th career All-Star selection...was named Red Sox Pitcher of the Year by the Boston Baseball Writers after turning in a heroic post-season performance in helping the Red Sox to their first World Championship since 1918...finished 2nd to Minnesota's Johan Santana in A.L. Cy Young Award voting...ended the regular season with a 3.26 ERA and limited opponents to a .239 average in 33 starts...ranked among the league's top 10 in wins, winning percentage, ERA, strikeouts, innings pitched, opponents average, walks per 9 innings and strikeouts per 9 innings...the Red Sox were 25-7 in his 32 starts (with wins in his last 9 in a row and 10 of his last 11)...22 of Schilling's 32 starts were quality starts...received an average of 6.9 runs of support (221 runs in 32 starts)...ended the year on an 8-game winning streak...was 8-0 with a 2.42 ERA (18 ER/67.0 IP) over his final 9 starts...his last loss came August 9 vs. Tampa Bay.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD: Ranked among A.L. leaders in victories (first with 21), winning percentage (first at .778), ERA (2nd at 3.26), strikeouts (3rd with 203), innings pitched (3rd with 226.2), opponents average (4th at .239), strikeouts per 9 innings (tied for 5th at 8.1), complete games (tied for 5th with 3) and starts (tied for 8th with 33)...led the majors with an average of 7.54 runs worth of support per 9 innings pitched...averaged 5.8 K's for every walk allowed, the best ratio in the A.L. and 3rd-best in the majors behind Milwaukee's Ben Sheets and Arizona's Randy Johnson...was 2nd in the A.L. to Johan Santana and 4th in the majors, allowing just 9.77 base runners per 9 innings.

SEEING STARS: Was named to his 6th career All-Star Game, his first in the A.L...traveled to Houston, but did not appear in the Mid-Summer Classic to rest his ailing ankle.

BIG WINNER: With an 11-4 win September 16 vs. Tampa Bay, Schilling became the first 20-game winner in baseball in 2004, reaching 20 wins for the 3rd time in his career, the 3rd time in the last 4 years...he won 22 games in 2001 and 23 games in 2002 for Arizona...with the 46th 20-win season in club annals, Schilling became just the 8th pitcher in Red Sox history to win 20 in his first season in Boston...in the last 37 years, 6 other pitchers have won 20 for the Sox: Jim Lonborg (1967), Luis Tiant (1973-74, 1976), Dennis Eckersley (1978), Roger Clemens (1986-87, 1990), Pedro Martinez (1999, 2002) and Derek Lowe (2002).

BESTING THE BEST: Finished the year 12-0 with a 2.94 ERA (32 ER/98.0 IP) in 14 starts against clubs that ended the year with a better-than-.500 record...was a combined 6-0 with a 2.86 ERA (16 ER/50.1 IP) in 7 starts against playoff teams New York (2-0, 4.82), Minnesota (1-0, 1.29), Anaheim (2-0, 2.30) and Atlanta (1-0, 1.00).

ABOVE AVERAGE: Opponents hit just .239 (206-for-861), 4th-best in the league...lefties batted .238 (110-for-462) with 6 homers...righthanders hit .241 (96-for-399) with 17 long balls...held the opposition to a .217 average (81-for-373) after the All-Star break...limited foes to a .271 on-base percentage (2nd in the A.L. to only Minnesota's Johan Santana at .249) and a .387 slugging percentage (5th in the A.L.).

STOPPER: Went 10-3 with a 2.86 ERA (34 ER/107.0 IP) in 15 starts after a Boston loss...in his last 8 starts after a Sox setback, went 7-0 with a 2.05 ERA (14 ER/61.1 IP).

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE: Led the American League and tied Houston's Roger Clemens for the major league lead with 12 home wins...finished 12-1 with a 3.45 ERA (49 ER/127.2 IP) in 18 starts at Fenway Park and 9-5 with a 3.00 ERA (33 ER/99.0 IP) in 14 starts on the road...finished 4th in the A.L. in road ERA...opponents hit .238 (116-for-488) with 15 homers at Fenway and .241 (90-for-373) with 8 long balls on the road.

HE COULD GO ALL THE WAY: Led the staff and tied for 5th in the A.L. with 3 complete games...allowed a run on 5 hits, walked none and fanned 8 May 8 vs. Kansas City...gave up just a run on 6 hits, walked one and registered 10 K's July 3 at Atlanta...went the distance August 3 at Tampa Bay, surrendering 2 runs on 6 hits with a walk and 7 punch outs...worked at least 7.0 innings in 23 of his 32 starts, at least 8.0 in 8.

ANY TIME, ANY PLACE: Was remarkably consistent with a 3.45 ERA at home and a 3.00 mark (4th-best in the A.L.) on the road...was 7-0 with a 2.71 ERA during the day (the 2nd-best ERA in the league) and 14-6 with a 3.48 ERA at night (tied for 5th in the A.L.)...was 11-4 with a 3.16 ERA before the All-Star break and 10-2 with a 3.38 ERA after the break.

DOWN BY WAY OF THE K: Struck out 203 in 226.2 innings, an average of 8.1 K's per 9 innings...with Pedro Martinez (227 K's), gave the Red Sox their first pair of 200-strikeout pitchers ever...fanned 10 or more 4 times...fanned a team season-high 14 September 21 vs. Baltimore...the last Red Sox to fan as many as 14 was Pedro, who punched out 14 Blue Jays July 1, 2002 at Fenway.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Issued only 35 walks in 226.2 innings, an average of 1.4 per 9 innings, the 3rd-best ratio in the league...did not issue a walk in 13 of his 32 starts and walked one or none in 22...walked more than 2 only 3 times, never surrendering more than 4 bases on balls in a start...did not walk a batter over 5 consecutive starts (36.1 IP) August 20-September 10.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Finished 8-4 with a 3.84 ERA (51 ER/119.2 IP) in 17 starts when pitching on regular 4-day rest and 13-2 with a 2.61 ERA (31 ER/107.0 IP) in 15 starts when pitching on 5 or more days rest...finished 1-2 with a 5.00 ERA (15 ER/27.9 IP) in 4 starts against Toronto and 20-4 with a 3.02 ERA (67 ER/199.2) against all other foes...the Jays hit .306 (34-for-111)...everyone else hit .229 (172-for-750)...beat 14 teams at least once and 5 times 2 or more times...earned 4 wins in 5 starts against Tampa Bay...opponents were 6-for-7 in stolen base attempts...threw a total of 3,412 pitches, an average of 15.1 per inning...his average of 106.6 pitches per game was 2nd to only Oakland's Barry Zito in the A.L...induced 12 ground-ball double plays.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: In addition to his season-ending 8-game winning streak, longest by a Red Sox pitcher in 2004, won 4 in a row twice: May 19-June 10 and June 22-July 18...fanned a team season-high 14 in a no-decision September 21 vs. Baltimore...worked 8.0 scoreless innings, allowing 3 hits and one walk...left with a 1-0 lead after 8, but Baltimore scored twice in the 9th...the Sox won it in the bottom of the inning on a 2-run single by Mark Bellhorn.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

Only 8 pitchers in Red Sox history have won 20 games in their first season in Boston...Schilling became the 2nd to do so since 1945:

Cy Young	33-10	1901
Jesse Tannehill	21-11	1904
Bill Dinneen	21-21	1908
Hugh Bedient	20-9	1912
Howard Ehmke	20-17	1923
Dave "Boo" Ferriss	21-10	1945
Dennis Eckersley	20-8	1978
Curt Schilling	21-6	2004

IN THE POSTSEASON: Pitching with a detached tendon in his right ankle--that would require off-season surgery--went 3-1 with a 3.57 ERA (9 ER/22.2 IP) in 4 post-season starts to help the Sox to the World Series championship...was a 9-3 winner in Game 1 of the ALDS at Anaheim, allowing 3 runs (2 earned) on 9 hits in 6.0 innings...walked 2, fanned 7 and allowed solo homers by Troy Glaus and Darin Erstad...bothered by the ankle, dropped a 10-7 decision in Game 1 of the ALCS at Yankee Stadium...was roughed up for 6 runs on 6 hits in 3.0 innings, walking 2 and striking out 1...after having the tendon sutured to the ankle bone, returned to dominate the Yankees in Game 6, a 4-2 win...surrendered only one run on 4 hits in 7.0 innings...walked none and fanned 4...gave the Sox a 2-0 lead in the World Series with a 6-2 win over the Cardinals in Game 2 at Fenway...allowed one unearned run on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, walking one and striking out 4...again, had the tendon sutured to his ankle the day before pitching...had the ankle surgically repaired November 8 in a procedure performed by Dr. George Theodore.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his final season with Arizona, overcame a host of injuries to post a 2.95 ERA, 5th-best in the N.L. and Schilling's lowest since 1992, his first season as a major league starter...finished 8-9, striking out 194 (5th in the N.L.) and walking only 32 in 168.0 innings...ranked among N.L. leaders in ERA (5th at 2.95), strikeouts (5th with 194), strikeouts per 9 innings (tied for 2nd with 10.4), walks per 9 innings (2nd with 1.7) and opponents average (8th at .230)...was limited to 24 starts by a pair of D.L. stints due to an appendectomy that sidelined him for 15 days in April and a fractured bone in his right hand that sidelined him May 31-July 11...returned to post a 2.67 ERA over his final 13 starts despite pitching through a bone bruise on his left knee, right hamstring and groin problems and a cervical strain in his neck during the season's final 2 months...threw 3 complete games and 2 shutouts...went 7-3 with a 2.18 ERA in 12 road starts, posting the 3rd-best road ERA in the majors...was 1-6 with a 3.69 ERA in 12 starts at home.

IN MEDICAL NEWS...: Was admitted to Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St. Louis April 19 and underwent an appendectomy...was on the D.L. April 18-May 2, missing 14 games...went 3-1 with a 1.40 ERA (6 ER/38.2 IP) in 5 starts upon his return heading into a May 30 outing in San Diego...having worked 6.2 innings of 4-hit shutout ball, he was struck on the right hand by a 7th-inning line drive off the bat of Sean Burroughs...the shot fractured the 3rd and 4th metacarpals in his right hand (it was actually the 2nd time Curt was hit in the game, as Ramon Vazquez lined the first pitch of the night off of Schilling's hand)...returned to the D.L. May 31-July 11, missing 38 games...Curt's left knee locked up in the 8th inning of his August 17 start at Atlanta...a precautionary MRI revealed a bone bruise, which did not prevent him from making his next start...September 1 vs. San Francisco, he tweaked his right hamstring and groin but remained in the game...he developed stiffness in his neck and shoulder during his next start September 6 at San Francisco and missed his September 11 start vs. Los Angeles with a cervical strain in his neck.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: After starting 0-2, Schilling earned his first win with a complete-game 4-hitter April 17 vs. Colorado...walked none and rang up 10 K's while pitching with symptoms that wound up being appendicitis, which would sideline him April 18-May 2...was 1-2 with a 5.01 ERA through 5 starts before tossing consecutive shutouts May 9 at Pittsburgh and May 14 at Philadelphia...in the Pirates' gem, a 5-0 win, surrendered 4 hits, walked none and fanned 10...5 days later, pitching at Veteran's Stadium for the final time, he threw a 2-hitter for a 2-0 win...walked none and struck out a season-high 14...the back-to-back shutouts gave Schilling 20.0 consecutive scoreless innings from May 3-19, the longest run by an Arizona starter in 2003...had last thrown 2 straight shutouts July 22 and July 27, 1992 with the Phillies...on the D.L. May 31-July 11, he made a pair of rehab starts for Triple-A Tucson before returning July 12 vs. San Francisco, his final start before the All-Star break...posted a 1.26 ERA in his first 7 starts after the break (July 17-August 17), but went just 3-2 as the D-Backs scored 3 runs or less in 6 of those games...posted consecutive 2-0 victories August 12 at Cincinnati and August 17 at Atlanta...threw 7.0 shutout innings with 11 K's against the Reds in his first start at Great American Ballpark...5 days later, hurled 8.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball, striking out 12, to out-duel Greg Maddux...Curt's left knee locked up between pitches in the 8th inning, but he finished the inning...a precautionary MRI revealed a bone bruise, which did not prevent him from making his next start August 22 against the Cubs, when he matched his season-high with 14 strikeouts over 8.0 innings but lost 4-1...September 1, he blanked the Giants over 8.0 innings on 5 hits with 10 K's, though he tweaked his right hamstring and groin during the start but remained in the game...he developed stiffness in his neck and shoulder during his next start September 6 at San Francisco, when he allowed 4 runs on 6 hits in 6.0 innings in a no-decision...he missed his September 11 start vs. Los Angeles with a cervical strain in his neck, then returned to action September 16 and recorded his 8th win, limiting the Dodgers to a run on 8 hits over 7.0 innings...he was a 6-4 loser September 20 in Milwaukee in what would be his final appearance with Arizona...after the D-Backs were eliminated from the division race, Curt was scratched from his final scheduled start due to the injuries that plagued him over the season's final month.

2002 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Went 23-7 with a 3.23 ERA in 36 games (35 starts)...finished 2nd to Randy Johnson in N.L. Cy Young voting and placed 10th in MVP balloting for the 2nd year in a row...was named to his 5th All-Star team, selected to start his 2nd All-Star Game...for the 2nd straight year, took home N.L. Pitcher of the Year honors from The Sporting News.

TAKE ME TO YOUR LEADER: Ranked among N.L. leaders with 1.15 walks per 9 innings (first), a career-best 23 wins (2nd), 10.97 K's per 9 innings (2nd), 259.1 innings (2nd), 35 starts (2nd), 5 complete games (3rd), a .767 winning percentage (3rd) and a 3.23 ERA (10th).

THAT'S A WINNER: With 23 wins in 2002 and 22 in 2001, Schilling's total of 45 wins over the 2 seasons matched teammate Randy Johnson for most in consecutive seasons by any hurler since Baltimore's Jim Palmer won 45 games in 1975-76, most in the N.L. since Steve Carlton won 47 games for the Phillies in 1971-72...since the institution of divisional play in 1969, Schilling joined Palmer, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, Wilbur Wood, Mickey Lolich, Fergie Jenkins and Mike Cuellar as the only hurlers to win at least 22 in consecutive seasons.

ALL-STAR STARTER: Started his 2nd career All-Star Game (also 1999 at Fenway Park)...allowed one hit, walked none and fanned 3 in 2.0 scoreless innings in the July 9 Mid-Summer Classic at Miller Park in Milwaukee...the lone hit he allowed was a one-out single in the 2nd on an 0-2 pitch by Boston's Manny Ramirez.

300 K'S: With 313 strikeouts, topped 300 for the 3rd time in his career (also 1997 and 1998)...in major league history, only all-time strikeout king Nolan Ryan (6) and Randy Johnson (6) have more 300-K campaigns...Sandy Koufax also had 3...Schilling and Johnson became the first teammates in history to each record 300 strikeouts in the same season...Schilling hit the milestone when he fanned Milwaukee's Jorge Fabregas on September 15...he finished with the 2nd-highest strikeout total in the majors at 316, 99 more than the nearest N.L. hurler (Kerry Wood) and 77 ahead of A.L. leader Pedro Martinez.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Schilling finished the year the M.L. leader in walks per 9 innings (1.15), surrendering only 33 free passes in 259.1 innings...through August 21, the day of his 21st victory, Schilling had surrendered only 20 walks all year...his walk total finally surpassed his win total when he issued 3 bases on balls August 26 at Los Angeles...finished with 32 starts in which he walked 2 or fewer, including 15 with no walks.

QUICK START: Opened the season 12-1 with a 2.79 ERA through 14 starts, walking only 10 in his first 103.2 innings...he issued only 8 free passes through his first 103.1 innings, but on June 8 in Boston he walked 2 in the 8th inning, starting with a free pass to Johnny Damon to snap a streak of 44.0 consecutive innings (165 batters) without a walk.

9 IN A ROW: With a 3-2 win over Pedro Martinez June 8 at Fenway Park, Schilling had a career-best 9-game winning streak...posted a 2.78 ERA (23 ER/74.1 IP) during the 10-start tear, which began April 23 at Atlanta...lost consecutive starts after his June 8 win, then ran off 6 straight wins June 30-July 27.

MORE 2002 HIGHLIGHTS: Hurlled his 2nd career one-hitter in his 2nd start April 7 in Milwaukee...established a single-game personal best with 17 K's in the game...the lone hit he allowed in the 2-0 victory was a 3rd-inning single by Raul Casanova...posted a 5-0 record and a 2.80 ERA (14 ER/45.0 IP) in 6 starts in May...walked only 2 and struck out 62 in 45.0 May innings to earn the N.L. Pitcher of the Month recognition, the 3rd time in 4 years he had won the league's May honor...was again named N.L. Pitcher of the Month in July, when he went 5-0 with a 1.64 ERA (7 ER/38.1 IP) in 5 starts, walking 5 and punching out 37 in 38.1 innings...started a 6-game winning streak with a complete-game 5-hitter in a 5-2 win June 30 at Cleveland...the win also began a stretch in which he went 11-2 with a 2.16 ERA June 30-September 10...his ERA stood at 2.76 on September 10, but he went 0-2 with a 7.77 ERA (21 ER/24.1 IP) in his last 4 games (3 starts)...his final appearance of the season was a one-inning relief outing September 29 vs. Colorado, his first bullpen appearance since May 13, 1992 with Philadelphia...had made 308 straight starts.

NUMBERS, PLEASE: Recorded 14 double-digit strikeout games...was 6-2 in 9 starts after an Arizona loss after going 13-1 following a setback in 2001...went 11-2 in 14 starts against the N.L. West...offensively, Schilling established a career high with 15 hits, eclipsing his previous best of 14 with Philadelphia in 1997.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started Game 2 of the NLDS vs. St. Louis, allowing a run on 7 hits with a walk and 7 strikeouts...left the duel with Chuck Finley trailing 1-0...the D-Backs tied the game in the 8th, but St. Louis rallied for a run in the 9th and held on for a 2-1 win.

SUMMARY: Capped a remarkable season by sharing World Series MVP honors with Randy Johnson as the tandem pitched the Diamondbacks past the Yankees to the world championship...went 22-6 with a 2.98 ERA and 6 complete games in 35 starts...fanned 293 and walked only 39 in 256.2 innings...finished 2nd to Johnson in N.L. Cy Young voting and came in 10th in the N.L. MVP vote...an All-Star for the 4th time, Curt led the league in wins (tied with Matt Morris), starts, complete games and innings, ranked 2nd in ERA, strikeouts, walks per 9 innings (1.37) and winning percentage (.786) and finished 3rd in strikeouts per 9 innings (10.27)...the D-Backs were 27-8 in his starts...went 13-1 with a 1.72 ERA when starting the day after an Arizona loss...was 11-1 vs. the N.L. West.

AND THE WINNER IS...: Was lauded extensively for his achievements on and off the field in 2001...won the Roberto Clemente Award, presented by John Hancock...shared Sports Illustrated Sportsman of the Year honors with teammate Randy Johnson...Curt was also named 2001 Man of the Year by The Sporting News, only the 5th pitcher to win the award joining Denny McLain in 1968, Tom Seaver in 1969, Ron Guidry in 1978 and Nolan Ryan in 1990...also won Denver's Branch Rickey Award, the Hutch Award and the Jim "Catfish" Hunter Award for combination of excellence on the field and devotion to community service.

DYNAMIC DUO: Finished 2nd to teammate Randy Johnson in N.L. Cy Young balloting, the first time since 1956 that starting pitchers from the same club finished 1-2...Schilling fanned 293 and Johnson punched out 372, as the duo combined for a major league record 665 K's to break the mark previously held by Nolan Ryan and Bill Singer, who totaled 624 for the 1973 Angels...it was also the first time a pair of teammates ranked 1-2 in strikeouts since Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser turned the trick with the 1944 Detroit Tigers.

SEEING STARS: Schilling was named to start the All-Star Game, but passed the honor to Randy Johnson after pitching at home against Oakland just 2 days prior to the Mid-Summer Classic...although he did not pitch in the game at Safeco Field in Seattle, it was the 4th time 5 years Schilling had been named to the National League squad.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Curt Schilling was the 2001 Recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award.

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award, sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball club. These local winners are announced in September on Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre-game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Jamie Moyer; Jim Thome; Curt Schilling; Al Leiter; Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

MORE 2001 HIGHLIGHTS: Was 10-1 with a 2.60 ERA through 13 starts...April 10 vs. Los Angeles, tossed the first complete-game 2-hitter in team history...needed only 1 hour, 53 minutes to post a 2-0 win over Kevin Brown...walked none and fanned 10...earned his first 2 career N.L. Player of the Week honors...tossed back-to-back complete games against the Giants May 21 and Padres May 26 to earn the weekly award...in the win in San Diego, Schilling had a perfect game for 7.1 innings before Ben Davis broke up the bid with a bunt single...was again named Player of the Week for his work at home against Montreal on July 31 and the Mets on August 5, when he allowed only 2 earned runs in 17.0 innings with 21 K's...was named N.L. Pitcher of the Month for May, after going 5-1 with a 2.35 ERA...rang up his 2,000th strikeout September 18 at Colorado, punching out Juan Uribe.

NUMBERS GAME: Worked at least 7.0 innings in 29 of his 35 starts...one of the outings in which he didn't get to the 7th was when an electrical box exploded in the top of the 3rd July 18 in San Diego, shutting down a bank of lights and forcing the game to be suspended until the next day when Randy Johnson picked it up and completed a combined one-hitter for a 3-0 win...was tagged for a career-high 37 home runs, 31 of which were solo shots...a Barry Bonds grand slam on July 26 snapped a streak of 19 consecutive solos allowed, the longest streak in major league history, 2 more than Jose Rijo (1993) and Mark Leiter (1995).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Helped the D-Backs to the World Championship, finishing 4-0 with a 1.12 ERA in 6 post-season starts...allowed 6 earned runs in a post-season record 48.1 innings pitched...also established major league post-season records for starts (6) and strikeouts (56) while his 3 complete games tied the record...fired a 3-hitter for a 1-0 win over St. Louis in Game 1 of the NLDS...it was his 2nd consecutive post-season complete game shutout going back to the 1993 World Series, when he blanked Toronto on a 5-hitter in Game 5 as a Phillie...it was also the first 1-0 complete game win in Division Series history and the first in any post-season series since Jack Morris' Game 7 win for the Twins over Atlanta in the 1991 World 72 walks and 26 K's in the series...cruised to a 9-1 win in Game 1, allowing a run on 3 hits over 7.0 innings, extending his personal post-season winning streak to 5 consecutive starts dating to Game 5 of the 1993 World Series...then worked 7.0 innings in Game 4 at Yankee Stadium, leaving the contest with a 3-1 advantage after allowing only 3 hits and a walk with 9 K's...the Yanks rebounded to win 4-3 in 10 innings...Curt took the ball in Game 7 and entered the 8th inning in a 1-1 deadlock, but Alfonso Soriano staked New York to a short-lived 2-1 lead with a one-out homer that ended Schilling's night...the D-Backs scored twice in the 9th off of Mariano Rivera to win 3-2.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2000: Began the year on the D.L. recovering from off-season arthroscopic surgery on his right shoulder and ended the year a Diamondback, traded to Arizona July 26...between the 2 stops, went 11-12 with a 3.81 ERA in 29 starts, throwing 8 complete games and a pair of shutouts...fanned 168 and walked only 45, an average of 1.93 walks per 9 innings, 5th-fewest in the N.L...recorded his 100th career win in his 2nd start of the year, a 6-0 win May 6 in Atlanta...his last start as a Phillie was a complete-game 3-hitter in a 4-1 win July 23 at Pittsburgh...it was his 2nd complete game in 3 starts and occurred in a stretch in which he went the distance in 6 of 9 starts, 4 of them with Arizona...made his Diamondbacks debut July 28 at Florida, scattering 6 hits over 8.0 innings in a 4-1 win...his 11-2 win over the Cubs on August 18 climaxed an 11-start stretch in which Schilling went 8-3 with a 1.90 ERA (19 ER/90.0 IP).

1999: Despite missing the last 2 months of the season with shoulder problems, finished 15-6 with a 3.54 ERA in 24 starts for the Phillies...ranked 2nd in the N.L. with 8 complete games, was 5th with a .714 winning percentage and a .237 opponents average, 7th with a 3.54 ERA, 8th with 2.2 walks allowed per 9 innings and 10th with 7.6 K's per 9 innings...made only 5 starts after the All-Star break, yet led the Phillies in complete games and strikeouts (152), tied for the team lead in wins and ranked 2nd in innings pitched (180.1)...made his 5th Opening Day start for the Phils, his 3rd in a row, most by a Philadelphia righthander since Robin Roberts started 12 in a row from 1950-61...threw 5 consecutive complete games May 7-29, going 3-1 with a 2.22 ERA (11 ER/44.2 IP)...joined Tommy Greene of the 1993 Phillies and Pat Hentgen of the 1996 Blue Jays as one of only 3 pitchers in the 1990's to turn the trick...was named N.L. Pitcher of the Month for May, finishing 5-1 with a 2.42 ERA in 6 starts...recorded his 1,500th career strikeout June 3 vs. San Francisco, fanning Rich Aurilia...his 13 wins before the break were the most by a Phillie since Steve Carlton won 14 in the first half in 1980...was chosen by N.L. manager Bruce Bochy to start the All-Game at Fenway Park, his 3rd straight All-Star selection...starting against Pedro Martinez, took the loss, allowing 2 runs on 3 hits and a walk, while striking out 3 in 2.0 innings...missed his July 28 start vs. Florida with tendinitis in his right biceps, his first missed start since May 14, 1996, a streak of 117 consecutive starts...lost 8-2 to Arizona August 7, then went on the D.L. with inflammation in his right shoulder...was activated September 3, beating the Reds 10-2 that day...next time out, dropped a 10-2 decision September 8 vs. Houston...fanned just one, his fewest since April 24, 1994, and was shut down for the remainder of the season...underwent an anterior thermal capsular reduction and posterior capsule release on his right shoulder on December 13...the arthroscopic procedure was performed by Dr. Craig Morgan.

1998: Went 15-14 with a 3.25 ERA in 35 starts, named to his 2nd straight All-Star team...led the majors in complete games (15) and innings (a career-high 268.2), and topped the N.L. in strikeouts (300)...at the time he was just the 5th pitcher in M.L. history to fan 300 in back-to-back seasons joining J.R. Richard, Nolan Ryan, Sandy Koufax and Rube Waddell...Randy Johnson has since fanned 300 in a major league-record 5 straight seasons...Schilling's complete game total marked the most by a Phillie since Steve Carlton went the route 19 times in 1982...they were the most by a Philadelphia righthander since former Red Sox Jim Lonborg's 16 in 1974...Curt fanned a season-high 15 April 15 at Atlanta...his 300th and final strikeout victim was Florida's Kevin Orie on September 26...pitched for the major league All-Star team that toured Japan after the season.

1997: Earned his first All-Star selection and finished 4th in N.L. Cy Young voting...went 17-11 with a 2.97 ERA in 35 starts, tied for most in the league...led the majors with 319 strikeouts, most ever by an N.L. righthander...broke J.R. Richard's mark of 313 when he fanned Devon White September 26 at Florida...shattered Steve Carlton's club record of 310 K's by ringing up Sammy Sosa September 21 at Chicago...recorded 17 double-digit strikeout games, and set a then single-game best with 16 K's September 1 vs. the Yankees...ranked among league leaders in starts (first), K's per 9 innings (2nd with 11.29), innings pitched (3rd with 254.1), complete games (3rd), walks per 9 innings (4th with 2.05), wins (5th), winning percentage (5th at .714), hits per 9 innings (5th with 7.36) and ERA (9th)...he was the Phillies' Opening Day starter for the 3rd time and earned his first season-opening win, combining with Ricky Bottalico on a 3-0 victory at Los Angeles, the Phillies first season-opening shutout since 1984...fanned 3 in 2.0 shutout innings in his All-Star debut at Cleveland...stole the first base of his career on August 22 vs. the Dodgers.

1996: Began the year on the D.L. as he recovered from the previous season's right shoulder surgery...made 4 minor league rehab starts before debuting for the Phils May 14 vs. the Giants...worked 7.0 innings of 5-hit shutout ball in the 7-0 win...despite missing 6 weeks, he went on to lead the league with 8 complete games, including a pair of shutouts...finished 9-10 with a 3.19 ERA in 26 starts...he drove in a career-high 3 runs on July 4 vs. Florida...struck out 7 consecutive batters August 26 at San Francisco, the first pitcher to do so since Roger Clemens (1992)...in all, chalked up 182 K's in 183.1 innings of work.

1995: Had his 2nd straight season cut short by injury, going 7-5 with a 3.57 ERA in 17 starts...was 4-0 with a 2.69 ERA through his first 9 starts before suffering his first loss on June 13...was among the N.L. leaders in innings, strikeouts and average against when he missed his July 23 start due to tendinitis and inflammation in his right shoulder...received a cortisone injection from Dr. Craig Morgan August 4, but the discomfort continued...underwent season-ending arthroscopic surgery performed by Dr. Morgan August 23 to repair a superior labral tear and an anterior posterior (SLAP) lesion and clean up some fraying of the rotator cuff and removing a bone spur from the right shoulder.

1994: Was limited to 13 starts in an injury-plagued and strike-shortened season, finishing 2-8 with a 4.48 ERA...made his first career Opening Day start for the Phillies and began the year 0-7 with a 5.40 ERA through 9 starts, his longest career losing streak...at that point, went on the D.L. for the first time in his career May 16-July 25 with a tender right elbow...had a bone spur removed from the elbow May 20...his injury troubles continued when he had surgery on his left knee June 10 after a freak incident when the knee popped as he got up from a seated position...went 2-1 with a 2.63 ERA (8 ER/27.1 IP) in his final 4 starts.

1993: Helped the Phillies to the National League pennant, finishing 16-7 with a 4.02 ERA in 34 starts...tied for 2nd in the N.L. with 7 complete games...was 4th in the league with 186 strikeouts, 6th with 235.1 innings pitched, 7th with 34 starts and 8th with 16 victories...was the club's Player of the Month in April (4-1 with a 2.54 ERA) and September (4-1 with a 3.47 ERA)...started Game 1 of the NLCS against the Braves and set a record by fanning the first 5 batters he faced...did not figure in the decision in what would be a 10-inning 4-3 win for the Phils...got another no-decision in Game 5, yet wound up the series

MVP without earning a win...in his 2 starts, threw 16.0 innings, posting a 1.69 ERA while striking out 19...started 2 games in the World Series against the Blue Jays, losing Game 1 8-5...allowed 7 runs (6 earned) on 8 hits in 6.1 innings...rebounded to throw a 5-hit shutout for a 2-0 win in Game 5...walked 3 and punched out 6.

1992: Went to spring training with Houston, but was traded to the Phillies April 2...went 14-11 with 2 saves and a career-best 2.35 ERA in 42 games (26 starts)...led the majors with a .201 average allowed...ranked 2nd in the N.L. in complete games (10), tied for 3rd in shutouts (4) and 4th in ERA...his 2.35 mark was the lowest ERA by a Phillies righthander since Jim Bunning's registered a 2.29 ERA in 1967...after starting the year with 16 relief appearances (2-2 with 2 saves and a 2.86 ERA), Curt earned a 4-3 win in his first start since 1989, beating the Astros May 19 at the Vet...allowed just 3 hits in 6.0 shutout innings...tossed his first career shutout June 8, a 3-hitter over Pittsburgh...fired back-to-back shutouts July 22 vs. San Diego and July 27 vs. the Mets, part of a 29.0-inning scoreless streak July 22-August 1...fired a one-hitter September 9 vs. the Mets, beating Sid Fernandez 2-1...the lone hit was a Bobby Bonilla solo homer on a 3-2 pitch leading off the 5th...Schilling walked none and fanned 8...only one other Met reached: Chico Walker was awarded first on catcher's interference with 2 outs in the 4th.

1991: Traded by Baltimore to Houston January 10, Curt worked exclusively in relief for the Astros, appearing in 56 games and 13 more with Triple-A Tucson...posted 8 saves for the Astros, opening the year as closer...converted 5 of his first 6 chances, then struggled in May and June and was optioned to Tucson June 26...at the time he was sent out, was 3-5 with 5 saves and a 4.86 ERA in 28 games...recalled August 2, he pitched in 28 games the rest of the way, posting 3 saves and a 2.98 ERA (14 ER/42.1 IP).

1990: Was 4-4 with a 3.92 ERA in 15 games (14 starts) Triple-A Rochester, when he was recalled by the Orioles on June 29...made 35 relief appearances for Baltimore, going 1-2 with 3 saves and a 2.54 ERA...earned his first major league save June 29 vs. Minnesota and his first win July 11 vs. Kansas City...did not allow a run in 20 of his first 23 outings, posting a 1.27 ERA...had a stretch of 20.0 consecutive scoreless innings July 27-September 4...was 1-0 with 2 saves and a 1.31 ERA through August before going 0-2 with a save and 6.17 ERA in 13 September outings.

1989: Spent most of the season at Triple-A Rochester, where he led the International League in innings pitched (185.1), while tying for the top spot in wins (13), starts (27), complete games (9) and shutouts (3) for the Red Wings...earned a September recall, and went 0-1 with a 6.23 ERA in 5 outings (one start) for the Orioles.

1988: Started 8-5 with a 2.97 ERA in 21 games (17 starts) with Double-A New Britain, but was traded to the Orioles July 30...went 5-2 with a 3.18 ERA with Double-A Charlotte to earn his first major league promotion...debuted with a no decision in a 4-3 win September 7 vs. Boston...starting against Bruce Hurst at the old Memorial Stadium, allowed 3 runs on 6 hits in 7.0 innings, walking 5 and striking out 2...had a 1-0 lead into the 4th, when he allowed a solo homer to Ellis Burks with 2 outs...gave up 2 more runs in the 5th on a Dwight Evans double...lost his next 3 starts, posting a 15.25 ERA (13 ER/7.2 IP).

1987: Went 8-15 with a 3.82 ERA in 29 games (28 starts) for Single-A Greensboro...led the league with 189 K's in 184.0 innings...was 4th with 7 complete games...fired 3 shutouts.

1986: Signed by the Red Sox as a 2nd-round pick in the January draft, Schilling debuted with Elmira of the short-season Single-A New York-Penn League...led the club with a 2.59 ERA in 16 games (15 starts)...finished 7-3 with 2 complete games and a shutout.

RED SOX

1999: Tied for 11th in the N.L. with 6 relief wins, going 6-1 with a 3.35 ERA in 56 games for the Braves before his season was cut short with a stress fracture of the olecranon bone in his right elbow...was placed on the 15-day D.L. August 21 and had surgery September 21 to remove a bone spur from his right elbow (Dr. James Andrews)...posted a 7.50 ERA (10 ER/12.0 IP) in his final 14 games before going on the D.L. to raise his ERA from 2.16, where it stood on July 18.

1998: Advanced from Triple-A Richmond to Atlanta in his first season in the Braves organization, going 6-1 with a 2.21 ERA (14 ER/57.0 IP) between the 2 stops...his May 30 promotion marked his first trip to the big leagues since 1995 with the Dodgers...fanned 50 batters in 36.0 innings at the major league level, an average of 12.5 K's per 9.0 innings...limited opponents to a .195 batting average, including a .125 mark by righthanders...his save July 16 vs. Milwaukee was his first since May 5, 1995 at Colorado...appeared in 5 post-season games for the Braves, logging a 4.50 ERA (2 ER/4.0 IP) as the Braves fell to the Padres in 6 games in the NLCS.

1997: Began the season with Triple-A Norfolk of the Mets organization before being acquired by the Kansas City Royals for a player to be named (RHP Mike Fyhrie) May 30...reported to Triple-A Omaha after the trade, where he struck out 46 batters in 47.0 innings over the remainder of the season despite compiling a 6.51 ERA.

1996: Spent the season with Triple-A Albuquerque, but was limited to 20 appearances due to a pulled triceps muscle in his right arm that sidelined him for more than 3 months...was originally placed on the D.L. May 30 and not activated until August 30...in his limited action, still struck out 20 batters in 19.1 innings.

1995: Started the season on an active big league roster for the first time in his career, and went on to post a 1-3 record and 6.75 ERA in 37 games for the Dodgers...was forced to the D.L. May 28 with a strained right groin muscle...made 4 scoreless rehab appearances with Single-A San Bernardino before being activated by Los Angeles June 15...after going 1-3 with an 8.59 ERA (21 ER/22.0 IP) in 22 games following his return, was outrighted to Triple-A Albuquerque August 31...recorded his first big league save in his first appearance of the season April 25 at Florida.

1994: Posted a 2.66 ERA in 17 games for the Dodgers after recording 9 saves in 20 games for Triple-A Albuquerque to begin the season...did not allow a run in 13 of his 17 big league outings, and closed the season with 11.0 scoreless innings over his final 9 games...notched his first win as a Dodger June 30 vs. Philadelphia.

1993: Pitched in the Rockies and Padres chains after missing the entire 1992 season due to injury...made his season debut June 16 with Single-A Central Valley after beginning the campaign on the D.L. at Triple-A Colorado Springs...rejoined Colorado Springs July 4 and was recalled by the Rockies July 15 before being designated for assignment...became a free agent after refusing the assignment, signed with the Padres July 22 and was sent to Triple-A Las Vegas...had his contract purchased by San Diego September 7 and appeared in 3 September contests for the Padres.

1992: Missed the entire season with spondylolysis, a back condition described as an abnormal vertebral fixation...specifically described as a deterioration of the prongs that connect the vertebra to the spinal column...in this instance, the deterioration was invisible on x-ray, but detected by a bone scan using radioactive material.

1991: Started the season on a big league roster for the first time in his career, but it came on the Indians' 15-day D.L. due to back problems...after being activated April 26, was sent to Triple-A Colorado Springs and later sent down to Double-A Canton-Akron...struck out 73 Eastern League batters in 38.1 innings for an average of 17.1 K's per 9.0 innings, earning him a July 24 promotion to Cleveland...appeared in only 3 games for the Indians before returning to the D.L. July 30 with a strained groin muscle...rehabbed with Colorado Springs and returned to appear in 2 September games for the Tribe.

1990: Pitched exclusively out of the bullpen for the first time in his career, compiling a 2.16 ERA in 15 games for Double-A Canton-Akron to earn a May 22 promotion to Cleveland...notched his first career big league win with 1.0 scoreless inning June 11 at Boston...was optioned back to Colorado Springs July 29 before finishing the season in Cleveland following his September 10 recall.

1989: Ranked 3rd in the Carolina League with 149 strikeouts, going 8-10 with a 4.14 ERA in a career-high 25 starts for Single-A Kinston...after a brief stop with Triple-A Colorado Springs, had his contract purchased by the Indians September 7 and made his big league debut that night vs. Toronto, fanning 3 in 2.0 scoreless innings.

1988: Surpassed the 20-start plateau for the first time in his career, going 6-6 with a 4.69 ERA for Single-A Waterloo of the Midwest League...twirled a 4-hit shutout May 17 vs. Wausau.

1987: Spent the bulk of the season on the D.L. with a right forearm strain...made 10 starts for Single-A Waterloo, going 0-4 with a 6.75 ERA.

1986: Tossed a no-hitter August 2 vs. Pulaski, the only no-hitter of the season in the Appalachian League...finished the year 5-2 with a 3.20 ERA in 13 games (all but one as a starter) for Rookie-Level Burlington.

2005 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: Pitched exclusively in Triple-A, splitting the season between the Athletics and Reds organizations, posting a combined record of 12-7 with a 3.84 ERA (69 ER/161.2 IP) in 28 starts...averaged nearly a strikeout per inning pitched, fanning 159 in 161.2 innings between Sacramento and Louisville...began the season in Sacramento, where he went 8-3 with a 3.91 ERA in 16 starts before being released by the A's...signed a minor league contract with Cincinnati July 2 and reported to Louisville, going 4-4 with a 3.75 ERA in 12 starts over the remainder of the season...won 3 of his final 4 starts with Sacramento, going 3-0 with a 1.00 ERA (3 ER/27.0 IP)...then posted wins in his first 2 starts with the Bats, allowing just one run in 11.0 innings in those 2 contests.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Limited opposing batters to a combined .197 (31-for-157) average with runners in scoring position, including a .148 (9-for-61) mark with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...with the River Cats, went 5-2 with a 2.64 ERA (17 ER/58.0 IP) in 9 starts at home and 3-1 with a 6.09 ERA (23 ER/34.0 IP) in 7 road starts...fared differently with the Bats, going 1-3 with a 5.79 ERA (18 ER/28.0) in 5 starts at home and 3-1 with a 2.38 ERA (11 ER/41.2 IP) in 7 starts on the road...struck out 8 or more batters in a start 6 times, including a season-high 10 K's June 18 vs. Colorado Springs.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Made his major league debut with 10 appearances (5 starts) for the Kansas City Royals after his August 7 promotion from Double-A Wichita, where he converted to a starter and went 3-1 with a 1.96 ERA (14 ER/64.1 IP) in 11 starts...struck out 140 batters in 129.1 innings between Triple-A Omaha, Wichita and Kansas City, an average of 9.7 strikeouts per 9 innings...began his big league career with 5 starts for Kansas City, going 0-1 with a 5.26 ERA (15 ER/25.2 IP) before moving to the bullpen...posted a 1-1 record and 2.57 ERA (2 ER/7.0 IP) in 5 games out of the pen...made his big league debut with a start the night of his promotion August 7 vs. Anaheim, allowing 4 runs on 7 hits in 4.2 innings...notched his first M.L. win with 3.0 innings of scoreless relief September 7 at Detroit...began the season with Triple-A Omaha, going 1-1 with a 5.01 ERA in 16 games (all but one in relief)...with Wichita, was named Texas League Player of the Week for the week of June 14-20...tossed 7.0 hitless innings to earn the win June 18 vs. El Paso and worked 6.0 hitless frames to win the 2nd game of a doubleheader June 30 at Midland...struck out a season-high 12 in 8.0 shutout innings June 25 vs. Arkansas...tossed a 7.0-inning, complete game shutout in Game 2 of a doubleheader July 25 vs. El Paso.

2003: Began the season in the Mets system with Triple-A Norfolk, going 1-2 with a 2.39 ERA (13 ER/49.0 IP) in 27 relief appearances before his July 5 trade to Kansas City...finished the season with 19 outings for Triple-A Omaha, going 3-2 with 3 saves and a 3.21 ERA (10 ER/28.0 IP)...had 75 strikeouts in 77.0 innings between the 2 stops...went 1-0 with 2 saves and a 1.08 ERA (1 ER/8.1 IP) on the road for Omaha.

2001: Spent the majority of the season with Double-A Harrisburg, ranking 4th in the Eastern League with 20 saves, 42 games finished and 12.24 strikeouts per 9 innings (73 K's in 53.2 IP)...also ranked 5th among league relievers with a .160 opponents batting average...earned an August 16 promotion to Triple-A Ottawa, where he closed the season by going 0-1 with a 4.50 ERA in 9 outings, fanning 11 in 8.0 innings.

2000: Pitching for Harrisburg in his first Double-A campaign, tied for 3rd in the Eastern League with 55 appearances and tied for 4th with 16 saves...his 16 saves led all Montreal minor leaguers...limited foes to a .234 batting average and recorded 80 strikeouts in 75.0 innings, an average of 9.6 strikeouts per 9 innings.

1999: Ranked 2nd among Florida State League relievers with 11.13 strikeouts per 9 innings (career-high 118 K's in 93.0 IP) and finished 3rd with a .168 opponents batting average...allowed an average of 8.06 base runners per 9 innings, the 5th-best mark among FSL relievers...did not allow an earned run for 43.2 consecutive innings from May 13-July 12, the longest such streak in the minor leagues in 1999.

1998: Excelled with short-season Single-A Vermont to begin his professional career, allowing just one earned run in 7.2 innings (1.17 ERA) over 7 appearances to earn a promotion to Single-A Cape Fear of the South Atlantic League...with 8 saves between the 2 stops, ranked 4th among Montreal farmhands.

CAREER NOTES

A FITTING TRIBUTE: J.T. elected to wear uniform number 84 for the Red Sox in honor of his father Jack Snow, who passed away January 9 at the age of 62 following a 2-month battle with a staph infection...Jack Snow wore that number during an 11-year NFL career with the Los Angeles Rams, during which he caught 340 passes for 6,012 yards and 45 touchdowns and was named to the Pro Bowl team in 1967...Jack Snow spent the last 14 years in the Rams' radio broadcast booth, 3 years while the club was in Los Angeles and all 11 seasons in St. Louis until falling ill last November...an All-American at Notre Dame, Jack Snow was a first-round selection of the Minnesota Vikings in 1965 but was traded to Los Angeles prior to his NFL debut later that year...no member of the Red Sox has ever worn a uniform number as high as 84...the previous highest Red Sox uniform number was worn by outfielder Johnny Lazor, who wore number 82 in 1943.

SURE HANDED: Widely regarded as one of the finest first basemen in all of baseball, J.T. is a 6-time Rawlings Gold Glove Award winner, having taken home the award in 6 consecutive seasons with the Angels (1995-96) and the Giants (1997-2000)...in the 49-year history of the award, only 7 first basemen have won as many as 6 Gold Gloves, with 6 of those first basemen winning the award in as many as 6 consecutive seasons...with a pair of awards in the American League and 4 more in the National League, J.T. is one of 10 players to win the award in each league...only 6 players in the history of the award have won multiple Gold Gloves in each league.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES: Enters 2006 with a .99551 career fielding percentage at first base, the 4th-best fielding percentage at the position in major league history (minimum 7,500 innings)...is a mere .00042 behind all-time leader Steve Garvey, who has a .99594 fielding percentage...Don Mattingly (.99582) and Wes Parker (.99566) rank 2nd and 3rd.

VETERAN PRESENCE: A veteran of all or part of 14 seasons with the Yankees (1992), Angels (1994-96) and Giants (1997-2005), Snow enters 2006 a career .268 hitter with 189 home runs and 873 RBI, an average of 18 homers and 84 RBI per 162 games...made 9 straight Opening Day starts at first base for the Giants, matching Willie McCovey (1965-73) for most by a Giants first baseman since the club moved west...is only the second 2-time winner of the Willie McCovey Award (1997, 2004), selected annually by his Giants teammates, coaches and training staff as a player with "competitive spirit, ability and leadership" qualities that exemplified the Giants Hall of Famer.

IN OCTOBER: Helped the Giants to 4 post-season berths, excelling on the October stage with a .329 average, 3 homers and 15 RBI in 28 career playoff contests, tied with Barry Bonds for most in San Francisco club annals...batted .407 during the 2002 World Series, helping the Giants to the 7th game of the Fall Classic vs. the Angels.

A GIANT IN THEIR RECORD BOOKS: Departs the Giants with his name scattered throughout their San Francisco-era record books, as he enters 2006 ranked in the top 10 with a .369 on-base percentage (5th), 565 walks (5th), 560 games played (6th), 228 doubles (7th), 615 RBI (8th) and 1,043 hits (10th)...he also ranks 11th with 561 runs scored and 3,822 at-bats, 12th with a .273 batting average, 13th with a .438 slugging percentage and 14th with 124 home runs.

SUMMARY: In his 9th and final season as a Giant, batted .275 with 17 doubles, 4 homers and 40 RBI in 117 games...made the start at first base on Opening Day for the 9th consecutive season, matching Willie McCovey's mark (1965-73) for most by a first basemen since the Giants moved West...began the season by batting .322 (19-for-59) with a .403 on-base percentage in 20 games in April before dipping to a .234 mark (25-for-107) during the next 2 months...rebounded to bat at a .284 (57-for-201) clip in 66 games from July 1 through the end of the season...was slowed by illness and injury at various times, missing 8 games from May 7-15 with an intestinal disorder and 9 contests from September 13-22 with a strained left hamstring.

STRONG AT FIRST: Turned in a .997 fielding percentage at first base, committing only 3 miscues in 874 total chances...among all National League first basemen, trailed only Cincinnati's Sean Casey (.998) for tops in the league, while only Texas' Mark Teixeira (.998) and Los Angeles' Darin Erstad (.997) topped or equaled Snow in the American League...J.T. logged a 48-game errorless streak from May 6-August 10.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Ranked 3rd on the club with a .313 average with runners in scoring position...ranked 7th in the N.L. with a .373 mark with runners in scoring position from July 2 through the end of the year...batted .323 with 20 RBI in 58 games against N.L. West opponents...hit .371 (23-for-62) in situations deemed "close and late".

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Recorded a pair of 4-hit games April 26 vs. San Diego and May 2 at Arizona, matching his career high for the 16th time...had 3-straight games with 3 hits July 2-4...became just the 14th player in San Francisco history to reach 1,000 hits July 18 vs. Atlanta...had a season-high 6-game hitting streak September 2-7, batting .435 (10-for-23)...delivered game-winning RBI singles in the 8th inning September 23 at Colorado and in the 9th inning September 26 at San Diego...collected his 1,500th career hit in his final at-bat of the season with a single off Arizona's Brandon Webb on October 2 at Pac Bell.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Batted better than .300 for the first time in his career, finishing with a .327 average that would have ranked 6th in the league if he had enough plate appearances to qualify...in 107 games, turned in a .429 on-base percentage and .529 slugging, the best totals of his career, with 32 doubles, 12 homers and 60 RBI...his 12 homers were his most since hitting 19 in 2000...led the National League with a .387 batting average after the All-Star Break, trailing only Ichiro's .429 mark for tops in the majors...ranked 2nd in the league with a .361 batting average with runners in scoring position, behind only Barry Bonds...at first base, turned in a .995 fielding percentage, committing just 4 errors in 860 total chances...would have ranked 3rd in the league had he played enough games to qualify...was limited to 107 games after undergoing arthroscopic left knee surgery May 26 by Giants orthopedic surgeon Dr. Gary Fanton...was on the disabled list May 22-June 25...upon his return, batted .375 with 46 runs, 24 doubles, 11 homers and 51 RBI in 70 games the rest of the season...slugged his first career pinch-hit home run July 4 off Oakland's Octavio Dotel to lead off the 9th...led the league in hitting in the month of August, batting .452 with 5 homers and 16 RBI in 22 games...collected his first 3-homer game August 13 at Philadelphia, the 26th effort in franchise history...also scored a career-high 5 runs in the contest...had a pair of 4-hit games: August 3 vs. Cincinnati and September 3 vs. Arizona...missed 4 games August 20-24 due to a staph infection of the bursa sac on his left elbow...completed campaign by hitting safely in 30 of his final 39 games, batting .402 with 12 doubles, 8 homers and 35 RBI...the stretch included a career-high 13-game hitting streak from August 3-18.

2003: Helped lead the Giants to a wire-to-wire first-place finish in the N.L. West, batting .273 with 8 homers and 51 RBI in 103 games...endured a pair of groin injuries that landed him on the disabled list from June 21-July 2 and August 17-31 (left groin) and injured his right groin September 15 that hampered him down the stretch...Giants recorded a 60-33 record (.645) in games that he appeared...ranked 2nd on the club with a .387 on-base percentage and hit .333 with runners in scoring position...began the season by batting .338 with 21 RBI through the end of April...his 21 RBI established a new career high for an opening month, besting his 17 RBI in April, 1993...became just the 3rd Giant to hit a Pac Bell "splash homer" to right field June 5 vs. Minnesota...began to be limited by leg problems in June, suffering a strained left groin while running the bases June 17 at Los Angeles, leading to his disabled list stints...became San Francisco's No. 2 hitter down the stretch, scoring 35 runs with a .414 on-base percentage in 40 starts...hit safely in 3 of 4 games in the NLDS vs. Florida, batting .313 with 5 RBI...matched post-season career high with 3 hits in Game 4 at Florida.

2002: Caught fire in the postseason and helped the Giants to the 7th game of the World Series vs. Anaheim, batting .333 (22-for-66) with 2 homers, 9 RBI, a .371 on-base percentage and a .515 slugging percentage in 17 post-season games...led the club in hits, tied for the team lead with 4 doubles and hit safely in 15 of 17 contests...batted .407 (11-for-27) in the World Series vs. the Angels, and was the only Giant to hit safely in all 7 games...slugged a decisive home run in Game 1 off Anaheim's Jarrod Washburn to give the Giants a 4-1 lead en route to a 4-3 victory...in the regular season, batted .246 with 6 homers and 53 RBI in 143 games...was hampered by nagging injuries in the season's first half, limited to just 62 starts in the season's first 87 games, and was batting only .229 (53-for-231) at the All-Star Break...had a more productive second half, hitting .267 (51-for-191) in 72 games after the break...participated in back-to-back-to-back homers with Reggie Sanders and David Bell in the 6th inning August 4 at Pittsburgh...nearly 2 years later to the day, went back-to-back-to-back with Barry Bonds and Pedro Feliz in the 7th inning August 3, 2004 vs. Cincinnati.

2001: Endured 3 separate stints on the disabled list en route to an off year offensively, batting .246 with 8 homers and 34 RBI in 101 games, his fewest games played since the strike-shortened campaign of 1994 (61 games)...had never been on the disabled list in his professional career prior to 2001 (majors or minors)...was on the D.L. May 27-June 13 with bruised ribs (suffered in a home plate collision with Ben Petrick May 26 vs. Colorado), June 23-July 13 with a bilateral groin strain and July 27-August 6 with gastroenteritis...his .246 batting average, 8 homers and 34 RBI were all his lowest totals since 1994, when he batted .220 with 8 homers and 30 RBI with California...recorded his 11th multi-homer game May 8 vs. Montreal, homering off Mike Thurman and Ugueth Urbina...after the All-Star Break, batted .364 (8-for-22) in an 8-game stretch before landing on the disabled list for the 3rd and final time July 27 (gastroenteritis).

2000: Earned his 6th straight Gold Glove at first base, his 4th in as many seasons as a Giant, and batted .284 with 19 home runs and 96 RBI in 155 games, helping San Francisco to the N.L. West title...became just the 6th player in major league history with multiple Gold Glove Awards in each league, joining pitchers Bobby Shantz and Jim Kaat, catcher Bob Boone, and outfielders Dave Winfield and Jim Edmonds...marked his 6th season in a row with at least 15 homers and nearly matched his 98 RBI from the season before...his 33 doubles remain his 2nd-most in a season to date, trailing only his career-high 36 doubles in 1997 with San Francisco...clubbed a pair of grand slams -- May 21 at Milwaukee off Valerio De Los Santos and August 15 at Montreal off Mike Johnson...the August 15 blast was part of a career-high 6-RBI effort that featured his 10th-career multi-homer game...also had a pair of homers July 17 vs. Texas...collected his 1,000th career hit September 5 vs. Philadelphia, a 7th-inning solo homer off Vicente Padilla...was the Giants' 6th team homer of the game...delivered his league-leading 14th sacrifice fly September 10 vs. San Diego, establishing a new N.L. record for left-handed hitters...went 4-for-10 (.400) with a homer and 3 RBI in 4 games of the NLDS vs. the Mets...set off a short-lived celebration with a pinch-hit, 3-run homer off Armando Benitez in the 9th inning of Game 2 to tie the game at 4...the Mets would win 5-4 in 10 innings.

1999: Batting exclusively lefthanded for the first time in his major league career (had always been a switch-hitter through 1998), batted .274 with 24 homers, 98 RBI and 93 runs scored in 161 games...his runs scored and games played totals remain career highs today...earned his 5th-straight Gold Glove Award, as his .996 fielding percentage at first base trailed only Arizona's Travis Lee (.997)...hit 20 or more homers for the 3rd time in his career, having already done so in 1995 (with California) and in 1997 (San Francisco)...was one of 5 Giants with 80 or more RBI, marking the first such quintet in franchise history...was joined by Jeff Kent (101), Ellis Burks (96), Barry Bonds (83) and Rich Aurilia (80) in record-setting group...was also one of 5 Giants with 20 or more homers, the 3rd such quintet in Giants history (also 1953 and 1973)...his May 4 home run off Scott Sauerbeck marked his first career homer off a southpaw while batting lefthanded...was named N.L. Player of the Week for the period of August 23-29.

1998: Posted decent offensive and defensive numbers despite tough times on and off the field...though his batting average dipped to .248, turned in 15 homers, 79 RBI and 29 doubles...registered his 4th Gold Glove Award in a row, committing just one error in 138 games...did so despite missing time as he visited his ailing mother, who sadly succumbed to cancer at the age of 54 on June 17...missed additional time on the field with a right wrist sprain and right shoulder tendinitis, the latter of which required surgery to repair the cartilage by Dr. Lewis Yocum on October 23...in his first game following his mother's passing, returned to the team June 23 in Oakland and homered as part of a 1-for-4 effort...slugged his 100th career home run June 28 vs. Texas off Aaron Sele, his 5th-career grand slam...batted lefthanded vs. a left-handed pitcher September 22 vs. Pittsburgh, the first time he done so in his major league career...did so the rest of the season, going 1-for-4 with a double in such situations.

1997: In his first season with the Giants, turned in one of the finest seasons of his career, setting career highs with 28 homers, 104 RBI, 36 doubles, 96 walks and 6 stolen bases to go along with a .281 batting average in 157 games...hit 26 home runs in his final 93 games (325 at-bats) after hitting only 2 blasts in his first 64 contests (206 at-bats)...won his first N.L. Gold Glove Award, his 3rd overall, after posting a .995 fielding percentage, 3rd-best in the league...joined Jeff Kent (121 RBI) and Barry Bonds (101) to become the first Giants trio to each drive in more than 100 RBI in the same season since Johnny Mize (138), Walker Cooper (122) and Willard Marshall (107) turned the trick for the 1947 New York squad...was named the 1997 "Willie Mac Award" winner, an honor voted upon by Giants players, coaches as training staff as the club's most inspirational player...missed most of spring training after being struck in the left eye by a pitch thrown by Seattle's Randy Johnson March 11 at Scottsdale Stadium...sustained a fracture to the lower orbit of his left eye, but returned in time to start at first base on Opening Day April 1 vs. Pittsburgh, becoming the 5th different Giant to start at first base in the season opener in the last 5 years...posted a then-career high 12-game hitting streak from July 11-24, batting .383 (18-for-47) during the tear...was named the co-N.L. Player of the Week (with Atlanta's John Smoltz) for the period of August 4-10.

1996: Batted .257 with 17 homers and 67 RBI in 155 games, his final season with the Angels before moving to San Francisco in an off-season trade...earned his 2nd-straight American League Gold Glove Award, the first Angels first basemen to earn the award twice...committed 10 errors in 1,387 total chances, good for a .993 fielding percentage...homered from both sides of the plate June 9 at Cleveland (off Brian Anderson and Julian Tavaréz)...connected for his 3rd-career grand slam July 27 vs. Milwaukee off Ben McDonald.

1995: Won the American League Gold Glove at first base in his first full season in the big leagues...batted .289 with 24 homers, 102 RBI and 80 runs scored in 143 games...posted a .997 fielding percentage at first base en route to his honor, totaling only 4 errors in 1,222 total chances.

1994: Split the season between Triple-A Vancouver and the Angels...recalled from Triple-A June 4, he ended up starting more games at first base (60) than any other Angel...made just 2 errors in 528 total chances at first base, a .996 fielding percentage...hit his first career grand slam July 18 at home off Boston's Tim Lincecum...notched his 2nd-career multi-homer game August 6 vs. Chicago, both off Jason Bere...while playing Winter Ball in Venezuela for Aragua, suffered partial tear of the labrum in his left shoulder diving for a ball in left field...underwent arthroscopic surgery December 15 at Anaheim Memorial Hospital, performed by team orthopedic surgeon Dr. Lewis Yocum.

SUMMARY: In his 3rd Red Sox season, led the American League and set an all-time Red Sox record with 81 appearances, establishing a career high for the 2nd consecutive season...finished 7-3 with 13 saves, 24 holds and a 2.24 ERA, his lowest since he posted a 2.14 mark with Toronto in 1995...was named the team's Fireman of the Year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA...ranked 5th among A.L. relief pitchers with 80.1 innings pitched and 24 holds...spent most of the season as the Red Sox' primary right-handed set-up man but finished the year as Boston's closer...the owner of 130 career saves, Timlin's 13 saves were his highest total since he had 27 for Baltimore in 1999...retired 55 of 81 first batters faced...stranded 14 of 32 inherited runners.

KEEPING THEM IN THE YARD: Allowed only 2 home runs, his lowest full-season total since serving up one long ball in only 31 games (42.0 innings) for Toronto in 1995...both came in Toronto: May 24 by Reed Johnson and September 12 by Vernon Wells.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: Posted a sub-2.00 ERA in every month of the season except August (3.94) and September-October (3.65)...finished with a 1.64 ERA in April, a 1.29 ERA in May, a 1.88 ERA in June and a 0.71 ERA in July...went 4-0 with 9 saves in 10 chances and a 1.34 ERA (6 ER/40.1 IP) in 43 games at Fenway Park and 3-3 with 4 saves in 10 chances and a 3.15 ERA (14 ER/40.0 IP) in 38 appearances on the road...was 3-1 with 2 saves and a 1.69 ERA (8 ER/42.2 IP) in 42 outings before the All-Star break and 4-2 with 11 saves and a 2.87 ERA (12 ER/37.2 IP) in 39 games after the break.

RED SOX

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Did not allow an earned run in 66 of his 81 appearances, surrendering as many as 2 earned runs only 4 times all year (June 28 vs. Cleveland, August 19 at Los Angeles (AL), August 23 at Kansas City and September 21 at Tampa Bay)...held righthanders to a .257 average (43-for-167) and 2 home runs...lefties hit .299 (43-for-144) with no homers...did not allow a run in 7 games (8.2 IP) against National League foes...was 1-0 in interleague play, allowing 6 hits with 2 walks and 8 K's in 8.2 innings...worked more than 1.0 inning 15 times...went 3-2 with 8 saves and a 2.10 ERA (7 ER/30.0 IP) in 35 appearances against A.L. East opponents.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Did not allow a run over 15 appearances (15.2 IP) between April 18 and May 20...lowered his ERA to 0.86 from 3.38 in the process...fanned a season-high 3 in 2.0 innings April 26 vs. Baltimore and in 1.2 innings May 20 vs. Atlanta...his only other 2.0-inning outings were June 26 at Philadelphia and August 21 at Los Angeles (AL).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Pitched once in the ALDS vs. Chicago, allowing a run on one hit with one strikeout in 1.0 inning in Game 3 at Fenway Park...the appearances was his 20th post-season outing as a Red Sox, establishing a club record (Alan Embree had 19).

SUMMARY: Made a team-high 76 appearances, at the time 3rd-most in Red Sox history and tied for 4th in the AL...went 5-4 with a save and a 4.13 ERA, limiting opponents to a .257 average.

BUSY PEN: Joined Keith Foulke (72) and Alan Embree (71) to give the Red Sox their first-ever trio of relief pitchers with 70 appearances in a single season...the Red Sox previously had 2 pitchers make 70 or more appearances in a single season just once in club history, in 1993, when Greg Harris (80) and Tony Fossas (71) turned the trick...with 65 appearances in 2003, Embree joins Ron Murphy (1989-90) as just the 2nd lefthander in Red Sox history to appear in 65 or more games in back-to-back campaigns.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Did not allow an earned run in 66 of his 81 appearances, surrendering as many as 2 earned runs only 4 times all year (June 28 vs. Cleveland, August 19 at Los Angeles (AL), August 23 at Kansas City and September 21 at Tampa Bay)...held righthanders to a .257 average (43-for-167) and 2 home runs...lefties hit .299 (43-for-144) with no homers...did not allow a run in 7 games (8.2 IP) against National League foes...was 1-0 in interleague play, allowing 6 hits with 2 walks and 8 K's in 8.2 innings...worked more than 1.0 inning 15 times...went 3-2 with 8 saves and a 2.10 ERA (7 ER/30.0 IP) in 35 appearances against A.L. East opponents.

MORE HIGHLIGHTS: Pitched a perfect 12th April 24 at New York to earn his lone 2004 save, his first since June 23, 2003 vs. Detroit...earned his first win April 19 vs. New York...tossed 3.0 perfect innings to help secure Boston's 5-3 win June 6 at Kansas City, his longest outing since July 2, 2002 vs. San Diego with St. Louis...pitched out of 2 extraordinary jams in August: August 24 at Toronto entered in the 6th with no outs and the bases loaded...struck out his first 2 batters and induced a ground out to preserve Boston's 5-3 edge...August 22 at Chicago, faced runners on 2nd and 3rd with one out in the 8th looking to protect Boston's

BUSY MAN

Timlin set the club's all-time single-season appearance record in 2005...the Red Sox' all-time highs:

1. Mike Timlin, 2005	81
2. Greg Harris, 1993	80
3. Dick Radatz, 1964	79
4. Mike Timlin, 2004	76
5. Heathcliff Slocumb, 1996	75

4 He became the first Red Sox pitcher to lead the A.L. in appearances since Mike Fornieles, who pitched in 70 games in 1960...the only other Red Sox to ever lead the A.L. in appearances were Cy Young in 1902, Mace Brown in 1943 and Ellis Kinder in 1951 and 1953.

4 Timlin's record-breaking 2005 season marked the 14th time a Red Sox pitcher has appeared in 70 or more games...Timlin has topped 70 appearances in 4 straight seasons, the last 3 in a row for Boston...he is the first pitcher in club history to make at least 70 appearances in 3 different seasons...besides Timlin, only Derek Lowe (1999-2000) and Greg Harris (1992-93) have a pair of 70-game seasons in club annals.

4 Since coming to Boston in 2003, Timlin ranks 3rd among all major league pitchers in appearances:

1. Ray King	243
Scott Eyre	243
3. Mike Timlin	229
4. Brad Lidge	228
5. Paul Quantrill	225
Tom Gordon	225

6-5 edge...induced a foul out and a fly out to end the threat...September 3 made his 800th major league appearance, just the 29th pitcher in major league history to reach the mark...September 17 at New York, picked up win No. 5 by tossing a scoreless 8th inning to keep the Sox within 2-1...went 1-0 with a 0.90 ERA (1 ER/9.0 IP) in 9 interleague games...boasted a 1.04 ERA (1 ER/8.2 IP) when pitching on 3-5 days rest...enjoyed his finest month in May, going 2-0 with a 1.84 ERA (3 ER/14.2 IP) in 13 games...limited opposing batters to a .182 (2-for-11) average with the bases loaded...held No. 8 and 9 hitters to a combined .129 (8-for-62) average.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Pitched in 11 of 14 postseason games, logging no record and a 6.09 ERA (8ER/11.2 IP)...appeared in all 3 games of the ALDS against the Angels, posting no record and a 9.000 ERA (3 ER/3.0 IP)...allowed 3 hits and a walk with 5 K's...worked 2.0 perfect innings, fanning 3, to close out a 9-3 win in Game 1 at Angel Stadium...worked 0.1 inning, giving up a hit and punching out one in Game 2...allowed 3 runs on 2 hits, including a game-tying grand slam by Vladamir Guerrero in 0.2 innings in Game 3...walked one and struck out one...pitched in 5 games in the ALCS vs. the Yankees, registering a 4.76 ERA (3 ER/5.2 IP)...gave up 10 hits, walked 5 and fanned a pair...threw 1.2 scoreless innings in Gate 5 at Fenway and again in Game 7 in the Bronx...gave up 2 runs on 2 hits and a walk in 3.0 inning in 3 World Series appearances against the Cardinals for a 6.00 ERA...walked one and fanned none...worked a perfect 8th inning in Game 3 at Busch Stadium in Pedro Martinez's 4-1 victory.

2003 HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMARY: In his first season with the Red Sox, finished 6-4 with 2 saves, 17 holds and a 3.55 ERA in a team-high 72 appearances, which matched his career high for the 2nd straight season and tied for 8th in the league...his 83.2 relief innings were 3rd-most in his career (108.1 in 1991 and 96.2 in 2002) and ranked 7th in the A.L...Timlin's 65 strikeouts in 83.2 innings were his most since striking out a career-best 85 in 108.1 innings as a Blue Jays rookie 1991...allowed no runs in 52 of his outings, and gave up one run or less in 64 of his 72 outings...allowed 8 earned runs in his first 9 appearances (14.2 innings) of the season for a 4.91 ERA, then posted a 3.26 ERA (25 ER/69.0 IP) in his final 63 outings of the season beginning April 27.

BUSY MAN: Timlin's 72 outings were 3rd-most by a pitcher in his first season with the team...only Heathcliff Slocumb (76 appearances in 1996) and Rob Murphy (74 appearances in 1989) pitched in more games in their first year as a Red Sox.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Issued just 9 walks in 83.2 innings, an average of 0.97 walks per 9.0 innings, the best ratio by any major league relief pitcher...John Smoltz of the Braves was 2nd with 1.12 walks per 9.0 innings...3 of Timlin's 9 free passes were intentional...did not walk his first batter of the season until May 6 at Kansas City, a season-opening stretch of 20.1 inning without a walk allowed...did not issue another unintentional walk until June 21 at Philadelphia, a stretch of another 19.2 innings...did not issue a walk from July 8-August 27, a season-long streak that covered 25 outings and 24.2 innings...fanned 23 in that stretch...walked 2 batters in an outing only once, September 1 at Philadelphia, but one of the walks was intentional.

FIRST THINGS FIRST: Limited first batters faced to a .181 on-base percentage, 2nd-best in the A.L. and 3rd-best in the majors...trailed only Toronto's Jason Kershner (.179) and Atlanta's John Smoltz (.180) among all major league relievers.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Opponents hit just .239 (77-for-322)...righthanders batted just .198 (34-for-172), 9th-lowest among all A.L. relievers...lefties hit .287 (43-for-150)...allowed a .202 batting average (18-for-89) after August 1...went 5-2 with one save and a 1.43 ERA (7 ER/44.0 IP) in 44 games at Fenway Park and 1-2 with a save and a 5.90 ERA (26 ER/39.2 IP) in 35 outings on the road...issued just 2 walks in 44.0 innings at home...4 of his 6 wins came against former clubs, as he went 3-0 vs. Toronto and 1-1 vs. Seattle...all of his wins came in April (3) and August (3), while both of his saves came in June...recorded 17 holds...threw 1,194 pitches, an average of 14.3 per inning...induced 130 ground ball outs and 82 fly ball outs, a 1.6-to-one ground ball to fly ball ratio...limited opponents to a .222 (10-for-45) batting average with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...allowed just 12 of 45 inherited runners to score, stranding 73.3 percent of inherited runners...averaged just 3.51 pitches per batter faced, 4th-fewest by any A.L. reliever with at least 50 innings pitched.

MR. OCTOBER: Was dominant during the post-season, working 9.2 innings of one-hit shutout ball in the A.L. Division Series vs. Oakland and the A.L. Championship Series vs. New York...in the 2 series, walked 2 (one intentionally) and fanned 11, holding the A's and Yankees to an .034 (1-for-29) batting average...retired all 13 batters he faced, fanning 5, in 4.1 innings of perfect work in 3 ALDS outings against the Athletics...against the Yankees, ran his post-season streak to 23 up and 23 down (with 10 K's) until he surrendered a single to Karim Garcia one out into his 4th appearance of the series in Game 6.

NEW DEAL: Agreed to a contract for the 2004 season with a club option for 2005 on November 14, 2003.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: The Sox went 12-0 in his first 12 appearances of the season...pitched 2.0 innings or more in 7 of his first 10 appearances, then pitched 2.0 innings or more just 3 times the rest of the season...earned wins in back-to-back outings April 10 at Toronto and April 15 vs. Tampa Bay...picked up his first save June 7 in an 11-10 victory at Milwaukee...the save was his first since July 19, 2001 with St. Louis at Houston...boasted 3 consecutive months with an ERA below 3.00, as he notched a season-best 2.25 ERA (4 ER/14.2 IP) in June, a 2.45 ERA (4 ER/13.0 IP) in July and a 2.77 ERA (5 ER/15.1 IP) in August...posted a season-best 7.1 scoreless innings over 8 appearances August 17-29.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2002: Splitting the year between St. Louis and Philadelphia, appeared in a career-high 72 games (one start), a total he'd equal for the Red Sox in 2003...ranked 4th in the N.L. with 92.1 relief innings pitched, and held opponents to a .206 average...at 2.98, his final ERA was below 3.00 for the 3rd time in his career, for the first time since 1998...made back-to-back 3.0-inning outings April 10 vs. Milwaukee and April 14 vs. Houston...made his first start since 1991 April 19 at Milwaukee, dropping a 6-1 decision...allowed 4 runs (all in the 5th inning) on 6 hits and a walk in 4.1 innings...did not issue an unintentional walk in 32.1 innings May 4-July 5...was traded to Philadelphia in the July 29 deal in which the Cardinals acquired Scott Rolen...earned 3 wins in his first 7 appearance for the Phils, including a victory in his July 31 Phillies debut vs. San Francisco...allowed 4 homers in first 6 appearances (7.2) after joining Philadelphia, but surrendered only 2 more in his next 24 games (28.0 IP)...did not allow a run in 11.2 innings August 11-September 1...worked at least 2.0 innings in 20 of his 71 bullpen appearances, 28 percent...allowed more than one earned run in just 3 of his 30 appearances with Philadelphia.

2001: In his lone full season with the Cardinals, went 4-5 with 3 saves and a 2.51 ERA in 67 outings...recorded 16 holds, and worked 2.0 or more innings 10 times...allowed just 3 hits and no runs in 11.2 innings during a 9-game stretch June 14-29...pitched a season-high 2.2 innings July 7 at Cleveland...allowed no hits and one walk with 3 K's...tore the medial meniscus in his left knee while stretching in the bullpen July 26 at Chicago...had surgery the next day in St. Louis and was placed on the 15-day D.L...returned August 17 vs. Philadelphia and worked 1.1 scoreless innings...appeared in 19 games and allowed 13 runs (12 ER) in 17.2 innings after his return...grounded to third in his first M.L. at-bat October 6 vs. Houston...earned the win in the game, allowing one earned run in 2.0 innings-plus.

2000: Opened the season by going 2-3 with 11 saves and a 4.89 ERA in 31 games with the Orioles before being dealt to St. Louis July 29...went 3-1 with a save and a 3.34 ERA for the Cardinals...between the 2 stops, was 5-4 with 12 saves in 18 chances and a 4.18 ERA...worked at least one inning in 21 of the 25 games pitched for St. Louis...pitched 2.0 innings in 6 of his Cardinals outings...went 1-0 with a 1.93 ERA in 12 September games (14.0 IP)...his first N.L. save was the 100th of his major league career, September 5 vs. Montreal.

1999: After signing a free agent deal with the Orioles, recorded 27 saves (10th-most in the A.L.) and a 3.57 ERA in 62 relief appearances...finished 52 games, 9th-most in the league...for the 2nd straight year, converted 18 of 19 save chances after the All-Star break...was 0-1 with a 1.40 ERA and limited the opposition to a .185 batting average after the break...overall, held opponents to a .221 average, 8th-best among A.L. relievers...saved 10 games in 11 chances and led the major leagues with 28 Rolands Relief points in September...earned saves in 5 straight games September 17-22, the only time he pitched in more than 3 straight contests in 1999...saved 7 games during the Orioles' 13-game winning streak in September.

1998: In his lone full season with the Mariners, went 3-3 with 19 saves in 24 chances and a 2.95 ERA in a then-career high 70 appearances...allowed just one earned run in 10 June outings (10.1 IP), posting a 0.87 ERA...took over as Seattle's closer at the All-Star break and converted 18 of 19 save chances in the 2nd half...converted his last 14 saves in a row beginning August 2...was 1-0 with 7 saves his last 8 games starting September 5.

1991: With only 17 Double-A appearances under his belt, made the jump to the major leagues, spending the entire season with Toronto, where he went 11-6 with 3 saves and a 3.16 ERA in 63 games, all but 3 in relief...his 11 wins, 108.1 innings pitched and 85 strikeouts are all career bests that stand to this day...finished 10-5 with a 3.36 ERA in 60 relief outings, and tied Detroit's Mike Henneman for the A.L. lead in relief wins...was 2nd on the Blue Jays staff in appearances...made his major league debut with 1.1 scoreless innings of relief Opening Day, April 8, vs. Boston...fanned 2 in a perfect 8th to notch his first major league win April 10 vs. Boston...allowed just one hit in 3.0 shutout innings 2 days later for his 2nd consecutive win, an 11-inning triumph vs. Milwaukee...his first big league save came May 14 vs. Kansas City, when he worked 2.0 scoreless innings to preserve a 4-1 win for David Wells...went 1-1 with a 1.84 ERA in 3 June starts before returning to the pen on June 28...worked a career-high 5.0 innings of relief July 2 vs. Minnesota...won 4 in a row for the first time in his career June 29-July 15...was on the 15-day D.L. August 2-18 with tenderness in his right elbow...made 4 appearances in the ALCS vs. Minnesota, going 0-1 with a 3.18 ERA.

1990: Split the season between Single-A Dunedin and Double-A Knoxville, combining to go 8-4 with 30 saves and a 1.53 ERA (13 ER/76.1 IP) in 59 games, all in relief...posted a nearly 3-to-1 strikeout to walk ratio (67 strikeouts and 23 walks) between the 2 stops...was 7-2 with 22 saves, 4th-most in the Florida State League, and a 1.43 ERA in 42 relief appearances with Dunedin...despite being promoted to Double-A on July 23, ranked 4th in the Florida State League with 40 games finished...was named FSL Pitcher of the Week for the week of April 6-15...with Knoxville, went 1-2 with 8 saves and a 1.73 ERA in 17 games...after the season, logged 12 saves for Lara of the Venezuelan Winter League.

1989: Spent the season with Single-A Dunedin, working primarily in relief for the first time...went 5-8 with the first 7 saves of his professional career and a 3.25 ERA, making 26 of 33 appearances out of the bullpen.

1988: Posted a 10-6 record and 2.86 ERA in 35 games, including a career-high 22 starts, for Single-A Myrtle Beach...went 7-3 with a 2.16 ERA in the final 2 months of the season...worked 151.0 innings, which stands still as most in his pro career.

1987: Toronto's 5th-round draft choice, Timlin made his pro debut with 13 appearances (12 starts) for Medicine Hat of the short-season Single-A Pioneer League...finished 4-8 with a 5.14 ERA, tossing a pair of complete games.

PERSONAL

MICHAEL AUGUST (MIKE) TIMLIN...Mike and his wife Dawn have 2 children, son Jake (8/2/96) and daughter Mykala (9/29/00)...pitched at Southwestern University in Georgetown, TX after graduating from Midland (TX) High School...enjoys golf and hunting.

MIKE IN THE COMMUNITY: Among the most community-minded members of the Red Sox, Mike has worked extensively with the Angel Fund, an independent, non-profit organization dedicated to supporting ALS research at Massachusetts General Hospital...since coming to Boston in 2003, Mike has donated $500 per appearance to the Angel Fund...he and his wife Dawn have also hosted the annual 5-K Sharon Timlin Memorial Run in memory of his mother to raise money for and generate awareness of the Angel Fund...in 2004 and again in 2005, Dawn ran the Boston Marathon in support of the Angel Fund...in recognition of his community spirit, was recognized as the 2005 BoSox Club Man of the Year.

BATS: Right

HEIGHT: 6-1

OPENING DAY AGE: 25 (Turns 26 on July 2)

BORN: July 2, 1980 in Laurel, MS

RESIDES: Hattiesburg, MS

MAJOR LEAGUE SERVICE: 34 days

ACQUIRED: From the Chicago Cubs for a player to be named or cash considerations, December 1, 2005

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2006

CAREER NOTES

WHAT A RELIEF: Has 47 saves and a 1.92 ERA (25 ER/117.0 IP) in 109 minor league relief appearances since making the move from starter to reliever in 2004...spent the first 6 years of his pro career primarily as a starter, going 37-30 with a 3.93 ERA (233 ER/534.0 IP) in 110 games (96 starts).

CLIMBING THE LADDER: Had not pitched above Single-A prior to 2004, including a year in the independent Central League in 2003...in 2004, started the year at Single-A Lansing before making the jump to Double-A West Tennessee and then to Triple-A Iowa...began the 2005 campaign at Iowa before making his big league debut with the Cubs August 31 and staying on the staff for the stretch run.

SUMMARY: Was named the Cubs' 2005 Triple-A Pitcher of the Year at Iowa, where he posted a 1.98 ERA (12 ER/54.2 IP) and set a franchise record with 25 saves in 52 appearances...was recalled by the Cubs August 30 and made his debut the next night vs. the Dodgers, striking out 2, walking one and allowing one hit in 2.0 scoreless innings...appeared in 6 games for Chicago down the stretch, going 0-2 with a 3.00 ERA (2 ER/6.0 IP)...limited opponents to a .118 (2-for-17) average.

AT IOWA: Was a mid-season and year-end Pacific Coast League All-Star, ranking 2nd in the PCL in saves while limiting the opposition to a .181 average, including a .158 mark by righthanders...opponents hit just .081 (3-for-37) against him with runners in scoring position...struck out 65 in 54.2 innings, an average of 10.7 K's per 9 innings...registered 14 saves and recorded a 1.25 ERA (3 ER/21.2 IP) in his final 21 games with Iowa to earn his promotion to Chicago...set the Iowa franchise mark with his 23rd save August 20 vs. Memphis, breaking Marc Pisciotta's record from 1997...was on the D.L. May 27-June 2 with a right groin strain and June 21-27 with a right shoulder strain.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Had a 0.90 ERA (1 ER/10.0 IP) in 11 games in April...posted a season-best run of 12.1 consecutive scoreless innings July 5-August 4, allowing only 3 hits and 2 walks while striking out 14 over the 13-game span...notched 6 saves and a 0.82 ERA (1 ER/11.0 IP) in 9 August contests.

PREVIOUS CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

2004: Was a mid-season Southern League All-Star for Double-A West Tennessee, where he posted 21 saves to tie for 2nd in the league...started the season at Single-A Lansing and appeared in 3 games before promotions to West Tennessee and eventually Iowa...tossed 17.0 consecutive scoreless innings over 13 games April 20-May 27 to start his first Double-A stint, posting 9 saves in that span...after allowing a run in his next outing May 28 vs. Carolina, worked 10.0 straight shutout innings while notching 6 more saves in his next 12 games...overall, surrendered just one run in his first 27.0 innings for a 0.33 ERA...finished the year at Triple-A Iowa, recording a save and a 2.08 ERA (1 ER/4.1 IP) in 3 outings...posted a combined 1.88 ERA at the 3 stops...combined for 76 strikeouts in 62.1 innings, an average of 11.0 K's per 9 innings.

2003: Released by the Rockies on March 23, he signed with Fort Worth of the independent Central League...went 9-4 with a 3.07 ERA in 18 starts...struck out 113 in 111.1 innings, an average of 9.1 per 9 innings...allowed 2 runs or less in 11 starts.

2002: In his 4th year at the Single-A level, went 6-9 with a 4.96 ERA 30 games (17 starts) for Colorado's Asheville affiliate...was 3-7 with a 5.93 ERA (54 ER/82.0 IP) in 17 starts and 3-2 with a 1.80 ERA (5 ER/25.0 IP) in 13 relief appearances...16 of his first 19 appearances were starts...then made 10 straight appearances out of the bullpen before ending the year with a start August 29 vs. Columbus.

2001: Appeared in only 7 games (4 starts) for Rookie-level Casper and short-season Single-A Tri-City, going 4-0 with a 5.65 ERA...underwent right knee surgery in April.

2000: Held opponents to a .214 average in 13 starts at short-season Single-A Portland (OR)...allowed 2 earned runs or less in 11 starts, including each of his final 5, when he went 2-1 with a 1.88 ERA (6 ER/28.2 IP)...in 69.0 innings, allowed just one home run, which came in his final start August 25 vs. Eugene.

1999: Made 28 starts for Single-Asheville, striking out 133 in 143.0 innings...was 0-4 with an 8.38 ERA (18 ER/19.1 IP) in his first 5 starts...went 1-1 with a 2.65 ERA (10 ER/34.0 IP) in 6 August starts.

1998: Made his pro debut with the Arizona Rookie League Rockies, going 7-2 with a 2.22 ERA in 12 games (11 starts) before an August 22 promotion to short-season Single-A Portland...made 2 starts in the Northwest League, and allowed 4 runs in 10.0 innings for a 3.60 ERA.

CAREER NOTES

SILVER AND GOLD: Cemented his status as the best all-around catcher in baseball in 2005, when he was honored with his first career Silver Slugger Award as well as his first Rawlings Gold Glove...is the first Red Sox catcher to receive a Silver Slugger honor (presented since 1980)...is the 3rd Red Sox backstop to take home a Gold Glove, joining Carlton Fisk (1972) and Tony Pena (1991)...Varitek's Gold Glove was the first by any Red Sox player since Pena's honor 14 years earlier...in 2005, only 3 other major leaguers won both a Silver Slugger Award and a Gold Glove: Andruw Jones of the Braves, Derrek Lee of the Cubs and Mark Teixeira of the Rangers...only 2 other Red Sox have ever won a Silver Slugger and Gold Glove in the same season: Dwight Evans in 1981 and Ellis Burks in 1990.

OH CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN: Upon signing his 4-year contract on December 24, 2004, Varitek was named the 18th full-time captain in Red Sox history...according to research by Howard W. Rosenberg, Varitek is the first Sox captain since Jim Rice (1986-89)...before Rice, Carl Yastrzemski served as captain in 1966 and 1969-83...Yaz was the club's first captain since Jimmie Foxx (1940-42) and only the 2nd Sox captain since 1923...from the inaugural 1901 season through 1923, the Red Sox had 14 different full-time captains, most serving for a single season.

CATCH THIS: Into 2006, Jason has caught 918 games for the Red Sox, 3rd-most in club history and only 73 shy of breaking Carlton Fisk's Red Sox record of 990...Varitek's .993 career fielding percentage trails only Tony Pena's .994 mark in club history, while his 6,062 career putouts are most ever by a Sox catcher.

SUMMARY: An All-Star starter for the first time in his career, Varitek batted .281 with 22 home runs and 70 RBI in 133 games for the Red Sox...earned his first career Silver Slugger Award as well as his first Rawlings Gold Glove Award.

SEEING STARS: Was voted to start the All-Star Game for the first time in his career...selected for the 2nd time (did not play in the 2003 Mid-Summer Classic), Varitek went 1-for-1 with a walk and a run scored in the July 12 All-Star Game at Comerica Park in his native Detroit...delivered an infield single to short off John Smoltz in the 2nd inning...walked against Livan Hernandez and came around to score in the 4th.

AND THE WINNER IS...: Was honored as the league's best offensive catcher, taking home his first career Silver Slugger Award, as well as the league's best defensive catcher, earning his first Rawlings Gold Glove...is the first Red Sox catcher to receive a Silver Slugger honor (presented since 1980)...is the 3rd Red Sox backstop to take home a Gold Glove, joining Carlton Fisk (1972) and Tony Pena (1991)...Varitek's Gold Glove was the first by any Red Sox player since Pena's honor 14 years earlier...in 2005, only 3 other major leaguers won both a Silver Slugger Award and a Gold Glove: Andruw Jones of the Braves, Derrek Lee of the Cubs and Mark Teixeira of the Rangers.

HAPPY HUNDREDTH: Became the 26th Red Sox to hit 100 home runs when he went deep off the Yankees' Randy Johnson April 14 at Fenway...the 4th-inning solo homer came on the first pitch and tied the game 5-5...the Sox went on to win the game 8-5 with Varitek adding a 2-run triple off Tom Gordon in the decisive 3-run 8th...finished the year with 119 home runs, tied for 22nd on the club's all-time list with Hall of Famer Joe Cronin and teammate David Ortiz.

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Led the club with a career-high average of 4.15 pitches seen per plate appearance, tied for 6th most in the A.L...the Red Sox collectively led the majors in 2005 with an average of 3.86 pitches seen per plate appearance.

HEROICS: On the 2nd day of the season, April 5 at New York, hit a one-out solo homer in the top of the 9th off Mariano Rivera to tie the Yankees 3-3...the long ball, his first of the year, came on a 1-2 pitch...Derek Jeter led off the bottom of the 9th with a homer of his own to give New York the win...slammed his 2nd career walk-off homer, the team's 2nd in as many nights, May 11 off Oakland's Octavio Dotel...the one-out, 2-run blast just inside the right field foul pole gave the Sox a 6-5 win and a 3-game series sweep after Oakland has scored 4 in the top of the 9th...Tek's previous walk-off homer was May 13, 2001 vs. Oakland off Jeff Tam.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The switch hitter batted .320 (39-for-122) with 9 homers from the right side (vs. lefties) and .267 (93-for-348) with 13 homers from the left side (vs. righthanders)...never saw his average dip below .297 until September 5...a .307 hitter with 16 homers and 45 RBI in 87 games through the end of July, he batted .232 (38-for-164) with 6 homers and 25 RBI in 45 games from August 1 through the end of the season...hit .312 (77-for-247) with 15 home runs on the road and .247 (55-for-223) with 7 long balls at Fenway...batted .407 (22-for-54) with 3 homers and 9 RBI in 16 interleague games against the National League...ranked 4th in the majors in interleague batting...hit 4 homers and knocked in 11 in 15 games against the Yankees...drove in 10 runs in 16 games vs. Baltimore...threw out 16 of 81 runners attempting to steal (20 percent)...was charged with 7 passed balls (4 with knuckleballer Tim Wakefield on the mound).

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Went 3-for-4 with a double on Opening Night, April 3 at New York...April 20 at Baltimore, went 2-for-4 with a 3-run homer and 3 RBI in an 8-0 win...his 6th-inning long ball broke open a 1-0 game...hit his first career grand slam in an 8-run 4th in an 11-9 win August 4 vs. Kansas City...the shot came off Leo Nunez...finished with 5 RBI...hit a game-tying 2-run homer in the 5th inning August 12 vs. Chicago (AL)...the Sox went on to build a 9-5 lead before hanging on to win 9-8...began September 6-for-51 (.118) with no homers and 3 RBI in 15 games from September 1-19, dropping his average to .280 from .301...rebounded with hits his first 4 times up September 20 at Tampa Bay, finishing 4-for-5 with 2 RBI in a 15-2 win.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Went 3-for-10 (.300) with an RBI and a run scored in 3 games in the ALDS vs. Chicago...had a hit and a run scored in Game 1, and went 2-for-4 with an RBI in Game 2...started Games 1 and 2...pinch hit and remained in the game behind the plate in Game 3, which was started by Doug Mirabelli with Tim Wakefield on the mound.

SUMMARY: On the strength of a quick start and an August surge, batted a career-best .296 with 18 home runs and 73 RBI in 137 games...his 2004 average was 23 points higher than his previous career high...also established personal bests with 137 hits, 62 walks and 10 stolen bases, finishing 2nd on the team in steals, 9 behind Sox leader Johnny Damon...his .390 on-base percentage, 10th-best in the A.L., was another career best.

HEROICS: Capped a dramatic come-from-behind victory May 7 vs. Kansas City, doubling home Manny Ramirez in the 9th for the winning run as the Sox battled back from a 6-2 deficit by scoring 2 in the 8th and 3 in the 9th to win 7-6.

CENTRAL STAGE: Batted .379 (36-for-95) against the A.L. Central, .318 (34-for-107) against the West and .260 (53-for-204) against the East.

ON A RUN: Had a 15-game hitting streak from August 17-September 10, one shy of his 2002 career high...batted .424 (25-for-59) with 8 doubles, 3 homers, 8 RBI, and 11 runs during the tear, raising his average to .311 from .292...had multiple hits in 7 of 8 games August 17-September 1, batting .500 (16-for-32) with a 1.000 slugging percentage.

3 TIMES OVER: Scored a career-high 3 runs in a game 3 times in 2004, finishing the year having turned the trick 10 times in his career.

STOP, THIEF!: The 10 stolen bases by Varitek dwarfed his previous career high of 4 from 2002... swiped 2 bags May 8 vs. Kansas City, matching his single-game career high, also accomplished May 3, 2003 vs. Minnesota.

NOT-SO-DOG-DAYS OF AUGUST: Ranked 2nd in the American League and 3rd in all of baseball with a .449 (31-for-69) August batting average, trailing Seattle's Ichiro Suzuki (.463) and San Francisco's J.T. Snow (.452).

WALK THIS WAY: Walked 9 times in his first 7 games en route to his career high of 62 bases on balls...ranks 2nd among all big league catchers with 109 walks over the past 2 years, trailing only Jorge Posada, who has a resounding 178.

CATCH THIS: With 130 games behind the plate, has 788 in a Red Sox uniform to rank 4th in club history...Rich Gedman (857) is 3rd, Sammy White ranks 2nd with 967 and Carlton Fisk is first with 990...with 880 putouts, ran his career total to 5,278, most in Red Sox history...his 2004 putout total was 4th-highest in club annals...holds the first- and 2nd-highest totals as well.

ETC.: The switch hitter batted .350 (48-for-137) with 6 homers and 26 RBI from the right side (vs. lefties) and .273 (89-for-326) with 12 homers and 47 RBI from the left side (vs. righthanders)...batted .336 (77-for-229) with 8 long balls and 41 RBI in 70 games at Fenway and .256 (60-for-234) with 10 homers and 32 RBI on the road...batted .275 (72-for-262) with 7 doubles prior to the All-Star break and .323 (65-for-201) with 17 doubles after the Mid-Summer Classic...hit .337 (31-for-92) with 7 doubles, 6 homers and 12 walks when leading off an inning...was 4-for-12 with 2 doubles and 4 RBI as a pinch hitter...was suspended for 4 games and fined an undisclosed amount by Major League Baseball for an altercation with Alex Rodriguez during Boston's 11-10 win over the Yankees July 24 at Fenway Park...originally appealed the decision, but withdrew and sat out the 4 games from August 23-26 (the Red Sox went 3-1).

IN THE POSTSEASON: Appeared in every game and started 13 of 14 post-season contests behind the plate (all but Game 1 of the World Series, when Doug Mirabelli got the starting nod for Tim Wakefield's lone post-season start)...hit .245 (13-for-53) in the post-season with 3 homers and 11 RBI...went 2-for-12 (.167) in the ALDS vs. Anaheim, but, with the Sox down 3-1 in the 6th in Game 2, launched a 2-run homer off Bartolo Colon to tie the game they'd eventually win 8-3...hit .321 (9-for-28) with a double, 2 homers, 7 RBI and 5 runs scored in the ALCS against the Yankees...went 2-for-4 with a homer and 2 RBI in Game 1...took Tanyon Sturtze deep with a man on in the 7th...doubled in 3 at-bats in Game 2...was 2-for-3 with a long ball, 2 RBI, and 3 runs in Game 3, homering off Javier Vazquez with a man on in the 7th...was 0-for-4 but knocked in a pair of runs in Game 5...his sac fly off Mariano Rivera in the 8th capped a 2-run rally, hanging a blown save on Rivera, as the Sox tied the must-win game they'd eventually go on to win by a 5-4 score...had 3 hits, an RBI and a run scored in 4 at-bats in the Game 6 win...went just 2-for-13 (.154) with 2 runs scored in the World Series, but one of his hits was a 2-run triple with 2 outs in the first inning of Game 2 that set Sox on their way to a 6-2 win.

SUMMARY: Was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team and received the Thomas A. Yawkey Award, presented annually by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America to the Red Sox MVP...established career highs with 25 home runs, 85 RBI and a .512 slugging percentage in 142 games, 2 shy of his 1999 career best...among major league catchers, ranked 2nd to Jorge Posada of the Yankees in home runs and slugging and tied Florida's Ivan Rodriguez for 2nd, also behind Posada, in RBI...was hitting .292 with 18 homers and 65 RBI at the end of July, but batted .237 with 7 homers and 20 RBI in 49 August-September contests.

SEEING STARS: Although he did not appear in the game, Varitek was selected to his first A.L. All-Star team in the etopps All-Star Final Vote on MLB.com...joined teammates Manny Ramirez (who was chosen to start in fan balloting) and Nomar Garciaparra (who was selected as a reserve in the first Player Vote) on the roster for the 74th All-Star Game, which was played July 15 at U.S. Cellular Field in Chicago...more than 10.6 million votes were cast in the etopps Final Vote...Varitek outpolled White Sox first baseman Frank Thomas, Yankees first baseman Jason Giambi, A's outfielder Eric Byrnes and Angels catcher Bengie Molina.

CATCH THIS: With a career-best 25 home runs, Varitek became just the 2nd catcher in Red Sox history to twice hit 20 homers in a season...only 2 others have done it once...Carlton Fisk turned the trick 4 times (1972-73, 1977-78), Rich Gedman once (1984) and Mike Stanley once (1996)...the only catchers to hit more in a season are Fisk, who slammed 26 in 1973 and 1977; Gedman, who hit 24 in '84; and Stanley, who hit 24 in '96...his career-best 85 RBI were the 3rd-most RBI ever by a Boston catcher...Carlton Fisk knocked in 102 in 1977 and 88 in 1978.

FIREWORKS ON THE FOURTH: Joined David Ortiz and Bill Mueller as one of 3 Red Sox to homer twice in a 10-3 win July 4 at Yankee Stadium...Jason finished 4-for-5 with 4 RBI...the 4 hits matched his career high for the 4th time...the 2-homer game was his 4th to go along with a 3-home run game...hit a 3-run shot off David Wells to erase a 2-0 deficit in the 3rd...touched Wells for a solo shot in the 6th...in all, the Sox hit 7 homers in the game, most ever by an opponent at Yankee Stadium...it marked the 5th time the Red Sox have hit as many as 7 long balls in a game and only the 2nd time in club history 3 players have hit multiple homers in the same game...on June 8, 1950, Bobby Doerr hit 3, Walt Dropo 2 and Ted Williams 2 in a 29-4 win vs. St. Louis.

DOUBLE YOUR PLEASURE: The Sox connected for 11 sets of back-to-back home runs in 2003, and Varitek was involved in 6...according to SABR's David Vincent, only one Red Sox has been involved in more sets of back-to-back home runs in a season...George Scott was involved 7 times in 1977...the only other Boston player to participate in 6 sets was Manny Ramirez in 2001...Vern Stephens (1948), John Valentin (1995) and Ramirez (2002) were each involved in 5 sets.

ALMOST A HERO: Came up with key hits to tie games or give the Red Sox late leads on several occasions only to see the opposition rally: After the Sox had fallen behind 5-0, Varitek slugged a solo home run in the top of the 9th to cap a comeback May 5 at Kansas City, lifting Boston into a 6-5 lead...the Royals rallied with 2 in the bottom of the 9th, however, to win...June 10 at Fenway, hit a game-tying 2-run homer off St. Louis' Kiko Calero in the bottom of the 8th, but the Cards struck for 2 in the 9th for a 9-7 win...with the Sox trailing St. Louis 3-0 in the bottom of the 9th 2 nights later, hit a pinch 2-run homer off Cal Eldred to cut the deficit to 3-2...the Sox eventually tied it on a Nomar Garciaparra RBI triple, before falling 8-7 in 13...the pinch homer was the 2nd of Varitek's career...hung a blown save on Mariano Rivera, singling home Damian Jackson to tie the score in the 8th July 25 at Fenway in a game the Yanks won 4-3 with a run in the 9th.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Launched a 428-foot 3-run homer off the catwalk above left field at Tropicana Field to help the Sox overcome a 3-0 deficit in a 7-5 win April 2 at Tampa Bay...trailing the Yankees 3-2 in the 4th May 20 at Fenway, hit a go-ahead 2-run homer off Jeff Weaver, helping Boston to a 10-7 win...June 7 at Milwaukee, capped a comeback from a 10-4 deficit by following a game-tying solo homer by Trot Nixon with a go-ahead blast off Mike DeJean, lifting the Sox to an 11-10 victory...singled home Johnny Damon with no outs in the 12th to give Boston a 2-1 win July 8 at Toronto...trailing the Yankees 3-0 in the bottom of the 7th, Varitek slammed a 3-run homer off Chris Hammond to inspire a 6-run inning en route to a 6-4 win.

ON THE DEFENSIVE: Appeared in 137 games behind the plate, making 119 starts...the Red Sox went 72-46 (.610) when Varitek started at catcher...Red Sox pitchers posted a 4.46 ERA (533 ER/1075.1 IP) with him catching...gunned down 19 of 80 runners trying to steal, 24 percent...was charged with 9 errors and 6 passed balls.

ETC.: The switch hitter batted .309 (42-for-136) with 10 homers from the right side (vs. lefthanders) and .257 (81-for-315) with 15 homers from the left side (vs. righthanders)...hit .305 (67-for-220) with 13 homers and 49 RBI in 72 games at Fenway and .242 (56-for-231) with 12 homers and 36 RBI in 70 road contests...hit safely in 9 consecutive games June 24-July 4, lifting his average to .306 from .272 by going 17-for-34 (.500) with 7 doubles, 5 homers, 15 RBI and 8 runs in the 9 games...batted .312 (49-for-157) with 12 homers and 40 RBI in 47 games in June and July...his 7 homers in June and his 20 RBI in both months matched his career bests for a calendar month.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Appeared in 11 of the Red Sox' 12 post-season games, starting 9 (all but Tim Wakefield's 3 starts)...hit .294 (10-for-34) with 2 doubles, 4 homers, 5 RBI and 8 runs...his 4 homers were 2nd on the club to Todd Walker, and are tied for 2nd-most in club history in a single postseason...his 6 career post-season homers are 2nd-most in Sox history, one behind Nomar Garciaparra...appeared in all 5 games (4 starts) of the ALDS vs. Oakland, going 4-for-14 (.286) with 2 homers and 2 RBI...was on base 4 times with a single, a 5th-inning homer off Tim Hudson and 2 walks in Game 1...hit a game-tying solo homer off Barry Zito to ignite the decisive 4-run 6th in Game 5...batted .300 (6-for-20) with 2 doubles, 2 homers, 3 RBI and 4 runs in 6 games (4 starts) in the ALCS vs. New York...homered off Andy Pettitte in the 6th inning of Game 2 at Yankee Stadium...sparked a 4-run 3rd inning with a leadoff homer off Pettitte in Game 6 as the Red Sox evened the series...drove in a key insurance run with a pinch-hit fielder's choice grounder in the 7th inning of Game 4 at Fenway...had 2 hits in both Game 2 and Game 7.

1998: In his first full M.L. season, was named Red Sox Rookie of the Year by the Boston baseball writers...batted .253 with 7 homers and 33 RBI...the Sox went 38-18 in his starts...was 1-for-5 in his first career start April 2 at Oakland...delivered his first RBI April 10 vs. Seattle, and collected his first steal May 8 at Kansas City...2 days later, hit his first homer off the Royals' Jose Rosado...posted his first 2-homer game and knocked in 5 September 15 at New York...went 1-for-4 with an RBI in Game 2 of the ALDS at Cleveland, his lone appearance in the series.

1997: Started with Seattle's Triple-A Tacoma club, but was acquired by the Red Sox July 31...after 20 games at Pawtucket, had his contract purchased September 9...made his major league debut September 24 at Detroit, delivering a 9th-inning pinch-hit single.

1996: Was named Player of the Year at Double-A Port City, batting .262 with 34 doubles, 12 homers and 67 RBI...led the club in doubles and homers, while ranking 2nd in RBI...led Southern League catchers with a .993 fielding percentage, charged with only 5 errors in 108 games...played for Peoria in the Arizona Fall League.

1995: After being selected in the first round (14th overall) by the Mariners in 1994, made his pro debut with 104 games at Double-A Port City...hit his first pro homer May 7 vs. Jacksonville...hitting only .202 on June 12, went on a .364 (20-for-55) tear with 13 RBI June 14-30...following the season, batted .281 for Peoria in the AFL.

PERSONAL

JASON ANDREW VARITEK... Jason and his wife Karen have 3 daughters: Alexandra Rose (1/14/00), Kendall Anne (9/30/01) and Caroline Morgan (6/13/05)...attended Georgia Tech, where he played with former Red Sox Nomar Garciaparra, Jay Payton and Darren Bragg...was a 3-time All-American and was named Baseball America's College Player of the Year in 1993...the publication later named him to its "All-Time College All-Star Team"...joined Garciaparra and Kevin Brown as one of 3 baseball players among Georgia Tech's 50 Greatest Athletes of the 20th Century, and his No. 33 is the only jersey retired in Georgia Tech history...continues to hold most Georgia Tech offensive records...was drafted by the Twins in the first round (21st overall) in 1993, but returned to school...was a member of the 1992 U.S. Olympic baseball team in Barcelona...was inducted into the Cape Cod League Hall of Fame in 2002...is a 1990 graduate of Lake Brantley High School in Longwood, FL, where he was primarily a third baseman.

JASON IN THE COMMUNITY: With the Red Sox, Jason has been not only a leader on the field but also in the community...in 2005, the captain led all Red Sox players in appearances...since 2004, his "Tek's 33's" program has brought youngsters from Children's Hospital to Fenway Park throughout the season for a chance to meet Jason, watch batting practice and enjoy a ballgame...Jason and his wife Karen are also frequent visitors to Children's Hospital...he has also teamed up with the Massachusetts Teacher's Association as the Verizon Literacy Champion spokesman to promote summer literacy among children throughout the state.

- BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits.
- SLUGGING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total of all hits by the total times at-bat (at-bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitches or times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction).
- ON-BASE PERCENTAGE: Add the total of hits, walks and hit by pitches and divide by the total of at-bats, walks, hit by pitches and sacrifice flies.
- EARNED RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs by 9 and divide by the numbers of innings pitched.
- FIELDING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total putouts and assists by the total number of assists, putouts and errors.
- WINNING PERCENTAGE: Divide the number of games won by the total number of game won and lost.
- MAGIC NUMBER: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

CAREER NOTES

SENIOR SOX: Signed by the Red Sox on April 26, 1995, Wakefield enters his 12th season in Boston and is the active player with the longest continuous service in a Red Sox uniform...only 4 other active major league pitchers have worn the same uniform continuously since at least 1995: John Smoltz of the Braves (1988), Trevor Hoffman of the Padres (1993, Brad Radke of the Twins (1995) and Mariano Rivera of the Yankees (1995)...on April 19, 2005, Wake agreed to a contract extension through the 2006 season with club options there after.

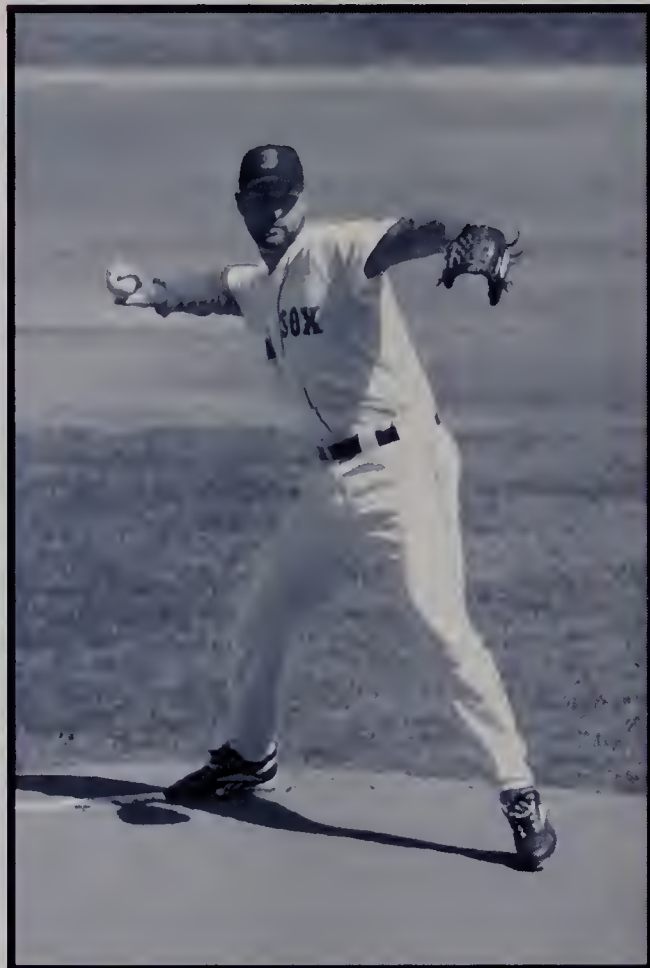

STAYING POWER: Wakefield joins Roger Clemens (1984-96), Bill Lee (1969-78) and Mel Parnell (1947-56) as one of only 4 pitchers in franchise history to spend at least 10 consecutive seasons with the club...is one of only 17 players in club annals with at least 10 continuous years of service, tying for 8th with Wade Boggs (1982-92), Joe Cronin (1935-45), Rich Gedman (1980-90), Billy Goodman (1947-57) and Frank Malzone (1955-65)...Carl Yastrzemski leads with 23 straight seasons (1961-83).

CLIMBING THE CHARTS: Wakefield ranks 2nd in club history with 420 appearances, trailing only Bob Stanley (637)...his 1,480 strikeouts as a Red Sox stand 3rd in club annals...trails only Clemens (2,590) and Pedro Martinez (1,683)...with 2,072.2 innings pitched for Boston, ranks 3rd in club history behind Clemens (2,776.0) and Young (2,728.1)...Wake's 283 starts are 3rd in Sox history behind Clemens (382) and Young (297)...his 130 Red Sox wins are 3rd all time behind Clemens and Young (192 each).

MILESTONE WATCH: Begins 2006 only 6 wins shy of 150 in his major league career and 208.0 innings short of 2,500.0 for his career...needs 10 strikeouts for 1,600 in his career and 20 K's for 1,500 as a member of the Sox...Wake needs 17 starts for 300 in a Sox uniform.

STARTING AND RELIEVING: Is 134-110 with a 4.35 ERA (977 ER/2020.2 IP) in 316 career starts and 10-13 with 22 saves and a 3.75 ERA (113 ER/271.1 IP) in 141 career relief appearances...over the last 3 years, has made 96 of his 100 appearances as a starter...Wake pitched exclusively as a starter in 2005, which he had not done since 1996.

GIVING BACK: Among the most community-minded players in the game, Wakefield has been honored as the Red Sox recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award 7 times, including each of the last 6 years in a row (1998, 2000-2005)...Wakefield's area of focus have been with the Franciscan Children's Hospital in Boston and with the Space Coast Early Intervention Center in his hometown of Melbourne, FL.

SUMMARY: The longest-tenured member of the Red Sox enjoyed one of his finest seasons, leading the club in wins, starts, innings pitched, strikeouts, complete games and opponents average by a starter en route to being honored as the club's Pitcher of the Year by the Boston chapter of the BBWAA...finished 16-12 with a 4.15 ERA in 33 starts, pitching exclusively as a starter for the first time since 1996...established a career high with 225.1 innings pitched, while his victory total was one shy of his 1998 career high...matched his 1998 and 2003 personal best in starts...Wakefield's 151 strikeouts tied for 2nd-most in his career...topped 10 wins for the 4th year in a row and for the 8th time in 11 seasons with the Red Sox...finished strong, going 8-3 with a 3.77 ERA (39 ER/93.0 IP) over his final 13 starts.

A CHECK OF THE LEADER BOARD:

Ranked among American League leaders in wins (tied for 5th with 16), starts (tied for 8th with 33), complete games (tied for 4th with 3), innings pitched (6th with 225.1) and strikeouts (11th with 151)...his .245 opponents average allowed was 6th-best in the A.L.

EVERY 5TH DAY: Made at least 30 starts for the 3rd season in a row and for the 5th time in his career...topped 200.0 innings pitched for the 5th time, for just the 2nd time since 1999.

A LITTLE HELP?: Received a staff-low average of 4.8 runs per game worth of support (158 runs in 33 starts)...the Sox scored a total of 38 runs in his 12 losses (3.2 per game), including 4 games in which they scored 2 runs or fewer.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS: Got the win or the loss in 28 of his 33 starts, including 15 in a row from June 24-September 11...after 2 no-decisions in his first 4 starts, got a win or a loss in 24 of his next 25 starts April 29-September 11 and in 26 of his last 29 starts.

TOUGH TO HIT: Opponents batted just .245, 7th-best in the A.L...held lefthanders to a .202 average (74-for-367), 5th-best by any A.L. starter...righthanders hit .278 (136-for-490)...opponents hit .165 (68-for-413) with 2 strikes and .037 (1-for-27) after his 105th pitch.

1...2...3 STRIKES YOU'RE OUT: En route to fanning 151 in 225.1 innings, twice set personal single-game strikeout highs...fanned 11 in 8.0 innings August 7 at Minnesota, then punched out 12 in 8.0 innings September 11 at New York (AL).

LET'S STICK TOGETHER: Went 16-8 with a 3.66 ERA (83 ER/204.0 IP) in 29 starts with Doug Mirabelli behind the plate and 0-4 with an 8.86 ERA (21 ER/21.1 IP) without him...Mirabelli missed 21 games, including 4 of Wakefield's starts, while on the D.L. with a sprained left wrist in May19-June 12...in 2003 and 2004, Mirabelli was behind the plate for all but 4.1 of Wakefield's 390.2 innings.

WAKEFIELD (Cont.)

YOU COMPLETE ME: His 3 complete games were his most since 1997 (4)...went the distance July 17 vs. New York (AL), September 6 vs. the Angels and September 11 at New York (AL)...threw back-to-back complete games September 6 and 11 for the 6th time in his career, for the first time since July 29 and August 3, 1997...Wakefield's July 17 complete game, a 5-3 loss Fenway Park to the Yanks, was his first in 154 starts since August 19, 1998 at Kansas City...Wake's gap between complete games was the 2nd-longest in major league history, trailing only San Francisco's Kirk Rueter, who since July 4, 1999 has made 193 straight starts without a complete game.

NOT SO FAST: Allowed 18 steals in 25 attempts after surrendering 33 in 41 tries in 2004...had averaged 28 stolen bases allowed over the last 9 seasons, last allowing fewer than 18 in 1995.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY: For the 2nd year in a row, and for the 2nd time in his career, pitched and won on his birthday, earning a 6-4 victory over the Royals at Fenway on August 2, the day he turned 39...allowed 4 runs on 6 hits in 7.0 innings, fanning 7, as the Sox overcame a 4-0 deficit after 3.

MILESTONE WATCH: Wake's home-opening start marked his 200th career start at Fenway Park...finished the year with 215 appearances at Fenway, 2nd to only Bob Stanley (321) in Red Sox history...made the 300th start of his major league career in a 7-4 win July 5 at Texas...chalked up his 1,500th career strikeout June 29 at Cleveland, punching out Victor Martinez in the 3rd inning.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Threw a career-high 3,394 pitches, an average of 15.1 per inning...induced 18 double plays, the 2nd-highest total of his career (21 in 1996)...the Sox were 18-15 in his starts...17 of his 33 starts were quality starts...worked at least 6.0 innings in 26 of his 33 starts and at least 7.0 in 19, including 16 of his final 21...finished at least 8.0 innings in 8...went 10-4 with a 4.08 ERA (50 ER/110.1 IP) in 16 starts at Fenway Park and 6-8 with a 4.23 ERA (54 ER/115.0 IP) in 17 road starts...his 2.84 ERA (24 ER/76.0 IP) in day games tied for 3rd in the A.L...6 of his 12 losses came against A.L. East foes despite a 3.96 ERA within the division...4 of his 12 losses came to the Yankees, as he went 1-4 with a 4.20 ERA (19 ER/40.2 IP) in 6 starts against New York...threw 2 complete games against the Yankees...beat 13 teams at least once, earning 2 wins against Detroit and 3 against Tampa Bay...threw a season-high 118 pitches twice: July 27 at Tampa Bay and August 7 at Minnesota...gave up an A.L.-high 35 home runs...allowed 5 homers in his first 10 starts, then 25 in his next 23, including 3 homers in a game on 5 occasions...went 9-5 with a 3.65 ERA (45 ER/111.0 IP) in 16 starts on more than 4 days rest.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Started the year 2-0 with a 1.75 ERA (5 ER/25.2 IP) through his first 4 starts...April 11, started Boston's home opener for the first time in his 11-year Red Sox career, beating the Yankees 8-1 in his 200th career appearance at Fenway Park...May 27 at New York, walked 7 for the first time since June 30, 1997 vs. Florida...June 12 at Wrigley Field, in his 400th career appearance with the Red Sox, snapped a personal 5-game slide, allowing one run on 4 hits over 7.0 innings in an 8-1 win...threw 19.0 consecutive scoreless innings over his next 2-plus starts June 18-29, going 2 straight starts (June 18 and 24) without surrendering a run for the first time since September 16-30, 1993 with Pittsburgh, when he fired consecutive complete-game shutouts...worked 7.0 innings of 7-hit shutout ball June 18 vs. Pittsburgh, leaving a 0-0 game that the Sox ultimately lost 2-0...6 days later at Philadelphia, fired 8.0 innings of 2-hit shutout ball in an 8-0 victory...from June 12-July 5, went 4-0 with a 1.70 ERA (7 ER/37.0 IP) in 5 starts, allowing 2 runs or less in 4 of the 5...allowed one unearned run in 7.1 innings in a 4-1 win July 27 at Tampa Bay...went 8.0 innings, 9.0 innings, 8.0 innings and 9.0 innings in 4 straight starts August 31-September 16...September 11 at New York, fired an 8.0-inning complete game in a 1-0 loss to Randy Johnson...the lone run Wake allowed came on a first-inning homer by Jason Giambi.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Started Game 3 of Boston's American League Division Series against the White Sox, and allowed 4 runs on 6 hits in 5.1 innings en route to a 5-3 loss that gave Chicago a 3-game series sweep...Paul Konerko hit a 2-run homer with no outs in the 6th that snapped a 2-2 tie...after getting Carl Everett to ground out, Wake gave way to Chad Bradford in relief.

RED SOX

SUMMARY: The knucklerballer finished his 10th season in Boston 12-10 with a 4.87 ERA in 32 appearances (30 starts), the 2nd year in a row he's made at least 30 starts...his 12 wins were his most since 1998 and gave him 11 or more wins for a 3rd straight season...held opponents to a .264 average...the Sox were 16-14 in his 30 starts with wins in 9 of his last 13...Boston averaged 5.8 runs per game in his starts (173 runs in 30 starts)...14 of his starts were quality starts.

MY ONE AND ONLY: Threw all but 2.1 of his 188.1 innings to Doug Mirabelli...Jason Varitek caught the other 2.1 innings...a season ago, Mirabelli caught all but 2.0 of Wake's 202.1 innings.

TOUGH TO HIT: Limited opponents to a .264 (197-for-746) batting average...lefties hit just .225 (78-for-347) with 10 homers, and righties batted .298 (199-for-399) with 19 long balls...opponents hit just .232 (29-for-125) with 2 homers in Wake's first inning of work and just .224 (19-for-85) with runners in scoring position and 2 outs...foes hit .188 (65-for-346) with 116 K's with 2 strikes.

TOP DOWN, BOTTOM UP: The top 5 men in opposing lineups hit .235 (103-for-439) with 15 homers, while batters 6-9 combined to hit .306 (94-for-307) with 14 long balls.

MAKE 'EM EARN IT: Allowed 19 unearned runs, tied with Bronson Arroyo and Kansas City's Brian Anderson for 3rd-most in the major leagues...in all of baseball, only teammate Derek Lowe (28) and Arizona's Brandon Webb (28) allowed more.

FEELING RELIEVED: Made a pair of relief appearances, fanning 2 in 2.0 innings of 2-hit shutout ball April 29 vs. Tampa Bay and giving up 2 unearned runs on 2 hits in one inning June 9 vs. San Diego.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Worked 6.0 or more innings in 21 of his 30 starts, 7.0 or more in 11...completed 8.0 innings 3 times: May 7 at Kansas City, August 18 vs. Toronto and August 29 vs. Detroit, winning the last 2 of those starts...threw 2,993 pitches, an average of 15.9 per inning...fanned 5 or more in 8 starts, including a season-high 7 K's August 29 vs. Detroit and September 20 vs. Baltimore...opponents were 33-41 in stolen base tries...induced 11 double-play ground balls...tied for 2nd in the league with 16 hit batsmen...was 4-0 with a 3.04 ERA (9 ER/26.2 IP) in 4 starts against Toronto and 8-10 with a 5.18 ERA (93 ER/161.2 IP) in 28 games (26 starts) against all other foes...finished 6-6 with a 4.99 ERA (63 ER/113.2 IP) in 19 games (17 starts) at Fenway Park...was 6-4 with a 4.70 ERA (39 ER/74.2 IP) in 13 road starts...went 4-0 with a 3.16 ERA (9 ER/25.2 IP) in 4 starts in domed stadiums...allowed a .237 average (23-for-97) and 2 homers inside.

MORE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS: Earned his first win in his 2nd start April 16 vs. New York, limiting the Yanks to 2 runs (one earned) on 4 hits in 7.0 strong innings in the 6-2 win...threw a season-high 116 pitches June 4 at Kansas City...did not allow an earned run in consecutive starts June 30 at New York (6.1 IP) and July 6 vs. Oakland (7.0 IP of 3-hit shutout ball)...after winning 6 games through the end of July, went 5-1 with a 5.03 ERA (22 ER/39.1 IP) in 6 August starts...scattered 8 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings July 22 vs. Baltimore...that start began a 7-start stretch in which he earned half of his season's wins between July 22 and August 29...went 6-1 with a 4.27 ERA (22 ER/46.1 IP) during the run...in his 6 starts after that, went 1-3 with a 7.24 ERA (26 ER/32.1 IP), not winning again until his final start, October 1 at Baltimore, when he limited the O's to 2 runs on 6 hits over 6.0 innings...won 3 straight starts on 2 occasions: July 22-August 8 and August 18-29.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Was 1-0 with a 9.82 ERA (12 ER/11.0 IP) in 4 games (one start)...did not pitch in the 3-game sweep of Anaheim in the ALDS...made 3 relief appearances in the ALCS vs. New York, going 1-0 with an 8.59 ERA (7 ER/7.1 IP)...in one of the key efforts of the series, saved the Sox pen with 3.1 innings of relief in the 19-8 Game 3 loss...in the process, sacrificed his scheduled Game 4 start...earned the Game 5 win with 3.0 innings of one-hit shutout relief...walked one and struck out four in the 14-inning, 5:49 marathon...started Game 1 of the World Series at Fenway and did not figure in the decision, allowing 5 runs on 3 hits and 5 walks in 3.2 innings...struck out a pair.

SUMMARY: Finished 11-7 with a save and a 4.09 ERA in 35 games (33 starts)...finished 2nd on the club with 202.1 innings pitched, one behind Derek Lowe...tied Lowe for team-high honors with 33 starts, matching his 1998 personal best...his .246 opponents average, career-best 169 strikeouts and 7.5 K's per 9 innings, trailed only Pedro Martinez among Sox starters...tied for 8th in the A.L. with 169 strikeouts and tied for 6th in the league with 7.5 K's per 9 innings...limited opponents to a .246 average, tied for 8th in the league...topped 200.0 innings for the 4th time (1996-1998)...won 5 of his last 7 decisions to reach double figures in victories for the 6th time...won at least 11 games for the 6th time in 9 Boston seasons...reached the 30-start plateau for the 3rd time in his career (made 32 starts in 1996 and a career-high 33 in 1998)...had a 3.44 ERA (51 ER/133.1 IP) in his last 21 starts but had just 6 wins, 5 losses and 9 no-decisions to show for it...in those 21 starts, the Sox scored 2 runs or fewer while he was in the game 12 times, one run or fewer on 9 occasions...worked into the 7th in 13 of his last 18 starts, finishing 7 in 8 of the 18...the Sox were 16-17 in his starts, but won 8 of the last 13 after losing 10 of the previous 13...left 4 games with the lead without earning the win...went 2-1 with a 2.01 ERA (7 ER/31.1 IP) in 5 September starts, working at least 7.0 innings in each except his final start, a 2.0-inning post-season tune-up on the season's final day at Tampa Bay.

TOGETHER WHEREVER WE GO: Threw all but 2.0 of his 202.1 regular-season innings with Doug Mirabelli behind the plate...Jason Varitek's lone 2003 regular-season experience catching Wakefield came on the final day of the season, when the pair worked together for the first 2.0 innings of the season finale at Tampa Bay.

HAPPY HUNDREDTH: August 3 at Baltimore, became the 9th pitcher to win 100 games as a Red Sox (Pedro Martinez later became the 10th).

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Threw 3,181 pitches, an average of 15.7 per inning...had a nearly even groundball-to-flyball ratio (253 grounders, 245 fly balls)...was 5-4 with a 4.25 ERA (53 ER/112.1 IP) in 18 games (17 starts) at Fenway and 6-3 with a 3.90 ERA (39 ER/90.0 IP) in 17 games (16 starts) on the road...held righthanders to a .228 (92-for-404) average, but they hit 16 homers...lefties hit .266 (101-for-379) with 7 long balls...opponents mustered just a .214 (28-for-131) average in Wake's first inning...they hit .164 (66-for-403) with 2 strikes...his first- and 2nd-half numbers were nearly identical: 6-4 with a 4.10 ERA and a .246 average allowed before the break and 5-3 with a 4.08 ERA and a .247 average allowed after...fanned a season-high 8 on 5 occasions.

MORE 2003 HIGHLIGHTS: Made 2 relief appearances and earned his lone 2003 save with 2.0 innings of one-hit shutout ball to preserve a 2-0 win for Derek Lowe April 13 vs. Baltimore...did not allow a run in 3.0 innings in his 2 bullpen outings, the 2nd coming May 6 at Kansas City...May 26 at New York, denied Roger Clemens his 300th win, earning an 8-4 victory...Wakefield worked 5.0 innings, allowing 3 runs on 4 hits...left his June 6 start at Milwaukee after 2.0 innings after being hit by a Wayne Franklin pitch in the top of the 3rd...made his next start 5 days later vs. St. Louis...worked 6.0 scoreless innings in a 3-1 win June 23 vs. Detroit before leaving with a lower back strain...made his next start 5 days later vs. Florida...won a season-best 3 consecutive starts July 23-August 3, beating Tampa Bay, Texas and Baltimore...threw 7.0 innings of 4-hit shutout ball in an 11-0 win over Roger Clemens and the Yankees September 6 at Yankee Stadium...worked a season-high 8.1 innings in a 4-3 win over the Devil Rays September 18 at Fenway...allowed 3 runs (one earned) on 7 hits, walking one and fanning 4.

IN THE POSTSEASON: Went 2-2 with a 2.91 ERA (7 ER/21.2 IP) in 5 post-season appearances (3 starts)...was 0-1 with a 3.52 ERA (3 ER/7.2 IP) in 2 games (one start) in the ALDS vs. Oakland...was the starter and loser in Game 2, allowing 5 runs (3 earned) on 4 hits in 6.0 innings, walking 3 and fanning 7 in the 5-1 setback...allowed all 5 runs in the 2nd inning...worked 1.2 innings of 2-hit scoreless relief in Game 4...was 2-1 with a 2.57 ERA (4 ER/14.0 IP) in 3 games (2 starts) in the ALCS vs. New York...started and won both Game 1 and Game 4, in both cases out-dueling Mike Mussina...in the series opener at Yankee Stadium, allowed 2 runs on 2 hits in 6.0 innings-plus, walking 2 and striking out 2 in the 5-2 win...carried a 5-0 lead into the 7th before walking the first 2 hitters he faced...was pulled from the game and both runners came around to score against Alan Embree...in Game 4 at Fenway, limited the Yanks to a run on 5 hits in 7.0 innings-plus...walked 4 and fanned 8...took the loss in relief in Game 7...after working a 1-2-3 10th, allowed a first-pitch home run to Aaron Boone leading off the bottom of the 11th, giving the Yankees a walk-off 6-5 win.

SUMMARY: Enjoyed one of his finest seasons, finishing 11-5 with 3 saves and a 2.81 ERA in 45 games (15 starts)...struck out 134 and walked only 51 in 163.1 innings of work, an average of 7.38 K's and 2.81 walks per 9 innings...his 2.6-1 strikeout-to-walk ratio was a career best, as was his ratio of walks per 9 innings.

A CHECK OF THE LEADERBOARD: Ranked 2nd in the A.L. with a .204 opponents average and finished 4th in the A.L. in ERA...was 2nd in the league with 6.67 hits allowed per 9 innings and 4th with 7.38 K's per 9 innings...limited lefties to a .195 average (3rd in the A.L.) and righties to .214 mark (4th in the A.L.)...was the only pitcher in the league to place in the top 5 in each category, and--with Pedro Martinez--was one of only 2 in the top 10 in both.

STARTING AND RELIEVING: Split the year between the rotation and the bullpen, entering the rotation to stay for his final 10 appearances beginning August 6...worked at least 7.0 innings in 7 of his last 9 starts and allowed 2 runs or less in 8 of the 9, going 6-1 with a 1.66 ERA (12 ER/65.0 IP)...in all, was 9-3 with a 2.39 ERA (26 ER/98.0 IP) in 15 starts and 2-2 with 3 saves and a 3.44 ERA (25 ER/65.1 IP) in 30 bullpen outings...the Sox scored a total of 3 runs in his 3 losses as a starter...opponents hit .198 (70-for-354) with 9 homers in his starts and .214 (51-for-238) with 6 homers in his relief appearances...opened the year with 2 starts then made 23 consecutive relief appearances April 21-June 28, going 1-2 with 3 saves and a 2.39 ERA (13 ER/49.0 IP)...made 3 starts among 10 appearances in July before moving into the rotation to stay...did not allow a walk in 4 of his first 7 starts.

SIGNED BY: Wayne Morgan (Blue Jays)

CAREER NOTES

SEASON NO. 20: Enters his 20th major league season, his 2nd with the Red Sox, after pitching for his hometown San Diego Padres in 2004, his lone full season in the National League...has seen 576 of his 618 major league appearances come in the American League, with the exceptions being his 31 starts in 2004 for San Diego and his 11 starts for Cincinnati in 1995 following his mid-season trade from Detroit...entering 2006, Wells is 227-143 with 13 saves and 4.06 ERA all-time with the Blue Jays (1987-92, 1999-2000), Tigers (1993-95), Reds (1995), Orioles (1996), Yankees (1997-98, 2002-03), White Sox (2001), Padres (2004) and Red Sox (2005-).

ACTIVE LEADERS: The 3-time All-Star is the 5th-winningest active pitcher in baseball at the end of 2005, the 3rd-winningest lefty...his 227 wins trail only Roger Clemens (341), Greg Maddux (318), lefty Tom Glavine (275) and lefty Randy Johnson (263).

DON'T WALK: His average of just 1.87 walks surrendered per 9 innings is 4th-best among active pitchers with at least 1,500.0 career innings, the best among all qualifying lefthanders...he trails only Brad Radke (1.62), Jon Lieber (1.75) and Greg Maddux (1.85).

OCTOBER WORKHORSE: Has pitched in the post-season 10 times in his career for 5 different clubs, going 10-4 with a 3.15 ERA in 26 Playoff and World Series outings (16 starts)...by making the start in Game 2 of the ALDS for the Red Sox last season, he joined Danny Jackson as just the 2nd pitcher in major league history to appear in a post-season game for 5 different teams...Wells has pitched in October for Boston, Toronto, Cincinnati, New York and Baltimore...with last season's October start, became the first pitcher to make a start in the Division Series for 4 different clubs...he also became just the 9th different southpaw to make a post-season start for the Red Sox.

AT FENWAY: Including an 8-1 mark with a 3.07 ERA in 2005, is 18-11 with a 4.26 ERA (114 ER/241.0 IP) in 43 career regular season outings (35 starts) at Fenway Park...made his first 7 appearances as a reliever, going 2-0 with a 2.87 ERA (5 ER/15.2 IP) through the end of 1989...in his first 10 starts at Fenway from 1990-1996, went just 1-8 with a 7.23 ERA (45 ER/56.0 IP)...however, in his 25 regular season starts since beginning in 1997, the lefthander is 15-3 with a 3.40 ERA (64 ER/169.1 IP) on Yawkey Way.

PERFECTION: Became the 14th pitcher in major league history to throw a regular-season perfect game in a 4-0 win May 17, 1998 vs. Minnesota as a Yankee...struck out 11 in recording the first regular season perfect game in Yankee history and the 2nd overall, joining Don Larson's effort October 8, 1956 in Game 5 of the World Series vs. Brooklyn...both Wells and Larson are graduates of Point Loma High School in San Diego...Wells threw 120 pitches, 79 for strikes, in the gem.

SUMMARY: Ended the year with 3 wins in a row, won 6 of his final 7 decisions and went 9-2 after the All-Star break to finish 15-7 with a 4.45 ERA in 30 starts in his first season with the Red Sox...ranked among A.L. leaders with 1.03 walks allowed per 9 innings (2nd), a .682 winning percentage (tied for 8th), 15 wins (tied for 8th) and 2 complete games (tied for 9th)...Boston went 19-11 in Wells' starts, 17 of which were quality starts.

SAME OLD STORY: Reached 10 wins and 180.0 innings pitched for the 4th season in a row and for the 10th time in 11 years...made 30 starts for the 4th straight year and the 9th time in the last 10 seasons.

THANKS FOR YOUR SUPPORT: Led the major leagues with an average of 7.97 runs worth of support per 9 innings and a total of 163 runs scored while he was in the game.

LEFT IS RIGHT: Wells' 30 starts were the most by a Boston lefthander since Frank Viola made 35 starts in 1992, while his 15 wins were the most by a Sox southpaw since Bruce Hurst notched 18 W's in 1988...the last lefty to give the Sox more innings in a season was Hurst (216.2) in 1988.

SWEET 16: Wore uniform No. 3 for the team's first 48 games (7 starts) through May 28, but traded for Edgar Renteria's No. 16 on May 29...went 2-4 with a 6.81 ERA (28 ER/37.0 IP) in 7 starts as No. 3 and 13-3 with a 3.86 (63 ER/147.0 IP) in 23 starts while wearing uniform No. 16.

EVERYTHING'S UNDER CONTROL: Walked only 21 batters in 184.0 innings...his average of 1.0 walk per 9 innings ranked 2nd in the majors, trailing only Carlos Silva of the Twins (0.4)...worked 6 consecutive starts without allowing a walk July 25-August 17...no pitcher in club history has worked as many innings with so few free passes...a look at the pitchers in club history who have thrown the most innings without issuing more than 21 walks:

PITCHER, YEAR	IP	BB
David Wells, 2005	184.0	21
Carl Mays, 1915	131.2	21
Jesse Tannehill, 1907	131.0	20
Bret Saberhagen, 1999	119.0	11
Elmer Steele, 1908	118.0	13

HOME, SWEET HOME: Went 8-1 with a 3.07 ERA (28 ER/82.0 IP) in 12 starts at Fenway Park, limiting opponents to a .255 average and 5 home runs...in 18 road starts, went 7-6 with a 5.56 ERA (63 ER/102.0 IP)...opponents hit .327 with 16 homers on the road...Wells' lone Fenway Park setback came April 25 vs. Baltimore in his 2nd home start of the year...he did not lose in his final 16 starts at Fenway, going 7-0 with a 2.78 ERA (22 ER/71.1 IP).

SUMMARY: Split the year between Boston and Pawtucket, appearing in 44 games during 5 stints with the Red Sox and in 43 games during 4 stints with the PawSox...with Boston, batted .278 (22-for-79) with 7 doubles, a home run and 9 RBI...with Pawtucket, finished at .322 (49-for-152) with 15 doubles, a triple, 8 homers and 27 RBI...September 18 vs. Baltimore, fractured the tip of the ring finger on his right hand fielding a ground ball...did not play again until October 2, the final day of the regular season, when he went in the field but did not bat.

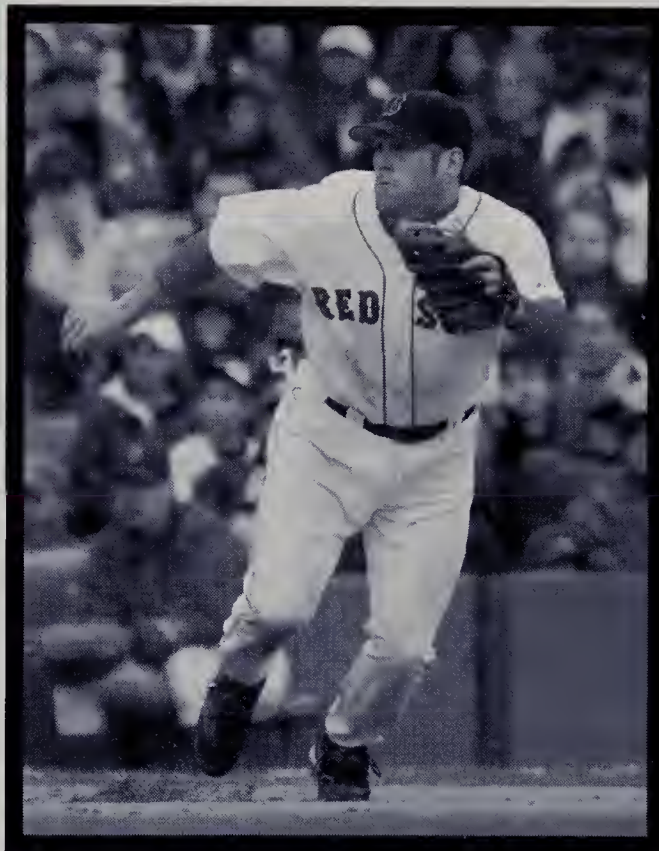

UPS AND DOWNS: On the Opening Day roster for the first time in his career, Youkilis was optioned to Triple-A Pawtucket April 13, when Curt Schilling was activated from the 15-day D.L...was recalled April 30 before again being optioned July 10...returned to the big leagues July 18, but was optioned back to Triple-A 2 days later without having appeared in a game...was recalled August 8 only to again be optioned to Pawtucket August 16...was recalled for the final time August 31.

PLAYING THE FIELD: Made 23 appearances (14 starts) at third base, while also playing 9 games (5 starts) at first base and 2 games (one start) at second...had not previously played first or second in the majors...made his first appearance and start at first base May 16 at Oakland...appeared as a defensive replacement at second September 2 vs. Baltimore before making his first career start at the position the next night...did not commit an error in 88 chances (48 at third base, 38 at first base and 2 at second base).

PATIENCE IS A VIRTUE: Saw an average of 4.68 pitches per plate appearance, most by any Red Sox player with at least 50 at-bats...in parts of 2 seasons in the majors, have averaged 4.60 pitches seen per plate appearance.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: Batted .300 (9-for-30) with a homer and 3 RBI off lefties and .265 (13-for-49) with 6 RBI off righthanders...hit just .182 (6-for-33) at Fenway Park, while batting .348 (16-for-46) on the road...was a .326 (14-for-43) batter at night and a .222 (8-for-36) hitter by day...batted .311 (14-for-45) with men on base...batted .360 (9-for-25) with 5 RBI in 14 games against A.L. West foes...batted at least once from all 9 spots in the batting order, with a high of 18 at-bats out of the 9 hole.

MORE 2005 HIGHLIGHTS: Started at third base and went 1-for-2 with a walk April 10 at Toronto in his lone action before being optioned to Pawtucket for the first time...recalled from Pawtucket earlier in the day, went 3-for-5 with a double and 2 RBI in a 9-2 win April 30 at Texas...May 4 at Detroit, ripped a one-out RBI single off Kyle Farnsworth in the top of the 8th, snapping a 3-3 tie in a 4-3 win...in 5 games through May 4, was batting .467 (7-for-15) with 4 RBI...batted .234 (15-for-64) with 5 RBI in 38 games the rest of the way...came up a triple short of the cycle June 12 at Chicago (NL)...homered in the first off Glendon Rusch to ignite and 8-1 win, his lone major league long ball of 2005.

PAWSOX HIGHLIGHTS: Went 3-for-5 with 2 doubles and an RBI July 14 at Ottawa...2 days later went 3-for-3 with his first PawSox homer of 2005...was 2-for-4 with a double and 3 RBI July 22 vs. Ottawa...collected 5 doubles in a July 26 doubleheader at Buffalo, finishing the day 5-for-10 with 3 RBI...went 6-for-8 with 3 homers, 5 RBI and 5 runs scored in consecutive games August 5 at Syracuse and August 6 at Buffalo...belted a pair of homers in the August 6 game, going 3-for-4 with 3 RBI and 4 runs scored...batted .418 (33-for-79) with 11 doubles, 6 homers and 18 RBI in 22 games with the PawSox during his July 13-August 7 stay...was 2-for-3 with a homer, 3 walks and 2 RBI August 27 at Rochester.

SUMMARY: In just his 3rd full professional season, made his major league debut and appeared in 72 games for the Red Sox...batted .260 with 7 long balls and 35 RBI, starting 55 games at third base...was named the club's Rookie of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

YOUTH SHALL BE SERVED: Youkilis ranked among A.L. rookie leaders in on-base percentage (2nd at .367), walks (2nd with 33), batting average (4th at .260), RBI (4th with 35), slugging (4th at .413), runs (4th with 38), home runs (tied for 5th with 7), total bases (6th with 86), hits (7th with 54), doubles (8th with 11), multi-hit games (8th with 13) and extra-base hits (tied for 8th with 18).

FIRST IMPRESSIONS: After opening the year at Triple-A Pawtucket was recalled May 15 and made his major league debut that afternoon, starting at third base in Toronto...went 2-for-4 with a 4th-inning homer off Pat Hentgen for his first M.L. hit...became just the 7th player in club history to hit a homer in his first major league game, the first since Sam Horn on July 25, 1987 at Seattle...the other 5 to turn the trick are Danny Sheaffer (April 9, 1987), Merl Combs (September 12, 1947), Eddie Pellagrini (April 22, 1946), Ben Steiner (April 17, 1945) and Lefty LeFebvre (June 10, 1938)...Youkilis was the first Red Sox to homer for his first big league hit since Creighton Gubanich slugged a grand slam May 3, 1999 at Oakland off Jimmy Haynes.

NICE START: Reached base in each of his first 10 major league games, batting .286 (8-for-28) with 11 runs, a homer, 3 RBI and a .447 on-base percentage...went 2-for-4 with a pair of doubles and 3 RBI May 28 vs. Seattle, the first multi-RBI game of his career...was named A.L. Rookie of the Month for May, batting .318 (14-for-44) with a homer, 7 RBI, 15 runs scored, a .446 OBP and a .477 slugging percentage in 13 games.

CLUTCH HITTING: Hit .339 (19-for-56) with runners in scoring position, including a .361 mark (13-for-36) with men in scoring position and less than 2 outs...among A.L. qualifiers, Ichiro Suzuki of the Mariners led the league with a .372 average with runners in scoring position...Johnny Damon led the Red Sox with a .355 mark.

FILLING IN NICELY: Made 30 starts at third base while regular third baseman Bill Mueller was on the disabled list (right knee inflammation) from May 20 through July 1...hit .284 (31-for-109) with 9 doubles, 2 homers, 18 RBI, 23 runs scored, 19 walks and a .397 on-base percentage in 32 games in Mueller's absence...appeared in just 39 games after Mueller's July 2 return, batting .209 (19-for-91) with 4 homers, 16 RBI and 14 runs scored...started only 22 of the 39 contests in that span.

MEDICAL STAFF AND TRAINERS

RED SOX

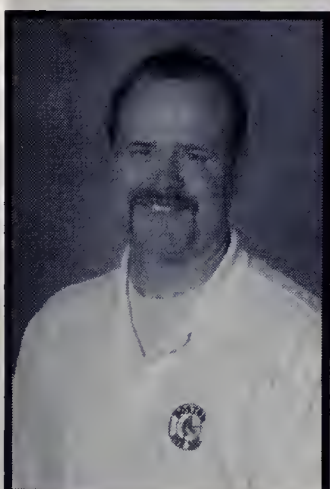

DR. THOMAS J. GILL Medical Director

Named Red Sox Medical Director in February of 2005, Dr. Thomas J. Gill coordinates all aspects of the club's medical operation. In addition to the medical care of the players, Dr. Gill is responsible for the selection of assistant team physicians and a team of medical consultants. He oversees all major league and minor league coverage and supervises the Red Sox training staff as well as the club's strength and conditioning and injury-prevention programs.

A Boston native, Dr. Gill graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Medical School. He is currently an Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at Harvard Medical School and a member of the Sports Medicine and Shoulder services in the Department of Orthopedic Surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital. Dr. Gill has extensive experience in the research and care of athletic injuries, having served as a team physician for the NFL's New England Patriots, the NHL's Boston Bruins and the New England Revolution of MLS.

In addition to his other responsibilities with the Red Sox, Dr. Gill has assumed the position of Co-Director of Medical Research, seeking to develop new injury prevention and rehabilitation techniques.

JAMES W. ROWE, JR. Medical Operations Coordinator

Jim Rowe was named Medical Operations Coordinator in November of 2005 after serving as the Red Sox head trainer for 11 seasons. In his new role Jim will coordinate all medical services for Red Sox major leaguers and minor leaguers. Rowe graduated from Springfield College in 1986. He joined the Brewers Single-A affiliate in Beloit, WI in 1985 while a student at Springfield. After receiving his degree in physical education and athletic training, Rowe moved on to El Paso, TX where he served as athletic trainer of the Brewers' Double-A team. Rowe then left baseball for five years to work at Beverly Sports Medicine Clinic in Beverly, MA and at the Pingree School in South Hamilton, MA. In 1994 Rowe returned to pro baseball as athletic trainer for the Pawtucket Red Sox. He then moved to the big league club as head trainer in 1995. Jim is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletics Trainers Association of Massachusetts. The Dover, NH native currently resides in Newmarket, NH with his wife, Elizabeth, and their daughter, Brittany.

PAUL LESSARD Head Athletic Trainer

Paul Lessard was named Red Sox Head Athletic Trainer in November of 2005 after serving in the same role with the Arizona Diamondbacks for the previous eight seasons. It's a return home for Lessard, a Stamford, CT native who graduated from Northeastern University in 1986 with a degree in athletic training. Paul was the only head trainer in Diamondbacks' history, having been appointed to the position before the club's inaugural season in 1998. Prior to that Lessard spent a total of 10 years at Boston University (1988-94) and the College of the Holy Cross (1994-97) as head athletic trainer. Before joining BU, he spent two years as the assistant athletic trainer for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and one season in the New York Yankees organization as the trainer at their Fort Lauderdale affiliate in 1987. Paul is a member of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association and the Athletic Trainers Organization of Massachusetts.

MIKE REINOLD
Assistant Athletic Trainer

Mike Reinold is the new Red Sox Assistant Athletic Trainer. He joins the Red Sox after spending the last two years as the director of rehab and clinical education at the American Sports Medicine Institute (ASMI) run by Dr. James Andrews in Birmingham, AL. Mike developed rehab programs for professional baseball pitchers seeking the care of Dr. Andrews. At ASMI Reinold used his expertise in the biomechanics of a pitcher's motion to assess flaws in the pitcher's delivery and address ways to prevent future injury. He worked with the player and the corresponding members of major league training staffs to develop appropriate rehab programs both during the regular season and off-season. Since 2001 Mike had been a rehab consultant for the Tampa Bay Devil Rays. In addition to his doctorate in physical training, he is a certified athletic trainer and a certified strength and conditioning coach. Reinold, a Winthrop, MA native and a 2000 graduate of Northeastern University with a degree in physical therapy, earned a doctorate in physical therapy from the Massachusetts General Hospital Institute of Health Professions in 2003. Mike and his wife Sandi currently live in Birmingham.

DAVID PAGE
Strength and Conditioning Coach

David Page is the Red Sox Strength and Conditioning Coach in 2006. He comes to the Red Sox from the Arizona Diamondbacks where he served in the same capacity for the last six seasons and where he worked with new Red Sox head athletic trainer Paul Lessard. The Malden, MA native began his baseball strength coaching career in 1996 with the Portland Sea Dogs, then an affiliate of the Florida Marlins. He joined the Diamondbacks in 1998 as their minor league strength and conditioning coordinator, designing both winter and in-season programs for all minor league players. David also trained and supervised the strength coaches for each affiliate before moving to the big league club midway through the 1999 campaign. In 1989 he graduated from the University of Southern Maine where he was a four-year letterman in baseball. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist with the National Strength and Conditioning Association and was elected Secretary of the Professional Baseball Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society. Dave and his wife Lori currently live in Arizona with their sons Jackson and Noah.

DON KALKSTEIN

Director of Performance Enhancement

Don Kalkstein has joined the Red Sox as the club's Director of Performance Enhancement. Don will work with the major league club to design and implement a performance enhancement program, primarily focusing on educating and developing the mental side of the game with players and coaches to promote consistent successful performance. For the previous nine years Kalkstein was the major league performance enhancement coach for the Texas Rangers. In addition he joined the NBA's Dallas Mavericks in 2002 in a similar capacity. Upon earning an advanced graduate degree in athletic counseling from Springfield (MA) College in 1988, Don has since directed a sports psychology business designed for professional and Olympic athletes. He also worked as a pitching coach and associate professor at Northwood (TX) University from 1994-96. He and his wife, Debbie, live in Cedar Hill, TX with sons, Dakota and Drey.

RED SOX

SCOTT WAUGH

Rehabilitation Coordinator

Scott Waugh enters his second season as the Rehabilitation Coordinator for the Red Sox. In this role Scott is responsible for implementing the rehabilitation care for the Red Sox injured players. He is a 1990 graduate of the University of Lowell with a degree in Physical Therapy and Athletic Training. He spent one year with the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL and then three years working for Boston College, where he functioned as an assistant trainer and physical therapist. For the past eight years Scott has been the rehabilitation coordinator for the Boston Bruins Hockey Club, a position that he still holds. In addition to his duties with these Boston sports teams, he is also co-owner of the Sports and Physical Therapy Associates clinics of Boston and Wellesley. Scott is a member of the National Athletic Training Association and American Physical Therapy Association. The Hingham, MA native presently lives in Hanover, MA with his wife, Kim, and daughter, Caitlin.

2005 SEASON RECAP AND HIGHLIGHTS

ANOTHER RED OCTOBER: By virtue of tying the Yankees for first place in the American League East with a 95-67 (.586) record and winning the A.L. Wild Card by virtue of dropping the season series with New York 10-9, the Red Sox reached the postseason for the 18th time in 105 A.L. seasons in 2005...they were swept in the best-of-5 A.L. Division Series by the eventual World Champion Chicago White Sox.

4 With their 2005 showing, the Red Sox have qualified for post-season play in 3 straight seasons, a franchise first...they have played in October in 5 of the last 8 seasons beginning in 1998 and in 9 of the last 20 years beginning in 1986...the A.L. Wild Card was the club's 3rd in a row and major league-leading 5th since the play-offs were expanded in 1995.

4 The Red Sox enjoyed at least a share of the division lead for 98 days in 2005, more than any team in the division...that total included 88 of 89 days between June 24 and September 20 (every day except July 18)...the Sox led the East for 64 days in a row from July 19-September 21...Boston's largest lead of the season was 5.5 games over the 2nd-place Yankees on August 10...the club's largest deficit of the season came on May 26-27, when they trailed the then-first place Orioles by 5.0 games.

MODEL OF CONSISTENCY: The Red Sox join the Braves and Yankees as the only teams in baseball to play in the postseason in each of the last 3 years...with 95 victories in 2005, the Red Sox reached the 90-win plateau for the 4th year in a row, the 6th time in 8 years and the 24th time 105 A.L. seasons...winners of 93 games in 2002, 95 in 2003 and 98 in 2004, the Sox have surpassed 90 wins in 4 consecutive seasons for the 2nd time in franchise history, the first time since 1914-17.

4 With 95 wins in 2003 and 98 in 2004, the Red Sox' total of 288 wins over the last 3 years is their highest 3-year victory total ever...the 1977-79 clubs combined to win 287 games...the Sox have won at least 95 games in 3 straight seasons for the first time ever...they had previously won 95 or more in back-to-back years on 2 occasions: when they won 96 games in 1948 and again in 1949 and when they won 97 games in 1977 and 99 in 1978.

4 The Red Sox posted a .500-or-better finish for the 33rd time in 39 seasons beginning in 1967...since the 1967 "Impossible Dream" campaign, no major league club has finished .500-or-better more often...the Yankees are 2nd on that list, having done so 32 times...the Dodgers (29), Reds (25) and Orioles (24)--none of whom finished at .500 in 2005--round out the top 5.

4 The Red Sox have posted winning records in each of the last 8 seasons (1998-2005), their longest run of better-than-.500 finishes since recording 16 in a row from 1967-82...in all of baseball, only 2 other clubs have finished above .500 in each of the last 8 seasons: the Braves and Yankees.

ENCORE! ENCORE!

A look at how the Red Sox fared in the season following each of their 6 world titles:

YEAR	RECORD	STANDING
1904	95-59 (.617)	American League Champions, No World Series Played
1913	79-71 (.527)	4th in American League
1916	91-63 (.591)	World Series Champions
1917	90-62 (.592)	2nd in American League
1919	66-71 (.493)	6th in American League

ABOUT THE RECORD: After going 12-11 in April and only 32-29 through June 11, the Sox went 63-38 from June 12 through the end of the season, tied with Oakland for the 3rd-best record in baseball over that span behind only the Yankees (65-36) and the Astros (64-38)...the Red Sox finished 39-35 (.527) against the A.L. East and 56-32 (.636) outside of the division...the Sox went 22-13 (.629) against the A.L. Central, 22-13 (.629) against the A.L. West and 12-6 (.667) against the N.L...the Sox finished 32-11 (.744) at home against non-division opponents...Boston went 19-17 (.528) against 2005 playoff teams (11-8, .579 at home)...the Sox finished 39-28 (.582) against teams that finished with better than .500 records (22-13, .629 at home) and 56-39 (.589) against clubs that posted sub-.500 marks in 2005 (32-14, .696 at home)...Boston finished with a .500-or-better record against every A.L. team except the Blue Jays (7-11) and Yankees (9-10)...the Sox finished 27-15 (.643) in one-run games (15-1, .938 at home) and 37-27 (.578) in games decided by 2 runs or less (22-9, .710 at home)...Boston swept 12 series, 4 at Fenway Park.

HOME, SWEET HOME: The Red Sox went 54-27 (.667) at Fenway Park, posting the best home record in all of baseball for the first time since 1978...Boston was 18-5-4 in 27 home series, including 8 series sweeps...owners of baseball's best cumulative home mark since the start of 2003 (162-81, .667), the Sox reeled off a 14-game home winning streak from July 19-August 26, 4th-longest in club history and the longest since the 1988 Red Sox set an American League record with 24 home wins in a row...here's the Red Sox' 2005 home-road statistical breakdown:

SAFE AT HOME
Including a major league-best 54-27 (.667) mark in 2005, the Red Sox own the best home record in all of baseball over the past 3 seasons (since Opening Day, 2003):

1. RED SOX	162-81 (.667)
2. New York (AL)	160-84 (.656)
3. Atlanta	157-86 (.646)
4. Oakland	154-89 (.634)
5. St. Louis	151-92 (.621)

HOME	RECORD	ROAD
54-27 (.667)		41-40 (.506)
.280	BATTING AVERAGE	.281
.361	ON-BASE PERCENTAGE	.352
.459	SLUGGING PERCENTAGE	.450
480	RUNS	430
5.9	RUNS PER GAME	5.3
92	HOME RUNS	107
4.44	ERA	5.04
.269	AVERAGE AGAINST	.282
79	HOME RUNS ALLOWED	85

COMEBACK KIDS: The Sox came from behind to win 46 times in 2005, tied with Cleveland for most in the major leagues...that total includes 6 games in which the Sox overcame a deficit of at least 4 runs to win...the Sox turned that trick 5 times after August 1.

ON THE OFFENSIVE: With 910 runs scored, the Red Sox became the first team in baseball to lead the major leagues in runs scored in 3 straight seasons since the Brooklyn Dodgers turned the trick from 1951-53...the last A.L. club to do so was the 1948-50 Red Sox...since 1900, only 5 other clubs have led the majors in scoring 3 or more consecutive seasons...the Yankees did so 4 straight years from 1930-33 and from 1936-39 and for 3 years in a row from 1926-28...the 1948-50 Red Sox and 1951-53 Dodgers round out the exclusive club.

4 Boston's 3-year total of 2,820 runs scored from 2003-2005 is the 10th-highest total by any club over a 3-year period in major league history.

4 The Red Sox also led the majors in batting (.281), hits (1,579), doubles (339), walks (653), on-base percentage (.357), OPS (.811) and pitches per plate appearance (3.86).

DYNAMIC DUO: David Ortiz (47 homers and 148 RBI) and Manny Ramirez (45 homers and 144 RBI) combined for 92 home runs and 292 RBI...no pair of teammates in baseball hit more home runs or combined for more RBI...in club history, no teammates have hit more homers in a season, and only Vern Stephens and Ted Williams combined for more RBI in a season, when they both drove in 159 for a total of 318 in 1949...David and Manny, who are tied for the major league lead with 88 homers and rank one and 2 in RBI over the last 2 years, are the first teammates in Red Sox history with consecutive 40-homer seasons...the only other pair of Sox to ever slug 40 long balls in the same season even once is Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli in 1969...they join Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig (1930-31) as just the 2nd pair of teammates ever with consecutive 40-homer, 140-RBI seasons.

A GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL: The Red Sox led the major leagues with 11 grand slams, a single-season club record...no other major league club hit more than 8 bases-loaded long balls...the previous Sox standard had been 9, set in 1941, 1950, 1987 and 2001.

4 8 different players hit a slam, with Manny Ramirez slugging a major league-high 3 (as many or more than 8 other major league teams)...David Ortiz hit 2.

4 Overall, the Sox hit .322 (66-for-205) with 13 doubles, 11 homers and 189 RBI with the bases loaded...Boston led the majors in bases-loaded hits, homers and RBI.

HELLO MY NAME IS _____: 52 players appeared in at least one game for the Red Sox in 2005...the club used 26 position players and 26 pitchers (tying the club record for the 4th time)...10 pitchers made at least one start for the Sox...in 2004, the Red Sox employed the services of 50 players, 25 position players and 26 pitchers (including David McCarty on both lists)...the club record for players used is 55 in 1996...the most pitchers the club has used is 26 in 1995, 2003, 2004 and in 2005)...30 players (17 pitchers) made their Red Sox debuts in 2005...8 players made their major league debuts for the 2005 Sox (Manny Delcarmen, Craig Hansen, Alejandro Machado, Cla Meredith, Jonathan Papelbon, Hanley Ramirez, Kelly Shoppach and Adam Stern).

INTERLEAGUE INTRIGUE: The Red Sox went 12-6 in interleague play, setting a club record for wins vs. N.L. foes...Boston won 11 interleague contests in 2003...11-7 in 2003 and 9-9 in 2004, Boston has finished .500 or better in interleague play in 3 straight seasons for the first time since it was inaugurated in 1997.

FULL HOUSE: The Red Sox drew 2,847,888 fans to Fenway Park for 81 openings in 2005 (an average of 35,159 per game), establishing a club record for the 6th consecutive season...the Red Sox sold out the entire 81-game home schedule for the 2nd consecutive season, joining the Cleveland Indians (1996-2000) as just the 2nd franchise in major league history to sell out an entire season more than once.

4 The Red Sox ended the year with a run of 226 consecutive Fenway Park regular season sellouts (plus another 12 over the last 3 postseasons)...the streak, which began May 15, 2003, is the 2nd-longest in major league history...the record is 455, set by the Cleveland Indians from June 12, 1995 through April 2, 2001.

4 Despite playing in the oldest and smallest ballpark in the major leagues, the Red Sox' home attendance total was 3rd-highest in the A.L. behind the Yankees, who play in 56,937-seat Yankee Stadium, and the Angels, whose home park seats 45,050.

4 The Red Sox were also baseball's top road draw in 2005, averaging 37,709 per road contest...in all, the Sox played before 3,054,442 fans on the road in 2005, most in their history.

RED SOX FACTS Left is Right

From July 16-21, the Red Sox faced 6 consecutive left-handed starters (Randy Johnson, Al Leiter, Scott Kazmir, Casey Fossum, Mark Hendrickson and Mark Buehrle). According to the Elias Sports Bureau, the last time the club faced 6 lefties in succession was June 12-17, 1914 when they went up against Detroit's Harry Coveleski and Pug Cavet, and St. Louis' Earl Hamilton, Walt Leverenz, Carl Weiland and Hamilton a 2nd time.

RED SOX FACTS Nothing Extra

Prior to their 10-inning game July 25 at Tampa Bay, the Red Sox set a major league record by starting the 2005 season with 98 games without playing extra innings...the 2002 Chicago White Sox opened with 69 straight games without playing extra innings...the 98 straight games without an extra-inning affair is Boston's longest single-season streak at any point in a campaign in franchise history...incredibly, while none went extra innings, 19 of Boston's first 98 games were decided in a club's final at-bat...Boston's run was the longest single-season streak by a club since Detroit ended the 2001 campaign with 108 games without extra innings...the single-season major league record is 128 straight games without extras, set by the 1936 St. Louis Browns.

THE HISTORY OF THE BOSTON RED SOX

The American League was formed in 1901, and Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are the lone remaining charter members 105 years later. The Boston American League Base Ball Club, officially known as the Americans, but also known by the media as the Pilgrims or Somersets after owner Charles Somers, started their inaugural season on the road April 26 against the Baltimore Orioles (now the New York Yankees), but didn't pick up their first win until April 30 in Philadelphia, a 10-inning 8-6 decision pitched by Cy Young. Young also pitched and won the Huntington Avenue Grounds home opener May 8 against Philadelphia, 12-4. In 1903, the team finished in first place with a 91-47 record earning themselves a berth in the first-ever World Series against the National League Pittsburgh Pirates. Game 1 of the first World Series was played at Huntington Avenue and pitched by Young, who lost but then won two games in the Series. The Pilgrims won five games to three, in a best of nine series, bolstered by their band of fans, the "Royal Rooters" who were known for their rowdy behavior. 1904 brought another successful year for the Pilgrims, with Cy Young pitching the first perfect game of the modern era in the Huntington Avenue Grounds against Philadelphia on May 5. With a 95-59 record, the 1904 Pilgrims were set to play the New York Giants in the World Series, but Giants manager John McGraw and owner John Brush refused to play, making this the first of only two times since 1903 when the World Series was not played. The Americans, also were unofficially known as the Puritans in 1905. In 1907, the cross-town National League Red Stockings adopted the name "Doves" and changed the team colors from red to blue. Puritans owner John I. Taylor snapped up the popular color, and renamed his team the Red Sox. In the latter half of the decade, Young continued to dominate, throwing a no-hitter in New York in 1908 on the way to his record 511 career wins. The Red Sox, however, would not see post-season play again until the next decade.

HISTORY

SMOKY JOE WOOD WENT 34-5 FOR THE 1912 CHAMPS.

Taylor decided the Red Sox needed a new ballpark, Fenway Park opened in 1912, and a decade of dynasty began. The new park, called Fenway Park because of its location in the Fenway part of Boston, opened April 20, 1912, with the Red Sox taking a 7-6, 11-inning decision from the New York Highlanders (Yankees). With a 105-47 record, the Sox headed for the World Series led by fireballer Smoky Joe Wood's 34-5 record, and centerfielder Tris Speaker's .383 batting average. This time, John McGraw did bring the New York Giants to the World Series, and the Sox summarily defeated them four games to three. The Red Sox picked up a young left-handed pitcher in 1914 by the name of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, who would figure prominently in the Red Sox World Series dynasty of the next several years. The Red Sox went to the World Series three more times in the teens, and emerged victorious with each visit. The 1915 World Series was marked by the strong hitting performances of the legendary Sox outfield of Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker, and Harry Hooper. After dropping Game One, the Sox won the next four to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies for the championship. In 1916, Ruth was the season and the Series hero, with a four to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies for the championship. In 1916, Ruth was the season and the Series hero, with a 23-12 regular season record and a 1.75 ERA. In Game Two of the World Series, Ruth pitched a 14-inning, complete game 2-1 win against the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Sox went on to take the Series four games to one for the second straight year. The Red Sox played their World Series games in 1915 and 1916 in the new and larger capacity National League Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue, which held 40,000 fans. In 1918, Ruth extended his streak to 29 $\frac{2}{3}$ scoreless World Series innings, a record that stood until 1961, and also tied for the league lead with 11 home runs. In the World Series against the Chicago Cubs, Ruth and Carl Mays each won two games to lead the Sox to their fourth world championship in seven years. The next decade, however, would not be so kind to the Red Sox.

After Sox owner Harry Frazee sold Ruth and most of his best players to the Yankees, the "Roaring Twenties" were anything but for the ailing Red Sox. The team failed to clear the .500 mark in each year of the decade, losing over 100 games in three consecutive seasons from 1925-1927. To add to the difficulty on the field, the ballpark itself suffered a setback. In 1926, fire roared through Fenway Park, destroying much of the left-field bleacher sections. Unable to cover the cost of repairing the damage, then-owner Bob Quinn could not rebuild the sections, and the difficult decade for the Sox continued. All was not gloomy, however, as there were several standout performances by individual players during the decade. Pitcher Sam Jones won 23 games in 1921, and Howard Ehmke won 39 games for the Sox in 1923-1924, including a no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1923. First baseman Stuffy McInnis, a member of the 1918 world champion team, set American League fielding records with a .999 fielding pct. in 1921 and still holds the Red Sox career fielding pct. record at first base of .996.

The 30's brightened for the Red Sox, and though the team did not make it back to the great years of the teens, a new dynasty of ownership began in 1933, when 30-year-old millionaire Tom Yawkey bought the club. His first order of business was to rebuild the fire-scarred stadium. Ironically, on the night of January 4, 1934, during the construction of the new Fenway Park, another fire raged through the ballpark, destroying much of the progress. The park was ready for Opening Day 1934, however, when the Sox lost to Joe Cronin and his Washington Senators on April 17. The Red Sox fielded far better teams in the 1930's than they had in the decade prior, and also saw attendance figures increase, especially after Fenway was refurbished. On August 12, 1934, 46,766 fans attended Ruth's farewell game at Fenway, spilling out onto the field. The next season, the Sox set their record single-day attendance which still stands, with 47,627 fans attending a doubleheader on September 22 against the Yankees. 1935 also saw shortstop Joe Cronin traded to the Sox from Washington to become player-manager. 1938 was the high point of the decade, with Cronin leading the Sox to an 88-61 record, and MVP Jimmie Foxx hitting a still-standing team-record 50 home runs with 175 RBI and a league-high .349 average. Veteran Lefty Grove led the league in ERA for four of the last five years of the decade. 1939 also brought forth a new era in Red Sox baseball, when Ted Williams began his legendary career. That season, the Red Sox had five future Hall of Famers on the roster including Williams, Cronin, Foxx, Grove and Bobby Doerr, and they finished with a strong 89-62 record. This decade also saw the Red Sox take the field with numbers on their uniforms for the first time in 1931. For some Red Sox players, these were the numbers that would forever be associated with them as Boston legends.

The 40's got even better for the Red Sox. 1941 was a landmark year for the team, with Williams hitting .406 and Grove picking up his 300th career win. Williams is the last man to hit over .400 for a season, and Grove is one of 2 pitchers to get his 300th win as a Red Sox, the other being Cy Young. Williams continued his consistent hitting by picking up his first Triple Crown in 1942, and his second of four batting titles in the forties. Rookie Dave Ferriss was 21-10 in 1945, on his way to helping the team return to the World Series in 1946 when he was 25-6. The Sox won the pennant by a comfortable 12-game margin in 1946, winning 104 games in the process, but lost the World Series for the first time in franchise history to the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games. Fenway also played host to the 1946 All-Star Game, in which Williams went 4 for 4 with two home runs and five RBI. Coming off the AL pennant year, Williams won a 2nd Triple Crown in 1947. Lights were also installed that season to start the era of night baseball at Fenway. 1948 and 1949 were both tough seasons for the Red Sox. While collecting 96 wins in each year, they finished both seasons only one game out of first place. They lost a one-game playoff to the Cleveland Indians in 1948. Had the Sox won that game, they would have played the Boston Braves in the World Series. In 1949, they lost the final two games of the season in Yankee Stadium to finish one game behind the Yankees. The Sox teams of the late 40's were led by pitcher Mel Parnell who won 25 games and the ERA title in 1949, while Ellis Kinder also picked up 23 victories in 1949. By the end of the 1940's, however, Williams had clearly established himself as one of the greatest players in baseball. He had played eight seasons of major league baseball through 1949, during which time he amassed two MVPs, two Triple Crowns, four RBI titles (one tied with teammate Vern Stephens), four home run titles, and four batting titles. Dom DiMaggio, one of baseball's greatest centerfielders, had a .298 career average, scored 100 runs seven times, was a seven-time All-Star and led the AL in 1950 with 11 triples, 15 stolen bases, and 131 runs scored. In 1948, he had 503 putouts, playing in the AL's smallest park, a record that stood until 1977. He is one of only 5 outfielders to have 500 putouts in one season. Johnny Pesky, an excellent all-around shortstop, had 200 hits in each of his first three major league seasons, and had a .313 career average for the Red Sox. The decade, overall, was the most successful for the team since the teens.

1950-1959

The 50's were another decade of strong hitting for the Sox, starting off with the Rookie of the Year Award-winning performance by first baseman Walter Dropo in 1950. Walter was a part of perhaps the best hitting Red Sox team ever, with the starting lineup averaging .313, and the entire team hitting .302. Infielder Billy Goodman won the batting championship in 1950 with his .354 average, while the team amassed a 94 – 60 record, which would ultimately be their best for the decade. For the second time in his career, Williams put off baseball for military service in the Korean War in 1951 and 1952, after serving three years during World War II. Upon his return, he continued his usual impressive hitting numbers with a tremendous league-leading .388 in 1957 with 38 home runs and winning a second straight title with a .328 average at the age of 40 in 1958. Meanwhile, Jackie Jensen won the RBI title in 1955 (tied), 1958 and 1959, and the MVP in 1958. Rookie third baseman Frank Malzone joined the team full-time in 1957 and won three Gold Glove Awards in 1957, 1958, and 1959. Some Red Sox pitchers also fared well in the 1950's, as Parnell continued his successful pitching through the first half of the decade, winning 69 games for the Sox from 1950 to 1953 along with a no-hitter in 1956. Frank Sullivan had 90 wins from 1954 to 1960, and Ellis Kinder became one of the American League's best relief pitchers of the early 1950's. In 1959 infielder Pumpsie Green made his debut as the first Red Sox African-American ballplayer.

The end of the 50's also brought the end of the Williams era in Red Sox history. Never one to go out quietly, Williams hit his 521st and final home run into the Red Sox bullpen in his final at-bat on September 28, 1960. The spot he vacated in left field was filled in 1961 by rookie Carl Yastrzemski who would later match some of Williams' feats, while pitcher Don Schwall would collect Rookie of the Year honors after winning his first 10 straight decisions at Fenway on the way to a 15 – 7 record overall. Fenway Park also hosted the 1961 All-Star Game, only the second such game in the park's 50-year history. Sox pitching landmarks continued in 1962 when both Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette pitched no hitters, while Monbouquette went on to win 20 games in 1963, and Yaz won his first batting title. Dave Morehead would also throw a no-hitter on September 16, 1965 against Cleveland at Fenway Park, but the Sox had their worst record of that decade, losing 100 games overall. One bright spot of 1965 was the emergence of Lynn, MA native Tony Conigliaro, who hit a league-leading 32 homers in his second season, the second of his six consecutive seasons of 20 or more home runs. After another losing season, finishing ninth in 1966, the Red Sox overcame 100-1 odds and won the "Impossible Dream" pennant in 1967, with a 92 – 70 record. Though they did not win the World Series, that season lives on as one of the greatest in Red Sox history. 1967 proved to be career years for Jim Lonborg, who had a 22 – 9 record plus two wins in the World Series on his way to the Cy Young Award, and Yastrzemski, who won the Triple Crown and MVP. First baseman George Scott and outfielder Reggie Smith were key performers in the Red Sox pennant drive. Ken Harrelson led the league with 109 RBI in 1968, while Yaz continued his strong hitting and won his third batting title. Yaz and Rico Petrocelli finished the 60's with a 40-home run season in 1969, ready to lead the Sox into the next decade.

The era of Yaz continued into the 70's while he again hit 40 home runs and led younger players, such as Conigliaro, who notched 36 home runs in 1970. In 1972, another young player made his mark by winning the Rookie of the Year Award. Catcher Carlton Fisk, a New Hampshire native, made his first full year in the majors count, leading the Red Sox to a second-place finish, just 1 game out of first place, for their best finish since 1967. His batterymate, Luis Tiant, thrilled Sox fans and took home the ERA title that season. Two other famous rookies, Jim Rice and Fred Lynn, were added to the mix in 1975, and made their mark on another AL championship season. Lynn won both MVP and Rookie of the Year honors, the first player to do so in the same year, while Rice hit 22 home runs and Lynn hit 21. Tiant, Rick Wise, and Bill Lee combined for 54 of the Red Sox 95 wins in 1975, with Tiant and Wise pitching all three of the Red Sox wins in the World Series. In Game 6, Bernie Carbo's two-out, three-run home run in the 8th inning tied the game paving the way for the subsequent dramatics. Fisk left his mark on baseball history during Game 6 of the Series, when he hit a 12th-inning pitch off the left-field foul pole for a dramatic finish for the Red Sox, in what many consider to be the greatest World Series game ever. Once again, however, the Sox came up short, and were defeated by Cincinnati Reds in 7 games. On July 9, 1976 owner Tom Yawkey passed away. Mrs. Jean R. Yawkey, Haywood Sullivan and Edward "Buddy" LeRoux were approved by the A.L. as the new owners in May, 1978. The Sox continued to be successful through the end of the 1970's. In 1977 they had 97 wins and finished just 2 ½ games out of first. They finished 1978 with 99 wins, just one game out after losing 5-4 in a one-game playoff against the Yankees. Those 2 seasons were great years for Rice, who won the home run title in 1977, and took home MVP honors in 1978, after ending the season with the home run and RBI crowns. Lynn had a terrific 1979 season and won the batting championship, while Yaz got his 3,000th hit on September 12. That July, he also hit his 400th home run. Dwight Evans also did his part, not only with his bat, but also in right field, picking up three Gold Glove Awards in the last four seasons of the decade. Versatile Bob Stanley made his entry upon the scene in 1977, and in his 12-year Red Sox career racked up a club-record 132 saves and became the club's all-time leader in games pitched. Short-stop Rick Burleson teamed with second baseman and Fall River, MA native Jerry Remy to form one of the club's best double play combinations.

3B Carney Lansford won a batting championship in 1981. Dwight Evans tied for the 1981 league HR title, one of seven of his 20-plus HR seasons in the decade. Rice won the HR title in 1983 with 39, followed closely by Tony Armas, who had

36. Armas then hit 43 in 1984 to lead the league. The early 80's were not particularly successful for the Red Sox as a team, however, and they failed to finish higher than 3rd until their A.L. championship season of 1986. Evans got 1986 off to an auspicious start, hammering a home run in Detroit on the first pitch of the season. Roger Clemens, who won the Cy Young Award and MVP honors, dominated AL batters in 1986, winning 24 games, including his first 14 decisions in a row, with a 2.48 ERA. He also broke a major league record, striking out 20 in one game April 29 vs. Seattle. Under manager John McNamara's leadership, the team won 95 games and came from a 3 games to one deficit in the ALCS to a World Series matchup with the Mets, which the Sox lost in 7 games. Overall, however, the season was filled with many personal milestones, with Rice accumulating his 2000th hit,

Don Baylor hitting his 300th homer, Clemens winning 20 games for the first time, and Wade Boggs winning his third of five batting titles in the decade. In 1987, Boggs won another batting title, while Clemens had his 2nd 20-win season and Cy Young Award, but the Red Sox finished a disappointing 5th. The Red Sox returned to their winning ways in the late '80s, topping the AL East again in 1988 with Joe Morgan's miracle team. After Morgan took over from John McNamara in July, the Sox won 12 straight and 19 of 20 games, to come from 9 games behind and move into first place in the AL East. "Morgan's Magic" became the team's slogan, but the Red Sox were overpowered by Oakland in the ALCS. Nevertheless, the successful teams of the late 80's ushered in a decade of milestones and achievements in the 1990's.

The Sox started the decade off on the right foot. They won the AL East in 1990 with strong performances by Boggs, Evans, Clemens, Mike Boddicker, and rightfielder Tom Brunansky, whose great diving catch saved the final game of the season. Once again, the Sox played the A's in the ALCS, and met the same fate, losing in 4 games. 1991 brought the beginning of the Mo Vaughn era, and the hard-hitting first baseman took his place as a fan favorite, while Dalton, MA native Jeff Reardon pitched his way to 40 saves as the Sox headed to a 2nd-place finish. In February 1992 Mrs. Yawkey passed away leaving her majority general partnership to the continued direction of John L. Harrington with Haywood C. Sullivan as general partner. After the 1993 season Sullivan sold his interest in the club to the Yawkey Trust and Harrington became CEO of the organization. The Sox fared well after the new division set-up was established in 1995, reaching post-season play 3 times in the last 5 years of the decade, including back-to-back appearances in 1998 and 1999, the first time the team had accomplished that feat since 1915-1916. In 1995, the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians started a Division Series rivalry that would last throughout the decade. Behind the powerful hitting of Vaughn, who led the league in home runs and picked up the MVP Award, and the stable pitching of Clemens and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield, the Sox won the East Division title and battled the Indians in the 1995 Division Series, only to be swept in 3 games. In 1996, Clemens struck out 20 batters in a game for the 2nd time in his career, tying his own major league record. In 1997, highly-touted shortstop Nomar Garciaparra made his way to Fenway and picked up the Rookie of the Year Award while leading the league in hits. In 1998, he was joined by another superstar, Pedro Martinez. The '98 Sox won the Wild Card for the first time. Strong pitching was the key to the team's success with Martinez going 19-7 with a 2.89 ERA, while Tom Gordon achieved a major league record 43 consecutive saves on his way to 46 saves in all. The Sox went on to face Cleveland in the Division Series, where they were defeated once again. The pitching would figure into another great season for the Sox in 1999, a year in which Fenway hosted the final All-Star Game of the century, the 3rd in the history of the park. Martinez was MVP of the game, retiring all 6 batters he faced, 5 on strikeouts, ultimately winning the Cy Young Award unanimously, and falling just short of MVP honors with a 23-4, 2.07 season. Once again, he led the Sox to a Wild Card berth and the Division Series against the Indians. This time, the Sox emerged victorious, coming back from losing the first 2 games to dramatically win the series and travel to the ALCS for the first time since 1986. In some form of poetic perfection, the Sox met the Yankees in the series, and the high point was game 3, where Sox ace Martinez met former Sox ace Clemens at Fenway Park. Riding home runs by Garciaparra, John Valentin and Brian Daubach, the Sox cruised to a 13-1 win, their only win in the series.

saves. The Sox finished 2nd, just 2 ¹/₂ games behind the Yankees, with an 85-77 record, and set a new Fenway Park attendance record of 2,586,024. On December 13, 2000, the Red Sox signed outfielder Manny Ramirez to bolster the team's offense into the new millennium. Despite major injuries to GarciaParra, Martinez, John Valentin and catcher Jason Varitek the Red Sox led the A.L. East for most of the first half in 2001. Through August 24, the Sox were still only 3 games behind the Yankees before they went into a tailspin that resulted in 21 losses in the next 26 games. They won the last 5 games of the season to finish with an 82-79 second-place record. Manager Jimmy Williams was replaced by pitching coach Joe Kerrigan prior to the August 16 game vs. Seattle. Newcomer Ramirez had a tremendous first half and despite a late-season hamstring injury hit .306 with 41 homers and 125 RBI. OF Trot Nixon won the team's MVP Award for his .280 average in 144 games with 27 HR, 100 runs and 88 RBI. RHP Hideo Nomo made his Sox debut April 4 in Baltimore and won 3-0 with the club's first no-hitter since 1965. Nomo also pitched a one-hitter May 25 vs. Toronto and led the A.L. with 220 strikeouts. Varitek hit 3 HR with 7 RBI in a 10-3 win in K.C. May 20, the first Sox catcher to hit 3 HR in one game. The team set new attendance records at home, 2,625,333 in 81 dates with 69 sellouts and 2,700,811 on the road in 80 dates. The 68-year Yawkey era would come to a close when a new ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino took control prior to the 2002 season. In March of 2002 the new ownership replaced General Manager Dan Duquette with Vice President of Baseball Operations Mike Port, on an interim basis, and brought in Grady Little as manager to replace Joe Kerrigan. The team had a hot start, winning its first 8 road games for the first time, and had a M.L.-best 40-17 record through June 6. The Sox led the A.L. East from April 15 through June 22 and ultimately finished 2nd in the A.L. East with a 93-69 record, including 51-30 on the road (tied with the Yanks for the best road record in baseball), the most road wins in club history. Derek Lowe pitched Fenway Park's first no-hitter since 1965 when he blanked Tampa Bay 10-0 April 27. Lowe (21-8) and Pedro Martinez (20-4) gave the Sox two 20-game winners for the first time since 1949. Ramirez led the A.L. with a .349 avg. despite missing 39 games with a fractured left index finger. Lowe, Martinez, Ramirez, GarciaParra, Shea Hillenbrand, Johnny Damon and Ugueth Urbina were selected for the A.L. All-Star team and Lowe, Hillenbrand and Ramirez started the game. The team again set an attendance record (2,650,063 in 81 dates). The 2003 Red Sox had an exciting 95-67 regular season, their most wins since 1995, a second-place East Division finish and the 16th trip to the postseason. The club won its third Wild Card playoff berth and came from a 2-0 game deficit in the ALDS to win 3 straight and eliminate Oakland to advance to the ALCS vs. the Yankees. A dramatic 7-game series developed that wasn't resolved until Aaron Boone's 11th-inning homer stopped the Red Sox' World Series bid. Some astute off-season deals by new GM Theo Epstein helped make the team an offensive powerhouse that set many club, league and major league records. The addition of David Ortiz, Kevin Millar, Bill Mueller and Todd Walker, solidified a batting order that produced 961 runs, 2nd-most in club history. A club record 6 players hit 20 HR and the Sox set a new team mark with 238. They set new M.L. records of 2,822 TB, 649 extra-base hits and a .491 slugg. pct., while their 371 doubles fell 2 shy of the M.L. mark held by the Sox (1997) and the Cardinals (1930). The Red Sox came from behind to win 40 games, including 13 in which they trailed by at least 3 runs, had an A.L. best 23 last at bat wins. Their 26 one-run wins, 11 extra-inng. wins and 8 walk-off wins were also league highs. They were 53-28 .654 at home, 2nd best in the A.L. (their most home wins since they also won 53 in 1988). Derek Lowe (17-7), Pedro Martinez (14-4), John Burkett (12-9) and Tim Wakefield (11-7) led a staff whose 1,141 strikeouts led the A.L., 4th best in club history. The Sox tied the club record (1995) by using 26 pitchers. Johnny Damon (30), Nomar GarciaParra (19) and valuable sub Damian

Jackson (16) gave the team 3 players with 15 SBs for the first time since 1914. Mueller (.326) edged Manny Ramirez (.325) for the A.L. batting title while Garcia (105), Ramirez (104) and Ortiz (101) gave the Sox 3 players with 100 RBI for the 1st time since 1984. It was the Sox' 4th straight season with a new home attendance figure, 2,724,162. In his first year as manager Terry Francona led the 2004 Red Sox to a 98-64 record, clinching a Wild Card berth to enter the postseason for the 17th time in franchise history. The Sox swept the Anaheim Angels in the ALDS as David Ortiz's dramatic HR in the 10th inning of game 3 insured a rematch with the Yankees for the AL pennant. After dropping the first 3 games to New York, the Red Sox rallied behind the bat of Ortiz, the baserunning of Dave Roberts, an airtight bullpen, and the gritty performance of Curt Schilling to win the final 4 games of the series, completing the greatest comeback in ML history. The Red Sox then swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win the World Series for the 6th time in franchise history, and the first since 1918. Led by Series MVP Manny Ramirez, the Red Sox never trailed. Derek Lowe became the first pitcher ever to win the clinching game of 3 playoff series in one postseason. Key off-season acquisitions Schilling and Keith Foulke lived up to their billing, while the mid-season trade of Nomar Garciaparra for Orlando Cabrera, Doug Mientkiewicz, and the separate acquisition of Roberts, improved the club's defense and speed and added depth to the bench. Schilling (21) combined with Pedro Martinez (16) to win more games than any other pair in the AL. Martinez (227) and Schilling (203) also became the first Red Sox teammates ever to strike out 200 batters in the same season. Offensively the Sox were led by Ramirez and Ortiz, who became the first AL teammates to bat .300, hit 30 HRs and drive in 100 runs since 1931. They also became just the second pair of Red Sox to hit over 40 HRs in a single season. The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the first time in franchise history and 4th time in ML history. In his second year as manager Terry Francona led the 2005 Red Sox to a 95-67 record, winning the AL Wild Card and securing a post-season berth for a club-record 3rd straight season. Despite topping 90 wins for the 4th year in a row, the Red Sox were swept in the Division Series by the eventual World Champion Chicago White Sox. During the regular season David Ortiz (47 HR and 148 RBI) and Manny Ramirez (45 HR and 144 RBI) paced the club, combining for 92 home runs and 292 RBI, more than any other duo in baseball. Behind these two the Red Sox led the majors in runs scored, batting average, walks, on-base percentage and on-base plus slugging. Ortiz tallied career-highs in home runs, RBI, runs scored, walks, slugging percentage and on-base percentage. He continued to deliver in the clutch, leading the AL with 34 go-ahead RBI and 21 game-winning RBI and finished 2nd in AL MVP voting. The pitching staff was led by Tim Wakefield (16-12) who posted team-highs in wins, starts, innings pitched, strikeouts, complete games and opponents' average by a starter. Mike Timlin anchored the bullpen with a league-high and single-season club record 81 appearances, and rookie Jonathan Papelbon was impressive down the stretch holding opponents scoreless in 10 of his last 11 appearances. The Red Sox continued to break records at the gate. The club set a new attendance mark for the 6th straight season with a total of 2,847,888, the only M.L. team to increase their attendance in each of the last 8 seasons.

BOSTON RED SOX OWNERSHIP HISTORY

- 1901-02 Charles W. Somers of Ohio was one of the founders and financiers of the new American League who also owned the Cleveland team and made his fortune in the lumber and coal business.
- 1903-04 Henry J. Killilea was a Milwaukee lawyer and expert on baseball law who played an important role in the negotiations that ended the National League-American League war in early 1903.
- 1904-11 John I. Taylor was an avid sportsman and son of the owner, publisher and editor of The Boston Globe. He changed the team's nickname to "Red Sox" in 1907 and oversaw the land acquisition and construction of Fenway Park, which opened in 1912.
- 1912-13 James R. McAleer was a National League outfielder during the 1890s who came out of retirement to help form the new American League's St. Louis franchise in 1901 as a player-manager. In December 1911 he bought 50 percent of the Red Sox from Taylor and was named club president.
- 1914-16 Joseph J. Lannin was a Canadian-born hotel and real estate tycoon in New York and Boston. He was a zealous baseball fan with a minority share in the National League Boston Braves before he purchased McAleer's 50 percent controlling interest in the Red Sox in early 1914.
- 1917-23 Harry H. Frazee was a long-time flamboyant baseball fan who was born in Peoria, Illinois and became successful in real estate management, stock brokerage and as a Broadway theatrical producer. He purchased the Red Sox in late 1916 from Lannin in a deal that included Fenway Park.
- 1923-33 J.A. Robert Quinn was a career baseball executive who was business manager of the St. Louis Browns prior to putting together a syndicate that purchased the Red Sox from Frazee August 1, 1923. He was appointed team president and presiding owner.
- 1933 Thomas A. Yawkey was a New York entrepreneur who bought the team February 25, 1933, four days after his 30th birthday, and placed the team in a Trust.
- July 9, 1976 Tom Yawkey died leaving his widow, Jean, as the primary beneficiary.
- 1978 The Yawkey Estate sold the team to a partnership including Jean R. Yawkey, Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr. and Haywood C. Sullivan. The sale was approved by the American League May 23, 1978.
- 1981 Jean R. Yawkey moved to Boston, established the Jean R. Yawkey Trust, and transferred team ownership interests to it. She appointed John L. Harrington as co-Trustee.
- 1987 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr., giving it two out of three General Partner votes.
- 1992 Jean R. Yawkey died in February and the Jean R. Yawkey Trust continued with John Harrington as Trustee with sole authority over Red Sox matters.
- 1993 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Haywood C. Sullivan's one General Partnership unit, giving it all three General Partnership units of the Red Sox, along with the three Red Sox limited partnership units previously acquired (53.49 percent).
- 2002 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust sold the club to a group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino December 20, 2001. The sale was approved by Major League Baseball January 16, 2002 and closed February 27, 2002.

NOTE: The W-L-T columns total one game less than the 16,163 game total reflected above as a result of a protested game and a major league ruling. On July 28, 1924 the Red Sox played a 10-inning game vs. St. Louis, a supposed 10-5 win. St. Louis protested the game and A.L. President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed on September 13 as the 2nd game of a doubleheader. The game of July 28 was discounted and Red Sox Manager Lee Fohl and the St. Louis manager were credited with a no decision. The Red Sox won the replay of the protested game 13-11.

The major league rule from 1920 on states: "If a protested game of at least five innings duration was ordered replayed in its entirety, then no win or loss is credited, but both managers are credited with a no-decision game."

HISTORY

THE BOSTON RED SOX HALL OF FAME

In 1995 the Red Sox Hall of Fame was instituted to recognize the outstanding careers of former Red Sox players and managers. A 15-member selection committee comprised of Red Sox broadcasters and executives, past and present media personnel, and representatives from The Sports Museum of New England and the BoSox Booster Club is responsible for nominating candidates. The accomplishments of non-uniformed Red Sox personnel are also considered for special commendation and placement in the Hall. A memorable moment in Red Sox history is regarded as well for its special significance.

To be eligible for nomination, players must have played at least three years with the Red Sox and must also have been out of uniform as an active player at least three years.

The non-uniformed person(s) selected and the memorable moment selected will be chosen only by a unanimous vote of the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Selection Committee.

There are 19 former Boston Red Sox personnel who spent a significant portion of their careers with the Red Sox in the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. They are automatically enshrined into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame.

In November 2006 the next Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies will take place. Selected for induction are: Ellis Kinder, Joe Morgan, Jerry Remy, George Scott, Vern Stephens and Dick Williams. The non-uniformed inductee is Red Sox Vice President Dick Bresciani. The great Red Sox moment will be Dave Roberts' stolen base in the last of the 9th inning in Game 4 of the 2004 ALCS vs. the New York Yankees.

2004 INDUCTEES

Six former Red Sox stars were inducted into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame during the fifth Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies on November 10, 2004. The players who were enshrined in the Hall were: Wade Boggs, Bill Carrigan, Dennis Eckersley, Billy Goodman, Bruce Hurst and Pete Runnels. The non-uniformed personnel selections were former Red Sox player, executive and owner Haywood Sullivan and Pawtucket Red Sox chairman Ben Mondor. Jimmy Collins, a member of the Cooperstown Hall of Fame, was officially inducted as well. The Memorable Moment selection was Bernie Carbo's two-out, pinch-hit, game-tying, three-run home run in the eighth inning of Game 6 in the 1975 World Series vs. the Cincinnati Reds.

WADE BOGGS, 3B (1982-92)

Boggs set a then-rookie record with a .349 batting average (118-338) in 104 games in 1982. The Red Sox third baseman won his first of five batting titles with a .361 average in 1983 and then four consecutive titles from 1985-88. Wade was voted to eight straight All-Star Games and is the only player in M.L. history with 200 hits and 100 runs in seven straight seasons. His .338 Red Sox career batting average ranks second on the club's all-time list below only Ted Williams' .344. Boggs leads all third basemen for most games (1,165), assists (2,956) and double plays (299). He also ranks on the Red Sox all-time lists for on-base pct. (3rd, .428), doubles (4th, 422), walks (4th, 1,004), hits (5th, 2,098), total bases (6th, 2,869), runs (6th, 1,067), extra-base hits (6th, 554), at-bats (7th, 6,213), games (7th, 1,625) and RBI (13th, 687). Wade was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown in July 2005.

BILL CARRIGAN, C-MGR (1906-16)Died: July 8, 1969

Carrigan began his Red Sox career as a catcher in 1906 before becoming a player-manager from 1913-16 and manager from 1927-29. Bill appeared in 709 games and hit a career .257 (506-1970) with 235 RBI. He is among Red Sox all-time career leaders for catchers in fielding percentage (.971), assists (854) and putouts (2,961). He is one of only 11 players who spent 10 or more years exclusively with the Red Sox. In 1,103 games as Red Sox manager, his record was 489-500-14 (.494), including 322-246 (.567) between 1913-16. The Lewiston, ME native led the Red Sox to consecutive World Series Championships in 1915 and 1916 after a second-place finish in 1914.

DENNIS ECKERSLEY, RHP (1978-84, 1998)

Eckersley had a career-high 20 wins, 35 starts and 268.1 IP in 1978, his first season with the Red Sox. He threw a career-high 17 complete games in 1979 and is the last Red Sox pitcher to pitch seven consecutive complete game wins. Eck had a .500 or better record in seven of eight Red Sox seasons and was voted to the A.L. All-Star team in 1982. Dennis is among all-time Red Sox pitchers in games started (191), strikeouts (771), wins (88), innings pitched (1371.2) and winning percentage (.553). After re-establishing himself as a closer with the Oakland A's, he returned to Boston in 1998 and went 4-1 with one save before retiring. He was inducted into Cooperstown's Baseball Hall of Fame in July 2004.

BILLY GOODMAN, INF-OF (1947-57)Died: Oct. 1, 1984

Goodman won the A.L. batting title with a .354 average in 1950 and finished 2nd in the A.L. MVP voting. In 1948, his first full season in the majors, he hit .310 (138-445) for the Red Sox, and from 1948-57 hit .290 or better. The two-time A.L. All-Star selection (1949, 1953) hit .306 (1,344-4,399) in 1,177 games with 688 runs, 248 doubles, 34 triples, 14 HR and 464 RBI. Billy is also among Red Sox career leaders in on-base percentage (.386), at-bats, doubles, games played and walks (561).

BRUCE HURST, LHP (1980-88)

Hurst is one of the most successful left-handed pitchers in Red Sox history. He had six consecutive seasons with 10 or more wins and 115 or more strikeouts from 1983-88. In the 1986 ALCS vs. the Angels he went 1-0 with a 2.40 ERA in 15 innings pitched, and in the 1986 World Series he went 2-0 with a 1.96 ERA in 23 innings pitched. He struck out 190 in 1987 (the Red Sox LHP record) and was voted to the A.L. All-Star team that season. In 1988 Bruce went 18-6 with a 2.99 ERA with four shutouts, including a 3-0, 10-inning shutout in Detroit on August 7. He is among Red Sox pitching leaders in wins (88), strikeouts (1,043), 10-K games (13), games started (217) and innings pitched (1459). Overall he was 88-73 in 237 games with Boston.

BEN MONDOR (1977-)

Mondor purchased the bankrupt "Rhode Island" Red Sox of the International League in 1977 and turned it into one of the most successful minor league franchises in the country. The AAA Pawtucket Red Sox owner has supported the development of many Red Sox prospects and has made numerous contributions to the Red Sox organization through the years. He has seen hundreds of Red Sox play for the PawSox including Nomar Garciaparra, Mo Vaughn, Roger Clemens and Wade Boggs. Ben has received numerous honors from professional baseball including the I.L.'s Executive of the Year as well as recognition from the Boston Baseball Writers Assn. In his tenure, the PawSox have finished first in the league four times and advanced to the postseason 11 times.

PETE RUNNELS, 2B-1B (1958-62)

Died: May 20, 1991

Runnels, a line-drive hitter who thrived at Fenway Park, won two batting championships with the Red Sox: his first in 1960 (.320) and the second in 1962 (.326). He made a bid for the title in 1958 with a .322 average but teammate Ted Williams passed him on the last day of the season with a .328 average. The three-time A.L. All-Star (1959-60, 66) batted over .300 in five consecutive seasons with the Red Sox and is among all-time Red Sox leaders with a .408 on-base percentage and .320 career batting average. Pete also tied an A.L. record with six hits in a game on August 30, 1960 vs. Detroit. A versatile player, Runnels played all infield positions as well as the outfield. He led the league in fielding at second base in 1960 (.986) and at first base in 1961 (.991).

HAYWOOD SULLIVAN (1966-93)

Died: Feb. 12, 2003

Sullivan was a part of the Red Sox organization for 35 years. He was a success story that took him from the dugout as a reserve catcher (1955-60) to the front office as executive (1966-77), general manager (1978-83) and Red Sox owner (1978-93). Sullivan is the only person to serve in all such capacities for the Red Sox. As a player, he was a top prospect as a catcher and signed a bonus contract with the Red Sox on June 15, 1952 after being a standout catcher and quarterback at the University of Florida. He joined the Red Sox front office in 1966 to become the vice president of player personnel at the age of 35, one of baseball's youngest top executives at the time. Haywood helped put together some of Boston's most exciting teams such as the 1967, 1975 and 1986 pennant winners. During his tenure with the club, the team also won Eastern Division titles in 1988 and 1990.

2002 INDUCTEES

The fourth Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies were held on November 14, 2002. The six former Red Sox stars inducted into the Hall were: Rick Burleson, Dave "Boo" Ferriss, Tex Hughson, Duffy Lewis, Jim Lonborg and Fred Lynn. The non-uniformed personnel selection was former Red Sox Chief Executive Officer John Harrington. Lefty Grove, a member of the Cooperstown Hall of Fame, was formally inducted at this time. Earl Wilson's no-hit game vs. the Los Angeles Angels on June 26, 1962 at Fenway Park was the Memorable Moment selection. A surprise inductee was former Red Sox General Manager and current Public Affairs Consultant Lou Gorman.

RICK BURLESON, SS (1974-80)

Burleson played in 1,031 games for the Red Sox and became one of the best all-around SS in the A.L. Rick (1,004) and Everett Scott (1,093) are the only Red Sox who played in 1,000 games at SS. The 3-time all-star holds the M.L. record for double plays by a SS with 147 in 1980. He also holds the club record for most career double plays for shortstops with 699, is 2nd with 3,247 assists and 3rd with a .970 fielding pct. Rick won the Rawlings Gold Glove® Award in 1979 when he led the A.L. with a .981 pct., which tied him for 1st on the club's all-time list with Rico Petrocelli (1969) and Vern Stephens (1950). He compiled a .274 batt. avg. with 302 doubles and 361 RBI. In 1977 he was the A.L. SS of the year when he hit .293 with 194 hits, 36 doubles, 7 triples and 13 SB, with a league-high 663 at-bats. He also hit .291 in 1976, hit 22 or more doubles for 7 seasons and played in 152 or more games 5 times. Burleson hit .444 in the ALCS 3-game sweep over Oakland in 1975 and .292 in the dramatic 7-game World Series against Cincinnati.

DAVE "BOO" FERRISS, RHP (1945-50)

Ferriss joined the Red Sox in 1945 as a 23-year-old rookie after his discharge from the army air corps due to an asthma condition. The Red Sox were a seventh-place team but Ferriss had a great rookie season, 21-10, a 2.96 ERA and 26 complete games. He defeated all seven A.L. teams the first time he faced them. He was 2nd in the A.L. in wins, fourth in the MVP voting and was named to the A.L. All-Star team. In 1946 the Red Sox won their first pennant in 28 years, and Ferriss was spectacular with a 25-6 record, a 3.20 ERA, 26 complete games and three saves in five relief appearances. He led the A.L. with an .806 win pct., became the fourth Red Sox pitcher to win 20 games in each of his first two seasons, at one point hurled nine straight complete game wins and again was named to the All-Star team. Dave began 1946 with 10 straight wins and later in the season won 12 straight to join Walter Johnson (Washington, 1913) and Preacher Roe (Brooklyn, 1951) as the only pitchers in M.L. history to have two streaks of 10 or more wins in one season. He pitched a 4-0 shutout in Game 3 of the 1946 World Series vs. St. Louis and had a 65-30 career record. Arm and asthma problems shortened Dave's career and he was in just four games in 1949 and one in 1950.

JAMES "LOU" GORMAN (1984-)

Gorman joined the Red Sox in 1984 as vice president of baseball operations and general manager, a position he held through the 1993 season. Since then he has been executive consultant for public affairs with an emphasis on community projects plus coordinator of the Red Sox Hall of Fame, which began in 1994. Gorman led the Red Sox to three post-season appearances, including the 1986 A.L. pennant and Eastern Division titles in 1998 and 1990 and six winning seasons in 10 years for an overall 837-782 record. The club set season attendance records four times and drew over two million eight straight years.

JOHN HARRINGTON (1973-2002)

Harrington served the Red Sox in numerous capacities for 29 years. He was originally hired by the late Tom Yawkey in 1973 to be the club's treasurer, and assumed the role of trustee to the Jean R. Yawkey Trust in 1981, which became the majority partner of the Red Sox in 1987. Under Harrington the Red Sox significantly expanded and refurbished Fenway Park and moved the spring training site in 1993 to a state-of-the-art facility in Fort Myers, FL. He was affiliated with many charities and foundations, most notably The National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund. John was very active in M.L. baseball, served on several important committees, including the Realignment and Revenue Sharing Committees, and was instrumental in the development of inter-league play. During 2001 he oversaw the sale of the ball club by the Yawkey Trust that was finalized in February 2002. Proceeds from the sale that achieved a record-breaking price went to the Yawkey Foundation, the Trust's beneficiary, and ensured a perpetual source of support for many local charities.

CECIL "TEX" HUGHSON, RHP (1941-44, 1946-49) Died: Aug. 6, 1993

Hughson joined the Red Sox in 1941 and in 1942 was one of the best pitchers in the A.L. He tied for the M.L. high in wins with a 22-6 record and also led the league with 22 complete games, 281 IP and 113 strikeouts. He beat the first-place Yankees five straight times that year. The three-time All-Star led the league in 1944 with a .783 winning pct. and an 18-5 record before leaving for military service in mid-August. Hughson came back in 1946 to go 20-11 with a 2.75 ERA and three saves in four relief appearances as the Red Sox won the A.L. pennant. "Tex" tossed a 1-0 CG win, his sixth shutout and fourth by 1-0, in Cleveland Sept. 13, 1946 to clinch the pennant. He was 12-11 in 1947 but arm problems curtailed him the next two years and he retired prior to the 1950 season. In five full, and three partial seasons, Hughson had a 96-54 record with 99 complete games and a 2.94 ERA. His .640 winning pct. is fourth-best all-time for the Red Sox.

Died: June 17, 1979

For eight years Lewis teamed with Hall of Famers Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper to comprise one of baseball's greatest all-around outfields. "Duffy" hit .289 in 1,184 games with the Red Sox with 343 extra-base hits and 793 RBI, and played in over 150 games five years. He was also one of baseball's best bunters and base runners and stole 102 bases. Lewis was best known for his great fielding ability that included mastering Fenway Park's tricky incline in front of the original left-field fence. He was so adept at playing the incline that it became known as "Duffy's Cliff." He ranks fourth all-time for Red Sox outfielders with 180 assists and 35 double plays. He helped the Red Sox win World Series titles in 1912-15-16 and hit .284 in 18 Series' games. In 1917 Lewis led the second-place Sox with a .302 avg., 29 doubles and 65 RBI. He became one of the first major leaguers to enlist in the military for World War I and missed the entire 1918 World Championship season while serving in the navy.

JIM LONBORG, RHP (1965-71)

Lonborg spent 7 years with the Red Sox and had a '68-65 record with 6 saves and a 3.94 ERA, despite a knee injury and shoulder problem that caused him to miss most of the 1968 and 1970 seasons. Jim made the M.L. roster for good in 1965 and was 9-17 as a rookie for a 9th-place team. In 1966 he led the staff with 181.1 IP and was 10-10 with a 3.86 ERA in 45 games, including 22 starts. The "Impossible Dream" pennant season came in 1967 and Lonborg was the dominant A.L. pitcher with a 22-9 record, a 3.16 ERA and 15 CG. He led the league in wins, plus 39 starts and 246 strikeouts, was an all-Star and won the A.L. Cy Young Award. He pitched a 5-3 CG win to beat and eliminate Minnesota on the final day and sparked the Red Sox winning rally with a bunt single. In Game 2 of the World Series in Fenway Park he beat St. Louis 5-0 with a 93-pitch, one-hitter. He retired the first 19 batters, issued a walk, and lost the no-hit bid on a Julian Javier double with two outs in the eighth. Lonborg also won Game 5 in St. Louis, 3-1, with a no-walk, three-hitter. He extended his scoreless string to 17 innings until Roger Maris hit a home run in the last of the ninth inning.

FRED LYNN, CF (1974-80)

Lynn made his big league debut with the Red Sox Sept. 1974, hit .419 in 15 games, then in 1975 had one of the best all-around rookie seasons in baseball history. He became the 1st player to be voted winner of the Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player Awards in the same season while winning the 1st of his 4 Rawlings Gold Glove® Awards. In 145 games Fred was 2nd in the A.L. with a .331 avg. and led the league with 103 runs, a .566 slugg. pct. and an A.L. rookie record of 47 doubles. On June 18, 1975 in Detroit, Lynn hit 3 home runs, a triple and single for 10 RBI and 16 TB that tied an A.L. record. He also made one of that season's greatest plays in July when his last of the 9th inning diving catch in LCF preserved a crucial 1-0 win vs. the Yankees. He hit .364 in the ALCS sweep of Oakland and followed with a .280 World Series avg. vs. Cincinnati that included a 3-run home run in historic Game 6. In 1979 Lynn led the league with a .333 avg., a .637 slugg. pct. and a .423 on-base pct. He hit 39 HR, had 84 extra-base hits, scored 116 runs, drove in 122, hit .387 with men on base, won another Gold Glove and was 4th in the MVP voting. That year Lynn set a Fenway Park record with 28 HR by a LH batter and played in his 5th straight All-Star Game. During his Red Sox career Fred hit .308 in 828 games with 124 HR, 521 RBI and a .520 slugg. pct.

2000 INDUCTEES

The Red Sox hosted the third Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies on May 18, 2000. Six former Red Sox greats were inducted into the Hall: Dwight Evans, Bob Stanley, Reggie Smith, Bill Monbouquette, Jackie Jensen, and Larry Gardner. Former Red Sox broadcasters Ken Coleman and Ned Martin were also enshrined in the Hall as non-uniformed selections. Cooperstown Hall of Fame members Curt Gowdy, a former Red Sox broadcaster, and Tris Speaker, a former Red Sox great, were inducted as well. Dave Henderson's 9th-inning, 2-out, go-ahead home run in Game 5 of the 1986 ALCS in Anaheim was chosen as the special Memorable Moment.

Died: Aug. 21, 2003

Coleman was one of the legendary radio and TV voices of the Red Sox for 20 years. He also broadcast Cincinnati Reds games (1975-78), called play-by-play in two Red Sox World Series (1967 and 1986) and two Red Sox ALCS (1986 and 1988). The Quincy, MA native was also the voice of the Cleveland Indians and NFL Cleveland Browns from 1952-65. Ken called every touchdown that Hall of Fame running back Jim Brown ever scored. Additionally he has written five sports broadcasting books and is one of the founding fathers of the BoSox Booster Club, the most successful professional sports booster club in America.

DWIGHT EVANS, RF (1972-90)

Evans played in 2,505 games for the Red Sox, 2nd most in club history. The 3-time All-Star hit 379 HR, 925 XBH and had 1,346 RBI. He ranks 2nd all-time on the Red Sox in games and at-bats (8,726), 3rd in XBH, runs (1,435), 2B (474) and walks (1,337) and 4th in HR, RBI, hits (2,373) and TB (4,128). From 1981-90, Dwight hit 251 HR, the most of any A.L. player. He tied for the A.L. lead in HR in 1981 and led the league 3 times in walks. The 8-time Rawlings Gold Glove® performer led the A.L. with a .994 fielding pct. in 1976 and in DP in 1975 and 1980. Evans is also remembered for his great catch in the 11th inning of Game Six of the 1975 World Series vs. Cincinnati at Fenway Park that took a HR away from Joe Morgan and resulted in an inning-ending DP. In 2 World Series (1975 and 1986) he hit .300 with 3 HR and 14 RBI in 14 games. In 2002 Dwight served as the Red Sox M.L. hitting coach.

LARRY GARDNER, 3B (1908-17)

Died: March 11, 1976

Gardner joined the Red Sox in 1908 after attending the Univ. of Vermont. The Enosburg Falls, VT native helped Boston win 3 World Series (1912, 1915, 1916) and 2 2nd-place finishes. He hit a sac. fly off the Giants' Christy Mathewson in the last of the 10th as the Sox won the final game of the dramatic 1912 World Series. The LH batter hit .283, 150 2B, 87 3B, 16 HR with 496 R and 481 RBI as a Red Sox. His 87 3B and 134 SB are 5th on the Red Sox all-time list. In Game 4 of the 1916 World Series, his 3-R homer won the game. After his retirement from baseball, he became athletic director and baseball coach at the Univ. of Vermont until 1952.

JACKIE JENSEN, RF (1954-59, 1961)

Died: July 14, 1982

Jensen won the A.L. MVP Award in 1958, a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1959 and was named to 2 A.L. All-Star teams (1955 and 1958). He played in 1,039 games for Boston after 3 seasons with the NYY and 1 with the Senators. Jackie led the A.L. with 22 SB in 1954 and led the league in RBI 3 times (tied for A.L. lead with 116 in 1955, led with 122 in 1958 and 112 in RBI in 1959) and in triples with 11 in 1956. He led the Sox in RBI 6 times in his 7 seasons. He is among Red Sox all-time leaders in HR (170), RBI (733), walks (585), slugg. pct. (.478), OBP (.374) and TB (1,842). His fear of flying appeared to force an early retirement after the 1959 season. He came back in 1961 for one more season before permanently retiring.

NED MARTIN (1961-92)

Died: July 23, 2002

Martin announced Red Sox games on TV and radio for 32 straight seasons. He began his career in 1956 in Charleston, WV covering the AAA American Assoc. team for five years. He joined Curt Gowdy in the Red Sox booth in 1961 and stayed for the rest of his Red Sox career. Ned announced the A.L. playoffs on CBS radio 4 times and worked the 1975 World Series on TV for NBC. The Duke graduate was also a talented football announcer and did play-by-play for the Boston Patriots of the AFL (1965), Dartmouth (7 years), Harvard (6 years) and Yale (2 years). He worked with Ken Coleman (1966-72) on both Red Sox radio and TV broadcasts. Ned passed away suddenly on July 23, 2002 of a heart attack en route home to Clarksville, VA after attending the tribute to Ted Williams the day before at Fenway Park.

Monbouquette was 96-91 with a 3.69 ERA and 72 CG in 254 games in his Red Sox career. He is 5th all-time for the Sox with 228 games started, 6th with 1,622 innings pitched and 8th with 969 strikeouts and tied for 9th with 96 wins. The Medford, MA native went 20-10 with a 3.81 ERA in 1963 and pitched a no-hitter in Chicago Aug. 1, 1962. He struck out 17 Washington Senators May 12, 1961. From 1960-63 he won 14 or more games each year (63-48), was a 4-time All-Star and started the first 1960 All-Star Game for the A.L. in Kansas City. Monbo was 114-112 with a 3.68 ERA in 11 M.L. seasons with Boston, Detroit, the Yankees and San Francisco.

REGGIE SMITH, CF-RF (1966-73)

Smith was drafted from the Minnesota Twins system by the Red Sox in 1963 and made his M.L. debut in 1966. As a rookie in 1967 he hit 2 home runs in the World Series vs. the Cardinals. During his Red Sox career, Reggie batted .300 or better 3 times and won a Rawlings Gold Glove in 1968 after leading all A.L. OF with 390 putouts. He also led the A.L. in doubles twice with 37 in 1968 and 33 in 1971. He played in 2 All-Star Games as a Red Sox (1969 and 1972) before being traded to St. Louis for RHP Rick Wise and OF Bernie Carbo in October 1973. With Boston he hit .281 with 204 2B, 33 3B, 149 HR and 536 RBI. The 6-time All-Star hit over .300 7 times and hit 20 or more HR 8 times.

BOB STANLEY, RHP (1977-89)

Stanley compiled a 115-97 record in a club-record 637 appearances with a 3.64 ERA and a Sox-record 132 saves during his Red Sox career. The 2-time A.L. All-Star is the Red Sox all-time leader with 85 relief wins and ranks 5th with 1,707 innings pitched and 6th in wins. In 1978 Steamer was 15-2 .882, the club's all-time highest one-season winningpct. (15 decs.). In 1983 he set a team record of 33 saves (now tied for 3rd best) in 64 games, all in relief, and 145.1 innings. From 1981-83 Stanley led the A.L. in relief innings pitched, including a league record of 168.1 relief innings in 1982. He also led the A.L. with 13 relief wins in 1978 and with 10 in 1981.

1997 INDUCTEES

On September 8, 1997, the Red Sox held the second Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Dinner and Enshrinement Ceremonies. Five former Red Sox greats were inducted: Carlton Fisk, Mel Parnell, Rico Petrocelli, Dick Radatz and Luis Tiant. Former Red Sox General Manager Dick O'Connell was inducted as the non-uniformed selection. Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning, game-winning home run against Cincinnati in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series was chosen as the special Memorable Moment. Also enshrined were former Red Sox Jimmie Foxx, Harry Hooper and Cy Young who were already Cooperstown Hall of Fame members.

CARLTON FISK, C (1969, 1971-80)

Fisk became the Red Sox starting catcher in 1972 and was the 1st unanimous A.L. Rookie of the Year after hitting .293 with 22 HR, a league-high 9 triples and 28 doubles in 131 games. He also won the Rawlings Gold Glove® Award for defensive excellence that year. In 1975 he came back in late June from a broken arm to hit .331 with 52 RBI in 79 games during the pennant drive. In the ALCS vs. Oakland he hit .417 and had 2 HR in the World Series vs. the Reds. He will long be remembered for his 12th-inning HR that won Game 6 of the Series. In his 11-year Boston career, he hit .284 with 162 HR in 1,078 games and was a 7-time All-Star. In July 2000 Carlton was inducted into Cooperstown's Hall of Fame and in September his # 27 was retired by the Red Sox.

DICK O'CONNELL (1949-77)

Died: Aug. 18, 2002

O'Connell joined the Red Sox in 1949 and rose through the organizational ranks becoming the executive vice president and general manager on Sept. 16, 1965. Under his guidance and through his player movements, the Red Sox became a perennial contender with A.L. championships and 7-game World Series appearances in 1967 and 1975. The club had winning records with 83 or more wins from 1967-77, including three 90+ win seasons. The Red Sox led the A.L. in attendance in five of those years. Dick passed away on August 18, 2002 at the age of 87.

MEL PARNELL, LHP (1947-56)

Parnell spent his entire 10-year M.L. career with the Red Sox and compiled a 123-75 .621 record with a 3.50 ERA. He is the third best ever lefty pitcher in Fenway with more than 25 decisions at 71-30 .703. His best year was 1949 when he went 25-7 with a 2.77 ERA and 27 CG, leading the league in wins, ERA, CG and IP (295.1). He was the starting pitcher for the A.L. in that year's All-Star Game. After two 18-win seasons in 1950 and '51, he went 21-8 in 1953 with a 3.06 ERA and a career-high 136 K. He pitched a no-hitter July 14, 1956 vs. Chicago in Fenway Park. Parnell still holds the club career marks for LHPs with 1,752.2 IP, 232 GS and 123 W.

RICO PETROCELLI, SS-3B (1963, 1965-76)

Petrocelli hit 210 HR in 1,553 games, including a league-record for shortstops of 40 homers in 1969, in a 12-year Red Sox career. He was the A.L. starting shortstop in 1967 and 1969. He moved to third base in 1971. In post-season play, he hit 2 HR in Game 6 of the 1967 Series vs. St. Louis in an 8-4 win. In the 1975 Fall Classic vs. the Reds he hit .308 and had a 1.000 fielding pct. Rico's catch of Rich Rollins' pop-up for the final out vs. Minnesota clinched the "Impossible Dream" pennant on Oct. 1, 1967.

DICK RADATZ, RHP (1962-66)

Died: March 16, 2005

Radatz led the A.L. in saves (24), games (62) and relief wins (9) in 1962, his rookie season with the Red Sox and was named Fireman of the Year. In 1963 the 6-6, 250-lb. "Monster" saved 25 games and went 15-6 with a 1.97 ERA. Overall with the Sox he saved 104 games (2nd to B. Stanley for all-time Red Sox) with 49 wins and 646 K in 576.1 IP. He was selected to the All-Star Game in 1963 and impressed with strikeouts of Mays, Groat, Snider, McCovey and Javier in 2 IP. He again was Fireman of the Year in 1964 for his 29 saves and 16 wins in 79 games.

LUIS TIAANT, RHP (1971-78)

Tiant won 122 games with a 3.36 ERA in 8 years with the Red Sox, including three 20-win seasons. He is among all-time Red Sox leaders in several pitching categories. El Tiant won Comeback Player of the Year honors in 1972 (15-6 and A.L.-best 1.91 ERA). He won 18 games in 1975 when the Sox won the A.L. pennant. His 3-hitter in Game 1 of the '75 ALCS beat Oakland 7-1. He shut out the Reds 6-0 in Game 1 of the World Series and defeated them 5-4 in Game 4 on 163 pitches. His last Red Sox start was a 5-0 two-hitter Oct. 1, 1978, vs. Toronto setting up the one-game playoff vs. the Yankees the next day.

1995 INDUCTEES

At the first induction ceremonies held on November 1, 1995, six former Red Sox players entered into the Red Sox Hall of Fame: Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky, Jim Rice, Smoky Joe Wood, Frank Malzone and Tony Conigliaro. Jean R. Yawkey, the majority owner and general partner of the Red Sox until her death in 1992, was also enshrined as a non-uniformed person. Recognition was given to Roger Clemens' first major league record 20-strikeout game April 29, 1986 vs. Seattle as the most Memorable Moment. Former Red Sox greats Joe Cronin, Babe Ruth, Bobby Doerr, Carl Yastrzemski, Tom Yawkey and Ted Williams, who were already Cooperstown Hall of Fame members, were also formally inducted into the Hall.

TONY CONIGLIARO, RF (1964-67, 1969-70, '75) Died: Feb. 24, 1990

Conigliaro hit .267 with 162 HR and 501 RBI during his 802-game Red Sox career. He was the youngest A.L. player to reach 100 home runs. On Aug. 18, 1967 Tony was hit by a pitch sustaining a broken cheekbone and damage to his left eye. He made a remarkable return in 1969 hitting 20 HR with 82 RBI in 141 games earning Comeback Player of the Year honors. After a stint with the Angels in 1971, the Revere, Mass. native returned to the Red Sox briefly in 1975 before retiring from the game. He suffered a serious heart attack in 1982 from which he never completely recovered. Tony passed away in February 1990.

DOM DiMAGGIO, CF (1940-42, 1946-53)

DiMaggio had a .298 career average for 11 seasons with the Red Sox. He hit .301 in 1940, his rookie season, becoming part of a .300-hitting outfield with Ted Williams and Doc Cramer. "The Little Professor" led the A.L. in triples (11) and SB (15) in 1950 and in runs (131) in 1950 and (113) in 1951. He scored more than 100 runs 7 times. The 7-time A.L. all-star is among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several batting departments. In the 1946 World Series vs. the Cardinals Dom scored the winning run in Game 5 that gave the Red Sox a 3-2 lead in the Series.

FRANK MALZONE, 3B (1955-65)

Malzone spent 11 years with the Red Sox and is among the all-time Sox leaders in several categories. He hit .276 with 131 HR and 716 RBI in 1,359 games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Frank had a season-high 103 RBI and tied an A.L. record with 10 assists in 1 game. Malzone became the first player in history to lead the league at 3B in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding pct. He was an A.L. all-star 8 times and won 3 straight Gold Gloves. Malzone currently serves as a Red Sox scout.

JOHNNY PESKY, SS-3B (1942, 1946-52)

Pesky hit .313 (9th on the Red Sox all-time list) in 4,085 AB in Boston. He held the Red Sox record for most hits by a rookie, 205 (broken by Nomar Garciaparra's 209 in 1997) and was the first to have three 200-hit seasons. Pesky is tied for the M.L. record of leading a league in hits 3 straight years and having scored 6 runs in 1 game (May 8, 1946). Over the years Johnny has been involved in many facets of the game with the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio-TV announcer, advertising salesman and special assistant. In 1982 Johnny was awarded the "Good Guy" award by the Boston Baseball Writers.

JIM RICE, LF (1974-89)

Rice played his entire 16-year M.L. career with the Red Sox. He is 3rd on the all-time Red Sox list in HR (382), RBI (1,451), H (2,452) and AB (8,225) and 4th in G (2,089) and R (1,249). In 1978 Jim was the A.L. MVP leading the M.L. with 46 HR, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 TB, 213 H and a .600 slugg. pct. He helped the Red Sox to A.L. pennants in 1975 (.309, 22 HR, 102 RBI) and 1986 (.324, 20 HR, 110 RBI). The 8-time all-star hit 20 or more homers 11 times and had 100+ RBI 8 times. Jim Rice was the Red Sox M.L. hitting coach from 1995-2000.

SMOKY JOE WOOD, RHP (1908-15)

Died: July 27, 1985

Wood compiled an amazing 117-56 mark with a 1.99 ERA (1st among all-time Sox pitchers) in 218 games for the Red Sox. In 1912 he went 34-5 (most one-season wins ever by a Red Sox pitcher) with a 1.91 ERA to lead the Red Sox to a world championship. He won 3 games in that Series including 2 CG. He pitched a no-hitter vs. St. Louis in 1911 and went 23-17 with a 2.02 ERA. A right thumb injury suffered when attempting to field a ball on July 18, 1913 at Detroit effected his velocity, but despite the pain he endured, he led the A.L. in 1915 with a .750 win. pct. (15-5) and a 1.49 ERA.

JEAN R. YAWKEY (1976-92)

Died: Feb. 26, 1992

Mrs. Yawkey was chairwoman of the board of directors of the JRY Corp., the majority owner and general partner of the Red Sox. She became president of the club following her husband Tom's death in 1976. Mrs. Yawkey was a director of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum and held the distinction of being the first woman ever elected to serve on their board. She enjoyed a long association with the Jimmy Fund/Dana Farber Cancer Institute and helped to establish the Family Inn in Brookline, MA, a temporary home for families of patients undergoing transplant surgery in Boston-area hospitals. In 1991 the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce inducted Mrs. Yawkey into the Academy of Distinguished Bostonians.

NOTE: In 2000 Cy Young Award winner Pedro Martinez was named on every ballot in the polling of A.L. managers for All-Star pitching picks. Consequently, the A.L. asked for and received special permission from the N.L. and M.L.B. to include Martinez in the All-Star festivities and introductions, in recognition of his first-half performance and career excellence. Martinez was permitted on the A.L. bench for the game, but was unavailable to pitch.

ALL-STAR GAMES AT FENWAY PARK

On July 13, 1999 the Red Sox hosted the third All-Star Game ever to be played at Fenway Park. The American League defeated the National League 4-1 as Pedro Martinez, the eventual MVP of the Mid-Summer Classic, started and struck out five of the first six batters he faced for the win. The first game held at Fenway was on July 9, 1946 after a one-year hiatus due to World War II-related travel restrictions. The American League defeated the National League 12-0 in a game highlighted by the hitting heroics of Ted Williams. Williams delivered two home runs, two singles and a walk in his five at-bats scoring four runs and driving in five. The A.L. had 14 hits, the N.L. three. In addition to Williams, seven other Red Sox were A.L. All-Stars in '46: Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Hal Wagner, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris. Fenway Park was the site of the second All-Star Game played in 1961. That game featured solid pitching by both sides and ended in a 1-1 tie that was called after nine innings and a 30-minute rain delay. The Tigers' Rocky Colavito hit a first-inning home run for the A.L., which managed only four hits in the game. The Nationals' only run scored on an RBI single by the Cardinals' Bill White off Red Sox rookie Don Schwall, who allowed all five N.L. hits in three innings. The other Red Sox representative at the '61 game a Fenway was manager Mike Higgins, who served as a coach.

1945 ALL-STAR REPLACEMENT GAME

Due to the on-going war in Europe and with Japan, no All-Star Game was scheduled for 1945, the only year no game has been played since the series began in 1933.

However, on July-10, 1945 there were 9 exhibitions played with proceeds going to benefit various war relief efforts. On July 9 games were played at Chicago's Comiskey Park (Cubs vs. White Sox), New York's Polo Grounds (Yankees vs. Giants), in Great Lakes, IL (Athletics vs. Great Lakes Navy Team), in Cleveland (Reds vs. Indians) and Indiantown Gap, PA (Pirates vs. Indiantown Gap Army Team). The biggest crowds were 47,144 in Chicago and 41,267 in New York.

On July 10, games were played at Washington's Griffith Stadium (Dodgers vs. Senators), St. Louis' Sportsmans Park (Cardinals vs. Browns), Boston's Fenway Park (Braves vs. Red Sox) and Philadelphia's Shibe Park (Phillies vs. Athletics). The largest attendance was in Washington (28,791) and St. Louis (24,113).

The only major league team that didn't play was the Tigers, who were denied permission to travel to Pittsburgh by the U.S. Government. The Pirates therefore played a U.S. Army team. The A's played a game each day in two locations.

The game at Fenway Park drew 22,809 plus 846 servicemen and women and raised $70,000 for the United War Fund. New Commissioner Senator A.B. "Happy" Chandler, made his first official visit to Boston and took part in the first-pitch ceremonies with Massachusetts Governor Maurice Tobin.

The Red Sox won the game 8-1 behind rookie pitching star Dave Ferriss and three hits, including a home run, by rightfielder George "Catfish" Metkovich.

MOST HITS IN AN ALL-STAR GAME

Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski are tied with Joe Medwick for most hits in an All-Star Game with four. Williams had his four (two singles, two home runs) on July 9, 1946 at Fenway Park in an American League 12-0 win. Yastrzemski hit three singles and a double July 14, 1970 in Cincinnati in a 12-inning, 5-4 National League win. He was named Outstanding Player of the game.

RED SOX IN THE POSTSEASON

Including a major league-record 8-game winning streak to close out their run to the World Championship in 2004, the Red Sox are 62-61-1 all-time in post-season play, having advanced to the postseason 17 times in 105 American League seasons, including 9 times in the last 20 years. The Red Sox are 12-11 in 23 post-season series, having gone 3-3 in 6 trips to the A.L. Division Series (10-13 in Division Series play), 3-4 in 7 trips to the A.L. Championship Series (15-22 in ALCS play) and 6-4 in 10 trips to the World Series (37-26-1 in World Series games).

The Red Sox are 34-27-1 in post-season home games, including a 27-25-1 post-season mark at Fenway Park. They hosted home World Series games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds in 1903 and at Braves Field in 1915 and 1916.

RED SOX IN THE WORLD SERIES

The Boston Americans, who became the Red Sox in 1908, won the first World Series ever held (1903), which also was one of only four best-of-nine Series to be played (again in 1919-20-21). By beating the Pirates of the more established National League, they caused such an embarrassment that the N.L. refused to participate the following year, when the Red Sox repeated as A.L. Champions. The Red Sox have won 6 of the 10 Series in which they have played (with seven-game losses in 1946-67-75-86), holding an overall record of 37-26-1 in games played.

RETIRED NUMBERS

The Red Sox first wore numbers on their uniforms in 1931. Since then they have retired five uniform numbers: 4 for Joe Cronin and 9 for Ted Williams on May 29, 1984, 1 for Bobby Doerr on May 21, 1988, 8 for Carl Yastrzemski on August 6, 1989 and 27 for Carlton Fisk on September 4, 2000. In 1997, the Red Sox also retired No. 42, joining the rest of Major League Baseball in honoring the legacy of Jackie Robinson.

The Red Sox' policy on retiring uniform numbers is based on the following criteria:

- Election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame
- At least 10 years played with the Red Sox
- Finish his career with the club

JOE CRONIN'S CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- First modern-day player to become a league president.
- Elected to National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1956.
- Compiled a .301 batting average in 20 major league seasons.
- Spent 24 seasons with Red Sox as player, manager and general manager.
- Sold to Red Sox after 1934 season for $250,000 (a tremendous amount in the Depression era) (Red Sox also sent SS Lyn Lary to Washington to complete deal).
- Managed the Red Sox for 13 seasons (1935-47), most in team history.
- Leads all Red Sox managers with 1,071 wins (Mike Higgins is 2nd with 543).
- Playing career ended with a broken leg at Yankee Stadium, April 19, 1945.
- Managed Red Sox to A.L. pennant in 1946.
- Managed Senators to A.L. pennant in first season as player/manager in 1933.
- Member of Pirates' 1927 World Series team but did not play; received loser's share of $3,985.47.
- A.L. MVP in 1930 at the age of 23 with Senators.
- Led A.L. in Doubles 1933 and 1938; led A.L. in Triples 1932.
- Holds A.L. record with 5 pinch-hit home runs in 1943.
- Became first player to hit pinch homers in both games of a doubleheader, June 17, 1943 (in a stretch when he hit three 3-run pinch homers in 4 at-bats).
- Participated in 12 All-Star Games for A.L.: Player in 6 (1933-35-37-38-39-41), Player/Manager in 1 (1934), Manager in 2 (1940 and 1947), Coach in 2 (1936 and 1944), & Honorary Captain in 1 (1983)...the A.L. won 9 of the 12 games in which he took part.
- In 1940, was named to manage A.L. All-Stars team after league officials ruled Yankees manager Joe McCarthy had managed too many consecutive games (4).
- Promoted to Red Sox general manager, September 29, 1947.
- Named A.L. President, January 31, 1959.
- Named A.L. Chairman, January 1, 1974.
- Formally inducted into the Red Sox Hall of Fame, November 1, 1995.

CARLTON FISK'S CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Became the 13th catcher to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY on July 23, 2000.
- On September 4, 2000 became the fifth Red Sox to have his number retired by the organization.
- Inducted into the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame on September 8, 1997.
- Caught more games (2,226) and hit more home runs (351 of his career 376) than any catcher in M.L. history.
- After 24 seasons, he retired as one of three catchers in major league history to amass 300 home runs, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.
- All-Time Red Sox leader in games caught, 990 and second in putouts, 5,111.
- Overall appeared in 11 All-Star Games, his last in 1991 at the age of 43.
- A 7-time All-Star (1972-74, 76-78, 80) for the Red Sox, he was voted to start 4 times as a Red Sox.
- Named A.L. Honorary Captain for the 1999 Game at Fenway Park.
- First unanimous winner of the A.L. Rookie of the Year Award in 1972, also led the A.L. in triples with 9.
- Won the 1972 A.L. Rawlings Gold Glove Award for defensive excellence.
- Helped lead the 1975 Red Sox to the A.L. pennant.
- Hit game-winning 12th-inning home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series, remembered as one of the most dramatic moments in baseball history.
- Became just the fifth catcher in major league history to score and drive in 100 or more runs in 1977, when he hit .315 with 106 runs scored and 102 RBI.
- Set the M.L. record in 1977 with only 4 passed balls in 151 games (broken by Gary Carter, 1 with Montreal in 1978).

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR VOTING NOTE: In 1947, 33 baseball writers were asked to nominate five rookies for Rookie of the Year honors in order of preference, with votes distributed on a 5-4-3-2-1 basis. Jackie Robinson became the first nationally recognized winner of the BBWAA Rookie of the Year Award, or the "J. Louis Comiskey Memorial Award," as it was called then.

In 1948, 48 writers voted, this time naming only a single candidate on each ballot. Boston Braves' (N.L.) SS Alvin Dark won the award. The following year, the BBWAA began the process of choosing a top rookie in each league with the same three writers from each league city who decided on the MVP Awards voting. The number of voters was reduced to two in each league city in 1961.

The writers adopted the voting method used by Cy Young ballotmakers in 1980. Three rookies were named on each ballot in order of preference, and the votes were distributed on a 5-3-1 basis.

THOMAS A. YAWKEY RED SOX MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD

Each year the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America presents the Thomas A. Yawkey Award to the Red Sox Most Valuable Player...From 1937 through 1952 the award went to either a Red Sox or a member of the Boston Braves...The Braves moved to Milwaukee prior to the 1953 season and the award became strictly a Red Sox MVP selection...After Mr. Yawkey's death in 1976, the Boston Writers renamed the award in his honor...In 2005 DAVID ORTIZ won the Thomas A. Yawkey Award for the 2nd straight year...In 1996, MO VAUGHN won for the 4th straight year, the first player to do so...CARL YASTRZEMSKI is the leader with 6 selections...VAUGHN, ROGER CLEMENS, DWIGHT EVANS and TED WILLIAMS are tied for the 2nd with four...Thirteen Red Sox have been picked more than once...In addition to YAZ, EVANS, WILLIAMS, CLEMENS and VAUGHN, PEDRO MARTINEZ has three honors, and DAVID ORTIZ, NOMAR GARCIAPARRA, JIM RICE, RICK BURLESON, CARLTON FISK, FRANK MALZONE, JACKIE JENSEN and ELLIS KINDER have two...Six members of the Braves won the MVP Award from its inception in 1937 through 1952.

AWARDS

THE HUTCH AWARD

The Hutch Award has been given annually to the Major League player who best exemplifies the character, fighting spirit and competitive desire of the late pitcher (Detroit 1939-53) and manager (Tigers, Cardinals, Reds), Fred Hutchinson. The award, which sits in the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, was instituted in 1965 and is sponsored by the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, WA. Three Red Sox players have received the award: Carl Yastrzemski in 1967, Tony Conigliaro in 1970 and Andre Dawson in 1994. Mickey Mantle was the first recipient in 1965, and Craig Biggio was honored in 2005.

TONY CONIGLIARO AWARD

In 1990 the Red Sox instituted a national award to honor the memory of their former star outfielder Tony Conigliaro. The award is presented to a major leaguer who has overcome adversity through the attributes of spirit, determination and courage that were trademarks of Tony C. A special panel composed of the media, members of the MLB office, Tony's brothers Billy and Richie, and a fan make the selection. Announcement of the award is made at the annual major league winter meetings in December and the formal presentation takes place at the Boston Baseball Writers' Association dinner in January.

The first winner was Royals OF Jim Eisenreich, who overcame a neurological movement disorder, Tourette Syndrome, to become a productive performer after being out of baseball for 2 1/2 years. The 1991 winner was Dickie Thon who came back from a severe left eye injury when he was hit by a pitch April 8, 1984. He missed most of the next five years before he joined the Phillies as their regular shortstop in 1989. In 1992 the honor went to Jim Abbott who became an important role model to the physically and mentally challenged. Bo Jackson was the 1993 winner. He was the first player in major league history to compete with an artificial hip after undergoing replacement surgery in April, 1992. The 1994 recipient was Mark Leiter, who courageously handled personal tragedy while trying to maintain his baseball career with the Angels. Mark's nine-month-old son, Ryan, was afflicted with spinal muscular atrophy and passed away in April, 1994 while the Angels' plane was en route to Minnesota. Relief pitcher Scott Radinsky won the award in 1995. He battled back from Hodgkin's disease that was diagnosed in early 1994 and missed the entire season undergoing chemotherapy and radiation treatments. In 1996 Curtis Pride received the honor. Pride was born deaf and overcame the challenge to become a major league player and influential force in the community. The 1997 honoree was Eric Davis. Eric was diagnosed with colon cancer in June, and had surgery for the removal of a malignant mass and 1/3 of his colon. He received chemotherapy treatments that continued through his return to baseball on Sept. 15 and the postseason. Also during this time, Eric's brother, Jimmy, 37, suffered a fatal heart attack. Bret Saberhagen won the honor in 1998. Bret underwent reconstructive surgery for a right shoulder injury in May 1996 after months of intensive rehab proved futile. He missed the 1996 season and was signed in Nov. '96 by the Red Sox. After further rehab he made his first start in 2 years on Aug. 22, 1997. In 1998 Saberhagen went 15-8, 3.96 in 31 starts. Marlins' 3B Mike Lowell won the award in 1999. He underwent testicular cancer surgery Feb. 19 but returned to baseball May 29. He became the Marlins regular third baseman and hit 12 homers with 47 RBI in 97 games. LHP Kent Mercker and RHP Tony Saunders were co-winners in 2000. Mercker suffered a life-threatening cerebral hemorrhage while pitching for Anaheim in May. He returned to the Angels August 12 and pitched the rest of the season. Saunders broke the bone (humerus) in his upper left arm May 26, 1999 pitching for Tampa Bay. On August 24, 2000, he broke it again during a minor league rehab start. In 2001 righthander Jason Johnson and lefty Graeme Lloyd were co-winners. Johnson has Type 1 Diabetes that needs daily monitoring and the use of an insulin pump. He rebounded for the Orioles in 2001 finishing 10-12 in 32 starts and emerged as a clubhouse and community leader through his involvement with the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's fundraising efforts. Lloyd made a comeback with the Expos finishing 9-5 in a career-high 84 games after missing the entire 2000 season following surgery for a torn labrum and rotator cuff in his right shoulder. The injury occurred after he lost his wife Cindy to Crohn's disease on Opening Day 2000. RHP Jose Rijo of the Cincinnati Reds was the recipient in 2002. After missing five seasons due to five elbow operations, Rijo came back with the Reds in August 2001 and made 13 relief apps. He made their Opening Day roster in 2002 after being a non-roster spring training invitee and had his first M.L. start since 1995 on April 21 beating Chicago. He went 5-4, 5.14 in 31 games (9 starts). Oakland RHP Jim Mecir won the honor in 2003. Mecir achieved success despite being born with two club feet, a birth defect that required two operations before the age of 10 and ultimately left his right leg an inch shorter than his left. Both of his lower calves remain severely atrophied. In 2004 Tampa Bay's Dewon Brazelton was the recipient. Brazelton grew up with a twin brother, Fewon, who was afflicted with cerebral palsy. Their parents were not together and the boys called four places home. At 13, Dewon became involved with two local churches and some very caring families. He was a good athlete and student (3.4 GPA) and baseball star at Middle Tennessee State Univ. In 2001 he was Tampa Bay's first-round draft pick (third overall) in the First-Year Player Draft. He made his M.L. debut in 2002, and in 2004 he was 6-8 with a 4.77 ERA in 22 games (21 starts). Aaron Cook of Colorado won the award in 2005. Cook spent nearly a year on the D.L. after leaving an Aug. 7, 2004 game due to dizziness. Tests revealed blood clots in his lungs, and on Sept. 10, 2004 in an 8-hour operation, Aaron's first rib on his right side was removed to relieve compression on the subclavian vein. A 2nd procedure followed on Dec. 27 during which doctors performed an arteriovenous (AV) fistula to re-route the vein in his wrist. After an extensive rehab, Cook returned to the Rockies' rotation on July 30, 2005. He finished that season 7-2 with a 3.67 ERA in 13 starts.

Conigliaro died February 24, 1990 after an 8-year struggle to come back from a massive heart attack that left him severely handicapped. Tony signed with the Red Sox in 1963 after graduation from St. Mary's High School in Lynn, MA. In his only minor league season he hit .363 with 24 homers and 74 RBI in 83 games for Wellsville, earning New York-Penn League MVP Rookie of the Year honors. He broke in with the Red Sox the next year, 1964, hit a home run in his first at-bat at Fenway Park, and finished with a .290 average and 24 homers to earn an All-Rookie selection. Tony became the youngest player to lead a major league in home runs when he hit 32 in 1965 and the youngest A.L. player to reach 100 career long balls. Mel Ott was the youngest in history at 22 years, 4 months and 10 days. Tony was 2nd-youngest (22 years, 6 months and 16 days). His promising career was tragically shortened when he was hit in the face by a pitch at Fenway Park August 18, 1967. He made a dramatic comeback in 1969, hit 56 homers with 198 RBI in 2 years, but his performance fell off and he was never the same player. Conigliaro spent 1971 with the Angels and was out of baseball until he tried another comeback with the Red Sox in 1975. After an excellent spring training he made the regular season roster and got the team's first hit of that season and later the club's first home run. He was outrighted to Triple-A Pawtucket in mid-June and retired shortly thereafter.

200 HITS
FOUR OR MORE STRAIGHT YEARS

Wade Boggs in 1989 became the first modern-day player to reach 200 hits for 7 consecutive years ... Willie Keeler turned the trick 8 straight years for Baltimore and Brooklyn from 1894-1901.

ONE-RUN GAMES

The Red Sox were 27-15 (.643) in one-run games in 2005...They were 15-1 at home and 12-14 away...The last 18 years the Red Sox were 228-138 (.623) at home in one-run games...The Red Sox set a major league record in 1986 with a 24-10 record (.706) in one-run games, the fewest one-run losses ever in a full season...That mark was tied by the Yankees in 1998, when they went 21-10...The old record was 11, held by the Red Sox in 1950 (21-11) and Detroit in 1984 (25-11)...The 1950 record of 11 losses is the best-ever in a 154-game season...Since 1950, the least losses for the Red Sox until 1986 was in 1975 (23-13)...Overall, in 105 years the Red Sox have a 2450-2356 (.510) record in one-run games...The 1953 team, with a 35-16 record, has the club record for most wins, while the 1930 record of 17-36 represents the team mark for most losses.

REACHING BASE 300 TIMES (H+BB+HP)

Reaching base 300 times by hits, walks and hit by pitches is a difficult feat. It has been done by only 64 players since 1901 (a total of 133 times). Thirty-four A.L. players have done it (76 times) and 30 N.L. players (57 times). Bonds in 2004 reached 376 times, 2nd best in M.L. history and the N.L. high. Fifteen players have done it 3 or more times: Gehrig and Ruth 9, Williams and Bonds 7, Boggs and Musial 6, Rose 5, Foxx, Helton, Hornsby and Bagwell 4, Ja. Giambi, Gehringer, Mantle, Speaker and Thomas 3. Boggs' total of 292 in 1984 fell 8 short but still led the M.L.

RED SOX ROOKIES WITH TEN TRIPLES

In 1997 Nomar Garciaparra led the American League with 11 triples, the first Red Sox to lead the A.L. in triples since Jim Rice led with 15 in 1978. He became the seventh Red Sox rookie to hit 10 or more triples and the first since Ted Williams hit 11 in 1939. Only five other Red Sox have led the A.L. in triples: Carlton Fisk as a rookie in 1972 tied with nine; Jackie Jensen in 1956 tied with 11; Dom DiMaggio & Bobby Doerr in 1950 tied with 11; and Chick Stahl in 1904 led with 22, a Sox record tied by Tris Speaker in 1912. Garciaparra and Fisk are the only Sox rookies to lead the A.L.

PITCHERS BATTING SINCE DH RULE

ROGER CLEMENS singled to CF on an 0-2 pitch in the last of the 8th from LH Norm Charlton (Sea.) 5/23/96 in Fenway Park. It was the first regular season hit by a RED SOX pitcher since 10/3/72 in Detroit, a single in the 7th inning by LUIS TIAN off Woody Fryman. Other than TIM LOLLAR, who singled as a PH 8/12/86 in K.C. (2nd G) and lined out as a PH 8/13/85 vs. K.C., PETE SCHOUREK, who singled as a PH 6/28/2000 vs. Balt. and TIM WAKEFIELD, who had sac. bunts as a PH 4/22/98 in Det. and 6/28/2000 vs. Balt., only eight pitchers have batted a total of nine times for the RED SOX since the DH rule went into effect in 1973. MARTY PATTIN hit the last HR by a Sox pitcher 9/26/72 in Fenway, off Bill Parsons of Milw. BILL LEE hit the last road HR 9/11/72 in Clev. off Ray Lamb.

MOST HOME RUNS IN A SINGLE GAME

The Red Sox record for home runs in a game is 8, set July 4, 1977 vs. Toronto at Fenway Park. Fred Lynn and George Scott hit 2 apiece, and Bernie Carbo (PH), Butch Hobson, Jim Rice and Carl Yastrzemski each hit one. Scott's 2-run blast over the 420-foot sign in center field was the only long ball hit with a man on. The 7 solo home runs still stand as a Major League record. In the bottom of the 8th, Lynn, Rice, Yastrzemski and Scott each went deep as the Red Sox overcame a 6-5 deficit to win 9-6 and end a 9-game losing streak. The Red Sox have also hit 7 HR in one game four times, most recently in a 10-3 win July 4, 2003 at Yankee Stadium (Varitek 2, Ortiz 2, Mueller 2 and Ramirez).

HR	DATE	OPPONENT	HOME RUNS	SCORE
8	7-4-77	vs. Toronto	Lynn (2), Scott (2), Carbo, Hobson, Rice, Yastrzemski	9-6
7	7-4-2003	at New York (AL)	Mueller (2), Ortiz (2), Varitek (2), Ramirez	10-3
7	7-23-2002 (Day of D/N DH)	vs. Tampa Bay	Garciaparra (3), Ramirez (2), Damon, Nixon	22-4
7	7-24-99	at Detroit	Nixon (3), Garciaparra (2), Daubach, O'Leary	11-4
7	6-8-50	vs. St. Louis	Doerr (3), Dropo (2), Williams (2)	29-4

The Red Sox have hit 6 homers in a game 17 times and 5 homers on 42 occasions. The last time they hit 6 in a game was in 2003: June 7 at Milw., June 29 vs. Fla. and August 3 at Balt.

Grand Slam Home Runs

a - grand slam (N) - night game of day-night DH

The Red Sox hit 1 in 2005: DOUG MIRABELLI (10/2 vs. NYY) and 2 in 2004: KEVIN MILLAR (6/18 in S.F.) and TROT NIXON (9/14 vs. T.B.). They hit 4 in 2003, 3 in 2002, 2 in 2001 and 3 in 2000... SCOTT HATTEBERG (2000), MIDRE CUMMINGS (1998) MIKE STANLEY (1997), RICH GEDMAN (1984) and TONY PEREZ (1982) are the only Sox to hit 2 in one season since BERNIE CARBO hit 3 in 1977... The RED SOX hit 5 in 1997, 2nd in the A.L. (Tex. 6)... It tied the Sox 2nd best total (1943, all by JOE CRONIN)... The club record is 6 in 1953... They hit 2 in 1995 and 1996... The Red Sox hit 3 in 1986, highlighted by RICH GEDMAN'S 2-out grand slam in the 8th inning in Det. Aug. 10 off LH Willie Hernandez for a 9-6 win... That was the Sox first PH grand slam since VIC WERTZ hit one in Fenway Park Aug. 25, 1960 vs. Clev... The A.L. PH HR season record is held by JOE CRONIN with 5 in 1943 (including successive 3-run blasts in a DH vs. Philadelphia in Fenway June 17)... CHARLIE MAXWELL (1951), DEL WILBER (1953) and BERNIE CARBO (1977) hit 3 pinch HR... Four of the 12 players who share the A.L. record for PH HR on consecutive AB were Red Sox: CRONIN (1943), WILBER (May 6 and 10, 1953), TED WILLIAMS (Sept. 17 and 20, 1957) and CHUCK SCHILLING (Apr. 30 and May 1, 1965)... Sox pitchers allowed 2 PH HR in 2005, 1 in 2004, 4 in 2003, 1 in 2002, 2001 and 2000... They did not allow any PH HR in 1999.

Inside-the-Park Home Runs

The RED SOX have hit 127 known inside-the-park home runs (IPH) in their 105-year history including 47 in Fenway Park... TROT NIXON hit the only one in 2005 (July 15 vs. NYY) in the 2nd innng., a 3-run liner that went just beyond the reach of CF Melky Cabrera and to the wall... POKEY REESE hit the only one in 2004 (May 8 vs. K.C.) in the 5th innng. down the RF line that bounced off the wall past RF Juan Gonzalez... REESE also hit a HR in the 6th innng. over the LF wall, the 7th Red Sox player to hit 2 such HR in the same game and first since TONY ARMAS (Sept. 24, 1983 in Det.)... KEVIN MILLAR did so Aug. 26, 2003 to lead off the last of the 9th vs. Tor. in Fenway Park... On July 28, 1998 in Oak. DARREN LEWIS did so w/2 on (a liner to RF that Ben Grieve lost in the lights)... The prior game, July 26 vs. Tor. in Fenway Park, NOMAR GARCIAPARRA did so in the 8th innng. w/2 on, a fly ball down the RF line that hit the low wall and bounced away from Tony Phillips into RF... LUIS RIVERA hit one, June 21, 1991 at Fenway Park vs. Oak. (to RF which got by Jose Canseco)... BILL BUCKNER hit one April 25, 1990 in Fenway Park (to RF on which Claudell Washington fell into the stands) in the 4th inning off Kirk McCaskill... MIKE GREENWELL hit a grand slam grounder down the RF line on which Jesse Barfield crashed into the wall Sept. 1, 1990 in Fenway Park in the 7th inning off Greg Cadaret... On July 7, 1989 GREENWELL hit one in Fenway Park in the 6th inning also off Cadaret to LCF just above the 379-foot mark that caromed into RCF.... CARL YASTRZEMSKI hit 3 IPH including the 2nd of 2 HR in Det. in the 9th inning on Opening Day Apr. 10, 1968... The only IPH of TED WILLIAMS' career clinched the 1946 pennant on Friday, Sept. 13 in Cleveland's League Park, hit to LF off Red Embree in the 1st inning against the "Boudreau Shift" for a 1-0 win for Tex Hughson... "Super Sub" JOHN KENNEDY hit a pinch IPH on his first Sox at bat July 5, 1970 vs. Clev. in Fenway... On June 17, 1936 RHP WES FERRELL hit one (last Sox pitcher to do so) and his batterymate, brother RICK, did likewise Aug. 18 the same year... 3B BILLY WERBER hit 3 in 1934... 2B BILL REGAN hit 2 HR in the 4th inning in Chicago June 16, 1928 and the 2nd was an IPH... SS HEINIE WAGNER (1907), 3B LARRY GARDNER (1912) and INF HAL JANVRIN (1913) hit 2 IPH in the same game... TRIS SPEAKER holds the Sox record of 8 IPH in 1912.

* grand slam

Prior to Felix, Mel Stottlemyre hit the last IP grand slam HR against the Red Sox July 20, 1965 in Yankee Stadium to LCF off Bill Monbouquette... In addition to Greenwell at Fenway Park, Gary Geiger of the Red Sox hit one off Camilo Pascual of the Twins Aug. 8, 1961... Don Lenhardt of the Red Sox hit one Apr. 19, 1952 in the morning game of a morning-afternoon doubleheader, high off the LCF light tower off Dick Fowler of the Philadelphia A's... Those are the only three IP grand slams in Fenway by Red Sox players... Felix may have the only other IP grand slam hit in Fenway.

LONGEST KNOWN HOME RUNS AT FENWAY PARK

On June 19, 1977 Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an 8th-inning bomb off Yankees righthander Dick Tidrow. It reached approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired #42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the RF roof facade.

On September 21, 1956 Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, batting left-handed, hit the longest known home run to straight-away center field off righthander Frank Sullivan. The ball failed to clear the old brick wall by a foot. It carried approximately 480 feet when it struck the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

On June 9 1946 Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right off Detroit righthander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, 56, a construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were real bleachers and not individual seats.

Six home runs were hit over the old center field wall to the right of the flag pole. The elevation over the old brick wall was installed prior to the 1976 season and was removed prior to the 2003 season. No one hit a home run over that elevation that was in place from 1976-2002.

Since 1970 Jim Rice leads the Sox with 5 game-ending HR followed by David Ortiz and Dwight Evans with 4. Amazingly, two of the five years in which the Sox hit 200 HR (213 in 1977 and 203 in 1970), they did not hit any game-ending blasts.

Note: David Ortiz hit two extra-inning, game-ending home runs in the 2004 postseason. He hit the first one in the 10th inning of Game 3 of the ALDS vs. Anaheim to win 8-6 and clinch the series. He hit the second one in the 12th inning of Game 4 of the ALCS vs. the Yankees to win 6-4 staging the Red Sox dramatic comeback in that series. Trot Nixon hit a game-ending, pinch-hit, 2-run homer in the 11th inng. of Game 3 of the 2003 ALDS vs. Oakland to give the Red Sox a 3-1 win. They are Boston's only walk-off homers in the postseason since Carlton Fisk's historic blast to end Game 6 of the 1975 World Series vs. Cincinnati.

EXTRA-INNING HOME RUNS

Current Red Sox with extra-inning home runs for Boston are David Ortiz with six, Jason Varitek with four, Trot Nixon with two and Manny Ramirez with one. In 2005 Ortiz (8/16 in Det., 10th inng.), Varitek (8/16 in Det., 10th inng.) and Johnny Damon (7/26 in TB, 10th inng. leadoff) each had one... In 2004 Ortiz (4/11 vs. Tor., 12th inng., game-ending), McCarty (5/30 vs. Sea., 12th inng., game-ending), Ramirez (7/1 at NYN, 13th inng.), Orlando Cabrera (9/22 vs. Balt., 12th inng., game-ending) and Millar (9/28 at TB, 11th inng.) each had one. In 2003 Ortiz (4/27, in Ana., 14th-inng. leadoff), (9/3 at CWS, 10th inng.) and (9/23 vs. Balt., 10th-inng. leadoff), Millar (4/1 in TB, 16th inng.) and Varitek (4/27 in Ana., 14th inng.) did so. In 2002 Damon (8/26 vs. Ana., 10th-inng. leadoff) for 10-9 win. In 2001 Varitek (5/13 vs. Oak., 11th-inng. leadoff) and Shea Hillenbrand (6/5 vs. Det., 18th-inng. leadoff), both game-winners. In 1999 Varitek (9/15 in Clev., 13th-inng. leadoff) and one out later, Nixon also hit one in Sox 6-4 win.

NOTE: A uniform GWRBI rule was adopted by both leagues in 1979 — “The RBI that gives a team a lead it never relinquishes.” Until 1979 the Red Sox rule was simply, the run that was one more than the opposition’s final score. GWRBI was discontinued as an official statistic after the 1988 season, but the Red Sox still use the 1979 rule. * A.L. record

8	Jimmie Foxx	9/7/38	vs. New York

Mike Greenwell's 9 RBI in Sea. Sept. 2, 1996 is a M.L. record for a player who drove in all his team's runs in one game. ... Previously the last Red Sox with at least 7 RBI in one game was Jack Clark, 7, July 5, 1991 vs. Det. ... Since Greenwell in 1996 the only Red Sox players with at least 7 RBI in one game are Bill Mueller, 9, July 29, 2003 in Tex., Nomar Garciaparra, 8, July 23, 2002 vs. T.B. and Jason Varitek, 7, May 20, 2001 in K.C. ... The other current Red Sox with a 6-RBI game with the Red Sox are Manny Ramirez (Aug. 22, 2002 vs. Tex.) and Trot Nixon (Sept. 1, 2003 at Phil.) ... Also, in the 1999 Divisional Series, John Valentin had 7 RBI vs. Clev. (Oct. 10), and Troy O'Leary did the same (Oct. 11) in Clev.

MOST RBI ONE SEASON FROM LEADOFF POSITION

In 2000 Darin Erstad had 100 RBI as a leadoff batter to break Nomar Garciaparra's M.L. record of 98 RBI set in 1997. Nomar broke the 40-year record of 85 RBI by Harvey Kuenn for Detroit in 1956. Dom DiMaggio's 84 RBI as the Red Sox leadoff hitter in 1948 was the previous club record. Johnny Damon had 91 leadoff RBI in 2004, the only M.L. leadoff batter with more than 65.

MOST SUCCESSFUL RED SOX LEFTHANDERS
AT FENWAY PARK
(25 decisions)

There have been some very successful Red Sox left-handed pitchers at Fenway Park...Lefty Grove, Babe Ruth, Roger Moret and Mel Parnell all won at least 70 percent of their home decisions...Grove won 20 consecutive Fenway decisions May 3, 1938 through May 12, 1941...The streak was broken in a 13-9 loss to the St. Louis Browns June 21, 1941.

Most Strikeouts by an Opponent (Since 1972)

Randy Johnson's 15 strikeouts April 10, 1998 were the most by a lefthander vs. the Red Sox since Mickey Lolich had 15 K's October 2, 1972 in Detroit. When Roger Clemens fanned 16 Red Sox July 12, 1997 at Fenway Park, it was the first time in 20 years an opposing pitcher struck out more than 13 Red Sox. From 1972 through 2005 only 6 pitchers struck out more than 13 Red Sox in a game (a total of 11 times). Nolan Ryan had 6 such efforts, all from 1972 through 1977, including 3 in 1974.

In 2005 RH Bartolo Colon struck out 11 Red Sox (6 IP) 6/4 for LAA in Fenway Park... LH Randy Johnson (10 in 6.1 IP) for NYY 7/16 in Fenway Park was the only other opposing pitcher to strike out 10 or more Red Sox in one game... In 2004 LH Ted Lilly struck out 13 Red Sox (9 IP) 8/23 in Tor., the most since Mike Mussina's 15 strikeouts Sept. 4, 2000.

Career 10-Strikeout Games by Red Sox

Ten pitchers have struck out 10 or more batters in a game for the Red Sox at least 6 times... Pedro Martinez did it 72 times, followed by Roger Clemens 68 times, Smokey Joe Wood 18 times, Bruce Hurst (the only lefty) 13 times, Jim Lonborg and Ray Culp 10 times, Luis Tiant and Dave Morehead 9 times, Cy Young 8 times and Bill Monbouquette 6 times... In 2005 Tim Wakefield had two 10-K games and Curt Schilling had one... For the Red Sox Schilling has five 10-K games and Wakefield has four... In 1999 Martinez set a new team one-season high of 19 such games to break Clemens' record of 12 times in 1988.

Note: Only 2 pitchers in American League history have had 2 winning streaks of 10 or more games in the same season: Boston's Dave Ferriss (10 games and 12 games in 1946) and Washington's Walter Johnson (10 games and 14 games in 1913). The only National League pitcher to do so was Preacher Roe of the Brooklyn Dodgers who had a pair of 10-game streaks in 1951.

Extra-Inning Complete-Game Shutouts

The Red Sox have had 26 extra-inning complete-game shutouts. Twenty pitchers accomplished that feat for 24 wins and 2 ties. The last Red Sox pitcher to do so was lefty Bruce Hurst August 7, 1988, when he won 3-0 in 10 innings in Detroit. That was the first since righthander Mike Torrez topped Minnesota 1-0 in 10 innings at Fenway Park on July 18, 1980.

Cy Young had 4 such games (1903, 1904 and 2 in 1907), including one tie. The only other Sox hurlers to have more than one were lefty Ray Collins (1913, 1914), and righthanders Sam Jones (1918) and Joe Bush (2 in 13 days in 1918), all with 2. Jones, 1-0 (10 innings) vs. Cleveland (G1) July 8, and Bush, 1-0 (12 innings) vs. Cleveland July 9, did so on consecutive days at Fenway.

Young went 15 innings (the longest shutout) to beat Detroit 1-0 at the Huntington Avenue Grounds May 11, 1904. Babe Ruth had the longest effort by a lefthander, a 1-0, 13-inning win August 15, 1916 vs. Washington. Other 13-inning shutouts were by Young, a 0-0 tie vs. Philadelphia September 9, 1907 in the Huntington Avenue Grounds and Ed Durham, who beat Detroit 1-0 at Fenway September 12, 1931. Lloyd Brown (1933) and Dutch Leonard (1916) were the only other lefties, in addition to Hurst, Collins and Ruth, to have extra-inning shutouts.

Complete game, extra-inning shutouts since 1918:

RED SOX TRIPLE PLAYS

On July 8, 1994 at Fenway Park, SS JOHN VALENTIN turned an unassisted triple play (9th in regular-season M.L. history, 10th overall) in the 6th inning vs. Seattle (1B George Burns 9/14/23 vs. Cleveland is the only other Red Sox to do so). With Mike Blowers on second and Keith Mitchell on first, Marc Newfield hit a line drive to VALENTIN, who tagged second to retire Blowers and also tagged Mitchell between first and second to complete the rare play. Ironically, VALENTIN led off the bottom of the inning with the Sox trailing 2-0 and hit a 3-2 pitch off Dave Fleming into the left field net, only the 2nd of the 10 to homer in the same inning in which he turned an unassisted triple play (shortstop Neal Ball of Cleveland vs. Boston on July 19, 1909). It was Boston's first triple play since July 28, 1979, when the club tied the M.L. record by turning 3 triple plays in a single season. Those were the first Red Sox triple plays since May 25, 1972 vs. Baltimore.

The Red Sox hit into their first triple play in more than 5 years when SCOTT HATTEBERG lined into a 6-4 triple play, August 6, 2001 in the 4th inning vs. Texas. In the 6th inning HATTEBERG hit a grand slam as the Sox won 10-7, making him the only player in history to hit into a triple play and hit a grand slam in the same game. Prior to HATTEBERG the last Red Sox to hit into a triple play was TIM NAEHRING, who grounded into one, 5-4-3 June 6, 1996 in the first inning vs. Chicago. The Sox won 7-4 as JOHN VALENTIN hit for the cycle. July 17, 1990 vs. Minnesota the Red Sox became the first M.L. team to hit into 2 triple plays in the same game. In fact it is the only game in M.L. history with 2 triple plays. In the 4th inning, with the bases loaded, TOM BRUNANSKY grounded to third baseman Gary Gaetti, who stepped on third, then threw to second baseman Al Newman who relayed to first baseman Kent Hrbek. In the 8th inning, with runners on first and second, JODY REED grounded to Gaetti, who stepped on third to start another 5-4-3 triple play. In spite of the history-making event, the Red Sox won the game 1-0.

Prior to 1990 the last triple play turned against the Red Sox was July 4, 1988 in Kansas City. JIM RICE flied out to Willie Wilson in center field. Wilson threw to second baseman Frank White to double up MIKE GREENWELL. White then threw to first baseman George Brett to get ELLIS BURKS. Prior to that the last one was September 4, 1965 in New York. BOB TILLMAN grounded to Clete Boyer at third base. Boyer started a 5-4-3 double play with Bobby Richardson and Joe Pepitone. Pepitone then threw back to Boyer to get TONY CONIGLIARO at third.

5-13-91	Steve Lyons, 2b	vs. CWS	Lyons/O. Guillen, 4th inng.	2nd

NOTE: There have been 17 documented hidden ball plays by Red Sox players. 2B Barrett (see above) and SS Johnny Pesky are the only known Sox to do so more than once. Pesky (1942-52) had 3 hidden ball plays vs. Bill Zuber (1942, WAS), Tommy Henrich (1942, NYY) and Buddy Lewis (1947, WAS). Thanks to Bill Deane of SABR for his research.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT STAFF

MIKE HAZEN

Director of Player Development

Mike became Director of Player Development on February 8, 2006. He spent five seasons with the Cleveland Indians as Assistant Director of Player Development since September 2003. Previously, he coordinated and oversaw the club's major league advance scouting in 2001 and 2002 and spent the 2003 season as the Indians' Assistant Director of Professional Scouting. The Abington, MA native played four years of varsity baseball at Princeton University and was a first-team All-Ivy League outfielder in 1997 and 1998. A 31st-round draft pick by the Padres in 1998, he played two minor league seasons before joining the Indians' scouting department. Mike comes to Boston with his wife, Nicole and son, Charlie

BRIAN O'HALLORAN

Director of Baseball Operations

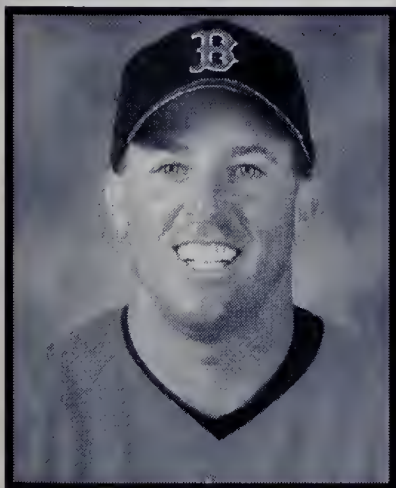

Brian was named Director of Baseball Operation in February 2006 after serving as Manager of Major League Administration since 2004. He plays a key role for the Red Sox in contract negotiations, salary arbitration, budgets and league rules. Brian joined the organization as Baseball Operations Assistant in 2002. Prior to that, he has worked for the San Diego Padres and the Pawtucket Red Sox. The Weymouth, MA native has a degree from Colby College (Waterville, ME) and an MBA from UCLA (Los Angeles, CA). Before working in sports, he spent two years studying ethnic conflict in Tbilisi, Republic of Georgia; then three years in Moscow, Russia working for an international company. Brian is fluent in both Russian and Georgian. He and his wife, Jean, live in Weymouth with their son Sean.

RAQUEL FERREIRA

Director of Minor League Administration

Raquel joined the Boston Red Sox as Administrative Assistant in Player Development and Scouting in September of 1999. She was promoted to Director of Minor League Administration in 2002. Raquel handles administrative issues for both major and minor league players such as payroll, contract tenders and player transactions. The Cumberland, RI native is also in charge of the player immigration program and spring training budget for the minor league camp. She received the 2002 Edward F. Kenney Award bestowed upon a player development staff member for dedication, success and work ethic in baseball. Raquel graduated from the University of Rhode Island in 1992. She resides in Cambridge, MA with her husband Erik and stepson, Erik, Jr.

ROB LEARY

Minor League Field Coordinator

Rob Leary is in his third year as minor league field coordinator. He joined the Red Sox in 2002 as a roving minor league catching instructor. He spent 1995-2001 in the Florida Marlins organization as a major league advance scout (2001), director of field operations (1999-2000), minor league field coordinator (1997-98) and catching instructor (1995-96).

For 9 seasons (1986-94) Rob was a player, coach and manager with the Montreal Expos. He was the Expos' 12th-round pick out of Louisiana State University in 1986 and played 5 seasons in their system before becoming a player-coach in 1990 with (A) Rockford. He managed Rockford in 1991-92 and (A) West Palm Beach in 1993-94, amassing a 254-236 record. A 1984 graduate of the College of San Mateo and a 1986 graduate of LSU, Rob lives in Melbourne, FL with his wife Candace and sons Connor (4) and Dawson (2).

A veteran of 28 years of pro baseball, Ron begins his second season managing AAA Pawtucket. This is his fifth season in the Red Sox organization. In his first season managing Pawtucket, he led the club to a second place finish and a 75-69 record. Previously, he managed two seasons at AA Portland as well as the Trenton Thunder in 2002 before the Sox AA squad moved to Portland.

Ron has been a manager for the past 14 seasons, spending his first 8 years as a skipper in the Kansas City organization following 6 seasons as a coach in the Royals chain. He left the Royals with a 586-521 record (.529) as a minor league manager.

The Long Beach, CA native took the Royals' A Baseball City club to the playoffs in 1992, his first year as a manager. Ron in 1995 was named Texas Lg. Manager of the Year after leading the Wichita Wranglers to a 72-64 record and a 2nd-half first-place finish in the American Conference's Central Division. He joined the Red Sox organization prior to the 2000 campaign, spending his first 2 years as skipper of the Sarasota Sox.

The Fresno State University graduate was a First Team All-American selection in 1978. He was drafted that year by Kansas City in the 24th round, and went on to hit .261 in 22 major league games with the Royals and Expos from 1982-84.

Ron is the father of five children: Savannah (20), Christopher (19), Christian (11), Cheyanne (8) and Bridget (4). He and his wife, Daphane, reside in Wichita, KS.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT CONSULTANTS

DICK BERARDINO

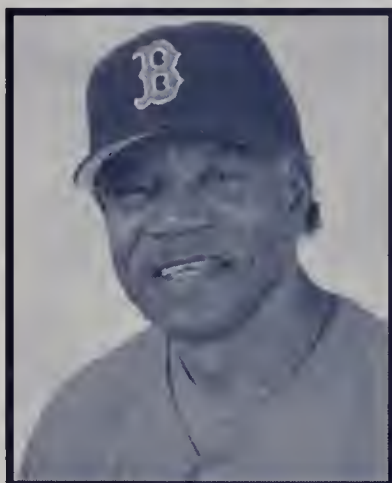

Dick enters his 39th year in the Red Sox organization, his 3rd season as a Red Sox player development consultant. After 8 seasons as a minor league outfielder, Berardino began a managerial career that spanned 21 seasons, including 20 in the Red Sox system starting in 1971. He joined the Red Sox as a coach in 1968 and served the Red Sox as big league bullpen and third base coach (1989-91), roving outfield/baserunning instructor (1992-96), manager at Single-A Lowell (1997-98), assistant field coordinator (1999-2001) and Spring Training coordinator (2002). A 1955 graduate of Watertown High School and a 1959 graduate of Holy Cross, Berardino received the Red Sox Edward M. Kenney Player Development Award in 1998.

DWIGHT EVANS

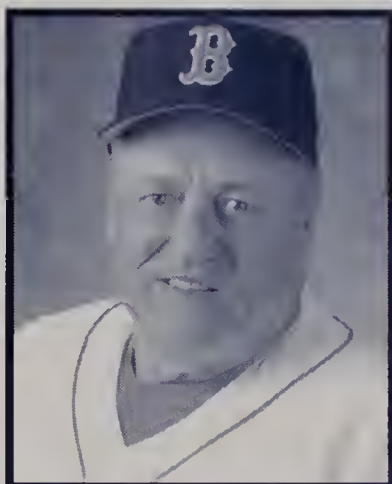

A 3-time All-Star, 8-time Gold Glove Award-winning right fielder and a Red Sox Hall of Famer, Dwight Evans will serve as a Red Sox player development consultant for his 3rd year. Evans was the Red Sox major league hitting coach in 2002 after rejoining the organization as a player development consultant in 2001, specializing in outfield and hitting instruction throughout the minor leagues. Evans played 19 years and 2,505 games in a Red Sox uniform, 2nd most in club history. He was a member of 4 A.L. East championship squads (1975, '86, '88, '90) and 2 A.L. championship teams ('75, '86). From 1981-90, Evans hit 251 home runs, the most of any A.L. player, and had 605 extra-base hits in the 1980s, more than any other M.L. player. He retired after the 1991 season and served as a roving minor league instructor with Chicago in 1993 and as Colorado's M.L. hitting coach in 1994.

TOMMY HARPER

Tommy is in his 4th season as a player development consultant with the Red Sox after 3 seasons as the Red Sox major league first base, outfield, and baserunning coach. Harper spent 3 seasons in a Red Sox uniform (1972-74) and holds the club record with 54 stolen bases in 1973. He enjoyed a 15-year big league career with 8 teams, hitting .257 with 146 home runs, 567 RBI and 408 stolen bases. In 1970 with Milwaukee, Harper became the first infielder (5th overall) to eclipse both the 30 home run and 30 stolen base plateaus in the same season (31 homers and 38 steals). After his career ended, Harper worked in the Yankees system before returning to Boston in the P.R. department in 1980 and as the M.L. first base coach and baserunning instructor from 1981-84. Before rejoining the Red Sox in 2000, Harper coached 10 years with Montreal, his final 7 as the hitting, baserunning and outfield coach.

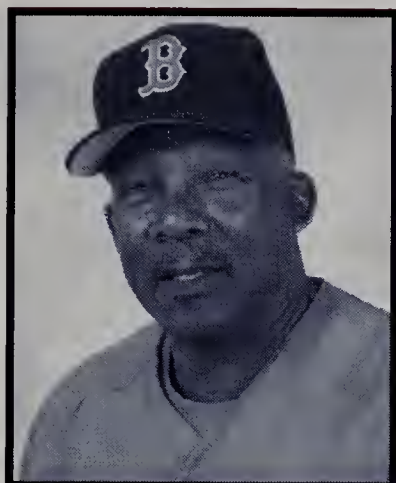

TONY CLONINGER

Tony is a player development consultant for his 2nd year after serving as senior pitching advisor last season and pitching coach in 2002-03. Tony was diagnosed with bladder cancer in March 2003 and took a medical leave of absence in June to complete his treatments and recovery at his home in North Carolina.

Cloninger is in his 34th year of professional baseball. He was a scout for the San Francisco Giants in 2001 after 15 years with the New York Yankees. He enjoyed a 15-year pro pitching career including 12 major league seasons with the Milwaukee and Atlanta Braves (1961-68), Cincinnati Reds (1968-71) and St. Louis Cardinals (1972). He has a career 113-97 record and a 4.07 ERA over 352 games.

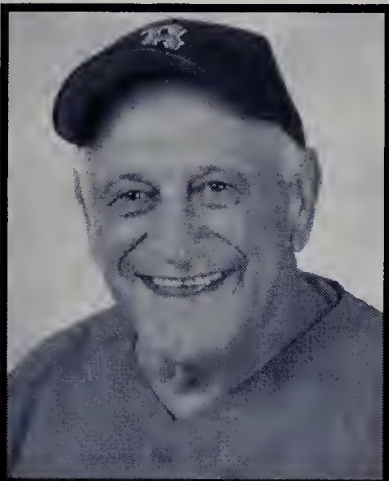

FELIX MALDONADO

Felix will serve his 4th season as a player development consultant after 7 seasons as Red Sox coordinator of Latin American instruction. 2006 marks his 44th year in the Red Sox organization as a minor league player, scout, manager, instructor or coordinator. In 1995, Maldonado concluded 7 years as manager of the Gulf Coast League Red Sox after scouting for the Red Sox in Puerto Rico from 1971-89 while serving as an instructor with the Red Sox with focus on Rookie and Single-A teams. He graduated from Ponce High School and Catholic University of Puerto Rico. Maldonado played minor league baseball from 1959-70 as an outfielder, including his final 8 seasons in the Red Sox organization.

FRANK MALZONE

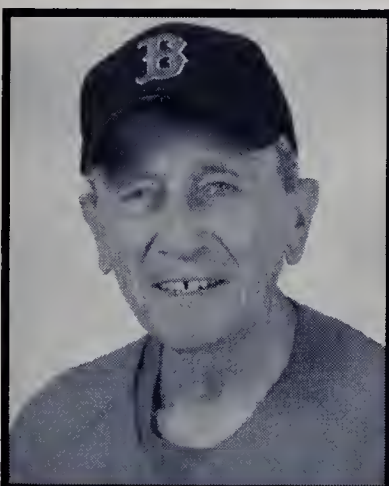

Frank Malzone, a member of the inaugural Red Sox Hall of Fame class in 1995, will serve as a player development consultant in 2006. He spent 11 seasons with the Red Sox and was an 8-time All-Star and 3-time Gold Glove award winner at third base. Malzone ranks among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several categories, and he hit .276 with 131 home runs, and 716 RBI in 1,359 Red Sox games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Malzone recorded 103 RBI and tied an A.L. record with 10 assists in one game. He became the first player in history to lead league third basemen in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding percentage. Previously to his consultant role, Malzone served as a Red Sox scout.

CHARLIE WAGNER

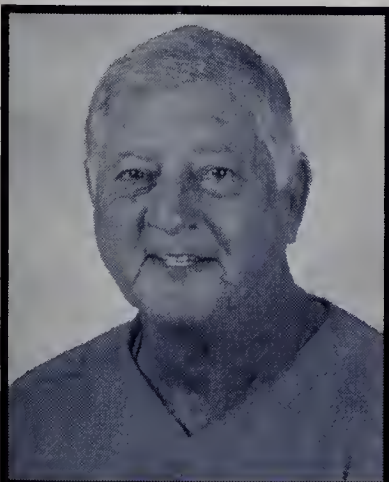

Charlie has been with the Red Sox organization as a pitcher, administrator and scout since 1935. Currently, he serves as a special Spring Training consultant. Wagner signed with the Red Sox in 1935 and made his pro debut with Charlotte in the Class B Piedmont League. He joined the Red Sox in 1938 and was 32-23 with a 3.91 ERA in 100 games over 6 years. He missed the 1943-45 seasons due to entering the Navy during World War II. Injuries limited him to a 1-0 record in 8 games during the Red Sox' pennant-winning season of 1946. In 1947 he became the assistant farm director under Johnny Murphy. At that time the Red Sox had 12 minor league teams spread over 55 leagues. He switched to scouting and minor league pitching instructor in 1962 and has been in those roles ever since. The Red Sox honored Charlie in March 1998 by naming the entrance-way into the Fort Myers Minor League Complex Charlie Wagner Way. On January 18, 2001, Wagner was honored by the Reading (PA) Hot Stove League at their annual banquet. On May 27, 2001, during the Red Sox 100th anniversary celebration at Fenway Park, Charlie threw the honorary first pitch to Red Sox Hall of Fame catcher Carlton Fisk. Charlie resides in Reading, PA.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI

Hall of Fame outfielder Carl Yastrzemski succeeded Ted Williams in left field as a rookie in 1961 and today still follows in his footsteps instructing young Red Sox hitters. A 3-time batting champion and 18-time A.L. All-Star, Yaz became the last major league Triple Crown winner when he led the league in batting average, home runs and RBI in 1967. He was the first A.L. player to collect 400 home runs and 3,000 hits in his career. In 23 years with the Red Sox, Yaz won the MVP award in 1967 and 7 gold gloves. He retired ranked first on the major league all-time list for career games (3,308), 3rd in at-bats (11,988) and walks (1,845), 6th in total bases (5,539), 7th in hits (3,419) and doubles (646) and 9th in RBI (1,844).

JOHNNY PESKY

Age: 86, Turns 87 on September 27

Born: September 27, 1919 in Portland, OR

Resides: Swampscott, MA

Johnny, who began his long career with the Red Sox as a minor league player in 1940 begins his 54th season with the Red Sox, his 36th in a row. Pesky has been associated with the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio and TV announcer and advertising salesman. In 2005, the Red Sox will again utilize Johnny's teaching skills and knowledge of infield play by having him work with young players in Spring Training as well as at Pawtucket and Lowell. The former All-Star shortstop will tutor minor league infielders on mechanics and defensive positioning. Previously,

Pesky was a special assistant to former GM Lou Gorman from 1984-92 after 10 years as a Red Sox coach. Johnny was also Pawtucket's interim manager for part of the 1990 season. Pesky was an outstanding hitter and infielder who hit .307 in a 10-year career with the Red Sox, Detroit and Washington. He held the Red Sox record for most hits by a rookie (205, broken by Nomar Garciaparra in 1997) and was the first to have 3 200-hit years (Wade Boggs did so 7 years and Jim Rice 4). He shares the M.L. record for leading the league in hits 3 straight years and having scored 6 runs in one game (May 8, 1946). In 1985 Boggs broke his record of 172 singles in one season. Pesky coached for Ralph Houk with Triple-A Denver in 1955 and managed in the Detroit system from 1956-60. In the mid-1960s, he was a coach with Pittsburgh and a manager in their system before joining the Red Sox broadcast crew in 1969. He spent 6 years as part of the radio and TV team. Johnny also managed Triple-A Seattle for the Sox in 1961-62 before moving up to manage the big club in 1963-64. In 1982 the Boston Writers gave him their "Good Guy" award. On November 1, 1995, Johnny was honored as one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame.

JIM RICE

Age: 53

Born: March 8, 1953, Anderson, SC

Resides: No. Andover, MA

Jim is a special organizational instructor this year, his 34th season with the Red Sox, with duties in Spring Training and throughout the system. The Red Sox Hall of Famer spent 6 years as the team's major league hitting coach. Rice was promoted to the post on February 18, 1995 after 3 seasons as the Red Sox roving minor league hitting instructor.

The 8-time All-Star is among the top 5 career Red Sox hitters in 9 offensive categories and compiled a .298 average with 382 home runs in 2,089 games for the Red Sox from 1974-89. Rice collected his 2,452 career hits, including 373 doubles and 79 triples.

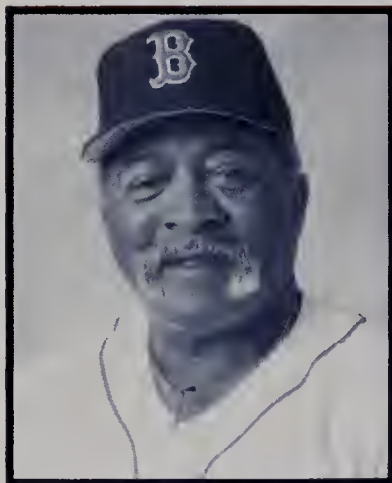

Jim slammed 20 or more homers 11 times and drove in 100 runs 8 times. He is the only player to have 3 straight 35-homer, 200-hit years (1977-79). Rice hit 3 home runs in a game twice, August 29, 1977 vs. Oakland and August 29, 1983 in Toronto. From his August 19, 1974 debut through 1986, he played in 93 percent of the Red Sox games (1,790 of 1,935). During his 15-plus major league seasons, he played in 86 percent of the Red Sox games, despite being limited to only 56 in an injury-filled final 1989 season.

Rice was the club's No. 1 draft pick in the 1971 June draft after he won 10 letters in baseball, football, basketball and track for Westside and Hanna High School in Anderson, SC. In 1974 he won the International League Triple Crown, batting .337 with 25 long balls and 93 RBI for Pawtucket. He joined the Red Sox to stay in mid-August. He was also named Minor League Player of the Year, International League MVP and IL Rookie of the Year. Rice helped Boston win the 1975 A.L. pennant with a .309, 22-HR, 102-RBI rookie season. In 1978 he was the A.L. MVP as he led the M.L. with 46 HR, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 TB, 213 H and a .600 slugg. pct. He is the only A.L. player to attain 400 TB since 1937 and the only player to lead either league outright in HR, triples and RBI the same season. Rice led the A.L. in TB 3 straight years (1977-79) to tie Ted Williams and Ty Cobb for the A.L. record. He had four 200-hit seasons, and in 1986 was 3rd in the MVP voting after a .324 avg. with 200 H, 20 HR and 110 RBI in 157 games as the Red Sox again won the A.L. pennant. He was in the top five in A.L. MVP voting six times. In Nov. 1995, he was one of the first inductees into the Red Sox Hall of Fame. In February 2001 Rice was inducted into the Ted Williams Hitters Hall of Fame. Jim and his wife, Corine, are the parents of Chauncy Brandon (26) and Carissa Jacinda (24).

Luis will be a Red Sox Special Assignment Instructor in 2006. He rejoined the Red Sox organization in 2002 as pitching coach at Single-A Lowell. Tiant instructs young pitchers during the season and assists the Red Sox with clinics and appearances.

"El Tiante" was one of the greatest fan favorites and clutch performers in Red Sox history during his 8 seasons in Boston. He was inducted into the club's Hall of Fame in 1997. From 1971-78 he compiled a 122-81 record with a 3.36 ERA and 3 20-win seasons. He was A.L. Comeback Player of the Year in 1972, when he went 15-6 and led the league with a 1.91 ERA. When the Red Sox won the 1975 A.L. pennant, Tiant had an 18-14 record. He then beat Oakland 7-1 with a 3-hitter in the first game of the ALCS, shut out Cincinnati 6-0 in the first game of the World Series and beat the Reds again 5-4 in Game 5 with an amazing 163-pitch complete game performance. His final Red Sox appearance was a 5-0 2-hitter vs. Toronto October 1, 1978 at Fenway Park, the win that set up the one-game A.L. East playoff vs. the Yankees the next day.

In 19 seasons (1964-82) overall, Luis compiled a 229-172 (.571) record with a 3.30 ERA and 2,416 strikeouts. He also pitched for Cleveland (1964-69), Minnesota (1970), the Yankees (1979-80), Pittsburgh (1981) and California (1982). Tiant, who pitched in 3 All-Star Games, won 20 or more games 4 times, struck out 200 or more 3 times, led the A.L. in ERA in 1968 (1.60) and 1972 (1.91) and in shutouts 3 times.

From 1992-1995, Luis was a minor league pitching coach in the Los Angeles system, served as pitching coach for Nicaragua in the 1996 Atlanta Olympics and was the pitching coach for the White Sox Single-A Sarasota club in 1997. In 1998, he began a 4-year stint as head baseball coach for Division III Savannah College of Art and Design in Savannah, GA.

Luis and his wife, Maria, have 3 children: Luis Jr., Isabel and Daniel.

EDWARD F. KENNEY PLAYER DEVELOPMENT AWARD/ GEORGE DIGBY SCOUTING AWARD

In February of 1995 the Red Sox established the Edward F. Kenney Player Development Award and the George Digby Scouting Award. The first award was named for the retired executive who spent more than 45 years in the Red Sox organization, primarily in player development. The 2nd award recognizes the contributions of a man who began discovering talent for the Red Sox in 1944. The awards were created to acknowledge the dedication, success and work ethic of Red Sox baseball operations personnel, attributes so aptly displayed by the awards' namesakes.

PACKING 'EM IN

The Red Sox sold out their entire 16-game Spring Training home schedule for the first time ever in 2005, setting a club attendance record by drawing 124,023 to City of Palms Park.

The 2005 Spring average of 7,751 fans per game was also a Red Sox record.

The paid attendance of 8,056 for the March 30, 2005 Red Sox-Devil Rays contest was the largest ever for a Sox Spring game.

The Red Sox head into the Spring of 2006 having sold out 31 consecutive games at City of Palms Park since March 7, 2004. Since March 16, 2003, the Red Sox have sold out 33 consecutive official Grapefruit League (non-college) contests at City of Palms.

RED SOX BROADCASTERS

RADIO 850 WEEI-AM (12th season as flagship station)

Joe Castiglione

Joe Castiglione is in his 24th season behind the microphone on Red Sox radio. He previously handled play-by-play for the Cleveland Indians on TV in 1979 and 1982 and broadcast the Milwaukee Brewers on TV in 1981. The Hamden, CT native has announced the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers, and did college basketball on NESN for six years. During the off-season, he teaches broadcast journalism courses at Northeastern University and Franklin Pierce College. Joe also works in fund raising for the Jimmy Fund.

Jerry Trupiano

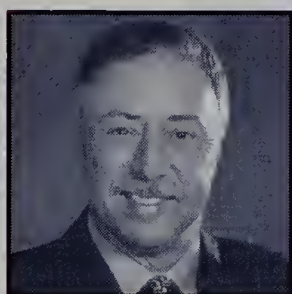

Jerry Trupiano returns for his 14th year on Red Sox radio. The St. Louis native is a graduate of St. Louis University where he began his broadcasting career as a disc jockey on the college radio station. Since then, Jerry has covered boxing, the Houston Aeros of the World Hockey Association (1974), the Houston Rockets (1978-80), Southwest Conference Football (1978-88) and the NFL's Houston Oilers (1980-89). He also hosted a talk show for 14 years in Houston. Jerry's baseball background includes play-by-play for the Houston Astros (1985-86) and the Montreal Expos (1989-90).

NEW ENGLAND SPORTS NETWORK (22nd season with Red Sox)

Don Orsillo

Melrose, MA native Don Orsillo, returns for a sixth season of play-by-play on NESN. The 36-year-old Northeastern University graduate, who was named the 2005 Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association, previously called the action for the Single-A Pittsfield Mets (1991-92), the Double-A Binghamton Mets (1993-95), the Triple-A Pawtucket Red Sox (1996-2000) and the American Hockey League's Springfield Indians/Falcons (1991-96). Orsillo, who called Hideo Nomo's no-hitter in Baltimore in his NESN debut, won Emmy Awards for outstanding play-by-play in 2003 and 2004. Following the 2004 season, he appeared in the Farrelly Brothers' film "Fever Pitch." This past winter, he called Providence College basketball for ESPN Plus. Don resides in Smithfield, RI with wife Lisa and daughters Sydney and Madison.

Jerry Remy

Jerry Remy is in his 19th year as NESN's analyst. A long-time Fenway Park fan favorite--and a 2006 electee to the Red Sox Hall of Fame--the former second baseman played seven seasons with the Red Sox from 1978-84 after breaking into the majors with the Angels in 1975. A pre-season trade brought the Somerset, MA native home in 1978 when he hit .278, scored 78 runs, stole 30 bases and was selected and A.L. All-Star. Jerry batted .275 with seven homers and 329 RBI in 1,154 career big league games. In addition to his work with the Red Sox, Remy has also worked the Fox Saturday Game of the Week. His Web site, theremyreport.com, is popular among Red Sox fans. Prior to home games, Remy can often be found greeting fans at Rem Dawg's on Yawkey, the popular gathering spot near the corner of Yawkey Way and Van Ness Street, which opened in 2004 and specializes in hot dogs with unique toppings.

SPANISH BEISBOL NETWORK
950 AM WROL
(6th season with Red Sox)

Uri Berenguer

Juan Oscar Baez

Uri Berenguer and Juan Oscar Baez call the action on the Red Sox Spanish Radio Network, which once again will carry the complete 162-game schedule in 2006.

In his fourth season as a full-time member of the Red Sox' Spanish-language broadcast team, the 23-year-old Berenguer is the youngest broadcaster in Major League Baseball. A former Jimmy Fund patient at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Uri's passion for broadcasting and the Red Sox was sparked when, as a 13-year-old, he met Sox broadcaster Joe Castiglione, who was visiting Jimmy Fund patients. Uri, who attended Bostin Latin Academy and Northeastern University, is the nephew of former major leaguer Juan Berenguer. In addition to his Red Sox duties, Uri hosts "Hablando Pelota," a daily baseball show on XM Satellite Radio.

Baez, a native of Bani, Dominican Republic, reached Double-A during his playing career in the Yankees organization. He hosted a Spanish-language sports talk show in Boston from 2001 through the Red Sox' run to the World Championship in 2004. He hosted the Spanish Beisbol Network's Red Sox pre-game show in 2004 and 2005 until moving into the booth upon the tragic death of J.P. Villaman last May.

In addition, Bill Kulik, president of Spanish Beisbol Network, will again provide some of the play-by-play action in 2006.

BROADCAST EXCELLENCE

Red Sox games were first broadcast on the radio in 1926. The Sox were first televised in 1948.

Over the last 80 years, a total of 43 broadcasters have announced Red Sox games from Fenway Park's broadcast booth on a regular basis.

The club's first radio announcers was Gus Rooney, who was the Opening Day announcer on WNAC in 1926. The following season, Fred Hoey and Gerry Harrison called the action. Jim Britt, Tom Hussey and Bump Hadley were the first Red Sox television announcers in 1948 on TV-4 and TV-7.

Corrections have been made in the above listing thanks to information provided to us from John K. Moynahan, author of 50 Years At The Game, A Sports Traveler's Journey, and other sources. We appreciate this input as we attempt to produce an accurate account of our broadcasters. We are aware that through the years there have been "guest" or temporary fill-in broadcasters for Red Sox games, however, they are too numerous to list here.

RED SOX WHO'VE PLAYED IN EVERY GAME

Twenty-five players have played in every game of a regular season for the Red Sox (a total of 43 times). Dwight Evans was the last player to do so in 1984. He also played all the team's games in 1981 and 1982. Shortstop Everett Scott did so five straight years (1917-21) when he set the club record by playing in 832 consecutive games from June 20, 1916 through Oct. 2, 1921. Evans, Buck Freeman, Freddy Parent and Candy LaChance did so three times while Hobe Ferris, Chick Stahl, Vern Stephens, Frank Malzone, Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Rice played all the games twice. Rice also missed only one game in 1977.

ATTENDANCE NOTES

RED SOX ROAD ATTENDANCE

The Red Sox set a club record with 3,054,438 on the road in 81 dates in 2005, most in the majors. It marked the 1st time the Sox have played in front of 3 million on the road and the 19th time the Sox have played in front of 2 million on the road. They averaged 37,709 per road game. It was the 39th straight year they topped one million on the road. The years they have drawn 2 million or more away from Fenway Park:

YEAR	ATTENDANCE	YEAR	ATTENDANCE	YEAR	ATTENDANCE

CROWDS OF 60,000 ON THE ROAD

There are 22 known regular-season and three post-season games that the Red Sox have played that had an attendance of 60,000. In 2003 the Red Sox twice reached that figure, both times in Philadelphia. On June 22 the Red Sox lost 5-0 to the Phillies before 60,960 and on Sept. 1 they beat the Phillies 13-9 before a crowd of 61,608. Prior to 2003 the last previous such crowd was on April 11, 1992 when a Cleveland Indians Opening Day crowd of 65,813 watched the Red Sox win in 19 innings on a Tim Lincecum two-run home run.
